22 Then said Ahimaaz the son of Zadok yet again to Joab, But † howsoever, let me, I pray thee, also run after Cushi. And Joab said, Wherefore wilt thou run, my son, seeing, that thou hast no tidings ‡ ready?

† Heb. be what may.

‡ Or. convenient.

23 But howsoever (said he) let me run. And he said unto him, Run. Then Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plain, and over-ran Cushi.

24 And David sat between the two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof over the [h] gate unto the wall, and lift up his eyes, and looked, and behold, a man running alone.

h He sate in the gate of the city of Mahanaim.

25 And the watchman cried, and told the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there is tidings in his mouth. And he came apace, and drew near.

26 And the watchman saw another man running, and the watchman called unto the porter, and said, Behold, another man running alone. And the king said, He also bringeth tidings.

† Heb. I see the running.

27 And the watchman said, † Me thinketh the running of the foremost, is like the running of Ahimaaz the son of Zadok. And the king said, He is a [i] good man, and cometh with good tidings.

i He had had experience of his fidelity, Chap. 17. 21.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and said unto the king, ‡ † All is well. And he fell down to the earth upon his face before the king, and said,

‡ Or, peace be to thee.

† Heb. peace.

Bleſſed be the LORD thy God, which hath † delivered up the men that lift up their hand againſt my lord the king.

† Heb. ſhut up.

29 And the king ſaid, † Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Ahimaaz anſwered, When Joab ſent the [k] kings ſervant, and me thy ſervant, I ſaw a great tumult, but I knew not what it was.

† Heb. Is there peace?

k To wit, Cuſhi, who was an Ethiopian.

30 And the king ſaid unto him, Turn aſide, & ſtand here. And he turned aſide, and ſtood ſtill.

31 And behold, Cuſhi came, and Cuſhi ſaid, † Tidings, my lord the king: for the LORD hath avenged thee this day of all them that roſe up againſt thee.

† Heb. tidings is brought.

32 And the king ſaid unto Cuſhi, Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Cuſhi anſwered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that riſe againſt thee to do thee hurt, be as that young man is.

33 ¶ And the king was [l] much moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and as he went, thus he ſaid, O my ſon Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon Abſalom: would God I had died for thee, O Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon.

l Becauſe he conſidered both the judgment of God againſt his ſin, and could not otherwiſe hide his fatherly affection toward his ſon.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Joab cauſeth the king to ceaſe his mourning. 9 The Iſraelites are earneſt to bring the king back. 11 David ſendeth to the prieſts to incite them of Judah. 18 Shimei is pardoned. 24 Mephibоſheth excuſed. 32 Barzillai diſmiſſed, Chimham his ſon is taken into the kings family. 41 The Iſraelites expoſtulate with Judah for bringing home the king without them.

AND it was told Joab, Behold, the king weepeth and mourneth for Abſalom.

† Heb. ſalvation, or, deliverance.

2 And the † victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard ſay that day, how the king was grieved for his ſon.

3 And the people gat them by ſtealth that day into the city, as people being aſhamed ſteal away when they flee in battel.

a As they do that mourn.

4 But the king [a] covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my ſon Abſalom, O Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon.

b At Mahanaim.

5 And Joab came into the [b] houſe to the king, and ſaid, Thou haſt ſhamed this day the faces of all thy ſervants, which this day have ſaved thy life, and the lives of thy ſons, and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines:

† Heb. by loving, &c.

6 † In that thou loveſt thine enemies, and hateſt thy friends; for thou haſt declared this day, † that thou regardeſt neither princes, nor ſervants: for this day I perceive, that if Abſalom had lived, and all we had died this day, then it had pleaſed thee well.

† Heb. that princes or ſervants are not to thee.

† Heb. to the heart of thy ſervants.

7 Now therefore ariſe, go forth, and ſpeak † comfortably unto thy ſervants: for I ſwear by the LORD, if thou go not forth, there will not tarry one with thee this night; and that will be worſe unto thee then all the evil that befel thee from thy youth until now.

c where the moſt reſort of the people haunted.

8 Then the king roſe, and ſat in the [c] gate: and they told unto all the people, ſaying, Behold, the king doth ſit in the gate: and all the people came before the king: for Iſrael had fled every man to his tent.

9 ¶ And all the people were at [d] ſtrife throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, The king ſaved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he delivered us out of the hand of the Philiſtines, and now he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

d Every one blamed another, and ſtrove who ſhould firſt bring him home.

10 And Abſalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battel: now therefore why † ſpeak ye not a word of bringing the king back?

11 ¶ And king David ſent to Zadok and to Abiathar the [e] prieſt, ſaying, Speak unto the elders of Judah, ſaying, Why are ye the laſt to bring the king back to his houſe? (ſeeing the ſpeech of all Iſrael is come to the king, even to his houſe) e That they ſhould reprove the negligence of the elders, ſeeing the people were ſo forward.

12 Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my fleſh: wherefore then are ye the laſt to bring back the king?

13 And ſay ye to Amaſa, Art thou not of my bone, and of my fleſh? God do ſo to me and more alſo, if thou be not captain of the hoſt before me continually in the [f] room of Joab.

f By this policy David thought that by winning of the captain, he ſhould have the hearts of all the people.

14 And he bowed the heart of all the men of Judah, even as the heart of one man, ſo that they ſent this word unto the king, Return thou and all thy ſervants.

15 So the king returned, and came to Jordan: and Judah came to Gilgal, to go to meet the king, to conduct the king over Jordan.

16 ¶ And [g] * Shimei the ſon of Gera, a Benjamite, which was of Bahurim, haſted and came down with the men of Judah, to meet king David.

g who had before reviled him, Chap. 16. 13.
* 1 King. 2. 8.

17 And there were a thouſand men of Benjamin with him, and * Ziba the ſervant of the houſe of Saul, and his fifteen ſons and his twenty ſervants with him, and they went over Jordan before the king.

* Chap. 16. 1.

18 And there went over a ferry-boat to carry over the kings houſhold, and to do † what he thought good: and Shimei the ſon of Gera fell down before the king as he was come over Jordan;

† Heb. the good in his eyes.

19 And ſaid unto the king, Let not my lord impute iniquity unto me, neither do thou remember * that which thy ſervant did [h] perverſely the day that my lord the king went out of Jeruſalem, that the king ſhould take it to his heart.

* Chap. 16. 5.
h For in his adverſity he was his moſt cruel enemy, and now in his proſperity ſeeketh by flattery to creep into favour.

20 For thy ſervant doth know that I have ſinned: therefore behold, I am come the firſt this day of all the houſe of [i] Joſeph, to go down to meet my lord the king.

i By Joſeph he meaneth Ephraim, Manaſſeh, and Benjamin (whereof he was) becauſe theſe three were under one ſtandard, Num. 2. 18.

21 But Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah anſwered and ſaid, Shall not Shimei be put to death for this, becauſe he curſed the LORDS anointed?

22 And David ſaid, What have I to do with you, ye ſons of Zeruiah, that ye ſhould this day be adverſaries unto me? ſhall there any man be put to death this day in Iſrael? for do not I know, that I am this day king over Iſrael?

23 There-

23 Therefore the king said unto Shimei, Thou shalt not [k] die: and the king sware unto him.

k By my hands, or during my life, as read 1 King. 2. 8, 9.

24 ¶ And Mephibosheth the son of Saul came down to meet the king, and had neither dressed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed, until the day he came again in peace.

25 And it came to pass when he was [l] come to Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said unto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

l when Mephibosheth being at Jerusalem had met the king.

26 And he answered, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, that I may ride thereon, and go to the king, because thy servant is lame.

27 And * he hath slandered thy servant unto my lord the king; but my lord the king is as an [m] angel of God: do therefore what is good in thine eyes.

* Chap. 16. 3.

m Able for his wisdom to judge in all matters.

28 For all of my fathers house, were [n] but † dead men before my lord the king: yet didst thou set thy servant among them that did eat at thine own table: what right therefore have I yet to cry any more unto the king?

n worthy to die for Sauls cruelty toward thee.

† Heb. men of death.

29 And the king said unto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Ziba divide the [o] land.

o David did evil in taking his lands from him before he knew the cause, but much worse, that knowing the truth, he did not restore them.

30 And Mephibosheth said unto the king, Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my lord the king is come again in peace unto his own house.

31 ¶ And Barzillai the Gileadite came down from Rogelim, and went over Jordan with the king, to conduct him over Jordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, even fourescore years old, and * he had provided the king of sustenance while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a very great man.

* Chap. 17. 27.

33 And the king said unto Barzillai, Come thou over with me, and I will feed thee with me in Jerusalem.

34 And Barzillai said unto the king, † How long have I to live, that I should go up with the king unto Jerusalem?

† Heb. how many days are the years of my life?

35 I am this day fourescore years old: and can I discern between good and evil? can thy servant taste what I eat or what I drink? can I hear any more the voice of singing-men and singing-women? wherefore then should thy servant be yet a [p] burden unto my lord the king?

p He thought it not meet to receive benefits of him, to whom he was not able to do service again.

36 Thy servant will go a little way over Jordan with the king: and why should the king recompense it me with such a reward?

37 Let thy servant, I pray thee, turn back again, that I may die in mine own city, and be buried by the grave of my father, and of my mother: but behold thy [q] servant Chimham, let him go over with my lord the king, and do to him what shall seem good unto thee.

q My son.

38 And the king answered, Chimham shall go over with me, and I will do to him that which shall seem good unto thee: and whatsoever thou shalt † require of me, that will I do for thee.

39 And all the people went over Jordan: and when the king was come over, the king kissed Barzillai, and blessed him; and he returned unto his own place.

40 Then the king went on to [r] Gilgal, and Chimham went on with him: & all the people of Judah conducted the king, and also half the people of [s] Israel.

r where the tribe of Judah tarried to receive him.

s which had taken part with the king.

41 ¶ And behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Judah stolen thee away, and have brought the king and his household, and all Davids men with him over [t] Jordan?

t Toward Jerusalem.

42 And all the men of Judah answered the men of Israel, Because the king is near of kin to us: wherefore then be ye angry for this matter? have we eaten at all of the kings cost? or hath he given us any gift?

43 And the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we have also more right in David then ye: why then did ye † despise us, that our advise should not be first had in bringing back our king? And the words of the men of Judah were fiercer then the words of the men of Israel.

† Heb. set us as light.

Chap. XX.

1 By occasion of the quarrel, Sheba maketh a party in Israel. 3 Davids ten concubines are shut up in perpetual prison. 4 Amasa made captain over Judah, is slain by Joab. 14 Joab pursueth Sheba unto Abel. 16 A wise woman saveth the city by Sheba's head. 23 Davids officers.

AND there happened to be [a] there a man of Belial, whose name was Sheba the son of Bichri, a Benjamite, and he blew a trumpet, and said, We have no part in [b] David, neither have we inheritance in the son of [c] Jesse: every man to his tents, O Israel.

a where the ten tribes contended against Judah.

b As they of Judah say.

c He thought by speaking contemptuously of the king, to stir the people either to sedition, or else by causing Israel to depart, thought tha. they of Judah would have less esteemed him.

2 So every man of Israel went up from after David, and followed Sheba the son of Bichri: but the men of Judah clave unto their king, from [d] Jordan even to Jerusalem.

d From Gilgal, which was neer Jordan.

3 ¶ And David came to his house at Jerusalem, & the king took the ten women his * concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in † ward, & fed them, but went not in unto them: so they were † shut up unto the day of their death, † living in widowhood.

* Chap. 16. 22.

4 ¶ Then said the king to [e] Amasa, † Assemble me the men of Judah within three days, and be thou here present.

e who was his chief captain in Joabs room, Chap. 19. 13.

5 So Amasa went to assemble the men of Judah; but he tarried longer then the set time which he had appointed him.

6 And David said to Abishai, Now shall Sheba the son of Bichri do us more harm then did Absalom: take thou thy [f] lords servants, and pursue after him, lest he get him fenced cities, and † escape us.

f Either theirs which had been under Joab, or Davids men.

† Heb. deliver himself from our eyes.

7 And there went out after him Joabs men, and the * Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men: and they went out of Jerusalem, to pursue after Sheba the son of Bichri.

* Chap. 8. 18.

8 When they were at the great ſtone which is in Gibeon, Amaſa went before them: and g which was his coat that he uſed to wear in the wars.
Joabs [g] garment that he had put on, was girded unto him, and upon it a girdle with a ſword faſtned upon his loyns in the ſheath thereof, and as he went forth it fell out.

9 And Joab ſaid to Amaſa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Joab took Amaſa by the beard with the right hand to kiſs him.

10 But Amaſa took no heed to the ſword that was in Joabs hand: ſo he ſmote him therewith in the fifth rib, and ſhed out his bowels to the ground, and † ſtrook him not again, and he died: ſo Joab and Abiſhai his brother purſued after Sheba the ſon of Bichri.

† Heb. doubled not his ſtroke.

11 And one of Joabs men [h] ſtood by him, and ſaid, He that favoureth Joab, and he that is for David, let him go after Joab.

h He ſtood by Amaſa at Joabs appointment.

12 And Amaſa wallowed in bloud in the midſt of the high-way: and when the man ſaw that all the people ſtood ſtill, he removed Amaſa out of the high-way into the field, and caſt a cloth upon him, when he ſaw that every one that came by him, ſtood ſtill.

13 When he was removed out of the high-way, all the people went on after Joab, to purſue after Sheba the ſon of Bichri.

14 ¶ And he went through all the tribes of Iſrael unto Abel, and to [i] Beth-maachah, and all the Berites: and they were gathered together, and went alſo after him.

i Unto the city Abel, which was near to Beth-maachah.

15 And they came and beſieged him in Abel of Beth-maachah, and they caſt up a bank againſt the city, and ‡ it ſtood in the trench: and all the people that were with Joab, † battered the wall, to [k] throw it down.

‡ Or, it ſtood againſt the outmoſt wall.
† Heb. marred to throw down.
k That is, He went about to overthrow it.

16 ¶ Then cried a wiſe woman out of the city, Hear, hear; ſay, I pray you, unto Joab, Come near hither, that I may ſpeak with thee.

17 And when he was come near unto her, the woman ſaid, Art thou Joab? And he anſwered, I am he. Then ſhe ſaid unto him, Hear the words of thine hand-maid. And he anſwered, I do hear.

‡ Or, they plainly ſpake in the beginning, ſaying, Surely they will aſk of Abel, and ſo make an end.

18 Then ſhe ſpake, ſaying, ‡ They were [l] wont to ſpeak in old time, ſaying, They ſhall ſurely aſk counſel at Abel: and ſo they ended the matter.

l She ſheweth that the old cuſtom was not to deſtroy a city before peace was offered, Deut. 20. 10, 11.

19 [m] I am one of them that are peaceable and faithful in Iſrael: thou ſeekeſt to deſtroy a city, and a mother in Iſrael: why wilt thou ſwallow up the inheritance of the LORD?

m She ſpeaketh in the name of the city.

20 And Joab anſwered and ſaid, Far be it, far be it from me, that I ſhould ſwallow up or deſtroy.

21 The [n] matter is not ſo: but a man of mount Ephraim (Sheba the ſon of Bichri † by name) hath lift up his hand againſt the king, even againſt David: deliver him onely, and I will depart from the city. And the woman ſaid unto Joab, Behold, his head ſhall be thrown to thee over the wall.

n Hearing his fault told him, he gave place to reaſon, & required onely him that was authour of the treaſon.
† Heb. by his name.

22 Then the woman went unto all the people in her wiſdom, and they cut off the head of Sheba the ſon of Bichri, and caſt it out to Joab: and he blew a trumpet, and they † retired from the city, every man to his tent: and Joab returned to Jeruſalem unto the king.

† Heb. were ſcattered.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The three years famine for the Gibeonites, ceaſe, by hanging ſeven of Sauls ſons. 10 Rizpahs kindneſs unto the dead. 12 David burieth the bones of Saul and Jonathan in his fathers ſepulchre. 15 Four battels againſt the Philiſtines, wherein four valiants of David ſlay four giants.

THen there was a famine in the days of David, three years, year after year; and David † enquired of the LORD. And the LORD anſwered, It is for Saul, and for his bloudy houſe, becauſe he ſlew the [a] Gibeonites.

† Heb. ſought the face, &c. a Thinking to gratify the people becauſe theſe were not of the ſeed of Abraham.

2 And the king called the Gibeonites, and ſaid unto them, (now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Iſrael, but * of the remnant of the Amorites, and the children of Iſrael had ſworn unto them: and Saul ſought to ſlay them, in his zeal to the children of Iſrael and Judah.

* Joſh. 9. 1. & 16. 17.

3 Wherefore David ſaid unto the Gibeonites, [b] What ſhall I do for you? and wherewith ſhall I make the atonement, that ye may bleſs the inheritance of the LORD?

b wherewith may your wrath be appeaſed, that you may pray to God to remove this plague from his people?

4 And the Gibeonites ſaid unto him, ‡ We will have no ſilver nor gold of Saul, nor of his houſe, neither for us ſhalt thou kill [c] any man in Iſrael. And he ſaid, What you ſhall ſay, that will I do for you.

‡ Or, It is not ſilver nor gold that we have to do with Saul or his houſe, neither pertains it to us to kill, &c. c Save onely of Sauls ſtock.

5 And they anſwered the king, The man that conſumed us, and that ‡ deviſed againſt us, that we ſhould be deſtroyed from remaining in any of the coaſts of Iſrael,

‡ Or, contrived.

6 Let ſeven men of [d] his ſons be delivered unto us, and we will hang them up unto the [e] LORD in Gibeah of Saul, ‡ whom the LORD did chooſe. And the king ſaid, I will give them.

* 1 Sam. 18. 3. & 20. 8, 42.

8 But the king took the two ſons of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom ſhe bare unto Saul, Armoni, and Mephibоſheth, and the five ſons of ‡ [f] Michal the daughter of Saul, whom ſhe † brought up for Adriel the ſon of Barzillai the Meholathite.

‡ Or, Michal ſiſter.

g which was in the month of Aviv, or Niſan, which containeth part of March, and part of April.

10 ¶ And * Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took [h] ſackcloth, and ſpread it for her upon the rock, from the beginning of harveſt until [i] water dropped upon them out of heaven, and ſuffered neither the birds of the air to reſt on them by day, nor the beaſts of the field by night.

h To make her a tent, wherein ſhe prayed God to turn away his wrath.

i Becauſe drought was the cauſe of this famine, God by ſending of rain ſhewed that he was pacified.

11 And it was told David what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 ¶ And David went and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his ſon, from the men of Jabeſh-gilead, which had ſtolen them from the ſtreet of Beth-ſhan, where the * Philiſtines had hanged them, when the Philiſtines had ſlain Saul in Gilboa.

* 1 Sam. 31. 10.

13 And he brought up from thence the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his ſon; and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and Jonathan his ſon, buried they in the country of Benjamin in Zelah, in the ſepulchre of Kiſh his father; and they performed all that the king commanded: and after that, God [k] was intreated for the land.

k For where the magiſtrate ſuffereth faults unpunished, there the plague of God lieth upon the land.

15 ¶ Moreover, the Philiſtines had yet war again with Iſrael, and David went down, and his ſervants with him, and fought againſt the Philiſtines; and David waxed faint.

16 And Iſhbi-benob, which was of the ſons of ‡ [l] the giant, (the weight of whoſe † ſpear weighed three [m] hundred ſhekels of braſs in weight) he being girded with a new ſword, thought to have ſlain David.

p That is, Lahmi the brother of Goliath, whom David ſlew. 1 Chron. 20. 5.

20 And there was yet a battel in Gath, where was a man of great ſtature, that had on every hand ſix fingers, and on every foot ſix toes, four and twenty in number; and he alſo was born to ‡ the giant.

1 David tempted by Satan, forceth Joab to number the people. 5 The captains in nine months and twenty days, bring the muster of thirteen hundred thousand fighting men. 10 David having three plagues propounded by Gad, repenteth, and chooseth the three days pestilence. 15 After the death of threescore and ten thousand, David by repentance preventeth the destruction of Jerusalem. 18 David by Gads direction purchaseth Araunahs threshing-floor; where having sacrificed, the plague stayeth.

AND [a] again the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and ‡ [b] he moved David against them, to say, Go number Israel and Judah.

a Before they were plagued with famine, Chap. 21. 1.
b The Lord permitted Satan, as 1 Chron. 21. 1.

2 For the king said to Joab the captain of the host, which was with him, ‡ Go now through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan even to Beer-sheba, and number ye the people, that I may know the [c] number of the people.

c Because he did this to try his power, and so to trust therein, it offended God, else it was lawful to number the people, Exod. 30. 12. Numb. 1. 2.

3 And Joab said unto the king, Now the LORD thy God add unto the people (how many soever they be) an hundred-fold, & that the eyes of my lord the king may see it: but why doth my lord the king delight in this thing?

4 Notwithstanding, the kings word prevailed against Joab, and against the captains of the host: and Joab and the captains of the host went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

5 ¶ And they passed over Jordan, and pitched in Aroer, on the right side of the city that lieth in the midst of the ‡ river of Gad, and toward Jazar.

‡ Or, valley.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to the ‡ land of Tahtim-hodshi; and they came to Dan-jaan, and about to Zidon,

‡ Or, nether land newly inhabited.

7 And came to the strong hold of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Hivites, and of the Canaanites: and they went out to the south of Judah, even to Beer-sheba.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 And Joab gave up the sum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Israel [d] eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword; and the men of Judah were [e] five hundred thousand men.

d According to Joabs count: for in all there were eleven hundred thousand. 1 Chron. 21. 5.
e Concluding under them the Benjamites: for else they had but four hundred and seventy thousand, 1 Chron. 21. 5.

10 ¶ And Davids heart smote him, after that he had numbred the people: and David said unto the LORD, I have sinned greatly in that I have done: and now I beseech thee, O LORD, take away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

11 For when David was up in the morning, the

the word of the LORD came unto the prophet Gad, Davids [f] ſeer, ſaying, f whom God had appointed for David, and his time.

12 Go and ſay unto David, Thus ſaith the LORD, I offer thee three things; choſe thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

13 So Gad came to David, and told him and ſaid unto him, Shall [g] ſeven years of famine come unto thee in thy land? or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, while they purſue thee? or that there be three days peſtilence in thy land? now adviſe, and ſee what anſwer I ſhall return to him that ſent me.

g For 3 years of famine were paſt for the Gibeonites matter: this was the fourth year, to the which ſhould have been added other three years more, 1 Chron. 21. 12.

14 And David ſaid unto Gad, I am in a great ſtrait: let us fall now into the hand of the LORD, (for his mercies are ‡ great) and let me not fall unto the hand of man.

‡ Or, many.

15 So the LORD ſent a peſtilence upon Iſrael, from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from [h] Dan even to Beer-ſheba, ſeventy thouſand men.

h From the one ſide of the country to the other.

16 And when the angel ſtretched out his hand upon Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, * the LORD repented him of the evil, and ſaid to the angel that deſtroyed the people, It is enough: [i] ſtay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD was by the threſhing-place of Araunah the Jebuſite.

* 1 Sam. 15. 11.

i The Lord ſpared this place, becauſe he had choſen it to build his temple there.

17 And David ſpake unto the LORD when he ſaw the angel that ſmote the people, and ſaid, Lo, I have ſinned, and I have done wickedly: but theſe ſheep, [k] what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be againſt me, and againſt my fathers houſe.

k David ſaw the juſt cauſe why God plagued the people, and therefore he offereth himſelf to Gods correction, as the onely cauſe of this evil.

18 ¶ And Gad came that day to David, and ſaid unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the LORD, in the threſhing-floor of Araunah the Jebuſite.

19 And David, according to the ſaying of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, and ſaw the king and his ſervants coming on toward him: and Araunah went out and bowed himſelf before the king on his face upon the ground.

21 And [l] Araunah ſaid, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his ſervant? And David ſaid, To buy the threſhing-floor of thee to build an altar unto the LORD, that the plague may be ſtayed from the people.

l Called alſo Ornan, 1 Chron. 21. 20.

22 And Araunah ſaid unto David, Let my lord the king take and offer up what ſeemeth good unto him: behold, here be oxen for burnt-ſacrifice, and threſhing-inſtruments, and other inſtruments of the oxen for wood.

23 All theſe things did Araunah, [m] as a king, give unto the king: and Araunah ſaid unto the king, The LORD thy God accept thee.

m That is, Abundantly: for as ſome, He was king of Jeruſalem before David won the town.

24 And the king ſaid unto Araunah, Nay; but I will ſurely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD my God, of that which doth coſt me nothing. So David bought the threſhing-floor and the oxen, for [n] fifty ſhekels of ſilver.

n Some write, that every tribe gave 50, which make 600, or that afterward he bought as much as came to 500 ſhekels, 1 Chron. 21. 25.

25 And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings, and peace-offerings: ſo the LORD was intreated for the land, and the plague was ſtayed from Iſrael.

¶ THE FIRST BOOK OF THE KINGS, COMMONLY CALLED, The third book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcauſe the children of God ſhould look for no continual reſt and quietneſs in this world, the holy Ghoſt ſetteth before their eyes in this book the variety and change of things, which came to the people of Iſrael from the death of David, Solomon, and the reſt of the kings, unto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flouriſhing kingdoms, except they be preſerved by Gods protection, (who then favoureth them when his word is truely ſet forth, virtue eſteemed, vice puniſhed, and concord maintained) fall to decay and come to nought: as appeareth by the dividing of the kingdom under Rehoboam, and Ieroboam, which before were but all one people, and now by the juſt puniſhment of God were made two, whereof Judah and Benjamin clave to Rehoboam, and this was called the kingdom of Iudah: and the other ten tribes held with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdom of Iſrael. The king of Iudah had his throne in Ieruſalem, and the king of Iſrael in Samaria, after it was built by Omri Ahabs father. And becauſe our Saviour Chriſt according to the fleſh ſhould come of the ſtock David, the genealogy of the kings of Judah is here deſcribed, from Solomon to Joram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, who over reigned Judah in Jeruſalem, as Ahab did over Iſrael in Samaria.

2 Wherefore his ſervants ſaid unto him, † Let there be ſought for my lord the king † a young virgin, and let her ſtand before the king, and let her † cheriſh him, and let her lie in thy boſom, that my lord the king may get heat.

3 So they ſought for a fair damſel throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael, and found Abiſhag a [c] Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

c which city was in the tribe of Iſſachar, as Joſh. 19. 18.

4 And the damſel was very fair, and cheriſhed the king, and miniſtred to him: but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adonijah the ſon of Haggith exalted himſelf, ſaying, I will † be king: and he prepared him chariots and hors-men, and [d] fifty men to run before him.

6 And his father had not diſpleaſed him † at any time, in ſaying, Why haſt thou done ſo? and he alſo was a very goodly man? and his mother bare him after Abſalom.

e They took his part and followed him.

7 And † he conferred with Joab the ſon of Zeruiah, and with Abiathar the prieſt: and they † following Adonijah [e] helped him.

8 But Zadok the prieſt, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the mighty men which belonged to David, were not with Adonijah.

‡ Or, the well Rogel.

9 And Adonijah ſlew ſheep and oxen and fat cattel, by the ſtone of Zoheleth, which is by ‡ En-rogel, and called all his brethren the kings ſons, and all the men of Judah the kings ſervants.

f As the Cherethites and Pelethites.

10 But Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, and the [f] mighty men, and Solomon his brother he called not.

11 Wherefore Nathan ſpake unto Bath-ſheba the mother of Solomon, ſaying, Haſt thou not heard that Adonijah the ſon of * Haggith doth reign, and David our lord knoweth it not?

* 2 Sam. 3. 4.

12 Now therefore come, let me, I pray thee, give thee counſel, that thou mayeſt ſave thine own life, and the [g] life of thy ſon Solomon.

g For Adonijah will deſtroy thee and thy ſon, if he reign.

13 Go, and get thee in unto king David, and ſay unto him, Didſt not thou, my lord, O king, ſwear unto thine hand-maid, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne? why doth Adonijah reign?

14 Behold, while thou yet talkeſt there with the king, I will alſo come in after thee, and † confirm thy [h] words.

18 And now behold, Adonijah reigneth; and now my lord the king, thou knoweſt [i] it not.

i The king being worn with age could not attend to the affairs of the realm, and alſo Adonijah had many flatterers which kept it from the king.

19 And he hath ſlain oxen, and fat cattel, and ſheep in abundance, and hath called all the ſons of the king, and Abiathar the prieſt, and Joab the captain of the hoſt: but Solomon thy ſervant hath he not called.

20 And thou, my lord O king, the eyes of all Iſrael are upon thee, that thou ſhouldeſt tell them who ſhall ſit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 Otherwiſe it ſhall come to paſs, when my lord the king ſhall ſleep with his fathers, that I and my ſon Solomon ſhall be [k] counted † offenders.

l Acknowledging him to be the true and worthy king appointed of God, as the figure of Chriſt.

24 And Nathan ſaid, My lord, O king, haſt thou ſaid, Adonijah ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne?

25 For he is gone down this day, and hath ſlain oxen, and fat cattel, and ſheep in abundance, and hath called all the kings ſons, and the captains of the hoſt, and Abiathar the prieſt; and behold, they eat and drink before him, and ſay, † God ſave king Adonijah.

29 And the king ſware, and ſaid, As the LORD liveth, that hath redeemed my ſoul out of all diſtreſs, 30 Even as I [n] ſware unto thee by the LORD God of Iſrael, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne in my ſtead; even ſo will I certainly do this day.

n Moved by the Spirit of God to do, becauſe he foreſaw that Solomon ſhould be the figure of Chriſt.

31 Then Bath-ſheba bowed with her face to the earth, and did reverence to the king, and ſaid, 276 ſaid, Let my lord king David live for ever.

32 ¶ And king David ſaid, Call me Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 The king alſo ſaid unto them, Take with you the ° ſervants of your lord, and cauſe Solomon my ſon to ride upon † mine own mule, and bring him down to Gihon.

° Meaning, The kings ſervants, and ſuch as were of his guard.
† Heb which belongeth to me.

34 And let Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, anoint him there king over Iſrael: and blow ye with the trumpet, and ſay, God ſave king Solomon.

35 Then ye ſhall come up after him, that he may come and ſit upon my throne; for he ſhall be king in my ſtead: and I have appointed him to be ruler over Iſrael, and over Judah.

36 And Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada anſwered the king, and ſaid, Amen: the LORD God of my lord the king ſay ſo too.

37 As the LORD hath been with my lord the king, even ſo be he with Solomon, and make his throne greater then the throne of my lord king David.

38 So Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, went down, and cauſed Solomon to ride upon king Davids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the prieſt took an horn of † oyl out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people ſaid, God ſave king Solomon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with ‡ pipes, and rejoyced with great joy, ſo that the earth rent with the ſound of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gueſts that were with him, heard it as they had made an end of eating: and when Joab heard the ſound of the trumpet, he ſaid, Wherefore is this noiſe of the city, being in an uprore?

42 And while he yet ſpake, behold, Jonathan the ſon of Abiathar the prieſt came, and Adonijah ſaid unto him, Come in, for thou art a valiant man, and bringeſt ᵠ good tidings.

q He praiſed Jonathan, thinking to have heard comfortable news, but God wrought things contrary to his expectation, and ſo did bear down his pride.

43 And Jonathan anſwered and ſaid to Adonijah, Verily our lord king David hath made Solomon king.

44 And the king hath ſent with him Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they have cauſed him to ride upon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon: and they are come up from thence rejoycing, ſo that the city rang again: this is the noiſe that ye have heard.

46 And alſo Solomon ſitteth on the throne of the kingdom.

47 And moreover, the kings ſervants came to ʳ bleſs our lord king David, ſaying, God make the name of Solomon better then thy name, and make his throne greater then thy throne:

r To ſalute him, and to pray, and praiſe God for him.

and the king bowed himſelf upon the ˢ bed.

ˢ He gave God thanks for the good ſucceſs.

48 And alſo thus ſaid the king, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, which hath given one to ſit on my throne this day, mine eyes even ſeeing it.

49 And all the gueſts that were with Adonijah, were afraid, and roſe up, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Adonijah feared becauſe of Solomon, and aroſe, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the ᵗ altar.

51 And it was told Solomon, ſaying, Behold, Adonijah feareth king Solomon: for lo, he hath caught hold on the horns of the altar, ſaying, Let king Solomon ſwear unto me to day, that he will not ſlay his ſervant with the ſword.

52 And Solomon ſaid, If he will ſhew himſelf a worthy man, there ſhall not an hair of him fall to the earth: but if wickedneſs ſhall be found in him, he ſhall die.

53 So king Solomon ſent, and they brought him down from the altar; and he came and bowed himſelf to king Solomon: and Solomon ſaid unto him, Go to thine houſe.

CHAP. II.

1 David having given a charge to Solomon, 3 of religiouſneſs, 5 of Joab, 7 of Barzillai, 8 of Shimei, 10 dieth. 12 Solomon ſucceedeth. 13 Adonijah, moving Bath-ſheba to ſue unto Solomon for Abiſhag, is put to death. 16 Abiathar having his life given him, is deprived of the prieſthood. 28 Joab fleeing to the horns of the altar, is there ſlain. 35 Benaiah is put in Joabs room, and Zadok in Abiathars. 36 Shimei confined to Jeruſalem, by occaſion of going thence to Gath, is put to death.

NOw the days of David drew nigh, that he ſhould die; and he charged Solomon his ſon, ſaying, thoſe that eat at thy table: for [f] ſo they came to me when I fled becauſe of Abſalom thy brother.

8 And behold, thou haſt with thee * Shimei the ſon of Gera, a Benjamite of Bahurim, which curſed me with a † grievous curſe, in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I ſware to him by the LORD, ſaying, * I will not put thee to death with the ſword.

9 Now therefore hold him not guiltleſs: for thou art a wiſe man, and knoweſt what thou oughteſt to do unto him; but his hoar head bring thou down to the grave with [g] bloud.

10 So * David ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.

11 And the days that David * reigned over Iſrael, were fourty years: ſeven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jeruſalem.

12 ¶ * Then ſat Solomon upon the throne of Davids his father, and his kingdom was eſtabliſhed greatly.

13 ¶ And Adonijah the ſon of Haggith came to Bath-ſheba the mother of Solomon, and ſhe ſaid, [h] Comeſt thou peaceably? And he ſaid, Peaceably.

14 He ſaid moreover, I have ſomewhat to ſay unto thee. And ſhe ſaid, Say on.

15 And he ſaid, Thou knoweſt that the kingdom was mine, & that all Iſrael ſet their [i] faces on me, that I ſhould reign: howbeit the kingdom is turned about, and is become my brothers: for it was his from the LORD.

16 And now I aſk one petition of thee, † deny me not. And ſhe ſaid unto him, Say on.

17 And he ſaid, Speak, I pray thee, unto Solomon the king (for he will not ſay thee nay) that he give me Abiſhag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-ſheba ſaid, Well, I will ſpeak for thee unto the king.

19 ¶ Bath-ſheba therefore went unto king Solomon, to ſpeak unto him for Adonijah: and the king roſe up to meet her, and [k] bowed himſelf unto her, and ſat down on his throne, and cauſed a ſeat to be ſet for the kings mother; and ſhe ſat on his right hand.

20 Then ſhe ſaid, I deſire one ſmall petition of thee, I pray thee ſay me not nay. And the king ſaid unto her, Aſk on, my mother, for I will not ſay thee nay.

21 And ſhe ſaid, Let Abiſhag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon anſwered and ſaid unto his mother, And why doſt thou aſk Abiſhag the Shunammite for Adonijah? aſk for him the [l] kingdom alſo; (for he is mine elder brother) even for him, and for Abiathar the prieſt, and for Joab the ſon of Zeruiah.

23 Then king Solomon ſware by the LORD, ſaying, God do ſo to me, and more alſo, if Adonijah have not ſpoken this word againſt his own life.

24 Now therefore, as the LORD liveth, which hath eſtabliſhed me, and ſet me on the throne of David my father, and who hath made me an houſe, as he * promiſed, Adonijah ſhall be put to death this day.

25 And king Solomon ſent by the hand of Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and he fell upon him that he died.

26 ¶ And unto Abiathar the prieſt ſaid the king, Get thee to Anathoth, unto thine own fields, for thou art † worthy of death: but I will not at this time put thee to death, becauſe thou [m] bareſt the ark of the Lord GOD before David my father, and becauſe thou haſt been afflicted in all wherein my father was afflicted.

27 So Solomon thruſt out Abiathar from being prieſt unto the LORD; that he might * fulfil the word of the LORD, which he ſpake concerning the houſe of Eli in Shiloh.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Joab, (for Joab had [n] turned after Adonijah, though he turned not after Abſalom) and Joab fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon that Joab was fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and behold, he is by the [o] altar: then Solomon ſent Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, ſaying, Go fall upon him.

30 And Benaiah came to the tabernacle of the LORD, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the king, Come forth. And he ſaid, Nay, but I will die here. And Benaiah brought the king word again, ſaying, Thus ſaid Joab, and thus he anſwered me.

31 And the king ſaid unto him, Do as he hath ſaid, and [p] fall upon him, and bury him; that thou mayeſt take away the innocent bloud which Joab ſhed, from me, and from the houſe of my father.

32 And the LORD ſhall return his bloud upon his own head, who fell upon two men more righteous and better then he, and ſlew them with the ſword, my father David not knowing thereof, to wit, * Abner the ſon of Ner, captain of the hoſt of Iſrael, and * Amaſa the ſon of Jether, captain of the hoſt of Judah.

33 Their bloud ſhall therefore return upon the head of Joab, and upon the [q] head of his ſeed for ever: but upon David, and upon his ſeed, and upon his houſe, and upon his throne ſhall there be peace for ever from the LORD.

34 So Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada went up, and fell upon him, and ſlew him; and he was buried in his own houſe in the wilderneſs.

35 ¶ And the king put Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada in his room over the hoſt; [r] and Zadok the prieſt did the king put in the room of Abiathar.

36 ¶ And the king ſent and called for Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Build thee an houſe in Jeruſalem, and dwell there, and go not forth thence any whither.

37 For it ſhall be, that on the day thou goeſt out, and paſſeſt over the brook Kidron, thou ſhalt know for certain, that thou ſhalt ſurely die: thy bloud ſhall be upon thine own head.

38 And Shimei ſaid unto the king, The ſaying is good: as my lord the king hath ſaid, ſo will thy ſervant do. And Shimei dwelt in Jeruſalem many days.

39 And it came to paſs at the end of three years, that two of the [f] ſervants of Shimei ran away unto Achiſh ſon of Maachah king of Gath: and they told Shimei, ſaying, Behold, thy ſervants be in Gath.

40 And Shimei aroſe and ſadled his aſs, and went to Gath to Achiſh to ſeek his ſervants: and [t] Shimei went and brought his ſervants from Gath.

t His covetous mind moved him rather to venture his life, then to loſe his worldly profit, which he had by his ſervants.

41 And it was told Solomon that Shimei had gone from Jeruſalem to Gath, and was come again.

42 And the king ſent and called for Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Did I not make thee to ſwear by the LORD, and proteſted unto thee, ſaying, Know for a certain, that on the day thou goeſt out, and walkeſt abroad any whither, that thou ſhalt ſurely die? and thou ſaidſt unto me, The word that I have heard, is good.

u For though thou wouldeſt deny, yet thine own conſcience would accuſe thee, for reviling and doing wrong to my father, 2 Sam 16. 5.

i He knew that God had appeared unto him in a dream.

16 ¶ Then came there two women that were harlots, unto the king, and [k] ſtood before him.

22 And the other woman said, Nay; but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son: and this said, No; but the dead is thy son, and the living is my son. Thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, The one saith, This is my son that liveth, and thy son is the dead: and the other saith, Nay; but thy son is the dead, and my son is the living.

CHAP. V.

1 Hiram ſending to congratulate Solomon is certified of his purpoſe to build the temple, and deſired to furniſh him with timber thereto. 7 Hiram bleſſing God for Solomon, and requeſting food for his family, furniſheth him with trees. 13 The number of Solomons workmen and labourers.

AND Hiram king of Tyre ſent his ſervants unto Solomon; (for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father) for Hiram was ever a lover of David.

* 1 Chron. 2. 3.

2 And * Solomon ſent to Hiram, ſaying,

3 Thou knoweſt how that David my father could not build an houſe unto the name of the LORD his God, for the wars which were about him on every ſide, until the LORD put them under the ſoles of his feet.

4 But now the LORD my God hath given me [a] reſt on every ſide, ſo that there is neither adverſary, nor evil occurrent.

a He declareth that he was bound to ſet forth Gods glory, foraſmuch as the Lord had ſent him reſt and peace.

5 And behold, I † purpoſe to build an houſe unto the name of the LORD my God, * as the LORD ſpake unto David my father, ſaying, Thy ſon, whom I will ſet upon thy throne in thy room, he ſhall build an houſe unto my name.

* 2 Sam. 7. 13.
1 Chron. 22. 10.

6 Now therefore command thou, that they hew me cedar-trees out of Lebanon, and my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants: and unto thee will I give [b] hire for thy ſervants, according to all that thou ſhalt † appoint: for thou knoweſt that there is not among us any that can ſkill to hew timber, like unto the Sidonians.

b This was his equity, that he would not receive a benefit without ſome recompence.

7 ¶ And it came to paſs, when [c] Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoyced greatly, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD this day, which hath given unto David a wiſe ſon over this great people.

c In Hiram is prefigurate the vocation of the Gentiles, who ſhould help to build the ſpiritual temple.

8 And Hiram ſent to Solomon, ſaying, I have † conſidered the things which thou ſenteſt to me for: and I will do all thy deſire concerning timber of cedar, and concerning timber of fir.

9 My ſervants ſhall bring them down from Lebanon unto the ſea: and I will convey them by ſea in flotes, unto the place that thou ſhalt † appoint me, and will cauſe them to be diſcharged there, and thou ſhalt receive them: and thou ſhalt accompliſh my deſire, in giving food for my [d] houſhold.

d while my ſervants are occupied about thy buſineſs.

10 So Hiram gave Solomon cedar-trees, and fir-trees, according to all his deſire.

11 And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thouſand † meaſures of wheat for food to his houſhold, and twenty meaſures of pure oyl: thus gave Solomon to Hiram year by year.

15 And Solomon had threeſcore and ten thouſand that bare burdens, and fourſcore thouſand hewers in the mountains:

17 And the king commanded, and they brought great ſtones, coſtly ſtones, and hewed ſtones, to lay the foundation of the houſe.

18 And Solomons builders, and Hirams builders did hew them, and the ‡ [f] ſtone-ſquarers: ſo they prepared timber and ſtones to build the houſe.

CHAP. VI.

1 The building of Solomons temple. 5 The chambers thereof. 11 Gods promiſe unto it. 15 The cieling and adorning of it. 23 The cherubims. 31 The doors. 36 The court. 37 The time of building it.

AND * it came to paſs in the four hundred and fourſcore year after the children of Iſrael were come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomons reign over Iſrael, in the month [a] Zif, which is the ſecond month, that he † began to build the [b] houſe of the LORD.

* 2 Chron. 3. 1.

a which month containeth part of April and part of May.
b whereby is meant the temple and the oracle.

2 And the [c] houſe which king Solomon built for the LORD, the length thereof was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits, and the height thereof thirty cubits.

c Or, The court where the people prayed, which was before the place where the altar of burnt-offerings ſtood.

3 And the porch before the temple of the houſe, twenty cubits was the length thereof, according to the breadth of the houſe; and ten cubits was the breadth thereof, before the houſe.

4 And for the houſe he made ‡ windows of narrow lights.

‡ Or, windows broad within, and narrow without, or, ſhrunk and cloſed.

5 ¶ And ‡ againſt the wall of the houſe he built † chambers round about, againſt the walls of the houſe round about, both of the temple, and of the [d] oracle: and he made † chambers round about.

‡ Or, upon, or, joyning to.
d whence God ſpake between the cherubims, called alſo the moſt holy place.

6 The nethermoſt chamber was five cubits broad, and the middle was ſix cubits broad, and the third was ſeven cubits broad: for without in the wall of the houſe he made † narrowed [e] reſts round about, that the beams ſhould not be faſtned in the walls of the houſe.

e which were certain ſtones coming out of the wall as ſtaies for the beams to reſt upon.

7 And the houſe when it was in building, was built of ſtone, made ready before it was brought thither: ſo that there was neither hammer, nor ax, nor any tool of iron heard in the houſe, while it was in building.

8 The door for the middle chamber was in the right † ſide of the houſe: and they went up up with winding ſtairs into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 So he built the [f] houſe and finiſhed it; and covered the houſe ‡ with beams and boards of cedar.

10 And then he built chambers againſt all the houſe, five cubits high: and they reſted on the houſe with timber of cedar.

11 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Solomon, ſaying, 12 Concerning this houſe which thou art in building, if thou wilt walk in my ſtatutes, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments to walk in them: then will I perform my word with thee, * which I ſpake unto David thy father.

13 And I will [g] dwell among the children of Iſrael, and will not forſake my people Iſrael.

14 So Solomon built the houſe, & finiſhed it.

15 And he built the walls of the houſe within with boards of cedar, ‡ both the floor of the houſe, and the [h] walls of the cieling: and he covered them on the inſide with wood, and covered the floor of the houſe with planks of fir.

16 And he built twenty cubits on the ſides of the houſe, both the floor, and the walls with boards of cedar: he even built them for it within, even for the oracle, even for the moſt holy place.

17 And the houſe, that is, the temple before it, was fourty [i] cubits long.

18 And the cedar of the houſe within was carved with ‡ knops, and † open flowers: all was cedar, there was no ſtone ſeen.

19 And the oracle he prepared in the [k] houſe within, to ſet there the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

20 And the oracle in the fore-part was twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in the breadth, and twenty cubits in the height thereof: and he overlaid it with † pure gold, and ſo covered the altar which was of cedar.

21 So Solomon overlaid the houſe within with pure gold: and he made a partition, by the chains of gold before the oracle, and he overlaid it with gold.

22 And the whole houſe he overlaid with gold, until he had finiſhed all the houſe: alſo the whole [l] altar that was by the oracle he overlaid with gold.

23 ¶ And within the oracle he made two cherubims of ‡† olive-tree, each ten cubits high.

24 And five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: from the uttermoſt part of the one wing unto the uttermoſt part of the other, were ten cubits.

25 And the other cherub was ten cubits: both the cherubims were of one meaſure, & one ciſe.

26 The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and ſo was it of the other cherub.

27 And he ſet the cherubims within the inner houſe; and * ‡ they ſtretched forth the wings of the cherubims, ſo that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall: and their wings touched one another in the midſt of the houſe.

28 And he [m] overlaid the cherubims with gold.

29 And he carved all the walls of the houſe round about with carved figures of cherubims, and palm-trees, and † open flowers, within and without.

30 And the floor of the houſe he overlaid with gold, within and without.

31 ¶ And for the entring of the oracle he made doors of olive-tree: the lintel and ſide-poſts were ‡ a fifth part of the wall.

32 The ‡ two doors alſo were of olive-tree; and he carved upon them carvings of cherubims, and palm-trees, and † open flowers, and overlaid them with gold, and ſpread [n] gold upon the cherubims, and upon the palm-trees.

33 So alſo made he for the door of the temple, poſts of olive-tree ‡ a fourth part of the wall.

35 And he carved thereon cherubims, and palm-trees, and open flowers: and covered them with gold, fitted upon the carved work.

36 ¶ And he built the [o] inner court with three rows of hewed ſtone, and a row of cedar-beams.

37 ¶ In the fourth year was the foundation of the houſe of the LORD laid, in the month Zif.

38 And in the eleventh year, in the month [p] Bul, (which is the eighth month) was the houſe finiſhed ‡ throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the faſhion of it: So was he ſeven years in building it.

3 And it was covered with cedar above upon the † beams, that lay on fourty five pillars, fifteen in a row.

* Chap. 3. 1.

10 And the foundation was of costly stones, even great stones; stones of ten cubits, and stones of eight cubits.

11 And [g] above were costly stones (after the measures of hewed stones) and cedars.

g From the foundation upward.

12 And the [h] great court round about, was with three rows of hewed stones, and a row of cedar-beams, both for the inner court of the house of the LORD, and for the porch of the house.

h As the lords house was built so was this: only the great court of Solomons house was uncovered.

13 ¶ And king Solomon sent and fet Hiram out of Tyre.

14 He was † a widows son of the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in brass: and [i] he was filled with wisdom and understanding, and cunning to work all works in brass; and he came to king Solomon, and wrought all his work.

i Thus when God will have his glory set forth, he raiseth up men, and giveth them excellent gifts for the accomplishment of the same, Exod. 31. 2, 3.

15 For he † cast two pillars of brass, of eighteen cubits high apiece: and a line of twelve cubits did compass either of them about.

17 And nets of checker-work, and wreaths of chain-work, for the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars; seven for the one chapiter, and seven for the other chapiter.

18 And he made the pillars, and two rows round about upon the one net-work, to cover the chapiters that were upon the top, with pomegranates: and so did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were upon the top of the pillars, were of [k] lily-work in the porch, four cubits.

k As was seen commonly, wrought in costly porches.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillars had pomegranates also above, over against the belly which was by the net-work, and the pomegranates were two hundred, in rows round about upon the other chapiter.

21 * And he set up the pillars in the [l] porch of the temple: and he set up the right pillar, and called the name thereof [m] Jachin: and he set up the left pillar, and called the name thereof [n] Boaz.

22 And upon the top of the pillars was lily-work: so was the work of the pillars finished.

23 ¶ And he made a molten [o] sea, ten cubits † from the one brim to the other: it was round all about, and his height was five cubits: and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about.

o So called, for the hugeness of the vessel.

24 And under the brim of it round about there were knops compassing it, ten in a cubit, * compassing the sea round about: the knops were cast in two rows, when it was cast.

* 2 Chron. 4. 3.

25 It stood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 And it was an hand-breadth thick, and the brim thereof was wrought like the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies: it contained two thousand [p] baths.

p Bath and ephah seem to be both one measure, Ezek. 45. 11. every bath contained about ten pottels.

27 ¶ And he made ten bases of brass; four cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the breadth thereof, and three cubits the height of it.

28 And the work of the bases was on this manner: They had borders, and the borders were between the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were between the ledges were lions, oxen, and cherubims: and upon the ledges, there was a base above: and beneath the lions and oxen were certain additions made of thin work.

30 And every base had four brasen wheels, and plates of brass: and the four corners thereof had undersetters: under the laver were undersetters molten, at the side of every addition.

31 And [q] the mouth of it within the chapiter and above was a cubit: but the mouth thereof was round after the work of the base, a cubit and an half: and also upon the mouth of it were gravings with their borders, four-square, not round.

q The mouth of the great base or frame entred into the chapiter or pillar that bare up the caldron.

32 And under the borders were four wheels: and the axle-trees of the wheels were † joyned to the base, and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit.

33 And the work of the wheels was like the work of a chariot-wheel: their axle-trees, and their naves, and their felloes, and their spokes were all molten.

34 And there were four undersetters to the four corners of one base: and the undersetters were of the very base it self.

35 And in the top of the base was there a [r] round compass of half a cubit high: and on the top of the base, the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the same.

r Which was called the pillar, chapiter, or final base, whereon the caldron stood.

36 For on the plates of the ledges thereof and on the borders thereof, he graved cherubims, lions, and palm-trees, according to the † proportion of every one, and additions round about.

37 After this manner he made the ten bases:

16 Since the day that I brought forth my people Iſrael out of Egypt, I choſe no city out of all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe that my name might be therein; but I choſe * David to be over my people Iſrael.

* 2 Sam. 7. 8.

17 And it was in the heart of David my father, to build an houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

18 And the LORD ſaid unto David my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an houſe unto my name, thou didſt well that it was in thine heart:

19 Nevertheleſs, thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſon that ſhall come forth out of thy loyns, he ſhall build the houſe unto my name.

20 And the LORD hath performed his word that he ſpake, and I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and ſit on the throne of Iſrael, as the LORD promiſed, and have built an houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

21 And I have ſet there a place for the ark, wherein is the [g] covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

[g] The two tables wherein the articles of the covenant were written.

22 ¶ And Solomon ſtood before * the altar of the LORD, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands toward heaven:

* 2 Chron. 6. 12.

23 And he ſaid, * LORD God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepeſt covenant and mercy with thy ſervants, that walk before thee with [h] all their heart:

* 2 Mac. 2. 8.

[h] Unfainedly and without all hypocricy.

24 Who haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father that thou promiſedſt him: thou ſpakeſt alſo with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

25 Therefore now, LORD God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father that thou promiſedſt him, ſaying, * † There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit on the throne of Iſrael; † ſo that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me as thou haſt walked before me:

* Chap. 2. 4. 2 Sam. 7. 12.
† Heb. there ſhall not be cut off unto thee a man from my ſight.
† Heb. only if.

26 And now, O God of Iſrael, let thy word, I pray thee, be verified, which thou ſpakeſt unto thy ſervant David my father.

27 But will God [i] indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee, how much leſs this houſe that I have builded?

[i] He is ravished with the admiration of Gods mercies, who being incomprehenſible and Lord over all, will become familiar with men.

28 Yet have thou reſpect unto the prayer, of thy ſervant and to his ſupplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and to the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth before thee to day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this houſe night and day, even toward the place of which thou haſt ſaid, * My name ſhall be there: that thou mayeſt hearken unto the prayer which thy ſervant ſhall make ‡ towards this place.

* Deut. 12. 11.
‡ Or, in this place.

30 And hearken thou to the ſupplication of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, when they ſhall pray ‡ towards this place: and hear thou in heaven thy dwelling-place, and when thou heareſt, forgive.

‡ Or, in this place.

31 ¶ If any man treſpaſs againſt his neighbour, † and an oath be [k] laid upon him to cauſe him to ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe:

† Heb. and he require an oath of him.
k To wit, The judge, or neighbour.

32 Then hear thou in heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants, condemning the wicked, to bring his way upon his head, and juſtifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteouſneſs.

[l] That is, Make it known.

33 ¶ When thy people Iſrael be ſmitten down before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee, and ſhall turn again to thee, and [m] confeſs thy name, and pray, and make ſupplication unto thee ‡ in this houſe:

[m] Acknowledge thy juſt judgment, and praiſe thee.
‡ Or, towards.

34 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land, which thou gaveſt unto their fathers.

35 ¶ When heaven is [n] ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; if they pray towards this place, and confeſs thy name, and turn from their ſin, when thou afflicteſt them:

[n] So that there be a drought to deſtroy the fruits of the land.

36 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, that thou teach them the good way wherein they ſhould walk, and give rain upon thy land which thou haſt given to thy people for an inheritance.

37 ¶ If there be in the land famine, if there be peſtilence, blaſting, mildew, locuſt, or if there be caterpiller; if their enemy beſiege them in the land of their ‡ cities, whatſoever plague, whatſoever ſickneſs there be;

‡ Or, gates.

38 What prayer and ſupplication ſoever be made by any man, or by all thy people Iſrael, which ſhall know every man the plague of his own [o] heart, and ſpread forth his hands towards this houſe:

[o] For ſuch are moſt meet to receive Gods mercies.

39 Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and do, and give to every man according to his ways, whoſe heart thou knoweſt; (for thou, even thou onely knoweſt the hearts of all the children of men)

40 That they may fear thee all the days that they live, in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

41 Moreover, concerning a [p] ſtranger that is not of thy people Iſrael, but cometh out of a far country, for thy names ſake;

[p] He meaneth ſuch as ſhould be turned from their idolatry, to ſerve the true God.

42 (For they ſhall hear of thy great name, and of thy ſtrong hand, and of thy ſtretched-out arm) when he ſhall come and pray towards this houſe:

43 Hear thou in heaven thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may know thy [q] name, to fear thee, as do thy people Iſrael, and that they may know that † this houſe which I have builded, is called by thy name.

[q] That this is the true religion wherewith thou wilt be worſhipped.
† Heb. thy name is called upon this houſe.

44 ¶ If thy people go out to battel againſt their enemy, whitherſoever thou ſhalt ſend them, and ſhall pray unto the LORD † toward the city which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe that I have built for thy name:

† Heb. the way of the city.

45 Then hear thou in heaven their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their ‡ cauſe.

46 If they ſin againſt thee, (* for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angry with

* 2 Chron. 6. 36. Eccl. 7. 20. 1 John. 1. 8, 10.

with them, and deliver them to the enemy, ſo that they carry them away captives, unto the land of the enemy, far or near;

† Heb. bring back to their heart.

47 Yet if they ſhall † bethink themſelves, in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make ſupplication unto thee in the [r] land of them that carried them captives, ſaying, We have ſinned, and have done perverſely, we have committed wickedneſs;

[r] Though the temple was the chief place of prayer, yet he ſecluded not them, that being let with neceſſity, call upon him in other places.

48 And ſo return unto thee with all their heart and with all their ſoul, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captive, and pray unto thee toward their [s] land, which thou gaveſt unto their fathers, the city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name:

[s] As Daniel did, Dan. 6. 10.

49 Then hear thou their prayer and their ſupplication in heaven thy dwelling-place, and maintain their ‡ cauſe,

50 And forgive thy people that have ſinned againſt thee, and all their tranſgreſſions wherein they have tranſgreſſed againſt thee, and give them compaſſion before them who carried them captive, that they may have [t] compaſſion on them:

[t] He underſtood it aright, that God of enemies would make friends unto them that did cover unto him.

51 For they be thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughteſt forth out of Egypt, from the midſt of the furnace of iron:

52 That thine eyes may be open unto the ſupplication of thy ſervant, and unto the ſupplication of thy people Iſrael, to hearken unto them in all that they call for unto thee.

53 For thou didſt ſeparate them from among all the people of the earth, to be thine inheritance, * as thou ſpakeſt by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant, when thou broughteſt our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord GOD.

* Exod. 19. 5.

54 And it was ſo, that when Solomon had made an end of praying all this [u] prayer and ſupplication unto the LORD, he aroſe from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees, with his hands ſpread up to heaven.

[u] Solomon is a figure of Chriſt, who continually is the Mediatour between God and his church.

55 And he ſtood, and bleſſed all the congregation of Iſrael, with a loud voice, ſaying, 56 Bleſſed be the LORD, that hath given reſt unto his people Iſrael, according to all that he promiſed: there hath not † failed one word of all his good promiſe, which he promiſed by the hand of Moſes his ſervant.

57 The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forſake us:

58 That he may [x] incline our hearts unto him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and his ſtatutes, and his judgments, which he commanded our fathers.

[x] He concludeth that man of himſelf is enemy unto God, and that all obedience to his law proceedeth of his meer mercy.

59 And let theſe my words wherewith I have made ſupplication before the LORD, be nigh unto the LORD our God day and night, that he maintain the cauſe of his ſervant, and the cauſe of his people Iſrael † at all times, as the matter ſhall require:

60 That all the people of the earth may know that the LORD is God, and that there is none elſe.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfect with the LORD our God, to walk in his ſtatutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.

62 ¶ And * the king, and all Iſrael with him, offered ſacrifice before the LORD.

* 2 Chron. 7. 4.

63 And Solomon offered a ſacrifice of peace-offerings, which he offered unto the LORD, two and twenty thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep: ſo the king and all the children of Iſrael [y] dedicated the houſe of the LORD.

[y] Before the oracle where the ark was.

64 * The ſame day did the king hallow the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the LORD: for there he offered burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings: becauſe the braſen altar that was before the LORD, was too little to receive the burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings.

* 2 Chron. 7. 7.

65 And at that time Solomon held a feaſt, and all Iſrael with him, a great congregation, from the entring in of [z] Hamath, unto the river of Egypt, before the LORD our God, [a] ſeven days and ſeven days, even fourteen days.

[z] That is, From north to ſouth: Meaning, All the country.

[a] Seven days for the dedication, and ſeven for the feaſt.

66 On the eighth day he ſent the people away: and they ‡ bleſſed the king, and went unto their tents joyful and glad of heart, for all the goodneſs that the LORD had done for David his ſervant, and for Iſrael his people.

I have ſet before you, but go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them:

7 Then will I cut off Iſrael out of the land which I have given them; and this houſe which I have hallowed * for my name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and Iſrael ſhall be a [c] proverb, and a by-word among all people:

8 And at this houſe which is high, every one that paſſeth by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhall hiſs; and they ſhall ſay, * Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and to this houſe?

9 And they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the LORD their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worſhipped them, and ſerved them: therefore hath the LORD brought upon them all this evil.

10 ¶ And * it came to paſs at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houſes, the houſe of the LORD, and the kings houſe, 11 (Now Hiram the king of Tyre had furniſhed Solomon with cedar-trees, and fir-trees, and with gold, according to all his deſire) that then king Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to ſee the cities which Solomon had given him, and they † pleaſed him not.

13 And he ſaid, What cities are theſe which thou haſt given me, my brother? And he called them the land of ‡ Cabul unto this day.

14 And Hiram ſent to the king [d] ſixſcore [e] talents of gold.

15 ¶ And this is the reaſon of the levy which king Solomon raiſed, for to build the houſe of the LORD, and his own houſe, and [f] Millo, and the wall of Jeruſalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

16 For Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up, and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and ſlain the Canaanites that dwelt in the city, and given it for a preſent unto his daughter, Solomons wife.

17 And Solomon built Gezer, and Bethhoron the nether,

18 And Baalath, and Tadmor in the wilderneſs, in the land,

19 And all the cities of [g] ſtore that Solomon had, and cities for his chariots, and cities for his horſ-men, and † that which Solomon deſired to build in Jeruſalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.

20 And all the people that were [h] left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebuſites, which were not of the children of Iſrael, 21 Their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of Iſrael alſo were not able utterly to deſtroy, upon thoſe did Solomon levy a tribute of bond-ſervice unto this day.

22 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon * make no bond-men: but they were men of war, and his ſervants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots, and his horſ-men.

23 Theſe were the chief of the officers that were over Solomons work, [i] five hundred and fifty, which bare rule over the people that wrought in the work.

24 ¶ But * Pharaohs daughter came up out of the city of David, unto her houſe which Solomon had built for her: then did he build Millo.

25 ¶ And three times in a year did Solomon offer burnt-offerings, & peace-offerings upon the altar which he built unto the LORD, and he burnt incenſe † upon the altar that was before the LORD: ſo he finiſhed the houſe.

26 ¶ And king Solomon made a navy of ſhips in Ezion-geber, which is beſide Eloth, on the † ſhore of the Red ſea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram ſent in the navy his ſervants, ſhipmen that had knowledge of the ſea, with the ſervants of Solomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and fet from thence gold, [k] four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Solomon.

AND when the * queen of [a] Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, concerning the name of the LORD, ſhe came to prove him with hard queſtions.

2 And ſhe came to Jeruſalem with a very great train, with camels that bare ſpices, and very much gold, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Solomon told her all her † queſtions: there was not any thing hid from the king, which he told her not.

6 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true † report that I heard in mine own land, of thy ‡ acts, and of thy wiſdom.

e This is the cauſe why kings are appointed.

10 And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, & of ſpices very great ſtore, and precious ſtones: there came no more ſuch abundance of ſpices, as theſe, which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.

11 And the navy alſo of Hiram that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plenty of almug-trees, and precious ſtones.

14 ¶ And the LORD stirred up an adversary unto Solomon, Hadad the Edomite; he was of the kings [h] seed in Edom.

h Of the king of Edoms stock.

15 * For it came to pass when David was in Edom, and Joab the captain of the host was gone up to bury the slain, after he had smitten every male in Edom:

* 2 Sam. 8. 14.

16 (For six months did Joab remain there with all Israel, until he had cut off every [i] male in Edom) i Of the Edomites.

17 That Hadad [k] fled, he and certain Edomites of his fathers servants with him, to go into Egypt; Hadad being yet a little child.

k Thus God reserved this idolater to be a scourge to punish his peoples sins.

18 And they arose out of Midian, and came to Paran, and they took men with them out of Paran, and they came to Egypt, unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gave him an house, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.

19 And Hadad found [l] great favour in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him to wife the sister of his own wife, the sister of Tahpenes the queen.

l God brought him to honour, that his power might be more able to compass his enterprises against Solomons house.

20 And the sister of Tahpenes bare him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaohs house: and Genubath was in Pharaohs household among the sons of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the host was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, † Let me depart, that I may go to mine own country.

† Heb. send me away.

22 Then Pharaoh said unto him, But what hast thou lacked with me, that, behold, thou seekest to go to thine own country? And he answered, † Nothing: howbeit let me go in any wise.

† Heb. Not.

23 ¶ And God stirred him up another adversary, Rezon, the son of Eliadah, which [m] fled from his lord Hadadezer king of Zobah.

m when David had discomfited Hadadezer and his army.

24 And he gathered men unto him, and became captain over a band, * when David slew them of Zobah: and they went to Damascus and dwelt therein, and [n] reigned in Damascus.

* 2 Sam. 8. 3. & 10. 18.

n Being made king by the men whom he had gathered unto him.

25 And he was an adversary to Israel all the days of Solomon, beside the mischief that Hadad did: and he abhorred Israel, and reigned over Syria.

26 ¶ And * Jeroboam the son of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zereda, Solomons servant, (whose mothers name was Zeruah, a widow woman) even he lift up his hand against the king.

* 2 Chron. 13. 6.

27 And this was the cause that he lift up his hand against the king: Solomon built Millo, and † repaired the breaches of the city of David his father.

† Heb. closed.

28 And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valour: and Solomon seeing the young man that he † was industrious, he made him, [o] ruler over all the † charge of the house of Joseph.

o He was overseer of Solomons works for the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh.

† Heb. burden.

29 And it came to pass at that time when Jeroboam went out of Jerusalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way: and he had clad himself with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field.

30 And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and [p] rent it in twelve pieces.

p By these visible signs the prophets would more deeply print their message into their hearts, to whom they were sent.

31 And he said to Jeroboam, Take thee ten pieces: for thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee:

32 (But he shall have one tribe for my servant Davids sake, and for Jerusalems sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel)

33 Because that they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Zidonians, Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and have not walked in my ways, to do that which is right in mine eyes, and to keep my statutes and my judgments, as did David his father.

34 Howbeit, I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand: but I will make him prince all the days of his life, for David my servants sake, whom I chose, because he kept my commandments and my statutes:

35 But * I will take the kingdom out of his sons hand, and will give it unto thee, even ten tribes.

* Chap. 12. 15.

36 And unto his son will I give one tribe, that David my servant may have a † [q] light alway before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen me to put my name there.

† Heb. lamp, or, candle.

q He hath respect unto the Messiah, which should be the bright star that should shine through all the world.

37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reign according to all that thy soul desireth, and shalt be king over Israel.

38 And it shall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that is right in my sight, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as David my servant did; that I will be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built for David, and will give Israel unto thee.

39 And I will for this [r] afflict the seed of David, but [f] not for ever.

r For this idolatry that Solomon hath committed.

f For the whole spiritual kingdom was restored in Messiah.

40 Solomon sought therefore to kill Jeroboam: and Jeroboam arose, and fled into Egypt, unto Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

41 ¶ And the rest of the ‡ acts of Solomon, and all that he did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the [t] book of the acts of Solomon?

CHAP. XII.

1 The Iſraelites aſſembled at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, by Jeroboam make a ſuit of relaxation unto him. 6 Rehoboam refuſing the old mens counſel, by the advice of young men, anſwereth them roughly. 16 Ten tribes revolting, kill Adoram, and make Rehoboam to flee. 21 Rehoboam raiſing an army, is forbidden by Shemaiah. 25 Jeroboam ſtrengtheneth himſelf by cities, 26 and by the idolatry of the two calves.

* 2 Chron. 10. 1. AND * Rehoboam went to Shechem: for all Iſrael were come to Shechem to make him king.

2 And it came to paſs when Joroboam the ſon of Nebat, who was yet in * Egypt, heard * Chap. 11. 40. of it, (for he was fled from the preſence of king Solomon, & Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt)

3 That they ſent, and called him: and Jeroboam, and all the congregation of Iſrael came, and ſpake unto Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our * yoke grievous: * Chap. 4. 7. now therefore make thou the grievous ſervice of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, [a] lighter, and we will ſerve thee.

a Oppreſs us not with ſo great charges which we are not able to ſuſtain.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Depart yet for three days, then come again to me. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam conſulted with the old men that ſtood before Solomon his father, while he yet lived, and ſaid, How do you adviſe, that I may anſwer this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou wilt be a [b] ſervant unto this people this day, and wilt ſerve them, and anſwer them, and ſpeak good words to them, then they will be thy ſervants for ever.

b They ſhewed him that there was no way to win the peoples hearts, but to grant them their juſt petition.

8 But he forſook the counſel of the old men, which they had given him, and conſulted with the young men that were grown up with him, and which ſtood before him:

9 And he ſaid unto them, What [c] counſel give ye, that we may anſwer this people, who have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke which thy father did put upon us, lighter?

c There is nothing hinder for them that are in authority, then to bridle their affections, and follow good counſel.

10 And the young men that were grown up with him, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou ſpeak unto this people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter unto us; thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be [d] thicker then my fathers loyns.

d I am much more able to keep you in ſubjection then my father was.

11 And now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: my father hath chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 ¶ So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had [e] appointed, ſaying, Come to me again the third day.

e The people declare their obedience in this, that they would attempt nothing before the king had given them juſt occaſion.

13 And the king anſwered the people † roughly, and forſook the old mens counſel that they gave him;

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke; my father alſo chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 Wherefore the king hearkned not unto the people; for the cauſe was from the LORD, that he might perform his ſaying, which the LORD * ſpake by Ahijah the Shilonite unto Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat. * Chap. 11. 31.

16 ¶ So when all Iſrael ſaw that the king hearkned not unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in [f] David? neither have we inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: to your tents, O Iſrael: now ſee to thine own houſe, David. So Iſrael departed unto their tents.

f Though their cauſe were good, yet it is moſt hard for the people to bridle their affections, as theſe vile words declare.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael which dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Adoram, who was over the tribute; and all Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died: therefore king Rehoboam † made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 So Iſrael ‡ rebelled [g] againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

g By the juſt judgment of God, for Solomon ſins.

20 And it came to paſs when all Iſrael heard that Jeroboam was come again, that they ſent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Iſrael: there was none that followed the houſe of David, but the tribe of Judah * onely. * Chap. 11. 13.

21 ¶ And when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he [h] aſſembled all the houſe of Judah, with the tribe of Benjamin, an hundred and foureſcore thouſand choſen men, which were warriours, to fight againſt the houſe of Iſrael, to bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon.

h For as yet he perceived not that the Lord had ſo appointed it.

22 But * the word of God came unto Shemaiah the [i] man of God, ſaying, * 2 Chron. 11. 2.

i That is, The Prophet.

23 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon king of Judah, and unto all the houſe of Judah, and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, ſaying, 24 Thus ſaith the [k] LORD, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren the children of Iſrael: return every man to his houſe, for this thing is from me. They hearkned therefore to the word of the LORD, and returned to depart, according to the word of the LORD.

k who of his juſt judgment will puniſh the treſpaſſer, and of his mercy ſpare the innocent people.

25 ¶ Then Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went out from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Jeroboam ſaid in his heart, Now ſhall the kingdom return to the houſe of David:

27 If this people go up to do ſacrifice in the houſe of the LORD at [l] Jeruſalem, then ſhall the heart of this people turn again unto their lord, even unto Rehoboam king of Judah, and they ſhall kill me, and go again to Rehoboam king of Judah.

l He feared leſt his people ſhould have by this means been entiſed to rebel againſt him.

28 Whereupon the king took counſel, and made two calves of gold, and ſaid unto them, [m] It is too much for you to go up to Jeruſalem: * behold thy gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

m So craſty are the carnal perſwaſions of princes, when they will make a religion to ſerve to their appetite.
* Exod. 32. 8.

29 And he ſet the one in Beth-el, and the other put he in Dan.

30 And this thing became a ſin: for the people went to worſhip before the one, even unto Dan.

31 And he made an [n] houſe of high places, and made prieſts of the loweſt of the people, which were not of the ſons of Levi.

32 And Jeroboam ordained a feaſt in the eighth month, on the [o] fifteenth day of the month, like unto the feaſt that is in Judah, and he ‡ offered upon the altar, (ſo did he in Beth-el) ‡ ſacrificing unto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Beth-el the prieſts of the high places which he had made.

33 So he ‡ offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el, the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had deviſed of his own heart: and ordained a feaſt unto the children of Iſrael, and he offered upon the altar, † and burnt incenſe.

n That is, a temple, where altars were built for idolatry.

o Becauſe he would the more bind the peoples devotion to his idolatry, he made a new holy day, beſides thoſe that the Lord had appointed in the law.

‡ Or, went up to the altar, &c.

‡ Or, to ſacrifice.

‡ Or, went up to the altar, &c.

† Heb. to burn incenſe.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Jeroboams hand that offered violence to him that propheſied againſt his altar at Beth-el, withereth, 6 and at the prayer of the prophet is reſtored. 7 The prophet refuſing the kings entertainment, departeth from Beth-el. 11 An old prophet ſeducing him, bringeth him back. 20 He is reproved by God, 23 ſlain by a lion, 26 buried by the old prophet, 31 who confirmeth his propheſy. 33 Jeroboams obſtinacy.

AND behold, there came a [a] man of God out of Judah, by the word of the LORD unto [b] Beth-el: and Jeroboam ſtood by the altar ‡ to burn incenſe.

2 And he cried againſt the altar in the word of the LORD, and ſaid, O altar, altar, thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, a child ſhall be born unto the houſe of David, * Joſiah by name, and upon thee ſhall he offer the prieſts of the high places that burn incenſe upon thee, and mens bones ſhall be burnt upon thee.

3 And he gave a ſign the ſame day, ſaying, This is the [c] ſign which the LORD hath ſpoken; Behold, the altar ſhall be rent, and the aſhes that are upon it ſhall be poured out.

4 And it came to paſs when king Jeroboam heard the ſaying of the man of God, which had cried againſt the altar in Beth-el, that he put forth his hand from the altar, ſaying, [d] Lay hold on him. And his hand which he put forth againſt him, dried up, ſo that he could not pull it in again to him.

5 The altar alſo was rent, and the aſhes poured out from the altar, according to the ſign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king anſwered and ſaid unto the man of God, [e] Intreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be reſtored me again. And the man of God beſought † the LORD, and the kings hand was reſtored again, and became as it was before.

7 And the king ſaid unto the man of God, Come home with me, and refreſh thy ſelf, and I will give thee a reward.

8 And the man of God ſaid unto the king, If thou wilt give me half thine houſe, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drink water in this place:

9 For ſo was it charged me by the word of the LORD, ſaying, [f] Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the ſame way that thou cameſt.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ Now there dwelt an old prophet in Beth-el, and his ſons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el: the words which he had ſpoken unto the king, them they told alſo to their father.

12 And their father ſaid unto them, What way went he? for his ſons had ſeen what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he ſaid unto his ſons, Saddle me the aſs. So they ſaddled him the aſs, and he rode thereon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him ſitting under an oak; and he ſaid unto him, Art thou the man of God that cameſt from Judah? And he ſaid, I am.

15 Then he ſaid unto him, [g] Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 And he ſaid, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread, nor drink water with thee in this place.

17 For † it was ſaid to me by the word of the LORD, Thou ſhalt eat no bread, nor drink water there, not turn again to go by the way that thou cameſt.

18 He ſaid unto him, I am a prophet alſo as thou art, and an [h] angel ſpake unto me by the word of the LORD, ſaying, Bring him back with thee into thine houſe, that he may eat bread, and drink water. But he lied unto him.

19 So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his houſe, and drank water.

20 ¶ And it came to paſs as they ſat at the table, that the word of the LORD came unto the prophet that brought him back:

21 And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, [i] Foraſmuch as thou haſt diſobeyed the mouth of the LORD, and haſt not kept the commandment which the LORD thy God commanded thee, 22 But cameſt back, and haſt eaten bread, and drunk water in the place of the which the Lord did ſay to thee, Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcaſe ſhall not come unto the ſepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And it came to paſs after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he ſaddled for him the aſs, to wit, for the prophet whom he had brought back.

24 And when he was gone, [k] a lion met him by the way, and ſlew him: and his carcaſe was caſt in the way, and the aſs ſtood by it, the lion alſo ſtood by the carcaſe.

25 And behold, men paſſed by, and ſaw the carcaſe caſt in the way, and the lion ſtanding by the carcaſe: and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And

a That is, A prophet.

b Not that, that was called Luz in Benjamin, but another of that name.

‡ Or, to offer.

* 2 King. 23. 16.

c By this ſign ye ſhall know that the Lord hath ſent me.

d The wicked rage againſt the prophets of God, when they declare to them Gods judgment.

e Though the wicked humble themſelves for a time, when they feel Gods judgments, yet after they return to their old malice, and declare that they are but vile hypocrites.

† Heb. the face of the LORD.

f Seeing he had the expreſs word of God, he ought not to have declined therefrom, neither for the perſwaſion of man nor angel.

g This he did of a ſimple mind thinking it his duty to declare friendſhip to a prophet.

† Heb. a word was.

h His fault is here double: firſt, in that that he ſuffereth not the prophet to obey Gods expreſs commandment: and next, that he faineth to have a revelation to the contrary.

i God would reprove his folly by him, who was the occaſion to bring him into errour.

k By this fearful example God ſetteth forth how dangerous a thing it is for men to behave themſelves coldly, or deceitfully in their charge, whereunto God hath called them.

26 And when the prophet that brought him back from the way, heard thereof, he ſaid, It is the man of God, who was diſobedient unto the word of the LORD: therefore the LORD hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath † torn him, & ſlain him, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake unto him.

27 And he ſpake to his ſons, ſaying, Saddle me the aſs. And they ſaddled him.

28 And he went and found his carcaſe caſt in the way, and the aſs and the lion ſtanding by the carcaſe: the lion had [i] not eaten the carcaſe, nor † torn the aſs.

[i] To declare that this was only the judgment of God: for if the lion had done it for hunger, he would alſo have devoured the body.

29 And the prophet took up the carcaſe of the man of God, and laid it upon the aſs, and brought it back: and the old prophet came to the city, to mourn, and to bury him.

30 And he laid his carcaſe in his own [m] grave, and they mourned over him, ſaying, Alas my brother.

[m] Which he had prepared for himſelf.

31 And it came to paſs after he had buried him, that he ſpake to his ſons, ſaying, When I am dead, then bury me in the ſepulchre wherein the man of God is buried, lay my bones beſide his bones.

32 For the ſaying which he cried by the word of the LORD againſt the altar in Beth-el, and againſt all the houſes of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, ſhall ſurely come to paſs.

[n] So the wicked profit not by Gods threatnings, but go backward, and become worſe and worſe, 2 Tim. 3. 13.

33 ¶ After this thing Jeroboam [n] returned not from his evil way, but † made again of the loweſt of the people, prieſts of the high places: whoſoever would, he † conſecrated him, and he became one of the prieſts of the high places.

34 And this thing became ſin unto the houſe of Jeroboam, even to cut it off, and to deſtroy it from off the face of the earth.

14 Moreover, the LORD ſhall raiſe him up a king over Iſrael, who ſhall cut off the houſe of Jeroboam that day: but what? [l] even now.

[l] The Lord will begin to deſtroy it out of hand.

15 For the LORD ſhall ſmite Iſrael, as a reed is ſhaken in the water, and he ſhall root up Iſrael out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and ſhall ſcatter them beyond the [m] river, becauſe they have made their groves, provoking the LORD to anger.

c That is, His grandmother, as David is ofttimes called father of them, whoſe grandfather he was.

11 And Aſa did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did David his father.

12 And he took away the ſodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

14 But the high places were not removed: nevertheleſs, Aſa his heart was [e] perfect with the LORD all his days.

e For in that, that he ſuffered them to worſhip God in other places, then he had appointed, it came of ignorance, and not of malice.

15 And he brought in the † things which his father had dedicated, and the things which himſelf had dedicated, into the houſe of the LORD, ſilver and gold, and veſſels.

CHAP. XVI.

1,7 Jehu's prophecy against Baasha. 5 Elah succeedeth him. 8 Zimri conspiring against Elah, succeedeth him. 11 Zimri executeth Jehu's prophecy. 15 Omri made king by the souldiers, forceth Zimri desperately to burn himself. 21 The kingdom being divided, Omri prevaileth against Tibni. 23 Omri buildeth Samaria. 25 His wicked reign. 27 Ahab succeedeth him. 29 Ahabs most wicked reign. 34 Joshua's curse upon Hiel the builder of Jericho.

THen the word of the LORD came to Jehu the son of Hanani, against Baasha, saying,

2 [a] Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and made thee prince over my people Israel, and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins:

a Thus spake Jehu to Baasha in the name of the Lord.

3 Behold, I will take away the posterity of Baasha, and the posterity of his house: and will make thy [b] house like * the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

b Meaning, The house of Baasha.

* Chap. 15. 29.

4 * Him that dieth of Baasha in the city, shall the dogs eat: and him that dieth of his in the fields, shall the fowls of the air eat.

* Chap. 14. 11.

5 Now the rest of the acts of Baasha, and what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

6 So Baasha slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tirzah, and Elah his son reigned in his stead.

7 And [c] also by the hand of the prophet Jehu the son of Hanani, came the word of the LORD against Baasha, and against his house, even for all the evil that he did in the sight of the LORD, in provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam, and because he killed [d] him.

c That is, The prophet did his message.

d Meaning, Nadab Jeroboams son.

8 ¶ In the twenty and sixth year of Asa king of Judah, began Elah the son of Baasha to reign over Israel in Tirzah, two years.

9 And his servant Zimri (captain of half his chariots) conspired against him as he was in Tirzah, [e] drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, † steward of his house in Tirzah.

e The Chaldee text hath thus, Drinking till he was drunken, in the temple of Arza the idol, by his house in Tirza.

† Heb. which was over.

10 And Zimri went in and smote him, and killed him, in the twenty and seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his stead.

11 ¶ And it came to pass when he began to reign, assoon as he sat on his throne, that he slew all the house of Baasha: he left him not one that pisseth against a wall, ‡ neither of his kinsfolks, nor of his friends.

‡ Or, both his kinsmen and his friends.

12 Thus did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake against Baasha † by Jehu the [f] prophet;

f Both Hanani his father, and he were prophets.

13 For all the sins of Baasha, and the sins of Elah his son, by which they sinned, and by which they made Israel to sin, in provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their vanities.

14 Now the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

15 ¶ In the twenty and seventh year of Asa king of Judah, did Zimri reign seven days in Tirzah: and the people were encamped against [g] Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines.

g The siege had continued from the time of Nadab, Jeroboams son.

16 And the people that were encamped heard say, Zimri hath conspired, and hath also slain the king: wherefore all Israel made Omri the captain of the host, king over Israel that day in the camp.

17 And Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged [h] Tirzah.

h where Zimri kept himself in hold.

18 And it came to pass when Zimri saw that the city was taken, that he went into the palace of the kings house, and burnt the kings house over him with fire, and died;

19 For his sins which he sinned in doing evil in the ſight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his ſin which he did, to make Iſrael ſin.

20 Now the reſt of the acts of Zimri, and his treaſon that he wrought, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

21 ¶ Then were the people of Iſrael divided into two parts: [i] half of the people followed Tibni the ſon of Ginath, to make him king; and half followed Omri.

i That is, The people which were not at the siege of Gibbethon: for there they had chosen Omri.

22 But the people that followed Omri, prevailed againſt the people that followed Tibni the ſon of Ginath: ſo Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 ¶ In the thirty and one year of Aſa king of Judah, began Omri to reign over Iſrael twelve years: ſix years reigned he in Tirzah.

24 And he bought the hill Samaria of Shemer, for two talents of ſilver, and built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill † Samaria.

† Heb. Shomeron.

25 ¶ But Omri wrought evil in the eyes of the LORD, and did [k] worſe then all that were before him.

k For ſuch is the nature of idolatry, that the ſuperſtition thereof doth daily increaſe, and the older it is, the more abſurdities it is before God and his church.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, and in his ſin wherewith he made Iſrael to ſin, to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger with their vanities.

27 Now the reſt of the acts of Omri, which he did, and his might that he ſhewed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

28 So Omri ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in [l] Samaria, and Ahab his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

l He was the firſt king that was buried in Samaria, after that the king's houſe was built in Tirzah.

29 ¶ And in the thirty and eighth year of Aſa king of Judah, began Ahab the ſon of Omri to reign over Iſrael; and Ahab the ſon of Omri reigned over Iſrael in Samaria, twenty and two years.

30 And Ahab the ſon of Omri did evil in the ſight of the LORD, above all that were before him.

† Heb. was it a light thing, &c.

31 And it came to paſs, † as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat; that he took to [m] wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Zidonians, and went and ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him.

m By whoſe means he fell to all wicked and ſtrange idolatry, and cruel perſecution.

32 And he reared up an altar for Baal, in the houſe of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a grove; and Ahab did more to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger, then all the kings of Iſrael that were before him.

34 ¶ In his days did Hiel the Beth-elite build [n] Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his firſt-born, and ſet up the gates thereof in his youngeſt ſon Segub, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by Joſhua the ſon of Nun.

e All this was to ſtrengthen the faith of Eliah, to the intent that he ſhould look upon nothing worldly, but onely truſt on God providence.

11 And as ſhe was going to fetch it, he called to her, and ſaid, Bring me, I pray thee, a morſel of bread in thine hand.

12 And ſhe ſaid, As the LORD thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oyl in a cruſe: and behold, I am gathering two ſticks, that I may go in, and dreſs it for me and my ſon, that we may eat it, and [f] die.

f For there is no hope of any more ſuſtenance.

13 And Elijah ſaid unto her, Fear not; go, and do as thou haſt ſaid: but make me thereof a little cake firſt, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy ſon.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, The [g] barrel of meal ſhall not waſte, neither ſhall the cruſe of oyl fail, until the day that the LORD † ſendeth rain upon the earth.

18 And ſhe ſaid unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my ſin to remembrance, and to ſlay my ſon?

19 And he ſaid unto her, Give me thy ſon. And he took him out of her boſom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

20 And he cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD my God, haſt [k] thou alſo brought evil upon the widow, with whom I ſojourn, by ſlaying her ſon?

21 And he † ſtretched himſelf upon the child three times, and cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD my God, I pray thee, let this childs ſoul come † into him again.

22 And the LORD heard the voice of Elijah, and the ſoul of the child came into him again, and he revived.

23 And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the houſe, and delivered him unto his mother: and Elijah ſaid, See, thy ſon liveth.

1 In the extremity of famine Elijah ſent to Ahab, meeteth good Obadiah. 9 Obadiah bringeth Ahab to Elijah. 17 Elijah reproving Ahab, by fire from heaven convinceth Baals prophets. 41 Elijah by prayer obtaining rain, followeth Ahab to Jezreel.

AND it came to paſs after many days, that the word of the LORD came to Elijah in the [a] third year, ſaying, Go ſhew thy ſelf unto Ahab; and I will ſend rain upon the earth.

2 And Elijah went to ſhew himſelf unto Ahab: and there was a ſore famine in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called † Obadiah which was † the governour of his houſe: (now Obadiah [b] feared the LORD greatly:

4 For it was ſo, when † Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water)

5 And Ahab ſaid unto Obadiah, Go into the land, unto all fountains of water, and unto all brooks: peradventure we may find graſs to ſave the horſes and mules alive, † that we leeſe not all the beaſts.

6 So they divided the land between them to paſs throughout it: Ahab went one way by himſelf, and Obadiah went another way by himſelf.

7 ¶ And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah [c] met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and ſaid, Art thou that my lord Elijah?

8 ¶ And he anſwered him, I am: go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

9 And he ſaid, What have I ſinned, that thou wouldeſt deliver thy ſervant into the hand of Ahab, to ſlay me?

10 As the LORD thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not ſent to ſeek thee: and when they ſaid, He is not there; he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, that they found thee not.

11 And now thou ſayeſt, Go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And it ſhall come to paſs, as ſoon as I am gone from thee, that the ſpirit of the LORD ſhall carry thee whither I know not; and ſo when I come and tell Ahab, and he cannot find thee, he ſhall ſlay me: but I thy ſervant [d] fear the LORD from my youth.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Jezebel ſlew the prophets of the LORD? how I hid an hundred men of the LORDS prophets, by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou ſayeſt, Go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here: and he ſhall ſlay me.

15 And Elijah ſaid, As the LORD of hoſts liveth, before whom I ſtand, [e] I will ſurely ſhew my ſelf unto him to day.

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him: and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 ¶ And it came to paſs when Ahab ſaw Elijah, that Ahab ſaid unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Iſrael?

18 And he anſwered, I have not troubled Iſrael, but [f] thou and thy fathers houſe, in that ye have forſaken the commandments of the LORD, and thou haſt followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore ſend, and gather to me all Iſrael unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, which eat at Jezebels table.

20 So Ahab ſent unto all the children of Iſrael, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.

21 And Elijah came unto all the people, and ſaid, How long [g] halt ye between two ‡ opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. And the people anſwered him not a word.

22 Then ſaid Elijah unto the people, I, even I onely remain a prophet of the LORD; but Baals prophets are four hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullocks, and let them chooſe one bullock for themſelves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under: and I will dreſs the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under:

24 And call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD: and the God that anſwereth by [h] fire, let him be God. And all the people anſwered and ſaid, † It is well ſpoken.

25 And Elijah ſaid unto the prophets of Baal, Chooſe you one bullock for your ſelves, and dreſs it firſt; for ye are many: and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

30 And Elijah ſaid unto all the people, Come near unto me. And all the people came near unto him: and he repaired the altar of the LORD that was broken down.

31 And Elijah took twelve ſtones, according to the number of the tribes of the ſons of Jacob, unto whom the word of the LORD came, ſaying, * Iſrael ſhall be thy name.

* Gen. 32. 28. 2 King. 17. 34.

32 And with the ſtones he built an altar in the name of the LORD: and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two ‡ meaſures of ſeed.

‡ Heb. Sati, which ſome think, contain about three pottels, and a third part a piece.

33 And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, & laid him on the wood, and ſaid, Fill four barrels with water, & pour it on the burnt-ſacrifice, and on the wood.

34 And he ſaid, Do it the ſecond time: And they did it the ſecond time. And he ſaid, Do it the third time: And they did it the third time.

35 And the water † ran round about the altar, and he [m] filled the trench alſo with water.

m Hereby he declared the excellent power of God, who contrary to nature could make the fire burn even in the water, to the intent, they ſhould have none occaſion to doubt that he is the onely God.

36 And it came to paſs at the time of the offering of the evening ſacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near and ſaid, LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, let it be known this day, that thou art God in Iſrael, and that I am thy ſervant, and that I have done all theſe things at thy word.

37 Hear me, O LORD, hear me, that this people may know that thou art the LORD God, and that thou haſt turned their heart back [n] again.

n Though God ſuffer his to run in blindneſs and errour for a time, yet at the length he calleth them home to him by ſome notorious ſign and work.

38 Then the fire of the LORD fell, and conſumed the burnt-ſacrifice, and the wood, and the ſtones, and the duſt, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39 And when all the people ſaw it, they fell on their faces: and they ſaid, The LORD, he is the God; the LORD, he is the God.

‡ Or, apprehend.

40 And Elijah ſaid unto them, ‡ Take the prophets of Baal, let not [o] one of them eſcape: and they took them, and Elijah brought them down to the brook Kiſhon, and ſlew them there.

o He commanded them, that as they were truely perſwaded to confeſs the onely God: ſo they would ſerve him with all their power, and deſtroy the idolaters, his enemies.

41 ¶ And Elijah ſaid unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink, for there is ‡ a ſound of abundance of rain.

‡ Or, a ſound of a noiſe of rain.

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink, and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel, and he caſt himſelf down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees, 43 And ſaid to his ſervant, Go up now, look toward the ſea. And he went up, and looked, and ſaid, There is nothing. And he ſaid, Go again [p] ſeven times.

p As Gods Spirit moved him to pray, ſo was he ſtrengthned by the ſame, that he did not faint, but continued ſtill till he had obtained.

44 And it came to paſs at the ſeventh time, that he ſaid, Behold, there ariſeth a little cloud out of the ſea, like a mans hand. And he ſaid, Go up, ſay unto Ahab, † Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain ſtop thee not.

† Heb. ty, or, bind.

45 And it came to paſs in the mean while, that the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab rode and went to Jezreel.

46 And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah; and he girded up his loyns, and ran [q] before Ahab, † to the entrance of Jezreel.

q He was ſo ſtrengthned with Gods ſpirit, that he ran faſter then the chariot was able to run.
† Heb. till thou come to Jezreel.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Elijah threatned by Jezebel, fleeth to Beer-ſheba. 4 In the wilderneſs being weary of his life, he is comforted by an angel. 9 At Horeb God appeareth unto him, ſending him to anoint Hazael, Jehu, & Eliſha. 19 Eliſha taking leave of his friends, followeth Elijah.

AND Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and withall, how he had ſlain all the * prophets with the ſword.

a To wit, of Baal

2 Then Jezebel ſent a meſſenger unto Elijah, ſaying, So let the [b] gods do to me, and more alſo, if I make not thy life as the life of one of them, by to morrow about this time.

b Though the wicked rage againſt Gods children, yet he holdeth them back that they cannot execute their malice.

3 And when he ſaw that, he aroſe, and went for his life, and came to Beer-ſheba, which belongeth to Judah, and left his ſervant there.

4 ¶ But he himſelf went a days journy into the wilderneſs, and came and ſat down under a juniper-tree: and he requeſted † for himſelf that he might die, and ſaid, It is enough, now O LORD [c] take away my life: for I am not better then my fathers.

c So hard a thing it is to bridle our impatience in affliction, that the ſaints could not overcome the ſame.

5 And as he lay and ſlept under a juniper-tree, behold then, an angel touched him, and ſaid unto him, Ariſe and eat.

6 And he looked, and behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruſe of water at his † head: and he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

7 And the angel of the LORD came again the ſecond time, & touched him, & ſaid, Ariſe and eat, [d] becauſe the journy is too great for thee.

d He declareth, that except God had nouriſhed him miraculouſly, it had not been poſſible for him to have gone this journy.

8 And he aroſe, and did eat and drink, and went in the ſtrength of that meat fourty days and fourty nights, unto Horeb the mount of God.

9 ¶ And he came thither unto a cave, and lodged there; and behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and he ſaid unto him, What doſt thou here, Elijah?

10 And he ſaid, I have been very [e] jealous for the LORD God of hoſts: for the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword; and * I, even I onely am left, and they ſeek my life, to take it away.

e He complaineth, that the more zealous that he ſhewed himſelf to maintain Gods glory, the more cruelly was he perſecuted.
* Rom. 11. 3.

11 And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the LORD. And behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD; but the LORD was not in the [f] wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake a fire; but the LORD was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice.

13 And it was so, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entring in of the cave: and behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What dost thou here, Elijah?

14 And he said, I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hosts: because the [g] children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.

15 And the LORD said unto him, Go, return on thy way to the wilderness of Damascus: and when thou comest, anoint Hazael to be king over Syria.

16 And * Jehu the son of Nimshi shalt thou anoint to be king over Israel: and * Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah, shalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

17 And it shall come to pass, that him that escapeth the sword of Hazael, shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu, shall Elisha slay.

18 * Yet ‡ I have left me seven thousand in Israel, all the [h] knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him.

19 ¶ So he departed thence, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth: and Elijah passed by him, and cast his mantle upon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and said, Let me, I pray thee, [i] kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he said unto him, † Go back again; for what have I done to thee?

21 And he returned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen, and slew them, and boyled their flesh with the [k] instruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat: then he arose, and went after Elijah, and ministred unto him.

f For the nature of man is not able to come near unto God, if he should appear in his strength and full majesty, and therefore of his mercy he submitteth himself to our capacity.

g We ought not to depend on the multitude in maintaining Gods glory, but because our duty is to require it, we ought to do it.

* Rom. 11. 4. Or, I will leave.
h He declareth that wicked dissemblers and idolaters are not his.

i Though this natural affection is not to be condemned, yet it ought not to move us when God calleth us to serve him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Ben-hadad not content with Ahabs homage, besiegeth Samaria. 13 By the direction of a prophet, the Syrians are slain. 22 As the prophet forewarned Ahab, the Syrians trusting in the valleys, come against him in Aphek. 28 By the word of the prophet, and Gods judgment, the Syrians are smitten again. 31 The Syrians submitting themselves, Ahab sendeth Benhadad away with a covenant. 35 The prophet under the parable of a prisoner, making Ahab to judge himself, denounceth Gods judgment against him.

AND Ben-hadad the king of Syria gathered all his host together, and there were thirty and two [a] kings with him, and horses, and chariots: and he went up and besieged Samaria, and warred against it.

a That is, Governours, and rulers of provinces.

2 And he sent messengers to Ahab king of Israel into the city, and said unto him, Thus saith Ben-hadad,

3 Thy silver and thy gold is mine, thy wives also and thy children, even the goodliest, are mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered and said, My lord O king, according to thy saying, [b] I am thine, and all that I have.

b I am content to obey, and pay tribute.

5 And the messengers came again, and said, Thus speaketh Ben-hadad, saying, Although I have sent unto thee, saying, Thou shalt deliver me thy silver and thy gold, and thy wives and thy children:

6 [c] Yet I will send my servants unto thee to morrow about this time, and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy servants; and it shall be, that whatsoever is † pleasant in thine eyes, they shall put it in their hand, and take it away.

c He would not accept his answer, except he did out of hand deliver whatsoever he should ask, for he sought an occasion, how to make war against him.

7 Then the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, Mark, I pray you, and see how this man seeketh mischief: for he sent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my silver, and for my gold, and † I denied him not.

† Heb. I kept not back from unto.

8 And all the elders, and all the people said unto him, Hearken [d] not unto him, nor consent.

d They thought it their duties rather to venture their lives, then to grant to that thing which was not lawful, onely to satisfy the lust of a tyrant.

9 Wherefore he said unto the messengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didst send for to thy servant at the first, I will do: but this thing I may not do. And the messengers departed, & brought him word again.

10 And Ben-hadad sent unto him, and said, The gods do so unto me and more also, if the [e] dust of Samaria shall suffice for handfulls for all the people that † follow me.

e Much less shall there be found any prey, that is worth any thing; when they shall be so many.
† Heb. are at my feet.

11 And the king of Israel answered and said, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth on his harness, [f] boast himself, as he that putteth it off.

f Boast not before the victory be gotten.

12 And it came to pass, when Ben-hadad heard this † message (as he was drinking, he and the kings in the ‡ pavilions) that he said unto his servants, ‡ Set your selves in aray: And they set themselves in aray against the city.

‡ Or, place the engines: And they placed engines.

13 ¶ And behold, there † came a prophet unto Ahab king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Hast thou seen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day, and [g] thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

g Before God went about with signs and miracles to pull Ahab from his impiety, and now again with wonderful victories.

14 And Ahab said, By whom? And he said, Thus saith the LORD, Even by the ‡ young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he said, who shall † order the battel? And he answered, Thou.

‡ Or, servants.
† Heb. bind, or, ty.

15 Then he numbred the young men of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty two: and after them he numbred all the people, even all the children of Israel, being seven thousand.

16 And they went out at noon: but Benhadad was drinking himself drunk in the pavilions, lions, he and the kings, the thirty and two kings that helped him.

h That is, Young men trained in the ſervice of princes.

17 And the [h] young men of the princes of the provinces, went out firſt, and Ben-hadad ſent out, and they told him, ſaying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he ſaid, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive; or whether they be come out for war, take them alive.

19 So theſe young men of the princes of the provinces, came out of the city, and the army which followed them.

20 And they ſlew every one his man: and the Syrians fled, and Iſrael purſued them: and Ben-hadad the king of Syria eſcaped on an horſe, with the [i] hors-men.

i with them that were appointed for the preſervation of his perſon.

21 And the king of Iſrael went out, and ſmote the horſes and chariots, and ſlew the Syrians with a great ſlaughter.

22 ¶ And the prophet came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid unto him, Go ſtrengthen thy ſelf, and mark and ſee what thou doſt: for at the return of the year, the king of Syria will come up againſt thee.

k Thus the wicked blaſpheme God in their fury, whom notwithſtanding he ſuffereth not unpuniſhed.

23 And the ſervants of the king of Syria ſaid unto him, [k] Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they were ſtronger then we: but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger then they.

24 And do this thing, Take the kings away, every man out of his place, and put captains in their rooms.

† Heb. that was fallen.

25 And number thee an army, like the army † that thou haſt loſt, horſe for horſe, and chariot for chariot: and we will fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger then they. And he hearkned unto their voice, and did ſo.

† Heb. to the war with Iſrael.

26 And it came to paſs at the return of the year, that Ben-hadad numbred the Syrians, and went up to Aphek, † to fight againſt Iſrael.

‖ All they which were in the battel of the former year, verſe 15.
‡ Or, were victualed.

27 And the children of Iſrael were [‖] numbred, and ‡ were all preſent, and went againſt them: and the children of Iſrael pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids; but the Syrians filled the country.

28 ¶ And there came a man of God, and ſpake unto the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, becauſe the Syrians have ſaid, The LORD is God of the hills, but he is not God of the valleys: therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye ſhall [m] know that I am the LORD.

m who am of like power in the valleys, as I am on the hils: and can as well deſtroy a multitude with few, as with many.

29 And they pitched one over againſt the other ſeven days; and ſo it was, that in the ſeventh day the battel was joyned: and the children of Iſrael ſlew of the Syrians an hundred thouſand foot-men in one day.

30 But the reſt fled to Aphek, into the city; and there a wall fell upon twenty and ſeven thouſand of the men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled, and came into the city ‡ † into an inner chamber.

‡ Or, from chamber to chamber.
† Heb. into a chamber within a chamber.

31 ¶ And his ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold now, we have heard that the kings of the houſe of Iſrael are merciful kings: let us, I pray thee, put ſackcloth on our [n] loyns, and ropes upon our heads, and go out to the king of Iſrael; peradventure he will ſave thy life.

n In ſign of ſubmiſſion, and that we have deſerved death, if he will puniſh us with rigour.

32 So they girded ſackcloth on their loyns, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, thy ſervant Ben-hadad ſaith, I pray thee, let me live. And he ſaid, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

33 Now the men did diligently obſerve whether any thing would come from him, and did haſtily catch it: and they ſaid, [o] Thy brother Ben-hadad. Then he ſaid, Go ye, bring him. Then Ben-hadad came forth to him; and he cauſed him to come up into the chariot.

o He is alive.

34 And Ben-hadad ſaid unto him, the cities which my father took from thy father, I will reſtore, and thou ſhalt make ſtreets for thee in [p] Damaſcus, as my father made in Samaria. Then ſaid Ahab, I will ſend thee away with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and ſent him away.

p Thou ſhalt appoint in my chief city what thou wilt, and I will obey thee.

35 ¶ And a certain man of the ſons of the prophets, ſaid unto his neighbour in the word of the LORD, [q] Smite me, I pray thee. And the man refuſed to ſmite him.

q By this external ſign he would more lively touch the kings heart.

36 Then ſaid he unto him, Becauſe thou haſt not obeyed the voice of the LORD, behold, aſſoon as thou art departed from me, a lion ſhall [r] ſlay thee. And aſſoon as he was departed from him, a lion found him, and ſlew him.

r Becauſe thou haſt tranſgreſſed the commandment of the Lord.

37 Then he found another man, and ſaid, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man ſmote him, † ſo that in ſmiting he wounded him.

† Heb. ſmiting and wounding.

38 So the prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and diſguiſed himſelf with aſhes upon his face.

39 And as the king paſſed by, he cried unto the king: and he ſaid, [ſ] Thy ſervant went out into the midſt of the battel, and behold, a man turned aſide, and brought a man unto me, and ſaid, Keep this man: if by any means he be miſſing, then ſhall thy life be for his life, or elſe thou ſhalt † pay a talent of ſilver.

ſ By this parable he maketh Ahab condemn himſelf who made a covenant with Gods enemy, and let him eſcape, whom God had appointed to be ſlain.

40 And as thy ſervant was buſy here and there, † he was gone. And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto him, So ſhall thy judgment be, thy ſelf haſt decided it.

† Heb. he was not.

41 And he haſted, and took the aſhes away from his face, and the king of Iſrael diſcerned him that he was of the prophets.

42 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, * Becauſe thou haſt let go out of thy hand, a man whom I appointed to utter deſtruction, therefore thy life ſhall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

* Chap. 22. 37

43 And the king of Iſrael went to his houſe, heavy and diſpleaſed, and came to Samaria.

CHAP XXI.

1 Ahab being denied Naboths vineyard, is grieved. 5 Jezebel writting letters againſt Naboth, he is condemned of blaſphemy. 15 Ahab taketh poſſeſſion of the vineyard. 17 Elijah denounceth judgments againſt Ahab and Jezebel. 25 Wicked Ahab repenting, God deferreth the judgment.

AND it came to paſs after theſe things, that Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard, which which was in Jezreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab ſpake unto Naboth, ſaying, a Though Ahabs crueltie be condemned by the holy Spirit, yet he was not ſo rigorous that he would take from another man his right without full recompenſe.
† Heb. be good in thine eyes.
a Give me thy vineyard, that I may have it for a garden of herbs, becauſe it is near unto my houſe, and I will give thee for it a better vineyard then it: or if it † ſeem good to thee, I will give thee the worth of it in mony.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Ahab, the LORD forbid it me, that I ſhould give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

4 And Ahab came into his houſe, heavy and diſpleaſed, becauſe of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken to him: for he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers: and he laid him down upon his b bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

5 ¶ But Jezebel his wife came to him, and ſaid unto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad, that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid unto her, Becauſe I ſpake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and ſaid unto him, Give me thy vineyard for mony; or elſe if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he anſwered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 And Jezebel his wife ſaid unto him, c As though ſhe ſaid, thou knoweſt not what it is to reign, command and entreat not.
c Doſt thou now govern the kingdom of Iſrael? ariſe, and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry: I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 So ſhe wrote letters in Ahabs name, and ſealed them with his ſeal, and ſent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his city dwelling with Naboth.

9 And ſhe wrote in the letters, ſaying,

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people.

13 And there came in two men, children of Belial, and ſat before him: and the men of Belial witneſſed againſt him, even againſt Naboth, in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died.
f This example of monſtrous cruelty the holy Ghoſt leaveth to us, to the intent that we ſhould abhor all tyranny, and ſpecially in them, whom nature and kind ſhould move to be pitiful and inclined to mercy.

14 Then they ſent to Jezebel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned, and is dead.

15 ¶ And it came to paſs when Jezebel heard that Naboth was ſtoned, and was dead, that Jezebel ſaid to Ahab, f Ariſe, take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite f which he refuſed to give thee for mony: for Naboth is not alive, but dead.

16 And it came to paſs when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab roſe up to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, 18 Ariſe, go down to meet Ahab king of Iſrael, which is in Samaria: behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone down to poſſeſs it.

19 And thou ſhalt ſpeak unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, that * Jehoshaphat the king of Judah [b] came down to the king of Israel.

3 (And the king of Israel said unto his servants, Know ye that [c] Ramoth in Gilead is ours, and we be † still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria?)

4 And he said unto Jehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battel to Ramoth-gilead? And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, *[d] I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horses as thy horses.

5 And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, [e] Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

6 Then the king of Israel gathered the [f] prophets together about four hundred men, and said unto them, Shall I go against Ramoth-gilead to battel, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up; for the LORD shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

7 And Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD [g] besides, that we might enquire of him?

8 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Micaiah the son of Imlah) by whom we may enquire of the LORD; but [h] I hate him, for he doth not prophesie good concerning me, but evil. And Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

9 Then the king of Israel called an ‡ [i] officer, and said, Hasten hither Micaiah the son of Imlah.

10 And the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah sat each on his throne, having put on their [k] robes, in a † void place in the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them.

11 And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made him [l] horns of iron: and he said, Thus saith the LORD, With these shalt thou push the Syrians, until thou hast consumed them.

12 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the kings hand.

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Micaiah, spake unto him, saying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with [m] one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and speak that which is good.

14 And Micaiah said, As the LORD liveth, what the LORD saith unto me, that will I speak.

15 ¶ So he came to the king, and the king said unto him, Micaiah, shall we go against Ramoth-gilead to battel, or shall we forbear? And he answered him, [n] Go, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said unto him, How many times shall I adjure thee, that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the LORD?

17 And he said, I saw all Israel scattered upon the hills, as sheep that have not a shepherd: and the LORD said, [o] These have no master, let them return every man to his house in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would prophesy no good concerning me, but evil?

19 And he said, Hear thou therefore the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, & all the [p] host of heaven standing by him, on his right hand and on his left.

20 And the LORD said, Who shall ‡ persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner.

21 And there came forth a spirit, and [q] stood before the LORD, and said, I will persuade him.

22 And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be [r] a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so.

23 Now therefore behold, the LORD hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil concerning thee.

24 But Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah went near, and smote Micaiah on the cheek, and said, * [s] Which way went the spirit of the LORD from me to speak unto thee?

25 And Micaiah said, Behold, [t] thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go ‡ into † an inner chamber to hide thy self.

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Micaiah, and carry him back unto Amon the governour of the city, and to Joash the kings son;

27 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with [t] bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, until I come in peace.

28 And Micaiah said, If thou return at all in peace, the LORD hath not spoken by me. And he said, [u] Hearken, O people, every one of you.

29 So the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, went up to Ramoth-gilead.

30 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, ‡ I will disguise my self, and enter into the battel, but put thou on thy robes. And the king of Israel disguised himself, and went into the battel.

31 But the king of Syria commanded his thirty and two captains that had rule over his chariots, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, save onely with the king of Israel.

32 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, Surely it is the king of Israel. And they turned aside to fight against him: and Jehoshaphat [x] cried out.

33 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him.

34 And a certain man drew a bow † at a venture, and smote the king of Israel between the † joynts of the harnes: wherefore he said unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, 53 For he ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him, and provoked to anger the LORD God of Iſrael, according to all that his father had done.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS,

Commonly called,

The fourth book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis ſecond book containeth the acts of the kings of Judah and Iſrael: to wit, of Iſrael from the death of Ahab unto the laſt king Hoſhea, who was impriſoned by the king of Aſſyria, and his city Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the juſt plague of God for their idolatry and diſobedience to God led into captivity. And alſo of Judah, from the reign of Jehoram ſon of Jehoſhaphat unto Zedekiah, who for contemning the Lords commandment by his prophets, and neglecting his ſundry admonitions, by famin and other means, was taken by enemies, ſaw his ſons moſt cruelly ſlain before his face, and his own eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his prophet Jeremy: and alſo by the juſt vengeance of God for contempt of his word, Jeruſalem was deſtroyed, the temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captives into Babylon. In this book are notable examples of Gods favour towards thoſe rulers and people which obey his prophets, and imbrace his word: and contrariwiſe, of his plagues toward thoſe common-weals which neglect his miniſters, and do not obey his commandments.

CHAP. I.

1 Moab rebelleth. 2 Ahaziah sending to Baal-zebub, hath his judgment by Elijah. 5 Elijah twice bringeth fire from heaven upon them whom Ahaziah sent to apprehend him. 13 He pitieth the third captain, and encouraged by an angel, telleth the king of his death. 17 Jehoram succeedeth Ahaziah.

THen Moab rebelled against Israel,* after the death of Ahab.

2 And [a] Ahaziah fell down through a latteſs in his upper chamber that was in Samaria, and was ſick: and he ſent meſſengers, and ſaid unto them, Go, enquire of [b] Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, whether I ſhall recover of this diſeaſe.

3 But the angel of the LORD ſaid to Elijah the Tiſhbite, Ariſe, go up to meet the meſſengers of the king of Samaria, and ſay unto them, [c] Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that ye go to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

4 Now therefore thus ſaith the LORD, † Thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die. And Elijah departed.

5 ¶ And when the meſſengers turned back unto him, he ſaid unto them, Why are ye now turned back?

6 And they ſaid unto him, There came a man up to meet us, and ſaid unto us, Go, turn again unto the king that ſent you, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, [d] Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron? therefore thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

7 And he ſaid unto them, † What manner of man was he which came up to meet you, and told you theſe words?

8 And they anſwered him, He was an [e] hairy man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loyns. And he ſaid, It is Elijah the Tiſhbite.

9 Then the king ſent unto him a captain of fifty, with his fifty: and he went up to him, (and behold, he ſat on the top of an [f] hill) and he ſpake unto him, Thou man of God, the king hath ſaid, Come down.

10 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And there came down [g] fire from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

11 Again alſo he ſent unto him another captain of fifty, with his fifty: and he anſwered and ſaid unto him, [h] O man of God, thus hath the king ſaid, Come down quickly.

12 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid unto them, If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And the fire of God came down from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

13 ¶ And he ſent again a captain of the third fifty, with his fifty: and the third captain of fifty went up, and came and † fell on his knees before Elijah, and [k] beſought him, and ſaid unto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of theſe fifty thy ſervants be [l] precious in thy ſight.

14 Behold, there came fire down from heaven, and burnt up the two captains of the former fifties, with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy ſight.

15 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto Elijah, [m] Go down with him, be not afraid of him. And he aroſe, and went down with him unto the king.

16 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Foraſmuch as thou haſt ſent meſſengers to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron (is it not becauſe there is no God in Iſrael to enquire of his word?) therefore thou ſhalt not come down off that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

17 ¶ So he died, according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had ſpoken: and Jehoram reigned in his ſtead, in the ſecond year of [n] Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah; becauſe he had no ſon.

18 Now the reſt of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

CHAP. II.

1 Elijah, taking his leave of Eliſha, with his mantle divideth Jordan, 9 and granting Eliſha his requeſt, is taken up by a fiery chariot into heaven. 12 Eliſha dividing Jordan with Elijahs mantle, is acknowledged his ſucceſſour. 16 The young prophets, hardly obtaining leave to ſeek Elijah, could not find him. 19 Eliſha with ſalt healeth the unwholeſom waters. 23 Bears deſtroy the children that mocked Eliſha.

AND it came to paſs when the LORD would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Eliſha from [a] Gilgal.

2 And Elijah ſaid unto Eliſha, Tarry here, I pray thee: for the LORD hath ſent me to Beth-el. And Eliſha ſaid unto him, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Beth-el.

3 And the [b] ſons of the prophets that were at Beth-el, came forth to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy [c] head to day? And he ſaid, Yea, I [d] know it, hold you your peace.

4 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Eliſha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the LORD hath ſent me to Jericho. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

5 And the ſons of the prophets that were at [e] Jericho, came to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy head to day? And he anſwered, Yea, I know it, hold you your peace.

6 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here: for the LORD hath ſent me to Jordan. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on.

7 And fifty men of the ſons of the prophets went, and ſtood † to view afar off: and they two ſtood by Jordan.

9 ¶ And it came to pass when they were gone over, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a [g] double portion of thy spirit be upon me.

10 And he said, † Thou hast asked a hard thing: nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so.

* Chap. 13. 14.

13 He took up also the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and went back, and stood by the † bank of Jordan;

† Heb. lip.

14 And he took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the LORD God of Elijah? and when he also had smitten the waters, they parted hither and thither: and Elisha went over.

15 And when the sons of the prophets which were * to view at Jericho, saw him, they said, The spirit of [i] Elijah doth rest on Elisha. And they came to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him:

* Vers. 7.

[i] The spirit of prophecy is given to him, as it was to Elijah.

16 ¶ And they said unto him, Behold now, there be with thy servants fifty † strong men, let them go, we pray thee, and seek thy [k] master: lest peradventure the spirit of the LORD hath taken him up, and cast him upon † some mountain, or into some valley. And he said, [l] Ye shall not send.

† Heb. sons of strength.

[k] Meaning, Elijah: for they thought his body had been cast in some mountain.

[l] Because the fact was extraordinary, they doubted where he was become, but Elisha was assured that he was taken up to God.

17 And when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, Send. They sent therefore fifty men; and they sought three days, but found him not.

18 And when they came again to him, (for he tarried at Jericho) he said unto them, Did I not say unto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the city said unto Elisha, Behold, I pray thee, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord seeth: but the water is naught, and the ground † barren.

† Heb. causing to miscarry.

20 And he said, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went forth unto the spring of the waters, and cast the [m] salt in there, and said, Thus saith the LORD, I have healed these waters; there shall not be from thence any more death, or barren land.

[m] Thus God gave him power even contrary to nature, to make that water profitable for mans use, which before was hurtful.

22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the saying of Elisha which he spake.

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Beth-el: and as he was going up by the way, there came forth little children out of the city, and mocked him, and said unto him, Go up thou bald-head, go up thou bald-head.

24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and [n] cursed them in the name of the LORD: and there came forth two she-bears out of the wood, and tare fourty & two children of them.

CHAP. III.

1 Jehorams reign. 4 Mesha rebelleth. 6 Jehoram, with Jehoshaphat, and the king of Edom, being distressed for want of water, by Elisha obtaineth water, and promise of victory. 21 The Moabites deceived by the colour of the water, coming to spoil, are overcome. 26 The king of Moab, by sacrificing the king of Edoms son, raiseth the siege.

14 And Elisha said, As the LORD of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, [k] I would not look toward thee, nor see thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And it came to pass when the [l] minstrel played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the LORD, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus saith the LORD, Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye, and your cattel, and your beasts.

18 And this is but a [m] light thing in the sight of the LORD: he will deliver the Moabites also into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite every fenced city, and every choice city, and shall fell every good tree, and stop all wells of water, and † [n] mar every good piece of land with stones.

20 And it came to pass in the morning when the meat-offering was offered, that behold, there came water by the way of Edom, and the country was filled with water.

21 ¶ And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come up to fight against them, they † gathered all that were able to † put on armour, and upward, and stood in the border.

22 And they rose up early in the morning, and the sun shone upon the water, and the Moabites saw the water on the other side as red as bloud:

23 And they said, [o] This is bloud: the kings are surely † slain, and they have smitten one another: now therefore, Moab, to the spoil.

24 And when they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them: but ‡ they [p] went forward smiting the Moabites, even in their country.

25 And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land cast every man his stone, and filled it, and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: † onely in [q] Kir-haraseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit the slingers went about it, and smote it.

26 ¶ And when the king of Moab saw that the battel was too sore for him, he took with him seven hundred men that drew swords, to break through even unto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his [r] eldest son that should have reigned in his stead, and offered him for a burnt-offering upon the wall: and there was great indignation against Israel: and they departed from him, and returned to their own land.

h He knew that this wicked king would have but used his counsel to serve his turn, and therefore he disdained to answer him.
i The wicked esteem not the servants of God, but when they are driven by very necessity and fear of the present danger.
k God suffereth his word to be declared to the wicked, because of the godly, that are among them.

r Some refer it to the king of Edoms son, whom they say he had taken in that skirmish: but rather it seemed to be his own son, whom he offered to his gods to pacify them, which barbarous cruelty moved the Israelites hearts of pity to depart.

CHAP. IV.

1 Elisha multiplieth the widows oyl. 8 He giveth a son to the good Shunammite. 18 He raiseth again her dead son. 38 At Gilgal he healeth the deadly pottage. 42 He satisfieth an hundred men with twenty loaves.

NOw there cried a [a] certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead, and thou knowest that thy servant did [b] fear the LORD: and the crditour is come to take unto him my two sons to be [c] bond-men.

2 And Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me, what hast thou in the house? And she said, Thine hand-maid hath not any thing in the house, save a [d] pot of oyl.

3 Then he said, Go, borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels, ‡ borrow not a few.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee, and upon thy sons, and shalt pour out into [e] all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

5 So she went from him, and shut the door upon her, and upon her sons, who brought the vessels to her, and she poured out.

6 And it came to pass when the vessels were full, that she said unto her son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oyl [f] stayed.

7 Then she came and told the man of God: and he said, Go, sell the oyl, and pay thy ‡ debt, and live thou and thy children of the [g] rest.

8 ¶ And † it fell on a day, that Elisha passed to Shunem, where was a great woman; and she † constrained him to eat bread. And so it was, that as oft as he passed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

10 Let us make a little [h] chamber, I pray thee, on the wall, and let us set for him there a bed, and a table, and a stool, and a candlestick: and it shall be when he cometh to us, that he shall turn in thither.

11 And it fell on a day that he came thither, and he turned into the chamber, and lay there.

12 And he said to Gehazi his servant, Call this Shunammite. And when he had called her, she stood before him.

13 And he said unto him, Say now unto her, Behold, thou hast been careful for us with all this care; [i] what is to be done for thee? wouldest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she answered, I dwell among [k] mine own people.

14 And he said, What then is to be done for her? And Gehazi answered, Verily she hath [l] no child, and her husband is old.

17 And the woman conceived, and bare a ſon at that ſeaſon that Eliſha had ſaid unto her, according to the time of life.

18 ¶ And when the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.

19 And he ſaid unto his father, [m] My head, my head. And he ſaid to a lad, Carry him to his mother.

m His head aked ſore, and therefore he cryed thus.

21 And ſhe went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and ſhut the door upon him, and went out.

22 And ſhe called unto her huſband, and ſaid, Send me, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the aſſes, that I may run to the man of God, and come again.

23 And he ſaid, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither [n] new-moon, nor ſabbath. And ſhe ſaid, It ſhall be † well.

26 Run now, I pray thee, to meet her, and ſay unto her, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy huſband? is it well with the child? and ſhe anſwered, It is well.

38 ¶ And Eliſha came again to Gilgal, and there was a dearth in the [s] land, and the ſons of the prophets were ſitting before him: and he ſaid unto his ſervant, Set on the great pot, and ſeethe pottage for the ſons of the prophets.

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman, by the report of a captive maid, is ſent to Samaria to be cured of his leprocy. 8 Eliſha ſending him to Jordan, cureth him. 15 He refuſing Naamans gifts, granteth him ſome of the earth. 20 Gehazi, abuſing his maſters name unto Naaman, is ſmitten with leproſy.

NOw Naaman captain of the hoſt of the king of Syria, was a great man † with his maſter, and ‡ † honourable, becauſe by him the LORD had given ‡ [a] deliverance unto Syria: he was alſo a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper.

5 And the king of Syria ſaid, Go to, go, and I will ſend a letter unto the king of Iſrael. And he departed, and [d] took † with him ten talents of ſilver, and ſix thouſand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment.

d To give this as a preſent to the prophet † Heb. in his hand.

6 And he brought the letter to the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith ſent Naaman my ſervant to thee, that thou mayeſt recover him of his leprocy.

7 And it came to paſs when the king of Iſrael had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and ſaid, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth ſend unto me to recover a man of his leprocy? wherefore conſider, I pray you, and ſee how he ſeeketh a quarrel againſt me.

8 ¶ And it was ſo, when Eliſha the man of God had heard that the king of Iſrael had rent his clothes, that he ſent to the king, ſaying, [e] Wherefore haſt thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he ſhall know that there is a prophet in Iſrael.

e The prophet rebuketh the king, becauſe he did not conſider that God was true in his promiſe, and therefore would not leave his church deſtitute of a prophet, whoſe prayers he would hear, and to whom others ſhould have recourſe for comfort.

9 So Naaman came with his horſes, and with his chariot, and ſtood at the door of the houſe of Eliſha.

10 And Eliſha ſent a meſſenger unto him, ſaying, Go and waſh in Jordan ſeven times, and thy fleſh ſhall come again unto thee, and thou ſhalt be clean.

11 But Naaman was [f] wroth, and went away, and ſaid, Behold, †‡ I thought, He will ſurely come out to me, and ſtand, and call on the name of the LORD his God, and † ſtrike his hand over the place, and recover the leper.

f Mans reaſon murmureth, when it conſidereth onely the ſigns & outward things, & hath not regard to the word of God, which is there contained.
† Heb. I ſaid.
‡ Or, I ſaid with my ſelf, He will ſurely come out, &c.
† Heb. move up and down.

12 Are not ‡ Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damaſcus, better then all the waters of Iſrael? may I not waſh in them and be clean? So he turned, and went away in a rage.

‡ Or, Amana.

13 And his ſervants came near, and ſpake unto him, and ſaid, My [g] father, if the prophet had bid thee do ſome great thing, wouldeſt thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he ſaith to thee, Waſh and be clean?

g This declareth that ſervants ought to reverence and love their maſters, as children their fathers, and likewiſe maſters toward their ſervants, muſt be affectioned as toward their children.

14 Then went he down, and dipped himſelf ſeven times in Jordan, according to the ſaying of the man of God: and his fleſh came again like unto the fleſh of a little child, and * he was clean.

* Luk. 4. 27.

15 ¶ And he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came, and ſtood before him: and he ſaid, Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, but in Iſrael: now therefore, I pray thee, take a bleſſing of thy ſervant.

16 But he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will receive none. And he urged him to take it, but [h] he refuſed.

h So the Lord commandeth that they that receive freely, ſhould give alſo freely.

17 And Naaman ſaid, Shall there not then, I pray thee, be given to thy ſervant two mules burden of earth? for thy ſervant will henceforth offer neither burnt-offering, nor ſacrifice unto other gods, but unto the LORD.

18 In this thing the LORD [i] pardon thy ſervant, that when my maſter goeth into the houſe of Rimmon to worſhip there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I bowe my ſelf in the houſe of Rimmon: when I bowe down my ſelf in the houſe of Rimmon, the LORD pardon thy ſervant in this thing.

i He feeleth his conſcience wounded in being preſent at idol ſervice, and therefore deſireth God to forgive him, leaſt others, by his example might fall to idolatry: for as for his own part he confeſſeth, that he will never ſerve any but the true God.

19 And he ſaid unto him, [k] Go in peace. So he departed from him † a little way.

k The prophet did not approve his act, but after the common manner of ſpeech he biddeth him farewell.
† Heb. a little piece of ground.

20 ¶ But Gehazi the ſervant of Eliſha the man of God ſaid, Behold, my maſter hath ſpared Naaman this Syrian, in not receiving at his hands that which he brought: but as the LORD liveth, I will run after him, and take ſomewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed after Naaman: and when Naaman ſaw him, running after him, he [l] lighted down from the chariot to meet him, and ſaid, † Is all well?

l Declaring thereby what honour and affection he bare to the prophet his maſter.

23 And Naaman ſaid, Be content, take two talents. And he urged him, and bound two talents of ſilver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and laid them upon two of his ſervants, and they bare them before him.

† Heb. not hither or thither.

26 And he ſaid unto him, [n] Went not mine heart with thee, when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? is it a time to receive [o] mony, and to receive garments, and olive-yards, and vineyards, and ſheep, and oxen, and men-ſervants, and maid-ſervants?

CHAP. VI.

1 Eliſha giving leave to the young prophets to enlarge their dwellings, cauſeth iron to ſwim. 8 He diſcloſeth the king of Syria his counſel. 13 The army which was ſent to Dothan to apprehend Eliſha, is ſmitten with blindneſs. 19 Being brought into Samaria, they are diſmiſſed in peace. 24 The famine in Samaria cauſeth women to eat their own children. 30 The king ſendeth to ſlay Eliſha.

AND the ſons of the prophets ſaid unto Eliſha, Behold now, the place where we dwell with thee is too ſtrait for us.

2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a [a] beam, and let us make us a place there where we may dwell. And he anſwered, Go ye.

a Or, a piece of wood fit to build with.

3 And one ſaid, Be content, I pray thee, and go with thy ſervants. And he anſwered, I will go.

4 So he went with them. And when they came to Jordan, they cut down wood.

5 But as one was felling a beam, the † ax-head fell into the water: and he cried, and ſaid, Alas maſter, for it was borrowed.

6 And the man of God ſaid, Where fell it? & he ſhewed him the place. And he cut down a ſtick, and caſt it in thither, and the iron did [b] ſwim.

b God wrought this miraculouſly to confirm the authority of Eliſha, to whom he had given ſuch abundance of his ſpirit.

7 Therefore ſaid he, Take it up to thee. And he put out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Syria warred againſt Iſrael, and took counſel with his ſervants, ſaying, In [c] ſuch and ſuch a place ſhall be my ‡ camp.

c Meaning, That he would lie in ambuſh, and take the Iſraelites at unawares.
‡ Or, encamping.

9 And the man of God ſent unto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Beware that thou paſs not ſuch a place; for thither the Syrians are come down.

10 And the king of Iſrael ſent to the place which the man of God told him, and warned him of, and [d] ſaved himſelf there, not once nor twice.

d The wicked conſpire nothing ſo craftily, but God can reveil it to his ſervants, and cauſe their counſel to be diſcloſed.

11 Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was ſore troubled for this thing, and he called his ſervants, and ſaid unto them, Will ye not ſhew me which of us is for the king of Iſrael?

† Heb. us.

12 And one of his ſervants ſaid, † None, my lord O king: but Eliſha the prophet, that is in Iſrael, telleth the king of Iſrael the words that thou ſpeakeſt in thy [e] bed-chamber.

e There is nothing ſo ſecret that thou canſt go about, but he knoweth it, and diſcovereth it unto his king.

13 ¶ And he ſaid, Go, and ſpy where he is, that I may ſend and fetch him. And it was told him, ſaying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 Therefore ſent he thither horſes, and chariots, and a †[f] great hoſt: and they came by night, and compaſſed the city about.

f Though it had been nothing in mans judgment to have taken Eliſha, yet the wicked ever doubt and think, they are never able to prepare power enough; though it be but againſt one, or a few.

15 And when the † ſervant of the man of God was riſen early and gone forth, behold, an hoſt compaſſed the city, both with horſes and chariots: and his ſervant ſaid unto him, Alas my maſter, how ſhall we do?

16 And he anſwered, [g] Fear not: for * they that be with us, are mo then they that be with them.

g For he was aſſured of Gods help, and that millions of angels camped about the godly to deliver them.
* 2 Chron. 32. 7.

17 And Eliſha prayed, and ſaid, LORD, I pray thee, open his eyes that he may [h] ſee. And the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he ſaw: and behold, the mountain was full of horſes, and chariots of fire round about Eliſha.

h That he may behold how thou haſt prepared an army to reſcue us.

18 And when [i] they came down to him, Eliſha prayed unto the LORD, and ſaid, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindneſs. And he ſmote them with blindneſs, according to the word of Eliſha.

i Meaning, The Syrians his enemies, which came down, thinking themſelves ſure of him.

† Heb. come ye after me.

19 ¶ And Eliſha ſaid unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: † follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye ſeek. [k] But he led them to Samaria.

† Come ye after me.
k Thus he did being led by the ſpirit of God, and not becauſe he ſought his own revengment, but only to ſet forth the glory of God.

20 And it came to paſs when they were come into Samaria, that Eliſha ſaid, LORD open the eyes of theſe men that they may ſee. And the LORD opened their eyes, and they ſaw, and behold, they were in the midſt of Samaria.

21 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Eliſha, when he ſaw them, [l] My father, ſhall I ſmite them? ſhall I ſmite them?

l The wicked uſe reverent and grave words towards the ſervants of God, when they think to have any commodity by them, though in their heart they cannot abide them.

22 And he anſwered, Thou ſhalt not ſmite them: wouldeſt thou ſmite thoſe whom thou haſt taken captive with thy ſword, and with thy bow? ſet bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their maſter.

23 And he prepared great proviſion for them: and when they had eaten and drunk, he ſent them away, and they went to their maſter. So the bands of Syria came [m] no more into the land of Iſrael.

m For this gentle intreaty and the miracle wrought by the prophet, did more prevail for common quietneſs, then if they had been overcome in battel: for they returned no more at that time to fight againſt Iſrael, or in that kings days.

24 ¶ And it came to paſs after this, that Ben-hadad king of Syria gathered all his hoſt, and went up, and beſieged Samaria.

25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and behold, they beſieged it, until an aſſes head was ſold for foureſcore pieces of ſilver, and the fourth part of a [n] cab of doves dung for five pieces of ſilver.

n The Hebrews write, that they burned it in the ſiege for lack of wood.

26 And as the king of Iſrael was paſſing by upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, ſaying, Help, my lord O king.

27 And he ſaid, ‡ If the LORD do not help thee, whence ſhall I help thee? out of the [o] barn-floor, or out of the wine-preſs?

‡ Or, let not the LORD ſave thee.
o Meaning, Any kind of victuals, as corn and wine, &c.

28 And the king ſaid unto her, What aileth thee? And ſhe anſwered, This woman ſaid unto me, Give thy ſon, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my ſon to morrow.

29 So * we boiled my ſon, and did eat him: and I ſaid unto her on the † next day, Give thy ſon, that we may eat him: and ſhe hath hid her ſon.

* Deut. 28 53.
† Heb. other.

p Thus hypocrites, when they feel Gods judgments, think to pleaſe him with outward ceremonies, whom in proſperity they will not know.

31 Then he ſaid, God do ſo and more alſo to me, if the head of Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, ſhall ſtand on him this day.

32 But Eliſha ſat in his houſe, (and the elders ſat with him) and the king ſent a man from before him: but ere the meſſenger came to him, he ſaid to the elders, See ye how this [q] ſon of a murderer hath ſent to take away mine head? look when the meſſenger cometh, ſhut the door, and hold him faſt at the door: is not the ſound of his maſters feet behind him?

q Meaning, Jehoram Ahab's ſon, who killed the prophets, and cauſed Naboth to be ſtoned.

33 And while he yet talked with them, behold, the meſſenger came down unto him: and he ſaid, Behold, this evil is of the LORD, [r] what ſhould I wait for the LORD any longer?

r So the wicked fall into a rage and deſperation, if they find not ſudden remedy againſt their afflictions.

CHAP. VII.

1 Eliſha propheſieth incredible plenty in Samaria. 3 Four lepers venturing on the hoſt of the Syrians, bring tidings of their flight. 12 The king finding by ſpies the news to be true, ſpoileth the tents of the Syrians. 17 The lord who would not believe the prophecy of plenty, having the charge of the gate, is troden to death in the preſs.

THen Eliſha ſaid, Hear ye the word of the LORD, Thus ſaith the LORD, [a] To morrow about this time ſhall a meaſure of fine flour be ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, in the gate of Samaria.

a The godly are ever aſſured of Gods help in their neceſſities, but the times and hours are onely reveiled by Gods ſpirit.

2 Then † a lord on whoſe hand the king [b] leaned, anſwered the man of God and ſaid, behold, if the LORD would make [c] windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt [d] not eat thereof.

b To whom the king give the charge and overſight of things, as vers. 17.

c He mocketh at the prophets word, ſaying, That if God rained down corn from heaven, yet this could not come to paſs.

d Thy infidelity ſhall be puniſhed herein when thou ſhalt ſee this miracle, and yet not be partaker thereof.

3 ¶ And there were four leprous men at the [e] entring in of the gate: and they ſaid one to another, Why ſit we here until we die?

e For it was commanded in the law, that they ſhould dwell apart, and not among their brethren, Levit. 13. 46.

4 If we ſay we will enter into the city, then the famin is in the city, and we ſhall die there: and if we ſit ſtill here, we die alſo. Now therefore come, and let us fall unto the hoſt of the Syrians: if they ſave us alive, we ſhall live; and if they kill us, we ſhall but die.

5 And they roſe up in the twilight, to go unto the camp of the Syrians: and when they were come to the uttermoſt part of the camp of Syria, behold, there was no man there.

6 For the LORD had made the hoſt of the Syrians to hear a [f] noiſe of chariots, and a noiſe of horſes, even the noiſe of a great hoſt: and they ſaid one to another, Lo, the king of Iſrael hath hired againſt us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come upon us.

f Thus God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy the wicked, though they be never ſo many: for he can ſcatter them with a ſmall noiſe, or ſhaking of a leaf.

7 Wherefore they aroſe and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horſes, and their aſſes, even the camp as it was, and [g] fled for their life.

g The wicked need no greater enemy, then their own conſcience to purſue them.

8 And when theſe lepers came to the uttermoſt part of the camp, they went into one tent, & did eat and drink, & carried thence ſilver and gold, and raiment, and went & hid it; and came again, and entred into another tent, and carried thence alſo, and went and hid it.

9 Then they ſaid one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till the morning light, † ſome miſchief will come upon us: now therefore come, that we may go and tell the kings houſhold.

† Heb. we ſhall find puniſhment.

10 So they came, and called unto the porter of the city: and they told them, ſaying, We came to the camp of the Syrians, and behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horſes tied, and aſſes tied, and the tents as they were.

h He miſtruſted the prophets words, and therefore could believe nothing, as they which are more politick then godly, ever caſt more perils then needeth.

11 And he called the porters, and they told it to the kings houſe within.

12 ¶ And the king aroſe in the night, and ſaid unto his ſervants, [h] I will now ſhew you what the Syrians have done to us; they know that we be hungry, therefore are they gone out of the camp, to hid themſelves in the field, ſaying, When they come out of the city, we ſhall catch them alive, and get into the city.

13 And one of his ſervants anſwered and ſaid, Let ſome take, I pray thee, five of the horſes that remain, which are left † in the city, (behold, they are as all the [i] multitude of Iſrael that are left in it: behold, I ſay, they are even as all the multitude of the Iſraelites that are conſumed) and let us ſend and ſee.

i There are no more left but they, or the reſt are conſumed with the famine, as the reſt of the people.

14 They took therefore two chariot-horſes, and the king ſent after the hoſt of the Syrians, ſaying, Go and ſee.

15 And they went after them unto Jordan, & lo, all the way was full of garments & veſſels, which the Syrians had caſt away in their haſte: and the meſſengers returned & told the king.

16 And the people went out, and ſpoiled the tents of the Syrians. So a meaſure of fine flour was ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a [k] ſhekel, according to the word of the LORD.

k which he ſpake by the mouth of Eliſha, vers. 1.

17 ¶ And the king appointed the lord on whoſe hand he leaned, to have the charge of the gate: and the people [l] trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had ſaid, who ſpake when the king came down to him.

l As the people preſſed out of the gate to run to the Syrians tents, where they had heard was meat, and great ſpoil left.

18 And it came to paſs as the man of God had ſpoken to the king, ſaying, Two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, and a meaſure of fine flour for a ſhekel, ſhall be to morrow about this time in the gate of Samaria:

19 And that lord anſwered the man of God and ſaid, Now behold, if the LORD ſhould make windows in heaven, might ſuch a thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt not eat thereof.

20 And ſo it fell out unto him: for the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The Shunammite, having left her country ſeven years, to avoid the fore-warned famine, for Eliſha's miracles, ſake hath her land reſtored by the king. 7 Hazael being ſent with a preſent by Ben-hadad to Eliſha at Damaſcus, after he had heard the prophecy, killeth his maſter, and ſucceedeth him. 16 Jehorams wicked reign in Judah. 20 Edom & Libnah revolt. 23 Ahaziah ſucceedeth Jehoram. 25 Ahaziahs wicked reign. 28 He viſiteth Jehoram wounded at Jezreel.

THen ſpake Eliſha unto the woman, (* whoſe ſon he had reſtored to life) ſaying, Ariſe, & go thou and thine houſhold, and ſojourn whereſoever thou [a] canſt ſojourn: for the LORD hath called for a famine, and it ſhall alſo come upon the land ſeven years.

* Chap. 4. 35.

a where thou canſt find a commodious place to dwell, where as is plenty.

2 And the woman aroſe, and did after the ſaying of the man of God: and ſhe went with her houſhold, and ſojourned in the land of the Philiſtines ſeven years.

3 And it came to paſs at the ſeven years end, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philiſtines: and ſhe went forth to [b] cry unto the king for her houſe, and for her land.

b That is, To complain on them which had taken her poſſeſſions, whiles ſhe was abſent.

4 And the king talked with Gehazi the ſervant vant of the man of God, ſaying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things that Eliſha hath done.

5 And it came to paſs as he was telling the [c] king how he had reſtored a dead body to life, that behold, the woman whoſe ſon he had reſtored to life, cried to the king for her houſe, and for her land. And Gehazi ſaid, My lord O king, this is the woman, and this is her ſon, whom Eliſha reſtored to life.

6 And when the king asked the woman, ſhe told him. So the king appointed unto her a certain ‡ officer ſaying, Reſtore all that was hers, and all the [d] fruits of the field, ſince the day that ſhe left the land, even till now.

7 ¶ And Eliſha came to Damaſcus; and Ben-hadad the king of Syria was ſick, & it was told him, ſaying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king ſaid unto Hazael, Take a preſent in thine hand, and go meet the man of God, and enquire of the LORD by him, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

9 So Hazael went to meet him, and took a preſent † with him, even of every [e] good thing of Damaſcus, fourty camels burden, and came and ſtood before him, and ſaid, Thy ſon Ben-hadad king of Syria hath ſent me to thee, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

10 And Eliſha ſaid unto him, Go, ſay unto him, Thou mayeſt certainly [f] recover: howbeit, the LORD hath ſhewed me, that he ſhall ſurely die.

11 And he ſetled his countenance † ſtedfaſtly, until he was aſhamed: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael ſaid, Why weepeth my lord? And he anſwered, becauſe I know the evil that thou wilt do unto the children of Iſrael: their ſtrong holds wilt thou ſet on fire, and their young men wilt thou ſlay with the ſword, and wilt daſh their children, and rip up their women with child, 13 And Hazael ſaid, But what, is thy ſervant a [g] dog that he ſhould do this great thing? And Eliſha anſwered, The LORD hath ſhewed me that thou ſhalt be king over Syria.

14 So he departed from Eliſha, and came to his maſter, who ſaid to him, What ſaid Eliſha to thee? And he anſwered, He told me that thou ſhouldeſt ſurely recover.

15 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that he took a thick cloth, and dipt it in water, and ſpread it on his [h] face, ſo that he died: and Hazael reigned in his ſtead.

16 ¶ And in the fifth year of Joram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael, Jehoſhaphat being then king of Judah, *[i] Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah † began to [k] reign.

17 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, as did the houſe of Ahab: for the [l] daughter of Ahab was his wife; and he did evil in the ſight of the LORD.

19 Yet the LORD would not deſtroy Judah, for David his ſervants ſake, *as he promiſed him to give him alway a ‡ light, and to his children.

20 ¶ In his days Edom [m] revolted from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over themſelves.

21 So Joram went over to Zair, and all the chariots with him, and he roſe by night and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him about: and the captains of the chariots, and the people fled into their tents.

22 Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. Then [n] Libnah revolted at the ſame time.

23 And the reſt of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

24 And Joram ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and *Ahaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

25 ¶ In the twelfth year of Joram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael, did Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah begin to reign.

26 [o] Two and twenty years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem; and his mothers name was Athaliah, the daughter of Omri king of Iſrael.

27 And he walked in the way of the houſe of Ahab, and did evil in the ſight of the LORD, as did the houſe of Ahab; for he was the ſon in law of the houſe of Ahab.

28 ¶ And he went with Joram the ſon of Ahab, to the war againſt Hazael king of Syria in [p] Ramoth-gilead, and the Syrians wounded Joram.

29 And king Joram went back to be healed in [q] Jezreel, of the wounds † which the Syrians had given him at Ramah, when he fought againſt Hazael king of Syria: and Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah, went down to ſee Joram the ſon of Ahab in Jezreel, becauſe he was ſick.

CHAP. IX.

1 Eliſha ſendeth a young prophet with inſtructions to anoint Jehu at Ramoth-gilead 4 The prophet having done his meſſage, fleeth. 11 Jehu being made king by the ſouldiers, killeth Joram in the field of Naboth. 27 Ahaziah is ſlain at Gur, and buried at Jeruſalem. 30 Proud Jezebel is thrown down out of a window, and eaten by dogs.

AND Eliſha the prophet called one of the children of the prophets, and ſaid unto him, [a] Gird up thy loyns, and take this box of oyl in thine hand, and go to Ramoth-gilead.

2 And when thou comeſt thither, look out there Jehu the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, the ſon of Nimſhi, and go in, and make him ariſe up from among his brethren, and carry him to an † inner chamber.

3 Then * take the box of oyl, and pour it on his head, and ſay, Thus ſaith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Iſrael: then open the door, and flee, and tarry not.

4 ¶ So

[c] Gods wonderful providence appeareth in this, that he cauſeth the king to be deſirous to hear of him, whom before he condemned, and alſo kindly prepared to entrance to the poor widows ſuit.

4 ¶ So the young man, even the young man the prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead.

5 And when he came, behold, the captains of the host were sitting; and he said, I have an errand to thee, O captain. And Jehu said, Unto which of all us? And he said, To thee, O captain.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and he poured the oyl on his head, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, I have [b] anointed thee king over the people of the LORD, even over Israel.

[b] This anointing was for kings, priests, and prophets, which were all figures of Messiah, in whom these three offices were accomplished.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Ahab thy master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD, * at the hand of Jezebel.

* 1 King. 21. 15.

8 For the whole house of Ahab shall perish, and * I will cut off from Ahab, him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Israel.

* 1 King. 14. 10. & 21. 21.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab, like the house of * Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of * Baasha the son of Ahijah.

* 1 King. 14. 10. & 21. 22.
* 1 King. 16. 3.

10 And the dogs shall eat Jezebel in the portion of Jezreel, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Jehu came forth to the [c] servants of his lord, and one said unto him, Is all well? wherefore came this [d] mad fellow to thee? And he said unto them, Ye know the man, and his communication.

[c] That is, The rest of the army, whom he called before his brethren, verse 2.
[d] In this estimation the world hath the ministers of God: notwithstanding forasmuch as the would hath ever slandered the children of God, (yea, they called the son of God a deceiver, and said, He had a devil) therefore they ought not to be discouraged.

12 And they said, It is false, tell us now. And he said, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Israel.

13 Then they hasted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with trumpets, saying, Jehu † is king.

† Heb. reigneth.

14 So Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, conspired against Joram: (now Joram had kept Ramoth-gilead, he and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria:

15 But * king † Joram was returned to be healed in Jezreel, of the wounds which the Syrians † had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria) And Jehu said, if it be your minds, then † let none go forth nor escape out of the city, to go to tell it in Jezreel.

* Chap. 8. 29.
† Heb. Jehoram.
† Heb. smote.
† Heb. let no escaper go, &c.

16 So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Jezreel, (for Joram lay there) and [e] Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to see Joram.

[e] God had thus ordained, chap. 9. 7. 2 Chron. 22. 7. That this wicked and idolatrous king, who was more ready to gratify wicked Joram, then to obey the will of God, should perish with him, by whose means he thought to have been stronger.

17 And there stood a watchman on the towr in Jezreel, and he spied the company of Jehu as he came, and said, I see a company. And Joram said, take an hors-man, and send to meet them, and let him say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on hors-back to meet him, and said, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he cometh not again.

19 Then he sent out a second on hors-back, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, saying, He came even unto them, and cometh not again: and the ‡ driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi; for he driveth † [f] furiously.

† Heb. in madness.
[f] As one that went earnestly about his enterprice.

21 And Joram said, † Make ready. And his chariot was made ready. And Joram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out against Jehu, and † met him in the portion of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 And it came to pass when Joram saw Jehu, that he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And he answered, [g] What peace, so long as the whoredoms of thy mother Jezebel, and her witchcrafts are so many?

[g] Meaning, That forasmuch as God is their enemy because of their sins, that he will ever stir up some to revenge his cause.

23 And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ahaziah, There is treachery, O Ahaziah.

24 And Jehu † drew a bow with his full strength, and smote Jehoram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he † sunk down in his chariot.

25 Then said Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember, how that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, * the LORD laid this burden upon him.

* 1 King. 21. 29.
‡ Heb. thrust.

26 Surely, I have seen yesterday the † blood of Naboth, and the blood of his [h] sons, said the LORD, and I will requite thee in this ‡ plat, saith the LORD. Now therefore take and cast him into the plat of ground, according to the word of the LORD.

h By this place it is evident, that Jezebel caused both Naboth and his sons to be put to death, that Ahab might enjoy his vineyard more quietly: for else his children might have claimed possession.

27 ¶ But when Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden-house: and Jehu followed after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot: and they did so, at the going up to Gur, which is by Ibleam: and he fled to [i] Megiddo, and died there.

† Or, portion.
[i] After that he was wounded in Samaria, he fled to Megiddo, which was a city of Judah.

28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

29 And in the [k] eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reign over Judah.

k That is, Eleven whole years: for chap. 8. 25. before when he said, that he began to reign the twelfth year of Joram, he taketh part of the year for the whole.

30 ¶ And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and she † painted her face, and tired her head, and [l] looked out at a window.

† Heb. put her eyes in painting.
l Being of an haughty and cruel nature she would still retain her princely state and dignity.

31 And as Jehu entred in at the gate, she said, Had [m] Zimri peace, who slew his master?

m As though she would say, Can any traitour, or any that riseth against his superiour, have good success? Read, 1 King. 16. 10.

32 And he lift up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? And there looked out to him two or three ‡ eunuchs.

33 And he said, Throw her down. So they threw her down; and some of her blood was [n] sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trode her under foot.

n This he did by the motion of the Spirit of God, that her blood should be shed, that had shed the blood of innocents, to be a spectacle and example of Gods judgments to all tyrants.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and and drink, and ſaid, Go ſee now this curſed woman, and bury her: for ſhe is ° a kings daughter.

° To wit, Of the king of Zidon, 1 King. 16. 31.

35 And they went to bury her, but they found no more of her then the ſcull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again, and told him: and he ſaid, This is the word of the LORD, which he ſpake † by his ſervant Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, * In the portion of Jezreel ſhall dogs eat the fleſh of Jezebel:

37 And the carcaſe of Jezebel ſhall be as dung upon the face of the field, in the portion of Jezreel, ſo that they ſhall not ſay, This is ᵖ Jezebel.

ᵖ Thus Gods judgments appear even in this world, againſt them that ſuppreſs his word and perſecute his ſervants.

CHAP. X.

1 Jehu by his letters cauſeth ſeventy of Ahabs children to be beheaded. 8 He excuſeth the fact by the prophecy of Elijah. 12 At the ſhearing-houſe he ſlayeth two and fourty of Ahaziahs brethren. 15 He taketh Jehonadab into his company. 18 By ſubtilty he deſtroyeth all the worſhippers of Baal. 29 Jehu followeth Jeroboams ſins. 32 Hazael oppreſſeth Iſrael. 34 Jehoahaz ſucceedeth Jehu.

AND Ahab had ſeventy ª ſons in Samaria: and Jehu wrote letters, and ſent to Samaria, unto the rulers of Jezreel, to the elders, and to † them that brought up Ahabs children, ſaying, ª The ſcripture uſeth to call them ſons, which are either children, or nephews.

2 Now aſſoon as this letter cometh to you, ſeeing your maſters ſons are with you, and there are with you chariots & horſes, a fenced city alſo, and armour:

3 Look even out the beſt and meeteſt of your maſters ſons, and ᵇ ſet him on his fathers throne, and fight for your maſters houſe.

ᵇ He wrote this, to prove them, whether they would take his part or no.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and ſaid, Behold, two kings ſtood not before him: how then ſhall we ſtand?

5 And he that was over the houſe, and he that was over the city, the elders alſo, and the bringers up of the children, ſent to Jehu, ſaying, We are thy ſervants, and will do all that thou ſhalt bid us; we will not make any king: do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote a letter the ſecond time to them, ſaying, If ye be † mine, and if ye will hearken unto my voice, take ye the ᶜ heads of the men your maſters ſons, and come to me to Jezreel by to morrow this time: (now the kings ſons being ſeventy perſons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up)

ᶜ God as a juſt judge, puniſheth the wicked children of wicked parents, unto the third and fourth generation.

7 And it came to paſs when the letter came to them, that they took the kings ſons, and ſlew ſeventy perſons, and put their heads in baskets, and ſent him them to Jezreel.

8 ¶ And there came a meſſenger, and told him, ſaying, They have brought the heads of the kings ſons. And he ſaid, Lay ye them in two heaps at the entring in of the gate, until the morning.

ᵈ Ye cannot juſtly condemn me for the kings death, ſeeing ye have done the like to his poſterity: for the Lord commanded me, and moved you to execute this his judgment.

9 And it came to paſs in the morning, that he went out, and ſtood, and ſaid to all the people, ᵈ Ye be righteous: behold, I conſpired againſt my maſter, and ſlew him: but who ſlew all theſe?

10 Know now, that there ſhall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the LORD, which the LORD ſpake concerning the houſe of Ahab: for the LORD hath done that which he ſpake * † by his ſervant Elijah.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he † lighted on Jehonadab the ſon of Rechab, coming to meet him, and he † ᵍ ſaluted him, and ſaid to him, Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? 16 And he ſaid, Come with me, and ſee my zeal for the LORD: ſo they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he ſlew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had deſtroyed him, according to the ſaying of the LORD, which he ſpake to Elijah.

18 ¶ And Jehu gathered all the people together, and ſaid unto them, Ahab ſerved ʰ Baal a little, but Jehu ſhal ſerve him much.

ʰ Here Baal is taken for Aſhtaroth the idol of the Zidonians, which Jezebel cauſed to be worſhipped, as is alſo uſed, 1 King. 16. 32. & 22. 53.

19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Baal, all his ſervants, and all his prieſts, let none be wanting: for I have a great ſacrifice to do to Baal; whoſoever ſhall be wanting, he ſhall not live. But Jehu did it in ſubtilty, to the intent that he might deſtroy the worſhippers of Baal.

20 And Jehu ſaid, † Proclaim a ſolemn aſſembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Jehu ſent through all Iſrael, and all the worſhippers of Baal came, ſo that there was not a man left that came not: and they came into the houſe of Baal; and the houſe of Baal was ‡ full from one end to another.

‡ Or, ſo full that they ſtood mouth to mouth.

22 And he ſaid unto him that was over the veſtry, Bring forth veſtments for all the worſhippers of Baal. And he brought them forth veſtments.

ⁱ Thus God would have his ſervants preſerved, and idolaters deſtroyed: as in his law he giveth expreſs commandment, Deut. 13.

24 And when they went in to offer ſacrifices, and burnt-offerings, Jehu appointed fourſcore

26 And they brought forth the † images out of the houſe of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they brake down the image of Baal, and brake down the houſe of Baal, and made it a draught-houſe unto this day.

28 Thus Jehu deſtroyed Baal out of Iſrael.

29 ¶ Howbeit from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin, Jehu departed not from after them, to wit, the golden calves that were in Beth-el, and that were in Dan.

1 Jehoash reigned well all the days of Jehoiada. 4 He giveth order for the repair of the temple. 17 Hazael is diverted from Jerusalem by a present of the hallowed treasures. 19 Jehoash being slain by his servants, Amaziah succeedeth him.

* 2 Chron. 24. 1.

IN * the seventh year of Jehu, Jehoash began to reign; and fourtie years reigned he in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Jehoash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all his days, wherein [a] Jehoiada the priest instructed him.

3 [b] But the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed, and burnt incense in the high places.

4 ¶ And Jehoash said to the priests, All the money of the ‡ † dedicated things that is brought into the house of the LORD, even the money of every one that passeth the account, † [c] the money that every one is set at, and all the money that † cometh into any mans heart to bring into the house of the LORD,

5 Let the priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance, and let them repair the [d] breaches of the house, wheresoever any breach shall be found.

6 But it was so, that † in the three and twentieth year of king Jehoash, the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.

7 Then king Jehoash called for Jehoiada the priest and the other priests, and said unto them, Why repair ye not the breaches of the house? now therefore [e] receive no more money of your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the house.

8 And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the breaches of the house.

9 But Jehoiada the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the [f] right side, as one cometh into the house of the LORD: and the priests that kept the † door, put therein all that money that was brought into the house of the LORD.

10 And it was so, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the kings ‡ scribe, and the high priest came up, and they † put up in bags, and told the money that was found in the house of the LORD.

11 And they gave the money, being told, into the hands of them that [g] did the work, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD: & they † laid it out to the carpenters and builders, that wrought upon the house of the LORD,

12 And to masons, and hewers of stone, and to buy timber, and hewed stone, to repair the breaches of the house of the LORD, and for all that † was laid out for the house to repair it.

13 Howbeit, there were [h] not made for the house of the LORD, bowls of silver, snuffers, basons, trumpets, any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the LORD:

14 But they gave that to the workmen, and repaired therewith the house of the LORD.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hand they delivered the money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The trespass-money, and sin-money was not brought into the house of the LORD; it was the priests.

17 ¶ Then Hazael king of Syria went up, and fought against Gath, and took it: and Hazael set his face to go up to Jerusalem.

18 And Jehoash king of Judah took all the [i] hallowed things that Jehoshaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own hallowed things, & all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and in the kings house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria, and he † went away from Jerusalem.

19 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And his servants arose, and made a conspiracie, and [k] slew Joash in ‡ the house of [l] Millo, which goeth down to Silla.

21 For Jozachar the son of Shimeath, and Jehozabad the son of Shomer, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

f That is, Hazael and Ben-hadad his son, as verse 3. Read of Hazael, chap. 8. 12.

8 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joash his son reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In the thirty and seventh year of Joash king of [g] Judah, began Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteen years.

g His chief purpose is to describe the kingdom of Judah, and how God performed his promise made to the house of David: but by the way, he sheweth how Israel was afflicted and punished for their great idolatry, who though they had now degenerated, yet God both by sending them sundry prophets and divers punishments, did call them unto him again.

11 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD; he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel sin: but he walked therein.

12 And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, and his might wherewith he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his throne: and Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ Now Elisha was fallen sick of his sickness whereof he died, and Ioash the king of Israel came down unto him, and wept over his face, and said, O my [h] father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsmen thereof.

h Thus they used to call the prophets and servants of God, by whom God blessed his people, as chap. 2. 12. Meaning, that by their prayers they did more prosper in their country, than by force of arms

15 And Elisha said unto him, Take bow and arrows: and he took unto him bow and arrows.

16 And he said to the king of Israel, † Put thine hand upon the bow: and he put his hand upon it: and Elisha put his hands upon the kings hands.

† Heb. make thine hand to ride

17 And he said, Open the window [i] eastward: and he opened it. Then Elisha said, Shoot: and he shot. And he said, the arrow of the LORDS deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria: for thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphek, till thou hast consumed them.

i That is, toward Syria, so that he did not onely prophesie with words, but also confirmed him by these signs that he should have the victory.

18 And he said, Take the arrows: and he took them. And he said unto the king of Israel, Smite upon the ground: and he smote thrice, and stayed.

19 And the man of God was [k] wroth with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times, then hadst thou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Syria but thrice.

k Because he seemed content to have victory against the enemies of God for twice or thrice, and had not a zeal to overcome them continually, and to destroy them utterly.

20 ¶ And Elisha died, and they buried him: and the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.

21 And it came to pass as they were burying a man, that behold, they spied a band of men, and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha: and when the man † was let down, and touched the bones of Elisha, * he [l] revived, and stood upon his feet.

† Heb. went down,
* Eccles. 48. 14.
l By this miracle God confirmed the authority of Elisha whose doctrin in his life they contemned, that at his sight they might return and embrace the same doctrin.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the sight of the LORD, yet not like David his father: he did according to all things as Ioash his father did.

a In the beginning of his reign he seemed to have an outward shew of Godliness, but afterward he became an idolater, and worshipped the idols of the Idumeans.

4 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away: as yet the people did sacrifice, and burnt incense on the high places.

e By this parable Jehoash compareth himself to a cedar tree, because of his great kingdom over ten tribes, and Amaziah to a thistle, because he ruled but over two tribes, and the wild beasts are Jehoash his soldiers that spoiled the cities of Judah.

10 Thou hast indeed smitten Edom, and thine heart hath lifted thee up: [f] glory of this, and tarrie † at home: for why shouldest thou meddle to thy hurt, that thou shouldest fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

i 2 Chron. 26. 1. he is called Uzziah.

21 ¶ And all the people of Judah took [i] Azariah, (which was sixteen years old) and made him king in stead of his father Amaziah.

k which is also called Elanon, or Eloth.

22 He built [k] Elath, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth year of Amaziah, the son of Joash king of Judah, Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel began to reign in Samaria, and reigned fourtie and one years.

24 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD: he departed not from all the [l] sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin.

l Because this idolatrie was so vile, and almost incredible, that men should forsake the living God, to worship calvs, the work of mans hands, therefore the scripture doth often times repeat it in the reproach of all idolaters. * Matt. 12. 35, 40. called Jonas.

25 He restored the coast of Israel from the entring of Hamath, unto the sea of the plain, according to the word of the LORD God of Israel, which he spake by the hand of his servant * Jonah, the son of Amittai, the prophet, which was of Gath-hepher.

26 For the LORD saw the affliction of Israel, that it was very bitter: for there was not any [m] shut up, nor any left, nor any helper for Israel.

m Read 1 King. 14. 10.

27 And the LORD said not that he would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven: but he saved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

28 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his might, how he warred, and how he recovered Damascus, and [n] Hamath, which belonged to Judah, for Israel, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

n which was also called Antiochia of Syria, of Riblah.

29 And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel; and Zachariah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XV.

1 Azariah his good reign. 5 He dying a leper, Jotham succeedeth. 8 Zachariah, the last of Jehu his generation, reigning ill, is slain by Shallum. 13 Shallum reigning a moneth, is slain by Menahem. 16 Menahem strengtheneth himself by Pul. 21 Pekahiah succeedeth him. 23 Pekaiah is slain by Pekah. 27 Pekah is oppressed by Tiglath-pileser, and slain by Hoshea. 32 Jothams good reign. 36 Ahaz succeedeth him.

IN the twenty and seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, began Azariah son of Amaziah king of Judah to reign.

2 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fiftie years in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah had done;

a So long as he gave ear to Zachariah the prophet.

4 Save that the high places were not removed: the people sacrificed, and burnt incense still on the high places.

5 ¶ And the LORD [b] smote the king, so that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a severall house, and Jotham the kings son was over the house, [c] judging the people of the land.

b His father and grandfather were slain by their subjects and servants, and he because he would usurp the priests office, contrary to Gods ordinance, was smitten immediatly by the hand of God with the leprosie. 2 Chron. 26. 21.

c As viceroy, or deputie to his father.

6 And the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

7 So Azariah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of David; and Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

8 ¶ In the thirty and eighth year of Azariah king of Judah, did Zachariah the son of Jeroboam reign over Israel in Samaria [d] six moneths.

d He was the fourth in descent from Jehu, who reigned according to Gods promise; but in him God began to execute his wrath against the house of Jehu.

9 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as his fathers had don: he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

10 And Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him before the people, and [e] ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead.

e Zachariah was the laſt in Iſrael, that had the kingdom by ſucceſſion, ſive only Pekahiah the ſon of Menahem, who reigned but two years

11 And the reſt of the acts of Zachariah, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

12 This was * the word of the LORD which he ſpake unto Jehu, ſaying, Thy ſons ſhall ſit on the throne of Iſrael, unto the fourth generation. And ſo it came to paſs.

* Chap. 10. 30.

13 ¶ Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of * Uzziah king of Judah, and he reigned † a full moneth in Samaria.

* Matth. 1. 8, 9. called Oziah.
† Heb. a moneth of dayes

14 For Menahem the ſon of Gadi, went up from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and ſmote Shallum the ſon of Jabeſh in Samaria, and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead.

f which was a citie of Iſrael, that would not receive him to be king.

16 ¶ Then Menahem ſmote [f] Tiphſah, and all that were therein, and the coaſts thereof from Tirzah: becauſe they opened not to him, therefore he ſmote it, and all the women therein that were with child, he ript up.

17 In the nine and thirtieth year of Azariah king of Judah, began Menahem the ſon of Gadi to reign over Iſrael, and reigned ten years in Samaria.

18 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD: he departed not all his days from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

2 Chron. 5. 26.

19 And * Pul the king of Aſſyria came againſt the [g] land: & Menahem [h] gave Pul a thouſand talents of ſilver, that his hand might be with him, to confirm the kingdom in his hand.

g That is, of Iſrael.
h In ſtead of ſeeking help of God, he went about by money to purchaſe the favour of this king, being an infidel, and therefore God forſook him, and Pul ſoon afterward brake promiſe, deſtroyed his countrey, and led his people away captive.

20 And Menahem † exacted the money of Iſrael, even of all the mighty men of wealth, of each man fifty ſhekels of ſilver, to give to the king of Aſſyria: ſo the king of Aſſyria turned back, and ſtayed not there in the land.

† Heb. cauſed to come forth

21 ¶ And the reſt of the acts of Menahem, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

22 And Menahem ſlept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekahiah the ſon of Menahem began to reign over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned two years.

24 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

25 But Pekah the ſon of Remaliah, a captain of his conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him in Samaria, in the place of the kings houſe, with [i] Argob, and Arieh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: and he killed him, and reigned in his room.

26 And the reſt of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekah the ſon of Remaliah began to reign over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned twenty years.

28 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

29 In the days of Pekah king of Iſrael, came [k] Tiglath-pileſer king of Aſſyria, and took Ijon, and Abel-beth-maachach, and Janoah, and Kedeſh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali, and carried them captive to Aſſyria.

k For God ſtirred up Pul, and Tiglath-pileſer againſt Iſrael for their ſin. 1 Chron. 5. 26.

30 And Hoſhea the ſon of Elah made a conſpiracie againſt Pekah the ſon of Remaliah, and ſmote him, and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead, in the twentieth year of Jotham the ſon of Uzziah.

31 And the reſt of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

32 ¶ In the ſecond year of Pekah the ſon of Remaliah king of Iſrael, began * Jotham the ſon of Uzziah king of Judah to reign.

* 2 Chron. 27. 1.

33 Five and twenty years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Jeruſha, the daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did that which was [l] right in the ſight of the LORD: he did according to all that his father Uzziah had don.

l He ſheweth that his uprightneſs was not ſuch, but that he had many and great faults.

35 ¶ Howbeit, the high places were not removed: the people ſacrificed and burnt incenſe ſtill in the high places: he built the higher gate of the houſe of the LORD.

36 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

n which ſlew of Judah in one day ſixſcore thouſand fighting men, 2 Chron. 28. 6. becauſe they had forſaken the true God.

38 And Jotham ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Ahaz his wicked reign. 5 Ahaz aſſailed by Rezin and Pekah, hireth Tiglath-pileſer againſt them. 10 Ahaz ſending a patern of an altar from Damaſcus to Urijah, diverteth the braſen altar to his own devotion. 17 He ſpoileth the temple. 19 Hezekiah ſucceedeth him.

IN * the ſeventeenth year of Pekah the ſon of Remaliah, [a] Ahaz the ſon of Jotham king of Judah began to reign.

* 2 Chron. 28. 1.
a This was a wicked ſon of a godly father, as of him again came Godly Hezekiah, and of him wicked Manaſſeh, ſave that God in the end ſhewed him mercie. Thus we ſee how uncertain it is to depend on the dignity of our fathers.

2 Twenty years old was Ahaz when he began to reign, and reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem, and did not that which was right in the the sight of the LORD his God, like David his father.

3 But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his son to [b] pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Israel.

b That is, offred him to Molech, or made him to pass between two fires, as the manner of the Gentiles was. Levit. 18. 21. Deut. 18. 10.

4 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

* Isa. 7. 1.

5 ¶ * Then Rezin king of Syria, and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to war: and they besieged Ahaz: but could [c] not overcome him.

c For the Lord preserved the citie, and his people for his promise like made to David.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria recovered [d] Elath to Syria, and drave the Jews from Elath: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt there unto this day.

d which citie Azariah had taken from the Arabians, & fortified it. Chap. 14 22.

7 So Ahaz sent [e] messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, I am thy servant & thy son: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, which rise up against me.

e Contrary to the admonition of the prophet. Isa. 7. 4.

8 And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the [f] house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the kings house, and sent it for a present to the king of Assyria.

f That he spared not to spoil the temple of God to have succour of men, and would not once lift up his heart toward God to desire his help, nor yet hear his prophets counsell.

9 And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against † Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin.

† Heb. Dammesek.

10 ¶ And king Ahaz went to Damascus, to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus: and king Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the patern of it, according to all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Urijah the priest built an altar according to [g] all that king Ahaz had sent from Damascus: so Urijah the priest made it, against king Ahaz came from Damascus.

g We see that there is no prince so wicked, but he shall find flatterers, and false ministers to serve his turn.

12 And when the king was come from Damascus, the king saw the altar: and the king approached to the altar, and offered [h] thereon.

h Either offerings for peace or prosperitie, or of thanksgiving, as Levit. 3. 1. or els meaning the morning and evening-offering, Exod. 29. 38. Num. 28. 3. and thus he contemned the means and the altar which God had commanded by Solomon, to serve God after his own fantasie.

13 And he burnt his burnt-offering, and his meat-offering, and poured his drink-offering, and sprinkled the bloud of † his peace-offerings upon the altar.

† Heb. which were his

14 And he brought also the brasen altar which was before the LORD, from the forefront of the house, from between the altar and the house of the LORD, and put it on the [i] north-side of the altar.

i That is, at the right hand, as men went into the temple.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, Upon the great altar burn the morning burnt-offering, and the evening meat-offering, and the kings burnt-sacrifice, and his meat-offering, with the burnt-offering of all the people of the land, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offerings, and sprinkle upon it all the bloud of the burnt-offering, and all the bloud of the sacrifice: and the [k] brasen altar shall be for me to enquire by.

k Here he establisheth by commandement his own wicked proceedings, and doth abolish the commandment and ordinance of God.

16 Thus did Urijah the priest, according to all that king Ahaz commanded.

17 ¶ And king Ahaz cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the sea from off the brasen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of stones.

18 And the [l] covert for the sabbath that they had built in the house, and the kings entry without, turned he from the house of the LORD, [m] for the king of Assyria.

l Or, tent, wherein they laid on the sabbath, which had served their week in the temple, and so departed home.

m Either to flatter the king of Assyria, when he should thus see him change the ordinance of God, or els that the temple might be a refuge for him, if the king should suddenly assail his house.

19 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Ahaz, which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Hezekiah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Hoshea his wicked reign. 3 Being subdued by Shalmaneser, he conspireth against him with So king of Egypt. 5 Samaria, for their sins, is captivated. 24 The strange nations which were transplanted in Samaria, being plagued with lions, make a mixture of religions.

IN the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, began Hoshea the son of Elah to reign in Samaria over Israel nine years.

2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD: [a] but not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

a Though he invented no new idolatry or impiety, as others did, yet he sought for help at the Egyptians, which God had forbidden

3 ¶ Against him came up Shalmaneser king of Assyria, and Hoshea became his servant, and † gave him ‡ presents.

† Heb. rendred

‡ Or, tribute.

4 And the king of Assyria found conspiracie in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present to the king of Assyria, [b] as he had don year by year: therefore the king of Assyria shut him up, and bound him in prison.

b For he had paid tribute for the space of eight years.

5 ¶ Then the king of Assyria came up throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it three years.

6 ¶ * In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria, and carried Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the [c] Medes.

* Chap. 18. 10.

c For at this time the Medes and Persians were subject to the Assyrians.

7 For so it was, that the children of Israel had [d] sinned against the LORD their God, which had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared others gods, d He setteth forth at length the cause of this great plague and perpetuall captivity; to admonish all people and nations to cleave to the Lord God, and onely worship him for fear of like judgements.

8 And walked in the statutes of the heathen, (whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Israel) and of the kings of Israel, which they had made.

9 And the children of Israel did secretly those things that were not right, against the LORD their God, and they built them high places in all their cities, [e] from the tower of the watchmen, to the fenced city.

e Meaning, Throughout all their borders.

10 And they set them up † images and groves in every high hill, and under every green tree:

† Heb. statues

11 And there they burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen whom the LORD carried away before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the LORD to anger.

318

12 For they ſerved idols, whereof the LORD had ſaid unto them, * Ye ſhall not do this thing.

* Deut. 4. 19.

13 Yet the LORD teſtified againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, ‡ by all the prophets, and by all the ſeers, ſaying, * Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my ſtatutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I ſent to you by my ſervants the prophets.

‡ Heb. by the hand of all

* Jer. 18. 11. & 25. 5. & 35. 15.

14 Notwithſtanding, they would not hear, but * hardened their necks, like to the neck of their [f] fathers, that did not beleeve in the LORD their God.

* Deut. 31. 27.

15 And they rejected his ſtatutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his teſtimonies which he teſtified againſt them, and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the LORD had charged them, that they ſhould not do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, and * made them molten images, even two calvs, and made a grove, and worſhipped all the [g] hoſt of heaven, and ſerved Baal.

* Exod. 32. 8. 1 King. 12. 28.

[g] That is, The ſun, the moon and ſtars, Deut. 4. 19.

17 And they cauſed their ſons and their daughters to [h] paſs through the fire, and uſed divination and inchantments, and [i] ſold themſelvs to do evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

[h] Read Chap. 16. 3.

[i] Read of this phraſe, 1 King. 21. 20, & 25.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Iſrael, and removed them out of his ſight, there was none left but the tribe of Judah [k] onely.

[k] No whole tribe was left but Judah: and they of Benjamin and Levi, which remained, were counted with Judah.

19 Alſo Judah kept not the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the ſtatutes of Iſrael which they made.

20 And the LORD rejected all the ſeed of Iſrael, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of ſpoilers, untill he had caſt them out of his [l] ſight.

[l] Out of the land where he ſhewed the greateſt tokens of his preſence and favour 21 [m] For he rent Iſrael from the houſe of David, and they made Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat king, and Jeroboam drave Iſrael from following the LORD, and made them ſin a great ſin.

[m] That is, God cut off the ten tribes. 1 King. 12. 16, 20.

22 For the children of Iſrael walked in all the ſins of Jeroboam which he did, they departed not from them:

23 Until the LORD removed Iſrael out of his ſight, as he had ſaid by all his ſervants the prophets: ſo was Iſrael carried away out of their own land to Aſſyria, unto this day.

24 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria brought men from Babylon, and from [n] Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria, in ſtead of the children of Iſrael; and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

[n] Of theſe people came the Samaritans, whereof mention is ſo much made in the Goſpel, and with whom the Jews would have nothing to do: John 4. 9.

25 And ſo it was at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared [o] not the LORD; therefore the LORD ſent lions among them, which ſlew ſome of them.

[o] That is. They ſerved him not therefore, leaſt they ſhould blaſpheme him, as though there were no God, becauſe he chaſtiſed the Iſraelites, he ſheweth his mighty power among them by this ſtrange puniſhment.

26 Wherefore they ſpake to the king of Aſſyria, ſaying, The nations which thou haſt removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath ſent lions among them, and behold, they ſlay them, becauſe they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Aſſyria commanded, ſaying, Carry thither one of the prieſts whom ye brought from thence, and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the [p] land.

[p] That is, how to worſhip him: thus the wicked rather than to loſe their commodities, will change to all religious.

28 Then one of the prieſts whom they had carried away from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the LORD.

29 Howbeit, every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houſes of the high places which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 And the men of Babylon made [q] Succothbenoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Aſhima, [q] Meaning, That every country ſerved that idol, which was moſt eſteemed in that place whence they came.

31 And the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech, and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

32 So they feared the LORD, and made unto themſelvs of the loweſt of them prieſts of the high places, which ſacrificed for them in the houſes of the high places.

* Zeph. 1. 5.

33 * They [r] feared the LORD, and ſerved their own gods, after the manner of the nations, ‡ whom they carried away from thence.

[r] That is, They had a certain knowledge of God and feared him becauſe of the puniſhment, but they continued ſtill idolaters, as do the Papiſts which worſhip both God and idols: but this is not to fear God, as appeareth verſ. 34.

‡ Or, who carried them away from thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the former manners: they fear not the LORD, neither do they after [ſ] their ſtatutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law and commandment which the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, * whom he named Iſrael;

[ſ] He meaneth this by the Iſraelites, to whom god had given his commandments.

* Gen. 32. 28. 1 King. 18. 31.

35 With whom the LORD had made a covenant, and charged them, ſaying, * Ye ſhall not fear other gods, nor bow your ſelvs to them, not ſerve them, nor ſacrifice to them:

* Judge. 6. 10.

36 But the LORD, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and a ſtretched-out arm, him ſhall ye fear, and him ſhall ye worſhip, and to him ſhall ye do ſacrifice.

37 And the ſtatutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment which he wrote for you ye ſhall obſerve to do for evermore, and ye ſhall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant that I have made with you, ye ſhall not forget, neither ſhall ye fear other gods.

39 But the LORD your God ye ſhall fear, and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they did not hearken, but they did after their former manner.

[t] That is, Theſe ſtrangers which were ſent into Samaria by the Aſſyrians.

41 So [t] theſe nations feared the LORD, and ſerved their graven images, both their children, dren, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so do they unto this day.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father did.

a Although they of Judah were given to idolatry and impiety, as they of Israel were, yet God for his promise sake was mercifull unto the throne of David: and yet by his judgement toward the other, provoked them to repentance.

4 ¶ He removed the high places, and brake the ‡ images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the * brasen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it: and he called it [b] Nehushtan.

* Chap. 17. 6.

11 And the king of Assyria did carry away Israel unto Assyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Because they obeyed not the voice of the LORD their God, but transgressed his covenant and all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded, and would not hear them, nor do them.

13 ¶ Now * in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, did † Sennacherib king of Assyria come up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

* 2 Chron. 32. 1. Isa. 36. 1. Esay 48. 18.
† Heb. Sancherib

14 And Hezekiah king of Judah sent to the king of Assyria to Lachish, saying, [d] I have offended, return from me: that which thou puttest on me, I will bear. And the king of Assyria appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah, three hundred talents of silver, and thirty talents of gold.

d As his zeal was before praised, so his weakness is here set forth, that none should glory in himself.

15 And Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At that time did Hezekiah cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave † it to the king of Assyria.

† Heb. them

17 And the king of Assyria sent [e] Tartan, and Rab-saris, and Rab-shakeh from Lachish, to king Hezekiah with a ‡ great host against Jerusalem: and they went up and came to Jerusalem: & when they were come up, they came and stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the high-way of the fullers field.

e After certain years when Hezekiah ceased to send the tribute appointed by the king of the Assyrians, he sent his captains and army against him.
‡ Heb. heavy

18 And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was over the houshold, and Shebna the ‡ scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder.

‡ Or, secretary,

19 And Rab-shakeh said unto them, Speak ye now to Hezekiah, thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou ‡ sayest, (but they are but † vain words) ‡ I have [f] counsel and strength for the war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

‡ Or, † talkest, Heb. words of the lips.
‡ Or, but counsel and strength are for the war:
f Thou thinkest that words will serve to perswade thy people, or to move my master.

21 Now behold, thou † trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and [g] pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that trust on him.

† Heb. trustest thee
g Egypt shall not onely not be able to succour thee, but shall be an hurt unto thee.

22 But if ye say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God: is [h] not that he whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem?

h Thus the idolaters think that Gods religion is destroyed, when superstition and idolatry are reformed.

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, give ‡ [i] pledges to my lord the king of Assyria, And I will deliver thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

‡ Or, hostages
i Meaning, That it was best for him to yeeld to the King of Assyria, because his power was so small that he had not men to furnish two thousand horses.

24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my masters servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsmen?

25 Am I now come up without the [k] LORD against this place to destroy it? the LORD said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

k The wicked always in their prosperity flatter themselvs, that God doth favour them. Thus he speaketh to fear Hezekiah, that by resisting him he should resist God.

26 Then said Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Joah, unto Rab-shakeh, Speak, I pray thee, to thy servants in the Syrian language, (for we understand it) and talk not with us in the Jews language in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rab-shakeh said unto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink † their own pisse with you?

† Heb. the water of their feet?

28 Then Rabſhakeh ſtood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and ſpake, ſaying, Hear the word of the great king, the king of Aſſyria.

29 Thus ſaith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he ſhall not be able to deliver you out of his hand:

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you truſt in the LORD, ſaying, The LORD will ſurely deliver us, and this citie ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

31 Hearken not unto Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the king of Aſſyria, ‡ † Make an agreement with me by a preſent, and come out to me, and then eat ye every man of his own vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his ‡ ciſtern:

† Or, ſeek my favour, ‖ Heb. make with me a bleſſing,

‡ Or, pit.

32 ‖ Untill I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oyl-olive, and of honey, that ye may live and not die: and hearken not unto Hezekiah, when he ‡ perſwadeth you, ſaying, The LORD will deliver us.

‖ He maketh himſelf ſo ſure, that he will not grant them truce, except they render themſelvs to him to be led away captivs.

‡ Or, deceiveth

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered at all his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

34 Where are the gods of Hamath, and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the countreys, that have delivered their countrey out of mine hand, that the [m] LORD ſhould deliver Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

m This is an execrable blaſphemy againſt the true God, to make him equall with the idols of other nations: therefore God did moſt ſharply puniſh it.

36 But the people held their peace, and anſwered him not a word: for the kings commandment was, ſaying, Anſwer him not.

37 Then came Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſon of Aſaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-ſhakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Hezekiah mourning, ſendeth to Iſaiah to pray for them. 6 Iſaiah comforteth them. 8 Sennacherib going to encounter Tirhakah, ſendeth a blaſphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiah his prayer. 20 Iſaiah his propheſie of the pride and deſtruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 35 An angel ſlayeth the Aſſyrians. 36 Sennacherib is ſlain at Nineveh by his own ſons.

* Iſa. 37. 1.

AND * it came to paſs when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himſelf with ſackcloth, and went into the houſe of the LORD.

2 And he ſent Eliakim, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and the elders of the prieſts, covered with ſackcloth, to

3 And they ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke and ‡ blaſphemie: for the children are come to the [b] birth, and there is not ſtrength to bring forth.

‡ Or, provocation: b The dangers are ſo great that we can neither avenge this blaſphemie, nor help our ſelvs, no more than a woman in her travail.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear all the words of Rab-ſhakeh, whom the king of Aſſyria his maſter hath ſent to reproach the living God; and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the [c] remnant that are † left.

c Meaning, For Jeruſalem, which onely remained of all the cities of Judah.

† Heb. found.

5 So the ſervants of king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 ¶ And Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to your maſter, Thus ſaith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words which thou haſt heard, with which the ſervants of the king of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7 Behold, I will ſend a [d] blaſt upon him, and he ſhall hear a rumour, and ſhall return to his own land, and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his own land.

d The Lord can with one blaſt blow away all the ſtrength of man, and turn it into duſt.

8 ¶ So Rab-ſhakeh returned, and found the king of Aſſyria warring againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 And when [e] he heard ſay of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, [f] Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: he ſent meſſengers again unto Hezekiah, ſaying, e That is, Sennacherib.

f For the kings of Ethiopia, and Egypt joyned together againſt the king of Aſſyria, becauſe of his oppreſſion of other countries.

10 Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to Hezekiah king of Judah, ſaying, Let not [g] thy God, in whom thou truſteſt, deceive thee, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

g The more sees that the wicked are to their deſtruction, the more they blaſpheme.

11 Behold, thou haſt heard what the kings of Aſſyria have don to all lands, by deſtroying them utterly: and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have deſtroyed; as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Thelaſar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the houſe of the LORD, and ſpread it before the [h] LORD.

h Before the ark of the covenant.

15 And Hezekiah [i] prayed before the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou haſt made heaven and earth.

i He ſheweth what is the true refuge and ſuccour in all dangers, to wit, To flee to the Lord by earneſt prayer.

16 LORD, [k] bow down thine ear, and hear: open, LORD, thine eyes, and ſee: and hear the words of Sennacherib, which hath ſent him to reproach the ‖ living God.

k Shew by effect that thou wilt not ſuffer thy name to be blaſphemed.

‖ By this little he diſcerneth God from all idols and falſe gods.

17 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Aſſyria have deſtroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And have † caſt their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and ſtone: therefore they have deſtroyed them.

† Heb. given

19 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beſeech thee, ſave thou us out of his hand, that all the [m] kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD God, even thou onely.

m He ſheweth for what end the faithfull deſire of God to be delivered: to wit, That he may be glorified by their deliverance.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, That which thou haſt prayed to me againſt Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, I have heard.

21 This

21 This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning him, The [n] virgin, the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

22 Whom hast thou reproached, and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lift up thine eyes on high? even [o] against the holy one of Israel.

23 † By thy messengers thou hast reproached the LORD, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down † the tall cedar-trees thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the [p] lodgings of his borders, and into ‡ the forrest of his Carmel.

24 I have digged and drunk strange waters, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of ‡ besieged places.

25 ‡ Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have don it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? [q] now have I brought it to pass that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps.

26 [r] Therefore their inhabitants were † of small power, they were dismayed & confounded, they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house tops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

27 But I know thy ‡ abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

28 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my [t] hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

29 And this shall be [s] a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such things as grow of themselvs, and in the second year that which springeth of the same, and in the third year sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And † the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall yet again take [u] root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and † they that escape out of mount Zion: the [x] zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

32 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this citie, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bank against it.

33 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD.

34 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.

35 ¶ And * it came to pass that night, that the angel of the LORD went out, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians, an hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

37 And it came to pass as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer * his sons [y] smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of † Armenia, and Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

IN * those days was Hezekiah sick unto death: and the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, † Set thine house in order, for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then he turned his face to the [a] wall, and prayed unto the LORD, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O LORD, remember now, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with [b] a perfect heart, and have don that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah [c] wept † sore.

4 And it came to pass afore Isaiah was gon out into the middle ‡ court, that the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

5 Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard [d] thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee; on the third day thou shalt go up unto the [e] house of the LORD.

6 And I will add unto thy days fifteen years, and I will deliver thee, and this city, out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.

7 And Isaiah said, Take a [f] lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boyl, and he recovered.

8 ¶ And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah, What shall be the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the LORD the third day?

9 And Isaiah said, This sign shalt thou have of the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he hath spoken: shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but [g] let the shadow return backward ten degrees.

son of Baladan king of Babylon, sent letters and [1] a present unto Hezekiah: for he had heard that Hezekiah had been sick.

13 And Hezekiah hearkened unto them, and shewed them the house of his ‡ precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his ‡† armour, and all that was found in his treasures: [k] there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

14 ¶ Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, they are come from a far country, even from Babylon.

15 And he said, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All the things that are in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures, that I have not shewed them.

16 And Isaiah said unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD.

17 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store unto this day, * shall be carried into Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.

18 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

19 Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, [l] Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. And he said, ‡ Is it not good, if [m] peace and truth be in my days?

20 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his might, and how he made a pool, and a conduit, and brought water into the city, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

MAnasseh * was twelve years old when he began to reign, and reigned fiftie and five years in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Hephzi-bah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he built up again the high places * which Hezekiah his father had destroyed, and he reared up altars for Baal, and made a grove, as did Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

4 And * he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD said, * in Jerusalem will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for all the host of heaven, in the two courts of the house of the LORD.

6 And he made his son [a] pass through the fire, and observed times, and used enchantments, and dealt with familiar spirits, and wizards: he wrought much wickedness in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he set a graven image of the grove that he had made, in the house, of which the LORD said to David, and to Solomon his son, * In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all tribes of Israel, will I put my name for ever:

8 Neither will I make the feet of Israel move any more out of the land which I gave their fathers; onely if they will [b] observe to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that my servant Moses commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: and Manasseh seduced them to do more evil than did the nations, whom the LORD destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the LORD spake by this servants the prophets, saying,

11 * Because Manasseh king of Judah hath don these abominations, and hath don wickedly above all that the Amorites did, which were before him, and hath made Judah also to sin with his idols:

12 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Behold, I am bringing such evil upon Jerusalem and Judah, that whosoever heareth of it, both * his ears shall [c] tingle.

13 And I will stretch over Jerusalem the line of [d] Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, † wiping it, and turning it upside down.

14 And I will forsake the [e] remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall become a prey, and a spoil to all their enemies;

15 Because they have done that which was evil in my sight, and have provoked me to anger since the day their fathers came forth out of Egypt, even unto this day.

16 Moreover, Manasseh shed [f] innocent bloud very much, till he had filled Jerusalem † from one end to another, beside his sin wherewith he made Judah to sin, in doing that which was evil in the sight of the LORD.

17 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and all that he did, and his sin that he sinned, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

18 And * Manasseh slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own house, in the garden of Uzza: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

[a] His zeal was propheſied of, and his name nientioned by Jaddo the prophet, more than three hundred yeers before, 1 Kings 13. 2. and being but eight year old, he ſought the God of his father David. 2 Coron. 34. 3.

3 ¶ And it came to paſs in the eighteenth year of king Joſiah, that the king ſent Shaphan the ſon of Azaliah, the ſon of Meſhullam the ſcribe, to the houſe of the LORD, ſaying, 4 Go up to Hilkiah the high prieſt, that he may ſum the ſilver which is brought into the houſe of the LORD, which the keepers of the † [b] door have gathered of the people.

† Heb. threshold

[b] Certain of the prieſts were appointed to this office. 2 Chap. 12. 9.

5 And let them [c] deliver it into the hand of the doers of the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the LORD: and let them give it to the doers of the work, which is in the houſe of the LORD, to repair the breaches of the houſe,

[c] From the time of Joſh. for the ſpace of 224 years the thempie remained without reparation, through the negligence of the prieſts. This declareth, that they that have a charge, and execute it not, ought to have it taken from them.

6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and maſons, and to buy timber and hewen ſtone to repair the houſe:

7 Howbeit, there was no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand, becauſe they [d] dealt faithfully.

[d] So God provided him of faithfull ſervants, ſeeing he went about ſo zealouſly to ſet forth the work of God.

8 ¶ And Hilkiah the high prieſt ſaid unto Shaphan the ſcribe, I have found the [e] book of the law in the houſe of the LORD: and Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

[e] This was the copie that Moſes left them, as appeareth, 2 Coron. 34. 14. which either by the negligence of the prieſts had been loſt, or els by the wickeneſs of idolatrous kings had been aboliſhed.

9 And Shaphan the ſcribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and ſaid, Thy ſervants have † gathered the money that was found in the houſe, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the LORD.

† Heb. melted

10 And Shaphan the ſcribe ſhewed the king, ſaying, Hilkiah the prieſt hath delivered me a book: and Shaphan read it before the king.

11 And it came to paſs when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commanded Hilkiah the prieſt, & Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, & Achbor the ſon of Michajah, and Shaphan the ſcribe, And Aſahiah a ſervant of the kings, ſaying, 13 Go ye, [f] enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled againſt us, becauſe our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

[f] Meaning, To ſome prophet whom God reuealeth the knowledge of things unto, as Jer. 21. 1. though at other times they enquired of the Lord by Urim and Thummim.

14 So Hilkiah the prieſt, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Aſahiah, went unto Huldah the propheteſs, the wife of Shallum the ſon of Tikvah, the ſon of Harhas, keeper of the † wardrobe, (now ſhe dwelt in Jeruſalem ‡ in the [g] colledge) and they communed with her.

† Heb. garments, ‡ Or, in the ſecond part.

[g] Or, the houſe of doctrin which was near to the temple, and where the learned aſſembled to entreat of the ſcriptures, and the doctrin of the prophets.

15 ¶ And ſhe ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Tell the man that ſent you to me, 16 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read.

17 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have burnt incenſe unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the [h] works of their hands: therefore my wrath ſhall be kindled againſt this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

[h] The works of mans hand here ſignifie, all that man inventeth beſide the word of God, which are abominable in Gods ſervice.

18 But to the king of Judah which ſent you to enquire of the LORD, thus ſhall ye ſay to him, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, As touching the words which thou haſt heard;

19 Becauſe thine heart was [i] tender, and thou haſt humbled thy ſelf before the LORD, when thou heardeſt what I ſpake againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, that they ſhould become a deſolation, and a curſe, and haſt rent thy clothes, and wept before me: I alſo have heard thee, ſaith the LORD.

[i] Meaning, That he did repent, as they that do not repent, are ſaid to harden their heart. Pſal. 95. 8.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered into thy grave in [k] peace, and thine eyes ſhall not ſee all the evil which I will bring upon this place. And they brought the king word again.

[k] whereupon we may gather that the anger of God is ready againſt the wicked, when God taketh his ſervants out of this world.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joſiah cauſeth the book to be read in a ſolemn aſſembly. 3 He reneweth the covenant of the Lord. 4 He deſtroyeth idolatry. 15 He burnt dead mens bones upon the altar of Beth-el, as was fore-propheſied. 21 He kept a moſt ſolemn paſsover, 24 He put away witches, and all abomination. 26 Gods finall wrath againſt Judah. 29 Joſiah provoking Pharaoh Nechoh, is ſlain at Megiddo. 31 Jehoahaz ſucceeding him, is impriſoned by Pharaoh Nechoh, who made Jehoiakim king. 36 Jehoiakim his wicked reign.

AND * the king [a] ſent, and they gathered unto him all the elders of Judah and of Jeruſalem.

[*] 2 Chron. 34. 30.

[a] Becauſe he ſaw the great plagues of God that were threatned, he knew no more ſpeedy way to avoid them, than to turn to God by repentance, which cannot come but of faith, and faith by hearing of the word of God.

2 And

2 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people † both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD.

3 ¶ And the king stood by a [b] pillar, & made a [c] covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all their heart, and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant, that were written in this book: & all the people stood to the covenant.

b where the king had his place, Chap. 11. 14.
c As Joshua did, Josh. 24. 22, 25.

4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the [d] priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried the [e] ashes of them unto Beth-el.

d Meaning, them which were next in dignitie to the high priest.
e In contempt of that altar which Jeroboam had there built to sacrifice to his calvs.

5 And he † put down the †[f] idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Iudah had ordained to burn incense in the high places, in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem; them also that burnt incense unto Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the ‡ planets, and to all the host of heaven.

† Heb. caused to cease
† Heb chemarim, f Meaning, the priests of Baal, which were called Chemarims, either because they wore black garments: or els were smoked with burning incense to idols.
‡ Or, twelve signs, or constellations,

6 And he brought out the * [g] grove from the house of the LORD, without Jerusalem, unto the brook Kidron, and burnt it at the brook Kidron, and stampt it small to powder, and cast the powder thereof upon the [h] graves of the children of the people.

* Chap. 21. 7.
g He removed the grove which idolaters for devotion had planted near unto the temple, contrary to the commandment of the Lord, Deut. 16. 21. or, as some read, the similitude of a grove which was hanged in the temple.
h Both in contempt of the idols and reproach of them which had worshipped them in their lives.

7 And he brake down the houses of the Sodomites that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove † hangings for the grove.

† Heb houses

8 And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burnt incense, from Geba to Beer-sheba, and brake down the high places of the gates that were in the entring in of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on a mans left hand at the gate of the city.

i Because that those that had forsaken the Lord to serve idols were not meet to minister in the service of the Lord, for the instruction of others.

9 Nevertheless, the [i] priests of the high places came not up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled [k] Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.

k which was a valley near to Jerusalem, and signifieth a tabret, because they smote on the tabret, while their children were burning, that their crie should not be heard, Levit. 18. 21. where after Josiah commanded carions to be cast in contempt thereof.

11 And he took away the [l] horses that the kings of Iudah had given to the sun, at the entring in of the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the ‡ chamberlain, which was in the suburbs, and burnt the chariots of the sun with fire.

l The idolatrous kings had dedicated horses and chariots to the sun, either to carrie the image thereof about, as the heathen did, or els to sacrifice them, as a sacrifice most agreeable.
‡ Or, eunuch, or officer,

12 And the altars that were on the top of the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which * Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, did the king beat down, and ‡ brake them down from thence, and cast the dust of them into the brook Kidron.

* Chap. 21. 5.

13 And the high places that were before Jerusalem, which were on the right hand of ‡ the [m] mount of corruption, which * Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon, did the king defile.

‡ That is, the mount of olives.
m That was the mount of olives, so called, because it was full of idols.
* 1 Kings 11. 7.

14 And he brake in pieces the † images, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

† Heb statues,

15 ¶ Moreover, the [n] altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burnt the high place, and stampt it small to powder, and burnt the grove.

n which Jeroboam had built in Israel, 1 King. 12. 28, 29.

16 And as Josiah turned himself, he spied the sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burnt them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the * word of the LORD which the [o] man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

* 1 Kings. 13. 2.
o According to the prophecie of Jaddo, 1 Kings 13. 2.

17 Then he said, What title is that that I see? And the men of the citie told him, it is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Judah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast don against the altar of Beth-el.

18 And he said, Let him alone, let no man move his bones: so they let his bones † alone, with the bones of the [p] prophet that came out of Samaria.

† Heb to escape, p Meaning, the prophet which came after him, and cused him to eat contrary to the commandment of the Lord, which two were both buried in one grave. 1 Kng. 13. 31.

19 And all the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the LORD to anger, Josiah took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had don in Beth-el.

20 And he ‡ slew all the priests of the high places that were there, upon the altars, and burnt mens bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

25 And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

26 ¶ Notwithstanding, the LORD turned not from the [r] fierceness of his great wrath, wherewith his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the † provocations that Manasseh had provoked him withal.

[r] Because of the wicked heart of the people, which would not turn unto him by repentance.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written, in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

* 2 Chron. 35. 20.

29 ¶ * In his days Pharaoh-nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah [f] went against him, and he slew him at Megiddo, when he had seen him.

[f] Because he passed through his country, he feared lest he would have done him harm, & therefore would have slayed him, yet he consulted not with the Lord, and therefore was slain.

30 And his servants carried him in a chariot dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre: and * the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his fathers stead.

* 2 Chron. 36. 1.

31 ¶ Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his [t] fathers had done.

[t] Heb. The wicked kings before.

33 And Pharaoh-nechoh put him in bands at [u] Riblah, in the land of Hamath, ‡ that he might not reign in Jerusalem, and † put the land to a tribute of an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

* Mat. 1. 11. called, Jakim.

35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he taxed the land to give the mony according to the commandment of Pharaoh; he exacted the silver and the gold of the people of the land, of every one according to his taxation, to give it unto Pharaoh-nechoh.

36 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Jehoiakim, first subdued by Nebuchadnezzar, then rebelling against him, procureth his own ruin. 6 Jehoiachin succeedeth him. 7 The king of Egypt is vanquished by the king of Babylon. 8 Jehoiachin his evil reign. 10 Jerusalem is taken, and carried captive into Babylon. 17 Zedekiah is made king, and reigneth ill, unto the utter destruction of Judah.

IN his [a] days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years: then he turned and rebelled against him.

[a] In the end of the third year of his reign, and in the beginning of the fourth, Dan. 1. 1.

2 And the LORD sent against him bands of the Caldees, and bands of the Syrians, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the children of Ammon, and sent them against Judah to destroy it, * according to the word of the LORD, which he spake † by his servants the prophets.

* Chap. 20. 17. & 23. 27.
† Heb. by the hand of.

3 Surely at the [b] commandment of the LORD came this upon Judah, to remove them out of his sight, for the sins of Manasseh, according to all that he did:

[b] Though God used these wicked tyrants to execute his just judgment, yet they are not to be excused, because they proceeded of ambition and malice.

4 And also for the innocent bloud that he shed, (for he filled Jerusalem with innocent bloud) which the LORD would not pardon.

5 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

6 So Jehoiakim [c] slept with his fathers: and Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead.

[c] Not that he was buried with his fathers, but he died in the way, as they led him prisoner toward Babylon: Read Jer. 22. 19.

7 And the king of Egypt came not again any more out of his land: for the king of Babylon had taken from the river of Egypt unto the river Euphrates, all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 ¶ Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months: and his mothers name was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan, of Jerusalem.

9 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

* Chap. 20. 17. Isa. 39. 6.

14 And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, even ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen, and smiths: none remained, save the poorest sort of the people of the land.

15 And * he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, and the kings mother, and the kings wives, and his ‡ officers, and the mighty of the land, thoſe carried he into captivity, from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

16 And all the men of might, even ſeven thouſand, and craftſmen, and ſmiths a thouſand, all that were ſtrong and apt for war, even them the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon.

17 ¶ And * the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his fathers brother king in his ſtead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 * Zedekiah was twenty & one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20 For through the anger of the LORD it came to paſs in Jeruſalem and Judah, until he had caſt them out from his [f] preſence, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the king of Babylon.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Jeruſalem is beſieged. 4 Zedekiah taken, his ſons ſlain, his eyes put out. 8 Nebuzar-adan defaceth the city, carrieth the remnant, except a few poor labourers, into captivity, 13 ſpoileth and carrieth away the treaſures. 18 The nobles are ſlain at Riblah. 22 Gedaliah, who was ſet over them that remained, being ſlain, the reſt flee into Egypt. 27 Evil-merodach advanceth Jehoiachin in his court.

AND it came to paſs * in the [a] ninth year of his reign, in the [b] tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his hoſt, againſt Jeruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and they built forts againſt it round about.

2 And the city was beſieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

3 And on the ninth day of the * fourth month, the famine [c] prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 ¶ And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night, by the way of the [d] gate, between two walls, which is by the kings garden, (now the Caldees were againſt the city round about) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5 And the army of the Caldees purſued after the king, & overtook him in the plains of Jericho: & all his army were ſcattered from him.

6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon, to Riblah, and they † gave [e] judgment upon him.

7 And they ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and † put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of braſs, and carried him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And in the fifth month, on the [f] ſeventh day of the month (which is the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan ‡ captain of the guard, a ſervant of the king of Babylon, unto Jeruſalem:

9 And he burnt the houſe of the LORD, and the kings houſe, and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and every great mans houſe burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Caldees that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

11 Now the reſt of the people that were left in the city, and the † fugitives that [g] fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land, to be vine-dreſſers, and huſbandmen.

13 And * the pillars of braſs that were in the houſe of the LORD, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the LORD, did the Caldees break in pieces, and carried the braſs of them to Babylon.

14 And the [h] pots, and the ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſs wherewith they miniſtred, took they away.

15 And the fire-pans, and the bowls, and ſuch things as were of gold, in gold, and of ſilver, in ſilver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, † one ſea, and the baſes which Solomon had made for the houſe of the LORD, the braſs of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, & the chapiter upon it was braſs: and the height of the chapiter three cubits: and the wreathen-work, and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of braſs: and like unto theſe had the ſecond pillar with wreathen-work.

18 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the [i] ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the † door.

19 And out of the city he took an ‡ officer, that was ſet over the men of war, and [k] five men of them that † were in the kings preſence, which were found in the city, and the ‡ principal ſcribe of the hoſt, which muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the city.

20 And Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard took theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon, to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away out of their land.

22 ¶ * And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, even over them he made Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, ruler.

¶ THE FIRST BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Iews comprehend both theſe books in one, which the Grecians becauſe of the length, divide into two: and they are called Chronicles, becauſe they note briefly the hiſtories from Adam to the return from their captivity in Babylon. But theſe are not thoſe books of Chronicles, which are ſo oft mentioned in the books of the kings of Judah and Iſrael, which did at large ſet forth the ſtory of both the kingdoms, and afterward periſhed in the captivity: but an abridgment of the ſame, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iews write, after their return from Babylon. This firſt book containeth a brief rehearſal of the children of Adam unto Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob, and the twelve Patriarches, chiefly of Judah, and of the reign of David, becauſe Chriſt came of him according to the fleſh. And therefore it ſetteth forth more amply his acts, both concerning civil government, and alſo the adminiſtration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good ſucceſs whereof he rejoyceth, and giveth thanks to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

1 Adams line to Noah. 5 The ſons of Japheth. 8 The ſons of Ham. 17 The ſons of Shem. 24 Shems line to Abraham. 29 Iſhmaels ſons. 32 The ſons of Keturah. 34 The poſterity of Abraham by Eſau. 43 The kings of Edom. 51 The dukes of Edom.

ADam, * [a] Sheth, Enoſh,

2 Kenan, Mahalaleel, Jered,

3 Henoch, Methuſhelah, Lamech,

4 Noah, [b] Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

5 ¶ * The ſons of Japheth; Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, and Meſhech, and Tiras.

6 And the ſons of Gomer; Aſhchenaz, and ‡Riphath, and Togarmah.

7 And the ſons of Javan; Eliſhah, and Tarſhiſh, Kittim, and ‡ Dodanim.

8 ¶ The ſons of Ham; Cuſh, and Mizriam, Put, and Canaan.

9 And the ſons of Cuſh; Seba, and Havilah, and Sabta, and Raama, and Sabtecha: and the ſons of Raamah; Sheba, and Dedan.

10 And Cuſh * begat [c] Nimrod: he began to be mighty upon the earth.

11 And Mizraim begat Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim, 12 And Pathruſim, and Caſſluhim, (of whom came the Philiſtines) and * Caphthorim.

13 And Canaan begat Zidon his firſt-born, and Heth,

14 The Jebuſite alſo, and the Amorite, and the Girgaſhite,

15 And the Hivite, and the Archite, and the Sinite,

16 And the Arvadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite.

17 ¶ The ſons of * Shem; Elam, and Aſſhur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and [d] Aram, and Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and ‡ Meſhech.

18 And Arphaxad begat Shelah, and Shelah begat [e] Eber.

* Gen. 5. 3, 9.

a Meaning, That Seth was Adams ſon, and Enoſh Seths ſon.

b It had been ſufficient to have named Shem, of whom came Abraham and David, but becauſe the world was reſtored by thoſe three, mention is alſo made of Ham and Japheth.

* Gen 10. 2.

‡ Or, Maſh, Gen. 10. 23.

e Of him came the Hebrews, which were afterward called Iſraelites of Iſrael, which was Jacob: and Jews of Judah, becauſe of the excellency of that tribe.

‡ That is, Division.

19 And unto Eber were born two sons: the name of the one was ‡ Peleg, (because in his days the earth was divided) and his brothers name was Joktan.

* Gen. 10. 26.

20 And * Joktan begat Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazermaveth, and Ierah, 21 Hadoram also, and Uzal, and Diklah,

22 And Ebal, and Abimael, and Sheba,

23 And Ophir, and Havilah, and Iobab. All these were the sons of Joktan.

* Luk. 3. 36.
f He repeateth Shem again, because he would come to the stock of Abraham.

‡ Or, Achan, Gen. 36. 27.

42 The sons of Ezer; Bilhan, and Zavan, and ‡ Jakan. The sons of Dishon; Uz, and Aran.

* Gen. 36. 31.
m He maketh mention of the kings that came of Esau, according to Gods promise made to Abraham concerning him, that kings should come of him. These eight kings reigned one after another in Idumea unto the time of David, who conquered their country.
n which was the principal city of the Edomites.

43 ¶ Now these are the * m kings that reigned in the land of Edom, before any king reigned over the children of Israel; Bela the son of Beor: and the name of his city was Dinhabah.

44 And when Bela was dead, Jobab the son of Zerah of n Bosrah, reigned in his stead.

45 And when Jobab was dead, Husham of the land of the Temanites, reigned in his stead.

46 And when Husham was dead, Hadad the son of Bedad (which smote Midian in the field of Moab) reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Avith.

47 And when Hadad was dead, Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his stead.

48 * And when Samlah was dead, Shaul of Rehoboth by the river, reigned in his stead. * Gen. 36. 37.

49 And when Shaul was dead, Baal-hanan the son of Achbor reigned in his stead.

50 And when Baal-hanan was dead, ‡ Hadad reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was ‡ Pai; and his wives name was Mehetabel the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Mezahab. ‡ Or, Hadar, Gen. 36. 39. ‡ Or, Pau, Gen. 36. 39.

51 ¶ Hadad died also. And the * dukes of Edom were; duke Timnah, duke Aliah, duke Jetheth, * Gen. 36. 40.

52 Duke Aholibamah, duke Elah, duke Pinon,

53 Duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar,

54 Duke Magdiel, duke Iram. These are the dukes of Edom.

1 The sons of Israel. 3 The posterity of Judah by Tamar. 13 The children of Jesse. 18 The posterity of Caleb the son of Hesron. 21 Hesrons posterity by the daughter of Machir. 25 Jerahmeels posterity. 34 Sheshans posterity. 42 Another branch of Calebs posterity. 50 The posterity of Caleb the son of Hur.

THese are the sons of ‡ Israel; * Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Iudah, Issachar, and Zebulun, ‡ Or, Iacob. * Gen. 29. 32. & 30. 5. & 35. 18, 22. & 46. 9, &c.

2 Dan, Ioseph, and Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

3 ¶ The sons of * a Iudah; Er and Onan, and Shelah: which three were born unto him of the daughter of * Shua the Canaanitess. And Er, the first-born of Iudah, was evil in the sight of the LORD, and he slew him. * Gen. 38. 1. & 46. 12.
a Though Judah was not Jacobs eldest son, yet he first beginneth at him, because he would come to the genealogy of David, of whom came Christ.

4 And * Tamar his daughter in law, bare him Pharez, and Zerah. All the sons of Iudah were five. * Gen. 38. 2. * Gen. 38. 29, 30. Mat. 1. 3.

5 The sons of * Pharez; Hezron, and Hamul. * Ruth 4. 18.

6 And the sons of Zerah; ‡ Zimri, * and b Ethan, and Heman, and Calcol, and ‡ Dara: five of them in all. ‡ Or, Zabdi, Iosh. 7. 1. * 1 King. 4. 31. b Of these read, 1 King. 4. 31. ‡ Or, Darda.

7 And the sons of Carmi; ‡ Achar, the troubler of Israel, who transgressed in the thing * accursed. ‡ Or, Achan. * Iosh. 6. 19. & 7. 1.

8 And the sons of Ethan; Azariah.

9 The sons also of Hezron, that were born unto him; Jerahmeel, and c Ram, and ‡ Chelubai. c whom saint Matthew calleth Aram, Mat. 1. 3. ‡ Or, Caleb, vers. 18

10 And Ram * begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon, d prince of the children of Iudah; * Ruth 4. 19. d That is, Chief of the family.

11 And Nahshon begat Salma, and Salma begat Boaz,

12 And Boaz begat Obed, and Obed begat Iesse,

13 ¶ * And Iesse begat his first-born Eliab, and Aminadab the second, and ‡ Shimma the third, * 1 Sam. 16. 6. ‡ Or, Shammah, 1 Sam. 16. 9.

14 Nethaneel the fourth, Raddai the fifth,

15 Ozem the sixth, David the seventh:

16 Whose sisters were Zeruiah, & Abigail.

And

And the sons of Zeruiah; Abishai, and Ioab, and Asahel, three.

17 And Abigail bare Amasa: and the father of Amasa was Iether the Ishmeelite.

18 ¶ And [c] Caleb the son of Hezron begat children of Azubah his wife, and of Ierioth: her sons are these; Iesher, and Shobab, and Ardon.

c who was called Chelubai the son of Hezron, verse 9.

19 And when Azubah was dead, Caleb took unto him Ephrath, which bare him Hur.

20 And Hur begat Uri, and Uri begat * Bezaleel.

* Exod 31. 2.

21 ¶ And afterward Hezron went in to the daughter of Machir, the father of [f] Gilead, whom he † married when he was threescore years old, and she bare him Segub.

f who was prince of mount Gilead, Read Num. 32. 40

† Heb took

22 And Segub begat Iair, who had three and twenty cities in the land of Gilead.

23 * And he took Geshur, and Aram, with the towns of [g] Iair, from them, with Kenath and the towns thereof, even threescore cities: all these belonged to the sons of Machir, the father of Gilead.

* Num. 32. 41. Deut. 3. 14. Iosh. 13. 30.

g That is, The Geshurites & Syrians took the towns from Jairs children.

24 And after that Hezron was dead in [h] Caleb-ephratah, then Abiah Hezrons wife bare him Ashur the father of [i] Tekoa.

h which was a town named of the husband and wife, called also Beth-lehem-ephratah.

i Meaning, The chief and prince.

25 ¶ And the sons of Ierahmeel the first-born of Hezron were, Ram the first-born, and Bunah, and Oren, and Ozem, and Ahijah.

26 Jerahmeel had also another wife, whose name was Atarah, she was the mother of Onam.

27 And the sons of Ram the first-born of Jerahmeel were, Maaz, and Iamin, and Ekar.

28 And the sons of Onam were, Shammai, and Iada. And the sons of Shammai; Nadab, and Abishur.

29 And the name of the wife of Abishur was Abihail, and she bare him Ahban, and Molid.

30 And the sons of Nadab; Seled, and Appaim: but Seled died without children.

31 And the sons of Appaim; Ishi. And the sons of Ishi; Sheshan. And the children of Sheshan; [k] Ahlai.

k who died whilst his father was alive, and therefore it is said, verse 34. that Sheshan had no sons.

32 And the sons of Iada the brother of Shammai; Iether, and Ionathan: and Iether died without children.

33 And the sons of Ionathan; Peleth, and Zaza. These were the sons of Ierahmeel.

34 ¶ Now Sheshan had no sons, but daughters: and Sheshan had a servant, an Egyptian, whose name was Iarha.

35 And Sheshan gave his daughter to Iarha his servant to wife, and she bare him Attai.

36 And Attai begat Nathan, and Nathan begat * Zabad,

* Chap. 11. 41.

37 And Zabad begat Ephlal, and Ephlal begat Obed,

38 And Obed begat Iehu, and Iehu begat Azariah,

39 And Azariah begat Helez, and Helez begat Eleasah, 40 And Eleasah begat Sisamai, and Sisamai begat Shallum, 41 And Shallum begat Iekamiah, and Iekamiah begat Elishama.

42 ¶ Now the sons of Caleb the brother of Ierahmeel were, Mesha his first-born, which was the [l] father of Ziph: and the sons of Maresha the father of Hebron.

l That is, The chief governour or prince of the Ziphims, because the prince ought to have a fatherly care and affection toward his people.

43 And the sons of Hebron; Korah, and Tappuah, and Rekem, and Shema.

44 And Shema begat Raham, the father of Iorkoam: and Rekem begat Shammai.

45 And the son of Shammai was Maon: and Maon was the father of Beth-zur.

46 And Ephah Calebs [m] concubine bare Haran, and Moza, and Gazez: and Haran begat Gazez.

m This difference was between the wife and the concubine, that the wife was taken with certain solemnities of marriage, and her children did inherit: the concubine had no solemnities in marriage neither did her children inherit, but had a portion of goods of mony given them.

47 And the sons of Iahdai; Regem, and Iotham, and Geshan, and Pelet, and Ephah, and Shaaph.

48 Maacha Calebs concubine bare Sheber, and Tirhanah.

49 She bare also Shaaph the father of Madmannah, Shevah the father of Machbenah, and the father of Gibeah: and the daughter of Caleb was * Achsah.

* Iosh. 15. 17.

50 ¶ These were the sons of Caleb the son of Hur, the first-born of Ephratah; Shobal the father of Kirjath-jearim, 51 Salma the father of Beth-lehem, Hareph the father of Beth-gader.

52 And Shobal the father of Kirjath-jearim, had sons; ‡ Haroe, and ‡ half of the Manahethites.

‡ Or, Reaiah, Chap. 4. 2.
‡ Or, half of the Menuchites, or, Hatsi hammenuchoth.

53 And the families of Kirjath-jearim; the Ithrites, and the Puhites, and the Shumathites, and the Mishraites: of them came the Zareathites, and the Eshtaulites.

54 The sons of Salmah; Beth-lehem, and the Netophathites, ‡ [n] Ataroth, the house of Ioab, and half of the Manahethites, the Zorites.

‡ Or, Atarites, or, crowns of the house of Ioab.
n Meaning, The chief and principal.

55 And the families of the [o] scribes which dwelt at Iabez; the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, and Suchathites. These are the [p] * Kenites that came of Hemath, the father of the house of * Rechab.

CHAP. IX.

1 The original of Iſraels and Judahs genealogies. 2 The Iſraelites, 10 the prieſts, 14 and the Levites, with Nethinims, which dwelt in Jeruſalem. 27 The charge of certain Levites. 35 The ſtock of Saul and Jonathan.

SO all Iſrael were reckoned by genealogies, and behold, they were written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah, who were [a] carried away to Babylon for their tranſgreſſion.
[a] Hitherto he hath deſcribed their genealogies before they went into captivity: and now he deſcribeth their hiſtory after their return.
2 ¶ Now the firſt inhabitants that dwelt in their poſſeſſions in their cities were, the Iſraelites, the prieſts, Levites, and the [h] Nethinims.
[b] Meaning, The Gibeonites, which ſerved in the temple, Read Joſh. 9. 23.
3 And in * Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh:
* Neh. 11. 1.
4 Uthai the ſon of Ammihud, the ſon of Omri, the ſon of Imri, the ſon of Bani, of the children of Pharez the ſon of Judah.
5 And of the Shilonites; Aſaiah the firſt-born, and his ſons.
6 And of the ſons of Zerah; Jeuel, and their brethren, ſix hundred and ninety.
7 And of the ſons of Benjamin; Sallu the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Hodaviah, the the ſon of Haſenuah,
8 And Ibneiah the ſon of Jeroham, and Elah the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Michri, and Meſhullam the ſon of Shephatiah, the ſon of Reuel, the ſon of Ibnijah, 9 And their brethren, according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty and ſix. All theſe men were chief of the fathers in the houſe of their fathers.
10 ¶ And of the prieſts; Jedaiah, and Jehoiarib, and Jachin, 11 And Azariah the ſon of Hilkiah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Meraioth, the ſon of Ahitub the [c] ruler of the houſe of God,
[c] That is, He was the high prieſt.
12 And Adaiah the ſon of Jeroham, the ſon of Paſhur, the ſon of Malchijah, and Maaſiai the ſon of Adiel, the ſon of Jahzerah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Meſhillemith, the ſon of Immer, 17 And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chief.

18 (Who hitherto waited in the [e] kings gate east-ward) They were porters in the companies of the children of Levi.

[e] So called, because the king came into the temple thereby, and not the common people.

19 And Shallum the son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his brethren: (of the house of his father) the Korahites were over the work of the service, keepers of the †gates of the [f] tabernacle: and their fathers being over the host of the LORD, were keepers of the entry.

[f] Their charge was, that none should enter into those places, which were onely appointed for the priests to minister in.

20 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar was the ruler over them in time past, and the LORD was with him.

21 And Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah, was porter of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 All these which were chosen to be porters in the gates, were two hundred and twelve. These were reckoned by their genealogy in their villages: whom David and Samuel the seer † did ordain in their ‡ set office.

† Heb. founded.

* Maachah:

36 And his first-born son Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab.

37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam: and they also dwelt with their brethren at Jerusalem, over against their brethren.

39 * And Ner begat Kish, and Kish begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchishua, and Abinadab, and Esh-baal.

* Chap. 8. 33.

40 And the son of Jonathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begat Micah.

41 And the sons of Micah were, Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea, * and Ahaz.

* Chap. 8. 35.

42 And Ahaz begat [k] Jarah, and Jarah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza, [k] who was also called Jehoadah, Chap. 8. 36.

43 And Moza begat Binea; and Rephaiah his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son.

44 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Ismael, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan. These were the sons of Azel.

CHAP. X.

1 Sauls overthrow and death. 8 The Philistines triumph over Saul. 11 The kindness of Jabesh-gilead toward Saul and his sons. 13 Sauls sin: for which the kingdom was translated from him to David.

NOw * the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and fell down ‡ slain in mount Gilboa.

* 1 Sam. 31. 1.

2 And the Philistines followed hard after Saul, and after his sons, and the Philistines slew Jonathan, and ‡ Abinadab, and Malchishua, the sons of Saul.

‡ Or, Ishui. 1 Sam. 14. 49.

3 And the battel went sore against Saul, and the † archers † hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

† Heb. shooters with bows.

4 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come, and ‡ abuse me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was sore afraid. So Saul took a sword, and fell upon it.

‡ Or, mock me.

5 And when his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell likewise on the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and all his house died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw that they fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead; then they forsook their cities, and fled: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, that they found Saul and his sons fallen in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stripped him, they took his head, and his armour, and sent into the land of the Philistines round about, to carry tidings unto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they put his armour in the house of of their gods, and faſtned his head in the temple of [a] Dagon.

[a] which was the idol of the Philiſtines, and from the belly downward had the form of a fiſh, and upward of a man.

11 ¶ And when all Jabeſh-gilead heard all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul;

12 They aroſe, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his ſons, and brought them to Jabeſh, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven days.

13 ¶ So Saul died for his tranſgreſſion which he † committed againſt the LORD, * even againſt the word of the LORD which he kept not, and alſo for asking counſel of one that had a familiar ſpirit, * to enquire of it;

CHAP. XI.

1 David by a general conſent is made king at Hebron. 4 He winneth the caſtle of Zion from the Jebuſites, by Joabs valour. 10 A catalogue of Davids mighty men.

THen * all Iſrael [a] gathered themſelves to David unto Hebron, ſaying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh.

* 2 Sam. 5. 1.

[a] This was after the death of Iſh-boſheth Sauls ſon, when David had reigned over Judah ſeven years & ſix months in Hebron, 2 Sam. 5. 5.

2 And Moreover † in time paſt, even when Saul was king, thou waſt he that leddeſt out, and broughteſt in Iſrael: and the LORD thy God ſaid unto thee, Thou ſhalt ‡ feed my people Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be ruler over my people Iſrael.

† Heb. both yeſterday and the third day.

‡ Or, rule.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Iſrael to the king to Hebron, and David made a covenant with them in Hebron, before the LORD, and they anointed David king over Iſrael, according to the word of the LORD, † by * Samuel.

† Heb. by the hand of.

* 1 Sam. 16. 13.

* 2 Sam. 5. 6.

4 ¶ And David and all Iſrael * went to Jeruſalem which is Jebus, where the Jebuſites were, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus ſaid to David, Thou ſhalt not come hither. Nevertheleſs, David took the caſtle of Zion, which is the city of David.

6 And David ſaid, Whoſoever ſmiteth the Jebuſites firſt, ſhall be † chief and captain. So Joab the ſon of Zeruiah went firſt up, and was chief.

† Heb. head.

7 And David dwelt in the caſtle, therefore they called ‡ it, The city of David.

‡ That is, Zion, 2 Sam. 5. 7.

8 And he built the city round about, even from Millo round about: and Joab † repaired the reſt of the city.

† Heb. revived.

9 So David † waxed greater and greater: for the LORD of hoſts was with him.

† Heb. went in going and increaſing.

10 ¶ * Theſe alſo are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who ‡ ſtrengthned themſelves with him in his kingdom, and with all Iſrael to make him king according to the word of the LORD, concerning Iſrael.

* 2 Sam. 23. 8.

‡ Or, held ſtrongly with him.

11 And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had; Jaſhobeam ‡ an Hachmonite, the [b] chief of the captains: He lift up his ſpear againſt three hundred, ſlain by him at one time.

‡ Or, ſon of Hachmoni.

[b] Meaning, The moſt excellent & beſt eſteemed for his valiantneſs: Some read, The chief of the princes.

12 And after him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighties.

13 He was with David at ‡ Pas-dammim, and there the Philiſtines were gathered together to battel, where was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled from before the Philiſtines.

‡ Or, Ephes-dammim, 1 Sam. 17. 1.

14 And [c] they ‡ ſet themſelves in the midſt of that parcel, and delivered it, and ſlew the Philiſtines; and the LORD ſaved them by a great ‡ deliverance.

[c] This act is referred to Shammah, 2 Sam. 23. 11. which ſeemeth was the chiefeſt of theſe.

‡ Or, ſalvation.

15 ¶ Now ‡ three of the [d] thirty captains * went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam, and the hoſt of the Philiſtines encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

‡ Or, three captains over the thirty.

[d] That is, Eleazar and his two companions.

* 2 Sam. 23. 13.

16 And David was then in the hold, and the Philiſtines gariſon was then at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed and ſaid, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, that is at the gate!

18 And the three brake through the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the LORD,

19 And ſaid, My God forbid it me, that I ſhould do this thing: ſhall I drink the [e] bloud of theſe men † that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it: therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things did theſe three mightieſt.

20 ¶ And Abiſhai the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three: for lifting up his ſpear againſt three hundred, he ſlew them, and had a name among the three.

21 * Of the three, he was more honourable then the two, for he was their captain; howbeit, he attained not unto the firſt three.

* 2 Sam. 23. 19, &c.

22 Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, the ſon of a valiant man of Kabzeel, † who had done many acts, he ſlew two lion-like men of Moab; alſo he went down and ſlew a lion in a pit in a ſnowy day.

† Heb. great of deeds.

23 And he ſlew an Egyptian, † a man of great ſtature, five cubits high, and in the Egyptians hand was a ſpear like a weavers beam, and he went down to him with a ſtaff, and pluckt the ſpear out of the Egyptians hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

† Heb. a man of meaſure.

24 Theſe things did Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and had the name among the three mighties.

25 Behold, he was honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the [f] firſt three: and David ſet him over his guard.

[f] Meaning, thoſe three which brought the water to David.

1 David fetcheth the ark with great solemnity from Kirjath-jearim. 9 Uzza being smitten, the ark is left at the house of Obed-edom.

AND David consulted with the captains of thousands, and hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And David said unto all the congregation of Israel, If it seem good unto you, and that it

† Heb. bring about.
a His first care was to restore religion, which had in Sauls days been corrupted and neglected.

4 And all the congregation said, that they would do so: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5 So * David gathered all Israel together, from Shihor of Egypt, even unto the entring of Hemath, to bring the ark of God from

‡ That is, The breach of Uzza.

12 And David was afraid of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of God home to me?

7 And Elishama, and ‡ Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 ¶ And when the Philistines heard that * David was anointed king over all Israel, all the Philistines went up to seek David: and David heard of it, and went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 And David enquired of God, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD said unto him, Go up, for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim, and David smote them there. Then David said, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand, like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place, ‡ [e] Baal-perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burnt with fire.

13 And the Philistines yet again spread themselves abroad in the valley.

14 Therefore David enquired again of God; and God said unto him, Go not up after them, turn away from them, * and come upon them over against the mulberry-trees.

15 And it shall be, when thou shalt hear a sound of going in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then thou shalt go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

16 David therefore did as God commanded him: and they smote the host of the Philistines from Gibeon even to Gazer.

a That was in the place of the city called Zion, 2 Sam. 5. 7, 9.

AND David made him houses in the [a] city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David said, † None ought to carry the * ark of God, but the Levites: for them hath the LORD chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever.

* Num. 4. 2, 15.

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Jerusalem, to bring up the [b] ark of the LORD unto his place, which he had prepared for it.

d The third son of Kohath, Exod. 6. 18.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the priests, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Asaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab, 12 And said unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: [e] sanctify yourselves both ye & your brethren, that you may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel, unto the place that I have prepared for it.

e Prepare yourselves, and be pure, abstain from all things whereby ye might be polluted, and so not able to come to the tabernacle.

13 For because ye did it not at the first, the LORD our God made a breach upon us, for that we sought him not after the due [f] order.

f According as he hath appointed in the law.

14 So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel.

15 And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their shoulders, with the staves thereon, as * Moses commanded, according to the word of the LORD.

* Exod. 25. 14.

16 And David spake to the chief of the Levites, to appoint their brethren to be the singers with [g] instruments of musick, psalteries, and harps, and cymbals, sounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.

g These instruments and other ceremonies, they observed, were instructions of their infancy, which continued to the coming of Christ

17 So the Levites appointed * Heman the son of Joel: and of his brethren, * Asaph the son of Berechiah: and of the sons of Merari their brethren, * Ethan the son of Kushaiah.

* Chap. 6. 33.
* Chap. 6. 39.

18 And with them their brethren of the [h] second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaseiah, and Mattithiah, and Eliphaleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, the porters.

h which were inferiour in dignity.

19 So the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were appointed to sound with cymbals of brass;

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah, with psalteries on [i] Alamoth;

i This was an instrument of musick, or a certain tune whereunto they accustomed to sing psalms.

21 And Mattithiah, and Eliphaleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, & Azzaziah, with harps ‡ on the [k] Sheminith to excel.

‡ Or, on the eighth to oversee.
k which was the eighth tune, over the which he that was most excellent had charge.

l To wit, To appoint psalms, and songs to them that sung.
† Or, was for the carriage: he instructed about the carriage.

23 And Berechiah, and Elkanah were door-keepers for the ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Jehoshaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the priests, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and [m] Obed-edom, and Jehiah were door-keepers for the ark.

25 ¶ So

25 ¶ So * David and the elders of Iſrael, and the captains over thouſands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD, out of the houſe of Obed-edom with joy.

* 2 Sam. 6. 12, 13, &c.

26 And it came to paſs when God [n] helped the Levites that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, that they offered [o] ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams.

28 Thus all Iſrael brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with ſhouting, and with ſound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a noiſe with pſalteries and harps.

29 ¶ And it came to paſs as the ark of the [q] covenant of the LORD came to the city of David, that Michal the daughter of Saul looking out at a window, ſaw king David dancing and playing: and ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

q He eſteemeth this to be the chiefeſt felicity of man.

36 Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael for ever and ever: and all * the people ſaid, [r] Amen, and praiſed the LORD.

* Deut. 27. 15.

r He willeth all the people both in heart and mouth to conſent to theſe praiſes.

37 ¶ So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, Aſaph and his brethren, to miniſter before the ark continually, as every days work required:

38 And Obed-edom, with their brethren, threeſcore and eight: Obed-edom alſo the ſon of Jeduthun, and Hoſah to be porters:

39 And Zadok the prieſt and his brethren

the prieſts, before the tabernacle of the LORD, in the high place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD, upon the altar of the burnt-offering continually † morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the LORD, which he commanded Iſrael:

† Heb. in the morning, and in the evening.

41 And with [f] them Heman and Jeduthun, and the reſt that were choſen, who were expreſſed by name, to give thanks to the LORD, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever:

[f] with Zadok and the reſt of the prieſts.

42 And with them Heman and Jeduthun with trumpets and cymbals for thoſe that ſhould make a ſound, and with muſical inſtruments of God: and the ſons of Jeduthun were † porters.

† Heb. for the gate.

43 And all the people departed every man to his houſe: and David returned to [t] bleſs his houſe.

[t] Declaring that after our duty to God, we are chiefly bound to our own houſe, for the which, as for all other things, we ought to pray unto God, and inſtruct our families to praiſe his name.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Nathan firſt approving the purpoſe of David, to build God an houſe, 3 after by the word of God forbiddeth him. 11 He promiſeth him bleſſings and benefits in his ſeed. 16 Davids prayer and thanksgiving.

NOw * it came to paſs, as David ſat in his houſe, that David ſaid to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in an houſe of [a] cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD remaineth under [b] curtains.

* 2 Sam. 7. 1, &c.

[a] well built and fair.

[b] That is, In tents covered with ſkins.

2 Then Nathan ſaid unto David, [c] Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

[c] As yet God had not reveiled to the prophet, what he purpoſed concerning David: therefore ſeeing God favoured David, he ſpake what he thought.

3 ¶ And it came to paſs the [d] ſame night, that the word of God came to Nathan, ſaying, [d] After that Nathan had ſpoken to David.

4 Go and tell David my ſervant, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thou ſhalt not build me an houſe to dwell in.

5 For I have not dwelt in an houſe ſince the day that I brought up Iſrael, unto this day, but † have gone from [e] tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

† Heb. have been.
[e] That is, In a tent which removed to and fro.

6 Whereſoever I have [f] walked with all Iſrael, ſpake I a word to any of the judges of Iſrael, (whom I commanded to feed my people) ſaying, Why have ye not built me an houſe of cedars?

[e] Meaning, where ſoever his ark went, which was a ſign of his preſence.

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay unto my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I took thee from the ſheep-cote, even †from following the [g] ſheep, that thou ſhouldeſt be ruler over my people Iſrael:

† Heb from after.
[g] Of a ſhepherd of ſheep, I made thee a ſhepherd of men, ſo that thou cameſt not to this dignity through thine own merits, but by my pure grace.

8 And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou haſt walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Alſo I will ordain a place for my people Iſrael, and will [h] plant them, and they ſhall dwell in their place, and ſhall be moved no more; neither ſhall the children of wickedneſs waſte them any more: (as at the beginning,

[h] Make them ſure that they ſhall not remove.

10 And ſince that time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iſrael) moreover, I will ſubdue all thine enemies. Furthermore, I tell thee, that the LORD will [i] build thee an houſe.

[i] I will give thee great poſterity.

11 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, when thy days be expired, that thou muſt go to be with thy fathers, that I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſons, and I will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

12 He ſhall build me an houſe, and I will ſtabliſh his throne for [k] ever.

[k] That is, Unto the coming of Chriſt for then theſe figures ſhould ceaſe.

13 * I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſon, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before [l] thee.

* 2 Sam. 7. 14.
[l] which was Saul.

14 But I will ſettle him in mine houſe, and in my kingdom for ever, and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for evermore.

15 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David.

16 ¶ And David the king [m] came, and ſat before the LORD, and ſaid, Who am I, O LORD God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me [n] hitherto?

[m] He went into the tent where the ark was, ſhewing what we ought to do when we receive any benefits of the Lord.

17 And yet this was a ſmall thing in thine eyes, O God, for thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy ſervants houſe for a great while to come, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of [o] high degree, O LORD God.

[n] Meaning, To this kingly eſtate.

[o] Thou haſt promiſed a kingdom that ſhall continue to me and my poſterity, and that Chriſt ſhall proceed of me.

18 What can David ſpeak more to thee for the honour of thy ſervant? for thou knoweſt thy ſervant.

19 O LORD, for thy ſervants ſake, and according to thine [p] own heart haſt thou done all this greatneſs, in making known all theſe † great things.

[p] Freely, and according to the purpoſe of thy will without any deſerving.

20 O LORD, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people Iſrael, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatneſs and terribleneſs, by driving out nations from before thy people whom thou haſt redeemed out of Egypt?

22 For thy people Iſrael didſt thou make thine own people for ever, and thou LORD, becameſt their God.

23 Therefore now LORD, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant, and concerning his houſe, be eſtabliſhed for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

24 Let it even be eſtabliſhed, that thy name may be magnified for ever, ſaying, The LORD of hoſts is the God of [q] Iſrael, even a God to Iſrael: and let the houſe of David thy ſervant be eſtabliſhed before thee.

[q] That is, He ſheweth himſelf indeed to be their God, by delivering them from dangers, and preſerving them.

25 For thou, O my God, † [r] haſt told thy ſervant, that thou wilt build him an houſe: therefore thy ſervant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

† Heb. haſt reveiled the ear of thy ſervant.
[r] Thou haſt declared unto me by Nathan the prophet.

26 And now, LORD, (thou art [s] God, and haſt promiſed this goodneſs unto thy ſervant)

[s] And canſt not break promiſe.

27 Now therefore ‡ let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou bleſſeſt, O LORD, and it ſhall be bleſſed for ever.

‡ Or, it hath pleaſed thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 David subdueth the Philistines and the Moabites. 3 He smiteth Hadarezer and the Syrians. 9 Tou sendeth Hadoram with presents to bless David. 11 The presents and the spoil David dedicateth to God. 13 He putteth garisons in Edom. 14 Davids officers.

NOw after this, it came to pass, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and took [a] Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Philistines.

a which 2 Sam. 8. 1. is called the bridle of bondage, because it was a strong town, and kept the country round about in subjection.

2 And he smote Moab; and the Moabites became Davids servants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ And David smote ‡ Hadarezer king of Zobah unto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the river Euphrates.

‡ Or, Hadadezer, 1 Chron. 18. 3.

4 And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsmen, and twenty thousand foot-men: David also houghed all the chariot-horses, but reserved of them an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of † Damascus came to help Hadarezer king of Zobah, David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.

† Heb. Darmesek, and so elsewhere.

6 Then David put garisons in Syria-damascus, and the Syrians became Davids servants, and brought gifts. Thus the LORD [b] preserved David whithersoever he went.

b That is, In all things that he enterprised.

7 And David took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 Likewise from [c] Tibbath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought David very much brass, wherewith * Solomon made the brasen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brass.

c which, 2 Sam. 8. 8. are called Betah and Berothai.

* 1 King. 7. 23. 2 Chron. 4. 15.

9 ¶ Now when ‡ Tou king of Hamath heard how David had smitten all the host of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

‡ Or, Toi, 2 Sam. 8. 9.

10 He sent [d] Hadoram his son to king David, ‡ to enquire of his welfare, and † to congratulate him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, and smitten him, (for Hadarezer † had warred with Tou) and with him all manner of vessels of gold, and silver, and brass.

d Called also Joram, 2 Sam. 8. 10.

‡ Or, to salute.

† Heb. was the man of wars.

11 ¶ Them also king David dedicated unto the LORD, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations; from [e] Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

e Because the Edomites and the Syrians joyned their power together, it is said, 2 Sam. 8. 12. that the Ammites were spoiled.

12 Moreover, Abishai the son of Zeruiah slew of the Edomites in the valley of salt, [f] eighteen thousand.

f which is understood that Joab slew twelve thousand, as in the title of the 60 Psalm, and Abishai the rest.

13 ¶ And he put garisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became Davids servants. Thus the LORD preserved David whithersoever he went.

14 ¶ So David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgment and justice among all his people.

15 And Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the host, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud, ‡ recorder.

‡ Or, remembrancer.

‡ Called Ahimelech in 2 Sam. 8. 17.

16 And Zadok the son of Ahitub, and ‡ Abimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests, and ‡ Shavsha was scribe.

‡ Called Seraiah in 2 Sam. 8. 17. & Shisha, 1 King. 4. 3.

17 And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the [g] Cherethites, and the Pelethites: and the sons of David were chief † about the king.

g 2 Sam. 8. 18.

† Heb. at the hand of the king.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Davids messengers sent to comfort Hanun the son of Nahash, are villanously entreated. 6 The Ammonites strengthned by the Syrians, are overcome by Joab and Abishai. 16 Shophach making a new supply of the Syrians, is slain by David.

NOw * it came to pass after this, that Nahash the king of the children of Ammon died, and his son reigned in his stead.

* 2 Sam. 10. 1, &c.

2 And David said, I will shew kindness unto Hanun the son of Nahash, because his [a] father shewed kindness to me. And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father: so the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanun, to comfort him.

a Because Nahash received David and his company, when Saul persecuted him, he would now shew pleasure to his son for the same.

3 But the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, † Thinkest thou that David doth honour thy father that he hath sent comforters unto thee? are not his servants come unto thee for to [b] search, and to overthrow, and to spy out the land?

† Heb. In thine eyes doth David, &c.

b Thus the malicious ever interpret the purpose of the godly in the worst sense.

4 Wherefore Hanun took Davids servants, and [c] shaved them, and cut [d] off their garments in the midst hard by their buttocks, and sent them away.

c They shaved off the half of their beards, 2 Sam. 10. 4.

d To put them to shame and villany whereas the ambassadors ought to have been honoured: and because the Jews used to wear side garments and beards, they thus disfigured them, to make them odious to others.

5 Then there went certain, and told David how the men were served; and he sent to meet them (for the men were greatly ashamed) and the king said, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon saw that they had made themselves † odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire them chariots and horsmen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria-maachah, and out of [e] Zobah.

† Heb. to stink.

e which were five in all.

7 So they hired thirty and two thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people, who came and pitched before [f] Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to battel.

f which was a city of the tribe of Reuben beyond Jordan.

8 And when David heard of it, he sent Joab, and all the host of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battel in aray before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come, were by themselves in the field.

10 Now when Joab saw that † the battel was set against him, before and behind, he chose out of all the ‡ choice of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

† Heb. the face of the battel was.

‡ Or, young men.

11 And the rest of the people he delivered unto the hand of † Abishai his brother, and they set themselves in aray against the children of Ammon.

† Heb. Abshai.

12 And he said, If the Syrians be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave our ſelves valiantly for our [g] people, and for the cities of our God: and let the LORD do that which is good in his ſight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him, drew nigh before the Syrians, unto the battel; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, they likewiſe fled before Abiſhai his brother, and entred into the city. Then Joab came to Jeruſalem.

16 ¶ And when the Syrians ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they ſent meſſengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the [h] river: and ‡ Shophach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer, went before them.

17 And it was told David, and he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſed over Jordan, and came upon them, and ſet the battel in aray againſt them: ſo when David had put the battel in aray againſt the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Iſrael, and David ſlew of the Syrians [i] ſeven thouſand men, which fought in chariots, and fourty thouſand foot-men, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoſt.

19 And when the ſervants of Hadarezer ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they made peace with David, and became his ſervants: neither would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah is beſieged by Joab, ſpoiled by David, and the people thereof tortured. 4 Three giants are ſlain in three ſeveral overthrows of the Philiſtines.

AND * it came to paſs, that † after the year was expired, at the time that kings go out to battel, Joab led forth the power of the army, and waſted the country of the children of Ammon, and came and beſieged [a] Rabbah (but David tarried at Jeruſalem) and Joab ſmote Rabbah, and deſtroyed it.

2 And David * took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it † to weigh a [b] talent of gold, and there were precious ſtones in it, and it was ſet upon Davids head; and he brought alſo exceeding much ſpoil out of the city.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and cut them with ſaws and with harrows of iron, and with axes: even ſo dealt David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jeruſalem.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs after this, * that there ‡ † aroſe war at ‡ Gezer with the Philiſtines, at which time Sibbechai the Huſhathite, ſlew Sippai that was of the children of ‡ the giant, and they were ſubdued.

5 And there was war again with the Philiſtines, and Elhanan the ſon of ‡ Jair, ſlew [c] Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whoſe ſpear-ſtaff was like a weavers beam.

6 And yet again * there was war at Gath, where was † a man of great ſtature, whoſe fingers and toes were four and twenty, ſix on each hand, and ſix on each foot: and he alſo was † the ſon of the giant.

7 But when he ‡ defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſon of ‡ Shimea, Davids brother, ſlew him.

8 Theſe were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David tempted by Satan, forceth Joab to number the people. 5 The number of the people being brought, David repenteth of it. 9 David having three plagues propounded by Gad, chooſeth the peſtilence. 14 After the death of ſeventy thouſand, David by repentance preventeth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem. 18 David, by Gads direction, purchaſeth Ornans threshing-floor: where having built an altar, God giveth a ſign of his favour by fire, and ſtayeth the plague. 28 David ſacrificeth there, being reſtrained from Gibeon by fear of the angel.

AND * [a] Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael.

2 And David ſaid to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Iſrael from [b] Beerſheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab anſwered, The LORD make his people an hundred times ſo many mo as they be: but my lord the king, are they not all my lords ſervants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cauſe of [c] treſpaſs to Iſrael?

4 Nevertheleſs, the kings word prevailed againſt Joab: wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Iſrael, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ And Joab gave the ſum of the number of the people unto David. And all they of Iſrael were a thouſand thouſand and an [d] hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: and Judah was [e] four hundred threeſcore and ten thouſand men that drew ſword.

6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Joab.

7 † And God was diſpleaſed with this thing, therefore he ſmote Iſrael.

8 And David ſaid unto God, * I have ſinned greatly, becauſe I have done this thing: but now, I beſeech thee, do away the iniquity of thy ſervant, for I have done very fooliſhly.

9 ¶ And the LORD ſpake unto Gad, Davids ſeer, ſaying,

10 Go and tell David, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, I † offer thee three things, chooſe thee one of them that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Gad came to David, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, † Chooſe thee

12 Either three years famine, or three months to be deſtroyed before thy foes, (while that the ſword of thine enemies overtaketh thee) or elſe three days the ſword of the LORD, even the peſtilence in the land, and the angel of the LORD deſtroying throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael: now therefore adviſe thy ſelf, what word I ſhall bring again to him that ſent me.

[c] It was a thing indifferent and uſual to number the people, but becauſe he did it of an ambitious mind, as though his ſtrength ſtood in his people, God punished him.

[d] Joab partly for grief, and partly through negligence gathered not the whole ſum, as it is here declared.

14 ¶ So the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel: and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 And God sent an * angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and [f] as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and he [g] repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshing-floor of ‡ Ornan the Jebusite.

‡ Or, Araunah, 2 Sam. 24. 18.

16 And David lift up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem: then David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David said unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbred? even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but as for these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, be on me, and on my fathers house, but not on [h] thy people, that they should be plagued.

h Thus he both sheweth a true repentance, and a tender care toward his people, which desireth God to spare them and to punish him and his.

18 ¶ Then the * angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up and set up an altar unto the LORD, in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

* 2 Chron. 3. 1.

19 And David went up at the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the LORD.

20 ‡ And Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons with him [i] hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat.

‡ Or, When Ornan turned back, and saw the angel, then he and his four sons with him hid themselves.

i Is a man hide himself at the sight of an angel which is a creature, how much more is a sinner vile to appear before the face of God.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshing-floor, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David said to Ornan, † Grant me the place of this threshing-floor, that I may build an [k] altar therein unto the LORD: thou shalt grant it me for the full price, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

† Heb. Give.

k Thus he did by the commandment of God, as ver. 18, for else it had been abominable, except he had either Gods word, or revelation.

23 And Ornan said unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen also for burnt-offerings, and the threshing-instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat-offering, I give it all.

l That is, As much as it is worth: for having enough of his own, and yet to have taken of another mans goods to offer unto the Lord, it had been theft, and not acceptable to God.

24 And king David said to Ornan, Nay, but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt-offerings without [l] cost.

m 2 Sam. 24. 24.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place, [m] six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

n God declared that he heard his request, in that he sent down fire from heaven, for else they might use no fire in sacrifice, but of that which was reserved still upon the altar, Levit. 6. 13. and came down from heaven, Levit. 9. 24, as appeared by the punishment of Nadab and Abihu. Levit. 10. 1.

26 And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and called upon the LORD, and he [n] answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offering.

27 And the LORD commanded the angel, and he put up his sword again into the sheath thereof.

28 ¶ At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

a That is, The place wherein he will be worshipped

2 And David commanded to gather together the [b] strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew wrought stones to build the house of God.

b Meaning, Cunning men of other nations, which dwelt among the Jews.

3 And David prepared iron in [c] abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the joynings; and brass in abundance without weight;

c To wit, which weighed fifty shekels of gold, 2 Chron. 3. 9.

4 Also cedar-trees in abundance: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyre, brought much cedar-wood to David.

5 And David said, * Solomon my son is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the LORD, must be exceeding magnifical, of fame and of glory throughout all countrys: I will therefore now make preparation for it. So David prepared abundantly before his death.

6 ¶ Then he called for Solomon his son, and charged him to build an house for the LORD God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon, My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build an house unto the name of the LORD my God:

2 And David said to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Israel from [b] Beersheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab answered, The LORD make his people an hundred times so many mo as they be: but my lord the king, are they not all my lords servants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cause of [c] trespass to Israel?

c It was a thing indifferent and usual to number the people, but because he did it of an ambitious mind, as though his strength stood in his people, God punished him.

4 Nevertheless, the kings word prevailed against Joab: wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Israel, and came to Jerusalem.

5 ¶ And Joab gave the sum of the number of the people unto David. And all they of Israel were a thousand thousand and an [d] hundred thousand men that drew sword: and Judah was [e] four hundred threescore and ten thousand men that drew sword.

h Thus he both sheweth a true repentance, and a intirely care toward his people, which desireth God to spare them and to punish him and his.

346 heed to fulfil the ſtatutes and judgments which the LORD charged Moſes with, concerning Iſrael: be ſtrong, and of good courage, dread not, nor be diſmayed.

‡ Or, in my perverty. § For David was poor in reſpect of Solomon.

14 Now behold, ‡ § in my trouble I have prepared for the houſe of the LORD an hundred thouſand talents of gold, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſilver; and of braſs, and iron, without * weight (for it is in abundance) timber alſo and ſtone have I prepared, and thou mayſt add thereto.

* As ver. 3.

‡ That is, maſons and carpenters.

15 Moreover, there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers, and ‡ workers of ſtone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work.

16 Of the gold, the ſilver, and the braſs, and the iron, there is no number. [h] Ariſe therefore, and be doing, and the LORD be with thee.

h That is, Go about it quickly.

17 ¶ David alſo commanded all the princes of Iſrael to help Solomon his ſon, ſaying, 18 Is not the LORD your God with you? and hath he not given you reſt on every ſide? for he hath given the [i] inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is ſubdued before the LORD, and before his people.

i The nations round about.

19 Now [k] ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the LORD your God, ariſe therefore, and build ye the ſanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy veſſels of God, into the houſe that is to be built to the name of the LORD.

k For els he knew that God would plague them, and not proſper their labours, except they ſought with all their hearts to ſet forth his glory.

1 David in his old age maketh Solomon king. 2 The number and diſtribution of the Levites. 7 The families of the Gershonites. 12 The ſons of Kohath. 21 The ſons of Merari. 24 The office of the Levites.

SO when David was old and full of days, he made * Solomon his ſon king over Iſrael.

* Chap. 28. 5.

2 ¶ And he gathered together all the princes of Iſrael, with the prieſts and the Levites.

3 Now the Levites were numbred from the age of * thirty years and upward: and their number by their polls, man by man, was thirty and eight thouſand.

* Num. 4. 3.

4 Of which, twenty and four thouſand were ‡ to ſet forward the work of the houſe of the LORD: and ſix thouſand were officers and judges.

‡ Or, to overſee.

5 Moreover, four thouſand were porters, and four thouſand praiſed the LORD with the inſtruments which I made (ſaid David) to praiſe therewith.

6 And * David divided them into † courſes among the ſons of Levi, namely, Gerſhon, Kohath, and Merari.

* Exod. 6. 16. Chap. 6. 1, &c. 2 Chron. 8. 14. & 29. 25. † Heb. diviſions.

7 ¶ Of the * Gerſhonites were ‡ Laadan and Shimei.

* Chap. 26. 21. ‡ Or, Libni. Chap. 6. 17.

8 The ſons of Laadan, the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham, and Joel, three.

9 The ſons of Shimei; Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haran, three. Theſe were the chief of the fathers of Laadan.

10 And the ſons of Shimei were, Jahath, ‡ Zina, and Jeuſh, and Beriah. Theſe four were the ſons of Shimei.

‡ Or, Zizа, ver. 11.

11 And Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the ſecond: but Jeuſh and Beriah † had not many ſons: therefore they were in one reckoning, according to their fathers houſe.

† Heb. did not multiply ſons.

12 ¶ The ſons of Kohath; Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four.

13 The ſons of * Amram; Aaron and Moſes: and * Aaron was ſeparated, that he ſhould [a] ſanctify the moſt holy things, he and his ſons for ever, to burn incenſe before the LORD, to miniſter unto him, and to bleſs in his name for ever.

* Exod. 6. 20.

* Exod. 28. 1. Heb. 5. 4.

a That is, To ſerve in the moſt holy place, and to conſecrate the holy things.

14 Now concerning Moſes the man of God, his ſons were named of the [b] tribe of Levi.

b They were but of the order of the Levites, and not of the prieſts, as Aarons ſons.

15 * The ſons of Moſes were, Gerſhom and Eliezer.

* Exod. 2. 22. & 18. 3, 4.

16 Of the ſons of Gerſhom, Shebuel was the chief.

17 And the ſons of Eliezer were, * Rehabiah ‡ the [c] chief. And Eliezer had none other ſons; but the ſons of Rehabiah † were very many.

* Chap. 26. 25. ‡ Or, the firſt.

c The ſcripture uſeth to call chief, or the firſt-born, although he be alone, and there be none born after, Mat. 1. 25. † Heb. were highly multiplied.

18 Of the ſons of Izhar, Shelomith the chief.

19 Of the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth.

20 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Micah the firſt, and Ieſiah the ſecond.

21 ¶ The ſons of Merari; Mahli, and Muſhi: the ſons of Mahli; Eleazar, and Kiſh:

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſons, but daughters: and their [d] brethren the ſons of Kiſh took them.

d Heb. Their couſins.

23 The ſons of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Ieremoth, three.

24 ¶ Theſe were the ſons of * Levi after the houſe of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, from the age of * [e] twenty years and upward.

* Num. 18. 17, 21.

* Num. 1. 3.

e David did chuſe the Levites twice, firſt, at the age of thirty, as ver. 3. and again afterward at 20, as the neceſſity of the office did require: at the beginning they had no charge in the temple before they were five and twenty years old, and had none after fifty, Num. 1. 3.

25 For David ſaid, The LORD God of Iſrael hath given reſt unto his people, ‡ that they may dwell in Ieruſalem for ever;

‡ Or, and he dwelleth in Jeruſalem, &c.

26 And alſo unto the Levites: they ſhall no more carry the tabernacle, nor any veſſels of it for the ſervice thereof.

27 For by the laſt words of David, the Levites were † numbred from twenty years old and above:

28 Becauſe † their office was to wait on the ſons of Aaron, for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, in the courts, and in the chambers, and in the [f] purifying of all holy things, and the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God;

† Heb. their ſtation was at the hand of the ſons of Aaron.

* Levit. 6. 20. Chap. 9. 29, &c.

‡ Or, flat plate.

30 And to ſtand every morning to thank and praiſe the LORD, and likewiſe at even:

31 And to offer all burnt-ſacrifices unto the LORD in the ſabbaths, in the new-moons, and on the ſet feaſts, by number, according to the order order commanded unto them continually before the LORD:

32 And that they ſhould keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the ſons of Aaron their brethren, in the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 The diviſions of the ſons of Aaron by lot into four and twenty orders. 20 The Kohathites, 27 and the Merarites divided by lot.

NOw theſe are the diviſions of the ſons of Aaron: * The ſons of Aaron; Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

* Lev. 10. 1, 6.

2 But * Nadab and Abihu [a] died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the prieſts office.

* Num. 3. 4. & 26. 61.
[a] whiles their father yet lived.

3 And David diſtributed them, both Zadok of the ſons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ſervice.

4 And there were mo chief men found of the ſons of Eleazar, then of the ſons of Ithamar; and thus were they divided: Among the ſons of Eleazar there were ſixteen chief men of the houſe of their fathers, and eight among the ſons of Ithamar according to the houſe of their fathers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, one ſort with another; for the governours of the ſanctuary, and governours of the houſe of God, were of the ſons of Eleazar, and of the ſons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the ſon of Nethanael the ſcribe, one of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſon of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites: one † principal houſhold being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

† Heb. houſe of the father.

7 Now the firſt [b] lot came forth to Jehoiarib, the ſecond to Jedaiah, [b] This lot was ordained to take away all occaſion of envy or grudging of one againſt another.

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchijah, the ſixth to Mijamin,

10 The ſeventh to Hakkoz, the eight to [c] Abijah,

[c] Zachary the father of John Baptiſt was of this courſe, or lot of Abia, Luk. 1. 5.

11 The ninth to Jeſhuah, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliaſhib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeſhebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the ſixteenth to Immer,

15 The ſeventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Aphſes,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Jachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul, 18 The three and twentieth to Delaiah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

19 Theſe were the orderings of them in their ſervice to come into the houſe of the LORD, according to their manner, under [d] Aaron their father, as the LORD God of Iſrael had commanded him.

[d] By the dignity that God gave to Aaron.

20 ¶ And the reſt of the ſons of Levi were theſe: Of the ſons of Amram; Shubael: of the ſons of Shubael; Jehdeiah.

21 Concerning Rehabiah: of the ſons of Rehabiah, the firſt was Iſhiah.

22 Of the Izharites; Shelomoth: of the ſons of Shelomoth; Jahath.

23 And the ſon of * Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Iahaziel the third, Iekameam the fourth.

* Chap. 23. 19. & 26. 31.

24 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Michah: of the ſons of Michah; Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah was Iſhiah: of the ſons of Iſhiah; Zechariah.

26 The ſons of Merari were, Mahli and Muſhi: the ſons of Iaaziah; Beno.

27 ¶ The ſons of Merari by Iaaziah; Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, who had no ſons.

29 Concerning Kiſh: the ſon of Kiſh was Ierahmeel.

30 The ſons alſo of [e] Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Ieremoth. Theſe were the ſons of the Levites, after the houſe of their fathers.

[e] which was the ſecond ſon of Merari.

31 Theſe likewiſe caſt [f] lots over againſt their brethren the ſons of Aaron, in the preſence of David the king, and Zadok and Ahimelech, and the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites, even the principal fathers over againſt their younger brethren.

[f] That is, Every one had that dignity, which fell unto him by lot.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The number and offices of the ſingers. 8 Their diviſion by lot, into four and twenty orders.

MOreover, David and the captains of the hoſt [a] ſeparated to the ſervice of the ſons of Aſaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who ſhould propheſie with harps, with pſalteries, and with cymbals: and the number of the workmen, according to their ſervice, was:

[a] Theſe ſingers were divided into 24 courſes, ſo that every courſe or order contained twelve, and in all there were 288, as ver. 7.

2 Of the ſons of Aſaph; Zaccur, and Joſeph, and Nethaniah, and ‡ Aſarelah, the ſons of Aſaph under the hands of Aſaph, which propheſied † according to the order of the king.

‡ Otherwiſe called Iſſhiarelah, ver. 14.
† Heb. by the hands of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun: the ſons of Jeduthun; Gedaliah, and ‡ Zeri, and Jeſhaiah, Haſhabiah, and Mattithiah, ‡ [b] ſix, under the hands of their father Jeduthun, who [c] propheſied with a harp, to give thanks and to praiſe the LORD.

‡ Or, Izri. ver. 11.
‡ with Shimei mentioned, ver. 17.

7 So the number of them, with their brethren that were instructed in the songs of the LORD, even all that were cunning, was two hundred fourscore and eight.

8 ¶ And they cast lots, [d] ward against ward, as well the [e] small as the great, the teacher as the scholar.

9 Now the first lot came forth for Asaph to [f] Joseph, the second to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and sons were twelve:

10 The third to Zaccur, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

11 The fourth to Izri, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

12 The fifth to Nethaniah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

13 The sixth to Bukkiah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

14 The seventh to Jesharelah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

15 The eighth to Jeshaiah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

16 The ninth to Mattaniah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

17 The tenth to Shimei, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

18 The eleventh to Azareel, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

19 The twelfth to Hashabiah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

20 The thirteenth to Shubael, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

21 The fourteenth to Mattithiah, he, his sons and his brethren were twelve:

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The division of the porters. 13 The gates assigned by lot. 20 The Levites that had charge of the treasures. 29 Officers and judges.

CONcerning the divisions of the porters: of the Korhites was ‡ Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of ‡ [a] Asaph.

2 And the sons of Meshelemiah were, Zechariah the first-born, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

‡ Or, Shelemiah. ver. 14.
† Heb. Ebiasaph, Chap. 6. 37. & 9. 19.
a This Asaph was not the notable musician, but another of that name, called also Ebiasaph, Chap. 6. 33. 37. & 9. 19. and also Jasaph.

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Elioenai the seventh.

4 Moreover, the sons of Obed-edom were, Shemaiah the first-born, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God [b] blessed ‡ him.

6 Also unto Shemaiah his son were sons born, that [c] ruled throughout the house of their father: for they were mighty men of valour.

7 The sons of Shemaiah; Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, whose brethren were strong men; Elihu and Semachiah.

8 All these of the sons of Obed-edom: they and their sons and their brethren, able men for [d] strength for the service, were threescore and two of Obed-edom.

9 And Meshelemiah had sons and brethren, strong men, eighteen.

10 Also Hosah of the children of Merari, had sons; Simri the chief, (for though he was not the first-born, yet his father made him the chief)

11 Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the sons and brethren of Hosah were thirteen.

12 Among these were the divisions of the porters, even among the chief men, having wards one [e] against another, to minister in the house of the LORD.

13 And they cast lots ‡ as well the small as the great, according to the house of their fathers for every gate.

14 And the lot east-ward fell to ‡ Shelemiah; then for Zechariah his son ([f] a wise counseller) they cast lots, and his lot came out north-ward.

15 To Obed-edom south-ward, and to his sons, the house of † [g] Asuppim.

16 To Shuppim and Hosah, the lot came forth west-ward, with the gate [h] Shallecheth, by the causey of the going ‡ up, ward against ward.

17 East-ward were six Levites, north-ward four a day, south-ward four a day, and toward Asuppim [i] two and two.

18 At [k] Parbar west-ward, four at the causey, and two at Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters among the sons of Kore, and among the sons of Merari.

20 And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the † dedicate things.

21 As concerning the sons of ‡ Laadan: the sons of the Gershonite Laadan, chief fathers, even of Laadan the Gershonite were, ‡ Jehieli.

22 The sons of Iehieli; Zetham, and Ioel his brother, which were over the treasures of the house of the LORD.

23 Of the [l] Amramites, and the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites:

27 † Out of the ſpoils won in battels, did they dedicate to maintain the houſe of the LORD.

28 And all that Samuel the ſeer, and Saul the ſon of Kiſh, and Abner the ſon of Ner, and Joab the ſon of Zeruiah had dedicated, and whoſoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shelomith, and of his brethren.

29 ¶ Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his ſons were for the [n] outward buſineſs over Iſrael, for officers and judges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Haſhabiah and his brethren, men of valour, a thouſand and ſeven hundred, were † officers among them of Iſrael on this ſide Jordan weſt-ward, in all buſineſs of the LORD, and in the ſervice of the [o] king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jerijah the chief, even among the Hebronites, according to the generations of his fathers. In the fourtieth year of the reign of David, they were ſought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valour, at Jazer of Gilead.

32 And his [p] brethren, men of valour, were two thouſand and ſeven hundred chief fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, for every matter pertaining to [q] God, and † affairs of the king.

1 David by his example and intreaty 6 cauſeth the princes and people to offer willingly. 10 Davids thankſgiving and prayer. 20 The people having bleſſed God, and ſacrificed, make Solomon king. 26 Davids reign and death.

FUrthermore, David the king ſaid unto all the congregation, Solomon my ſon, whom alone God hath choſen, is yet * young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the [a] LORD God

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the houſe of my God, the gold for things to be made of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and the braſs for things of braſs, the iron for things of iron, & wood for things of wood; onyx-ſtones, & ſtones to be ſet, gliſtring ſtones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious ſtones, and marble-ſtones in abundance.

3 Moreover, becauſe I have ſet my [b] affection to the houſe of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and ſilver, which I have given to the houſe of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy houſe,

4 Even [c] three thouſand talents of gold, of the gold of * Ophir, and ſeven thouſand talents of refined ſilver, to overlay the walls of the houſe withal:

5 The gold for things of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. And who then is [d] willing † to conſecrate his ſervice this day unto the LORD?

6 ¶ Then the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Iſrael, and the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, with the rulers over the kings work, offered willingly,

7 And gave for the ſervice of the houſe of God, of gold, five thouſand talents, and ten thouſand drams; and of ſilver, ten thouſand talents; and of braſs, eighteen thouſand talents; and one hundred thouſand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious ſtones were [e] found, gave them to the treaſure of the houſe of the LORD, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerſhonite.

9 Then the people rejoyced, for that they offered willingly, becauſe with [f] perfect heart they offered willingly to the LORD: and David the king alſo rejoyced with great joy.

10 ¶ Wherefore David bleſſed the LORD before all the congregation: and David ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, LORD God of [g] Iſrael our father, for ever and ever.

21 And they ſacrificed ſacrifices unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings unto the LORD on the morrow after that day, even a thouſand bullocks, a thouſand rams, and a thouſand lambs, with their [m] drink-offerings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael:

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis ſecond book containeth briefly in effect, That which is comprehended in the two books of the kings: that is, From the reign of Solomon to the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the carrying away of the people captive into Babylon. In this ſtory are certain things declared and ſet forth more copiouſly then in the books of the kings, and therefore ſerve greatly to the underſtanding of the prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be conſidered. Firſt, That the godly kings, when they ſaw the plagues of God prepared againſt their country for ſin, had recourſe to the Lord; and by earneſt prayer were heard, and the plagues removed. The ſecond, How it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that ſuch as fear him and profeſs his religion, ſhould joyn in amity with the wicked. And thirdly, How the good rulers ever loved the prophets of God, and were very zealous to ſet forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwiſe the wicked hated his miniſters, depoſed them, and for the true religion and word of God, ſet up idolatry, and ſerved God according to the fantaſie of men. Thus have we hitherto the chief acts from the beginning of the world to the building again of Jeruſalem, which was the two and thirtieth year of Darius, and contain in the whole, three thouſand five hundred threeſcore and eighteen years and ſix months.

CHAP. I.

1 The ſolemn offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 7 Solomons choice of wiſdom is bleſſed by God. 13 Solomons ſtrength and wealth.

* 1 King. 2.46.

AND * Solomon the ſon of David was ſtrengthned in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

a That is, He proclaimed a ſolemn ſacrifice, and commanded that all ſhould be at the ſame.

2 Then Solomon a ſpake unto all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governour in all Iſrael, the chief of the fathers.

3 So Solomon and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at b * Gibeon, for there was the tabernacle of the c congregation of God, which Moſes the ſervant of the LORD had made in the wilderneſs.

b 1 King. 3.4. * 1 Chron. 16.39. c So called, Becauſe that God thereby ſhewed certain ſigns to the congregation of his preſence, 2 Sam. 6.2, 17.

4 * But the ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath-jearim, to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jeruſalem.

5 Moreover, * d the braſen altar that Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, had made, ‡ he put before the tabernacle of the LORD: and Solomon and the congregation ſought ° unto it.

* Exod. 38.1. d which was for the burnt-offerings, Exod. 27.1. ‡ Or, was there.

6 And Solomon went up thither to the braſen altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thouſand burnt-offerings upon it.

7 ¶ In that night did God appear unto Solomon, and ſaid unto him, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid unto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercy unto David my father, and haſt made me * to reign in his ſtead.

* 1 Chron. 28.5.

9 Now, O LORD God, let thy promiſe unto David my father be e eſtabliſhed: * for thou haſt made me king over a people, † like the duſt of the earth in multitude.

e Perform thy promiſe made to my father concerning me. * 1 King. 3.7. † Heb much as the duſt of the earth.

10 * Give

10 * Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may *[f] go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people, that is so great?

11 And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the [g] life of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life; but hast asked wisdom and knowledge for thy self, that thou mayest judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted unto thee, and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and honour, such as * none of the kings have had, that have been before thee, neither shall there any after thee have the like.

13 ¶ Then Solomon came from his journy to the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jerusalem, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Israel.

14 * And Solomon gathered chariots and hors-men: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsmen, which he placed in the [h] chariot-cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

15 * And the king † made silver and gold at Jerusalem as plenteous as [i] stones, and cedar-trees made he as the sycomore-trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And † Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and linen yarn: the kings [k] merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetcht up, and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for six hundred shekels of silver, and an horse for an hundred and fifty: and so brought they out horses for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, † by their means.

CHAP. II.

1,17 Solomons labourers for the building of the temple. 3 His embassage to Huram for workmen and provision of stuff. 11 Huram sendeth him a kind answer.

AND Solomon determined to build an house for the name of the LORD, and an house for his kingdom.

2 And Solomon told out threescore and ten thousand men to bear burdens, and fourscore thousand to hew in the mountain, and three thousand and [a] six hundred to oversee them.

3 ¶ And Solomon sent to ‡ Huram the king of Tyre, saying, As thou didst deal with David my father, and didst send him cedars to build him an house to dwell therein, even so deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an house to the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him † sweet incense, and for the continual shew-bread, and for the burnt-offerings morning and evening, on the sabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the solemn feasts of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Israel.

5 And the house which I build is great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 * But who † is able to build him an house, seeing the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain him? who am I then that I should build him an house, save only to [b] burn sacrifice before him?

7 Send me now therefore a man, cunning to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in purple, and crimson, and blue, and that can skill † to grave with the cunning men that are with me in Judah and in Jerulem, whom David my father did provide.

8 Send me also cedar-trees, fir-trees, and ‡ [c] algum-trees out of Lebanon: (for I know that thy servants can skill to cut timber in Lebanon) and behold, my servants shall be with thy servants,

9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I am about to build, shall be † wonderful great.

10 And behold, I will give to thy servants, the hewers that cut timber, twenty thousand measures of beaten wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty [d] thousand baths of oyl.

11 ¶ Then Huram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which he sent to Solomon, Because the LORD hath loved his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram said moreover, Blessed be the LORD God of Israel that made heaven and earth, who hath given to David the king a [e] wise son, † endued with prudence and understanding, that might build an house for the LORD, and an house for his kingdom.

13 And now I have sent a cunning man (endued with understanding) of Huram my fathers;

14 The son of a woman of the [f] daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, skilful to work in gold and in silver, in brass, in iron, in stone and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimson: also to grave any manner of graving, and to find out every device which shall be put to him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat, and the barley, the oyl, and the wine which my lord hath spoken of, let him send unto his servants:

16 And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, † as much as thou shalt need, and we will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to † Joppa, and thou shalt carry it up to Jerusalem.

17 ¶ * And Solomon numbred all † the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring wherewith David his father had numbred them; and they were found an hundred and fifty thousand and three thousand and six hundred.

18 And he set * threescore and ten thousand of them to be bearers of burdens, and fourscore thousand to be hewers in the mountain, and three thousand and six hundred overseers to set the people a work.

* 1 Chron. 21. 18.
‡ Or, Araunah. 2 Sam. 24. 18.

2 And he began to build in the second day of the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 ¶ Now these are the things * wherein Solomon was † instructed for the building of the house of God. The length by cubits after the first [b] measure, was threescore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

* 1 King. 6. 2.
† Heb. founded.
b According to the whole length of the temple comprehending the most holy place with the rest.

4 And the * porch that was in the front of the house, the length of it was according to the [c] breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the height was an [d] hundred and twenty: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

* 1 King. 6. 3.
c It contained as much as did the breadth of the temple, 1 King. 6. 3. d From the foundation to the top: for in the book of the kings, mention is made from the foundation to the first stage.

5 And the greater house he cieled with fir-tree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and and set thereon palm-trees and chains.

6 And he † garnished the house with precious stones for beauty: and the gold was gold of [e] Parvaim.

e Some think it is that place which is called Peru.

7 He overlaid also the house, the beams, the posts, and the walls thereof, and the doors thereof with gold, and graved cherubims on the walls.

8 And he made the most holy house, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold amounting to six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold: and he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

10 And in the most holy house he made two cherubims ‡ of image-work, and overlaid them with gold.

‡ Or, (as some think) of moveable work.

11 ¶ And the wings of the cherubims were twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house: & the other wing was likewise five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of these cherubims spread themselves forth twenty cubits: & they stood on their feet, and their faces were ‡ inward.

14 ¶ And he made the * [f] vail of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and † wrought cherubims thereon.

15 Also he made before the house * two pillars of [g] thirty and five cubits † high, and the chapiter that was on the top of each of them was five cubits.

16 And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an [h] hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

h For every pillar an hundred, Read, 1 King. 7. 20.

17 And he * reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand, ‡ Jachin, and the name of that on the left, ‡ Boaz.

CHAP. IV.

1 The altar of brass. 2 The molten sea upon twelve oxen. 6 The ten lavers, candlesticks, and tables. 9 The courts, and the instruments of brass. 19 The instruments of gold.

MOreover, he made an altar of brass, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

2 ¶ * Also he made a molten [a] sea of ten cubits, † from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubits the height thereof, and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about.

* 1 King. 7. 23.
a A great vessel of brass, so called, because of the great quantity of water, which it contained.

3 * And [b] under it was the similitude of oxen, which did compass it round about: [c] ten in a cubit compassing the sea round about. Two rows of oxen were cast, when it was cast.

* 1 King. 7. 24.
b Meaning, Under the brim of the vessel, as 1 King. 7. 24.
c In the length of every cubit were ten heads or knops, which in all are 300.

4 It stood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickness of it was an hand-breadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, ‡ with flowers of lilies; and it received and held [d] three thousand baths.

‡ Or, like a lily, flower.
d In the first book of Kings, Chap. 7. 26, mention is only made of two thousand: but the less number was taken there, and here according as the measures proved afterward is declared.

6 ¶ He made also ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them: † such things as they offered for the burnt-offering, they washed in them; but the sea was for the priests to wash in.

† Heb. the work of burnt-offering.

7 And he made ten candlesticks of gold according to their [e] form, and set them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

e Even as they should be made.

8 He made also ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side, and five on the left: and he made an hundred ‡ basons of gold.

‡ Or, bowls.

9 ¶ Furthermore, he made the court of the priests, and the great [f] court, and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with brass.

f Called also the porch of Solomon, Acts 3. 11. It is also taken for the temple where Christ preached, Mat. 21. 23.

10 And he set the sea on the right side of the east-end, over against the south.

11 And Huram made the pots, and the shovels, and the ‡ basons, and Huram † finished the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the house of God:

the chapiters, which were † upon the pillars.

14 He made alſo baſes; and ‡ lavers made he upon the baſes;

15 One ſea, and twelve oxen under it:

16 The pots alſo and the ſhovels, and the fleſh-hooks, & all their inſtruments, did [g] Huram his father make to king Solomon for the houſe of the LORD, of † bright braſs.

17 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them, in the † clay-ground, between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 Thus Solomon made all theſe veſſels in great abundance: for the weight of the braſs could not be found out.

19 ¶ And Solomon made all the veſſels that were for the houſe of God, the golden altar alſo, and the tables whereon the [h] ſhew-bread was ſet;

20 Moreover, the candleſticks with their lamps, that they ſhould burn after the manner, before the oracle, of pure gold:

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs made he of gold, and that † perfect gold.

22 And the ſnuffers, and the ‡ baſons, and the ſpoons, and the cenſers, of pure gold: and the entry of the houſe, the inner doors thereof for the moſt holy place, and the doors of the houſe of the temple, were of gold.

CHAP. V.

1 The dedicated treaſures. 2 The ſolemn induction of the ark into the oracle. 11 God being praiſed, giveth a viſible ſign of his favour.

THus all the work that Solomon made for the houſe of the LORD, was finiſhed: * and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated; and the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God.

* 1 King. 7. 51.

2 ¶ * Then Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Iſrael unto Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD, out of the [a] city of David, which is Zion.

* 1 King. 8. 2, &c.
[a] 2 Sam. 6. 12.

3 Wherefore all the men of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves unto the king in the [b] feaſt, which was in the ſeventh [c] month.

[b] when the things were dedicated, and brought into the temple.
[c] Called in Hebrew Ethanim, containing part of October, 1 King. 8. 2. which month the Jews called the firſt month, becauſe they ſay, that the world was created in that month, and after they came from Egypt, they began at March: but becauſe this opinion is uncertain, we make March ever the firſt, as beſt writers do.

4 And all the elders of Iſrael came, and the Levites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the tabernacle, theſe did the prieſts and the Levites bring up.

6 Alſo king Solomon and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled unto him before the ark, ſacrificed ſheep and oxen, which could not be told nor numbred for multitude.

7 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto his place, to the oracle of the houſe into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

8 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the ſtaves thereof, above.

9 And they drew out the ſtaves of the ark, that the ends of the ſtaves were ſeen from the ark before the oracle, but they were not ſeen without. And ‡ there it is unto this day.

‡ Or, they are there, as 1 King. 8. 8.

10 There was nothing in the ark [d] ſave the two tables which Moſes * put therein at Horeb, ‡ when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when they came out of Egypt.

[d] For Aarons rod and Manna were taken thence before it was brought to this place.
* Deut. 10. 2, 5.
‡ Or, where.

[e] were prepared to ſerve the Lord.

12 * Alſo the Levites which were the ſingers, all of them of Aſaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their ſons, and their brethren; being arayed in white linen, having cymbals, and pſalteries, and harps, ſtood at the eaſt-end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty prieſts, ſounding with trumpets)

* 1 Chron. 25. 1.

13 It came even to paſs, as the trumpeters and ſingers were as [f] one, to make one ſound to be heard in praiſing and thanking the LORD; and when they lift up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals, and inſtruments of muſick, and praiſed the LORD, ſaying, [g] For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: that then the houſe was filled with a cloud, even the houſe of the LORD;

[f] They agreed all in one tune.
[g] This was the effect of their ſongs, as Pſal. 118. 1. & 136. 1.

14 So that the prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter by reaſon of the cloud: for the glory of the LORD had filled the houſe of God.

CHAP. VI.

1 Solomon having bleſſed the people, bleſſeth God. 12 Solomons prayer in the conſecration of the temple, upon the braſen ſcaffold.

THen * [a] ſaid Solomon, the LORD hath ſaid that he would dwell in the * thick darkneſs.

* 1 King. 8. 12, &c.
[a] After that he had ſeen the glory of the Lord in the cloud.
* Levit. 16. 2.

2 But I have built an houſe of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed the whole congregation of Iſrael, (and all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood)

4 And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he ſpake with his mouth to my father David, ſaying,

5 Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe in, that my name might be there, neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael:

6 But I have choſen Jeruſalem, that my name might be there, and have choſen David to be over my people Iſrael.

7 Now * it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

* 2 Sam. 7. 2. 1 Chron. 28. 2.

8 But the LORD ſaid to David my father, Foraſmuch as it was in thine heart to build an houſe for my name, thou didſt well in that it was in thine heart:

9 Notwithſtanding, thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſon which ſhall come forth out of thyloyns, he ſhall build the houſe for my name.

10 The LORD therefore hath performed his word that he hath ſpoken: for I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſrael, as the LORD promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

11 And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the [b] covenant of the LORD, that he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 ¶ And he [c] ſtood before the altar of the LORD, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands;

13 (For Solomon had made a braſen ſcaffold, of five cubits † long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had ſet it in the midſt of the court, and upon it he ſtood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Iſrael, and [d] ſpread forth his hands towards heaven)

14 And ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael,* there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which keepeſt covenant, and ſheweſt mercy unto thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Thou which haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him; and ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

16 Now therefore, O LORD God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, *† There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael; *yet ſo, that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me.

17 Now then, O LORD God of Iſrael, let thy word be verified, which thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant David.

18 (But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? * behold, heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much leſs this houſe which I have built?)

19 Have reſpect therefore to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee:

20 That thine [e] eyes may be open upon this houſe day and night, upon the place whereof thou haſt ſaid, that thou wouldeſt put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth ‡ toward this place.

21 Hearken therefore unto the ſupplications of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, which they ſhall † make towards this place: hear thou from thy dwelling-place, even from heaven; and when thou heareſt, forgive.

22 ¶ If a man ſin againſt his [f] neighbour, † and an oath be laid upon him, to make him ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe:

23 Then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants by requiting the wicked, by recompenſing his way upon his [g] own head, and by juſtifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteouſneſs.

24 ¶ And if thy people Iſrael ‡ be put to the worſe before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and ſhall return and confeſs thy name, and pray and make ſupplication before thee ‡ in this houſe:

25 Then hear thou from the heavens, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land which thou gaveſt to them, and to their fathers.

26 ¶ When the * heaven is ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; yet if they pray towards this place, and confeſs thy name, and turn from their ſin when thou doſt afflict them:

27 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them the good way, wherein they ſhould walk; and ſend rain upon thy land which thou haſt given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ If there * be dearth in the land, if there be peſtilence, if there be blaſting, or mildew, locuſts, or caterpillers; if their enemies beſiege them † in the cities of their land; whatſoever ſore, or whatſoever ſickneſs there be:

29 Then what prayer, or what ſupplication ſoever ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when every one ſhall know his own ſore, and his own grief, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands ‡ in this houſe:

30 Then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways, whoſe heart [h] thou knoweſt: (for thou onely * knoweſt the hearts of the children of men)

31 That they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways † ſo long as they live † in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover, concerning the ſtranger, * which is not of thy people Iſrael, but is come from a far country for thy great names ſake, and thy mighty hand, and thy ſtretched-out arm; if they come and [i] pray in this houſe:

33 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for; that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, as doth thy people Iſrael, and may know that † this houſe which I have built, is called by thy name.

34 If thy people go out to war againſt their enemies by the way that [k] thou ſhalt ſend them, and they pray unto thee toward this city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name:

35 Then hear thou from the heavens their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their ‡ cauſe.

36 If they ſin againſt thee, (for there is * no man which ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and † they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near;

CHAP. VII.

1 God having given teſtimony to Solomons prayer by fire from heaven, and glory in the temple, the people worſhip him. 4 Solomons ſolemn ſacrifice. 8 Solomon having kept the feaſt of tabernacles, and the feaſt of the dedication of the altar, diſmiſſeth the people. 12 God appearing to Solomon, giveth him promiſes upon condition.

* 1 King. 8. 54.

NOw * when Solomon had made an end of praying, the *[a] fire came down from heaven and conſumed the burnt-offering, and the ſacrifices; and the glory of the LORD filled the houſe.

* Levit. 9. 24.

[a] Hereby God declared that he was pleaſed with Solomons prayer.

2 And the prieſts could not enter into the houſe of the LORD, becauſe the glory of the LORD had filled the LORDS houſe.

3 And when all the children of Iſrael ſaw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD upon the houſe, they bowed themſelves with their faces to the ground upon the pavement, and worſhipped, and praiſed the LORD, ſaying, For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 ¶ Then the king and all the people offered ſacrifices before the LORD.

5 And king Solomon offered a ſacrifice of twenty and two thouſand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep: ſo the king and all the people dedicated the houſe of God.

[a] 1 Chron. 15. 16.

6 * And the prieſts waited on their offices: the Levites alſo with inſtruments of muſick of the LORD, which David the king had made to praiſe the LORD, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever, when David praiſed † by their miniſtry: and the prieſts ſounded trumpets before them, and all Iſrael ſtood.

† Heb. by their hand.

7 Moreover, Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the LORD: for there he offered burnt-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings, becauſe the braſen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat.

8 ¶ Alſo at the ſame time Solomon kept the [b] feaſt ſeven days, and all Iſrael with him, a very great congregation, from the entring in of Hamath, unto * the river of Egypt.

[b] The feaſt of the Tabernacles which was kept in the ſeventh month.

* Joſh. 13. 3.

9 And in the eighth day they made † [c] a ſolemn aſſembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar ſeven days, and the feaſt ſeven days.

† Heb. a reſtraint.

[c] They aſſembled to hear the word of God, after that they had remained ſeven days in the boothes or Tabernacles.

10 And on the [d] three and twentieth day of the ſeventh month, he ſent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodneſs that the LORD had ſhewed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Iſrael his people.

[d] They had leave to depart the two and twentieth day, 1 King. 8 66. but they went not away till the next day.

11 Thus * Solomon finiſhed the houſe of the LORD, and the kings houſe: and all that came into Solomons heart to make in the houſe of the LORD, and in his own houſe, he proſperouſly effected.

* 1 King. 9. 1, &c.

12 ¶ And the LORD appeared to Solomon by night, and ſaid unto him, I have heard thy prayer, * and have choſen this place to my ſelf for an houſe of ſacrifice.

* Deut. 12. 5.

13 If I ſhut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locuſts to devour the land, or if I ſend peſtilence among my people;

14 If my people † which are called by my name, ſhall humble themſelves and pray, and ſeek my face, and turn from their wicked ways: then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their ſin, and will [e] heal their land.

† Heb. upon whom my name is called.

[e] I will cauſe the peſtilence to ceaſe, and deſtroy the beaſts that hurt the fruits of the earth, and ſend rain in due ſeaſon.

15 Now * mine eyes ſhall be open, and mine ears attent † unto the prayer that is made in this place.

* Chap. 6. 40.

† Heb to the prayer of this place.

16 For now have * I choſen, and ſanctified this houſe, that my name may be there for ever, and mine eyes and mine heart ſhall be there perpetually.

* Chap. 6. 6.

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and ſhalt obſerve my ſtatutes and my judgments:

18 Then will I ſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David, thy father, ſaying, * † There ſhall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Iſrael.

* Chap. 6. 16.

† Heb there ſhall not be cut off to thee.

19 * But if ye turn away and forſake my ſtatutes and my commandments which I have ſet before you, and ſhall go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them:

1 Solomons buildings. 7 The Gentiles which were left, Solomon made tributaries; but the Israelites, rulers. 11 Pharaohs daughter removeth to her house. 12 Solomons yearly solemn sacrifices. 14 He appointeth the priests and Levites to their places. 17 The navy fetcheth gold from Ophir.

AND *it came to pass (at the end of [a] twenty years, wherein Solomon had built the house of the LORD, and his own house)

2 That the cities which Huram had [b] restored to Solomon, Solomon built them, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed against it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, & all the [c] store-cities, which he built in Hamath.

5 Also he built [d] Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and bars:

6 And Baalath, and all the store-cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot-cities, and the cities of the horse-men, and † all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, and in [e] Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 ¶ As for all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites which were not of Israel;

8 But of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel consumed not; them did Solomon make to pay tribute, until this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no servants for his work: but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horse-men.

10 And these were the chief of king Solomons officers, even [f] two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ And Solomon * brought up the daughter of Pharaoh, out of the city of David, unto the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel, because the places are † holy, whereunto the ark of the LORD hath come.

12 ¶ Then Solomon offered burnt-offerings unto the LORD on the altar of the LORD, which he had built before the porch:

13 Even after a certain rate every * day offering according to the commandment of Moses, on the sabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the solemn feasts, * [g] three times in the year, even in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles.

14 ¶ And he appointed, according to the order of David his father, the * courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their charges, to praise and minister before the priests, as the duty of every day required: the * porters also by their courses, at every gate: for † so had David the man of God commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the priests and Levites, concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures.

16 Now all the work of Solomon was [h] prepared unto the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD, and until it was finished: so the house of the LORD was perfected.

17 ¶ Then went Solomon to Ezion-geber, & to ‡ Eloth, at the [i] sea-side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his servants, ships, and servants that had knowledge of the sea; and they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir, and took thence [k] four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

1 The queen of Sheba admireth the wisdom of Solomon. 13 Solmons gold. 15 His targets. 17 The throne of ivory. 20 His vessels. 23 His presents. 25 His chariots and horse. 26 His tributes. 29 His reign and death.

AND * when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to [a] prove Solomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon told her all her questions: and there was [b] nothing hid from Solomon which he told her not.

3 And when the queen of Sheba had seen the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel, his ‡ cup-bearers also, and their apparel, and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the LORD; there was no more spirit in her.

5 And she said to the king, It was a true † report which I heard in mine own land, of thine ‡ acts, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit, I believed not their words, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and behold, the one half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy servants, which stand continually before thee, and hear thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee to set thee on his [c] throne, to be king for the LORD thy God: because thy God loved Israel, to establish them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and justice.

9 And she gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of spices great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there

24 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, harness, and spices, horses, and mules, a rate year by year.

25 ¶ And Solomon [m] had four thousand stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horse-men, whom he bestowed in the chariot-cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

m That is, Ten horses in every stable, which in all amount to fourty thousand, as 2 King. 4. 26.

28 * And they brought unto Solomon, horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 ¶ Now the rest of the * acts of Solomon, first and last, are they not written in the † book of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of * Iddo the seer, ° against Jeroboam the son of Nebat?

CHAP. X.

1 The Israelites assembled at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, by Jeroboam make a suit of relaxation unto him. 6 Rehoboam refusing the old mens counsel, by the advice of young men, answereth them roughly. 16 Ten tribes revolting, kill Hadoram, and make Rehoboham to flee.

AND * Rehoboam [a] went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Israel come to make him king.

* 1 King. 12. 1, &c. a After the death of Solomon.

2 And it came to pass when Jeroboam the son of Nebat (who was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the presence of Solomon the king) heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so Jeroboam and all Israel came, and spake to Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father [b] made our yoke grievous, now therefore ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

b That is, handled us rudely. It seemeth that God hardned their hearts, so that they thus murmured without cause: which declareth also the inconstancy of the people.

5 And he said unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam took counsel with the old men that had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give ye me, to return answer to this people?

7 And they spake unto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever.

8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and took counsel with the young men that were brought up with him, that [c] stood before him.

c That is, which were of his counsel and secrets.

9 And he said unto them, What advice give ye, that we may return answer to this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Ease somewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him, spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake unto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it somewhat lighter for us: thus thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, [d] My little finger ſhall be thicker then my fathers loyns.

d Meaning, That he was of far greater power then was his father.

11 For whereas my father † put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, ſaying, Come again to me on the third day.

13 And the king anſwered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forſook the counſel of the old men, 14 And anſwered them after the advice of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 So the king hearkned not unto the people, for the [e] cauſe was of God, that the LORD might perform his word, which he ſpake by the * hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat.

e Gods will impoſeth ſuch a neceſſity to the ſecond cauſes, that nothing can be done but according to the ſame, and yet mans will worketh as of it ſelf, ſo that it cannot be excuſed in doing evil, by alledging that it is Gods ordinance.

* 1 King. 11. 29.

16 ¶ And when all Iſrael ſaw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? and we have none inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: every man to your tents, O Iſrael: and now David ſee to thine own houſe. So all Iſrael went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Hadoram that was over the tribute, and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died: but king Rehoboam † made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

a That is, The half tribe of Benjamin: for the other half was gone after Jeroboam.

b Meaning, The ten tribes which rebelled.

2 But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon king of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah and Benjamin, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren: return every man to his houſe, for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the LORD, and returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5 ¶ And Rehoboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and [c] built cities for defence in Judah.

c Or, Repaired them and made them ſtrong, to be more able to reſiſt Jeroboam.

6 He built even Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

11 And he fortified the ſtrong holds, and put captains in them, and ſtore of victual, and of oyl and wine.

12 And in every ſeveral city he put ſhields and ſpears, and made them exceeding ſtrong, having Judah and Benjamin on his ſide.

13 ¶ And the prieſts and the Levites that were in all Iſrael, † reſorted to him out of all their coaſts, e which were zealous of true religion, and feared God.

17 So they ſtrengthned the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon ſtrong, three years: for three years they [f] walked in the way of David and Solomon.

f So long as they feared God, and ſet forth his word, they proſpered.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam took him Mahalath the daughter of Jeremoth the ſon of David to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab, the ſon of Jeſſe:

19 Which bare him children; Jeuſh, and Shamariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her, he took * Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, which bare him Abijah, and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

* 1 King. 15. 2.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines, and begat twenty and eight ſons, and threeſcore daughters)

22 And Rehoboam made [g] Abijah the ſon of Maachah the chief, to be ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

[b] which were a people of Africa called the Troglodites, because they dwelt in holes.

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Judah, and came to Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together to Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Ye have forsaken me, and [c] therefore have I also left you in the hand of Shishak.

[c] Signifying, That no calamity can come unto us, except we forsake God, and that he never leaveth us until we have cast him off.

6 Whereupon the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and they said, The LORD is [d] righteous.

[d] And therefore doth justly punish us for our sins.

7 And when the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, They have humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will grant them ‡ some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

‡ Or, a little while.

8 Nevertheless, they shall be his servants; that they may know my [e] service, and the service of the kingdoms of the countrys.

[e] He sayeth, That Gods punishments are not to destroy his utterly, but to chastise them, to bring them to the knowledge of themselves, and to know how much better it is to serve God then tyrants.

9 So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the kings house, he took all: he carried away also the shields of gold which Solomon had * made.

* Cap. 9. 15.

10 In stead of which, king Rehoboam made shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And when the king entred into the house of the LORD, the guard came and fet them, and brought them again into the guard-chamber.

12 And behold, [l] God himself is with us for our captain, and his priests with sounding trumpets to cry alarm against you: O children of Israel, fight ye not against the LORD God of your fathers, for you shall not prosper.

[l] Because their cause was good, and approved by the Lord, they doubted not of the success and victory.

13 ¶ But Jeroboam caused an [m] ambushment to come about behind them: so they were before Judah, and the ambushment was behind them.

[m] Condemning the good counsel which came of the spirit of God, he thought to have overcome by deceit.

14 And when Judah looked back, behold, the battel was before and behind: and they cried unto the LORD, and the prieſts ſounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a ſhout: and as the men of Judah ſhouted, it came to paſs, that God ſmote Jeroboam and all Iſrael before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Judah: and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter: ſo there fell down ſlain of Iſrael, five hundred thouſand choſen men.

18 Thus the children of Iſrael were brought under at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, [n] becauſe they relied upon the LORD God of their fathers.

n He ſheweth that the ſtay of all kingdoms, and aſſurance of victories depend upon our truſt and confidence in the LORD.

19 And Abijah purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Beth-el with the towns thereof, and Jeſhanah with the towns thereof, and Ephrain with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jeroboam recover ſtrength again in the days of Abijah: and the LORD ſtrook him, and he died.

21 ¶ But Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two ſons, and ſixteen daughters.

22 And the reſt of the acts of Abijah, and his ways, and his ſayings, are written in the ‡ ſtory of the prophet * Iddo.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Aſa ſucceeding deſtroyeth idolatry. 6 Having peace, he ſtrengthneth his kingdom with forts and armies, 9 Calling on God, he overthroweth Zerah, and ſpoileth the Ethiopians.

SO Abijah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David, and * Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead: in his days the land was quiet ten years.

* 1 King. 15. 8, &c.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God.

3 For he took away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the high places, and brake down the † images, and cut down the [a] groves:

a which were planted contrary to the law, Deut. 16. 21.

4 And commanded Judah to ſeek the LORD God of their fathers, and to do the law, and the commandment.

5 Alſo he took away out of all the cities of Judah, the high places and the † images: and the kingdom was [b] quiet before him.

† Heb. ſun-images.
b He ſheweth that the reſt and quietneſs of kingdoms ſtandeth in abolishing idolatry, and advancing true religion.

6 ¶ And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had reſt, and he had no war in thoſe years; becauſe the LORD had given him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid unto Judah, Let us build theſe cities, and make about them walls, and towrs, gates, and bars, while the land is yet [c] before us; becauſe we have ſought the LORD our God, we have ſought him, and he hath given us reſt on every ſide: ſo they built, and proſpered.

c whiles we have the full government thereof.

8 And Aſa had an army of men that bare targets and ſpears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand, and out of Benjamin, that bare ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and fourſcore thouſand: all theſe were mighty men of valour.

9 ¶ * And there came out againſt them Zerah the [d] Ethiopian, with an hoſt of a thouſand thouſand, and three hundred chariots, and came unto [e] Mareſhah.

* Chap. 16. 8.
d The king of Ethiopia, or Egypt.
e which was a city in Judah, Joſh. 15. 44. where Michaiah the prophet was born.

10 Then Aſa went out againſt him, and they ſet the battel in aray in the valley of Zephathah at Mareſhah.

11 And Aſa cried unto the LORD his God, and ſaid, LORD, it is * nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O LORD our God; for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this multitude: O LORD, thou art our God, [f] let not ‡ man prevail againſt thee.

* 1 Sam. 14. 6.
f Thus the children of God neither truſt in their own power or policy, neither fear the ſtrength and ſubtility of their enemies, but conſider the cauſe, and ſee whether their enterpriſe tend to Gods glory, and thereupon aſſure themſelves of the victory by him, which is only almighty, and can turn all fleſh into duſt with the breath of his mouth.
‡ Or, mortal man.

12 So the LORD ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa, and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that were with him purſued them unto Gerar: and the Ethiopians were overthrown, that they could not recover themſelves, for they were † deſtroyed before the LORD and before his hoſt; and they carried away very much ſpoil.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar, for the [g] fear of the LORD came upon them: and they ſpoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much ſpoil in them.

g The Lord had ſtriken them with fear.

15 They ſmote alſo the tents of cattel, and carried away ſheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 Aſa with Judah and many of Iſrael moved by the prophecy of Azariah the ſon of Oded, make a ſolemn covenant with God. 16 He putteth down Maachah his mother for her idolatry. 18 He bringeth dedicate things into the houſe of God, and enjoyeth a long peace.

AND the ſpirit of God came upon [a] Azariah the ſon of Oded.

a who was called Oded, as his father was, verſ. 1, 8.

2 And he went out † to meet Aſa, and ſaid unto him, Hear ye me, Aſa, and all Iudah and Benjamin, The LORD is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye ſeek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

† Heb. before A.

3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſrael hath been without the [b] true God, and without a teaching prieſt, and without law.

b For the ſpace of twelve years under Rehoboam, and three years under Abijah, religion was neglected and idolatry planted.

4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the LORD God of Iſrael, and ſought him, he was [c] found of them.

c He ſheweth, That notwithſtanding the wickedneſs of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whom he heareth in their tribulation, as he delivered his from Zerah king of the Ethiopians, ch. 14. 9, 12. and out of all other dangers, when they called upon the Lord.

5 And in thoſe times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countrys.

6 And nation was † deſtroyed of nation, and city of city: for God did vex them with all adverſity.

† Heb. beaten to pieces.

7 Be ye ſtrong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work ſhall be [d] rewarded.

out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the LORD that was before the porch of the LORD.

9 And he gathered all Iudah and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them out of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, and out of Simeon: (for they fell to him out of Iſrael in abundance, when they ſaw that the LORD his God was with him)

10 So they gathered themſelves together at Ieruſalem in the [e] third moneth, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Aſa.

11 And they offered unto the LORD † the ſame time, of the [f] ſpoil which they had brought, ſeven hundred oxen, and ſeven thouſand ſheep.

12 And they entred into a covenant to ſeek the LORD God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their ſoul;

13 That [g] whoſoever would not ſeek the LORD God of Iſrael, ſhould be put to death, whether ſmall or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they ſware unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with ſhouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah rejoyced at the oath: for they had ſworn with all their heart, and ſought him with their whole deſire, and he was [h] found of them: and the LORD gave them reſt round about.

16 ¶ And alſo concerning * Maachah the [i] mother of Aſa the king, he removed her from being queen, becauſe ſhe had made an † idol in a grove: and Aſa cut down her idol, and ſtamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were [k] not taken away out of [l] Iſrael: nevertheleſs, the heart of Aſa was [m] perfect all his days.

18 ¶ And he brought into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himſelf had dedicated, ſilver, and gold, and veſſels.

19 And there was no more war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Aſa, by the aid of the Syrians, diverteth Baaſha from building of Ramah. 7 Being reproved thereof by Hanani, he putteth him in priſon. 11 Among his other acts, in his diſeaſe he ſeeketh not to God, but to the phyſicians. 13 His death and burial.

IN the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa, * [a] Baaſha king of Iſrael came up againſt Iudah, and built [b] Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Aſa king of Iudah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD, and of the kings houſe, and ſent to Ben-hadad king of Syria that dwelt at † Damaſcus, ſaying,

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold; go [c] break thy league with Baaſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkned unto king Aſa, and ſent the captains of † his armies againſt the cities of Iſrael; and they ſmote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtore-cities of Naphtali.

5 And it came to paſs, when Baaſha heard it, that he left off building of Ramah, and let his work ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king took all Iudah, and they carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baaſha was a building, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that time Hanani the ſeer came to Aſa king of Iudah, and ſaid unto him, Becauſe thou haſt relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the king of Syria eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not * the Ethiopians and the Lubims † a huge hoſt, with very many chariots and horſ-men? yet, becauſe thou didſt rely on the LORD, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro through out the whole earth, ‡ to ſhew himſelf ſtrong in the behalf of them, whoſe heart is perfect towards him. Herein thou haſt done fooliſhly; therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt have wars.

10 Then Aſa was [d] wroth with the ſeer, and put him in a priſon-houſe; for he was in a rage with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſa † oppreſſed ſome of the people the ſame time.

11 ¶ And behold, the acts of Aſa, firſt and laſt, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Iudah and Iſrael.

12 And Aſa, in the thirty and ninth year of his reign, was diſeaſed in his feet, until his diſeaſe was [e] exceeding great: yet in his diſeaſe he ſought not to the LORD, but to the [f] phyſicians.

13 ¶ And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in his own ſepulchres which he had † made for himſelf in the city of David, and laid him in the bed, which was filled with ſweet odours and divers kinds of ſpices prepared by the apothecaries art: and they made a very great burning for him.

CHAP. XVII.

AND * Iehoſhaphat his ſon reigned in his ſtead, and ſtrengthned himſelf againſt Iſrael.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehoſhaphat joyned in affinity with Ahab, is perſwaded to go with him againſt Ramoth-gilead. 4 Ahab ſeduced by falſe prophets, according to the word of Micaiah, is ſlain there.

NOw Iehoſhaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joyned [a] affinity with Ahab.

2 * And † after certain [b] years, he went down to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab killed ſheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and perſwaded him to go up with him to [c] Ramoth-gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſaid unto Iehoſhaphat king of Iudah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead? And he anſwered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will be with thee in the war.

4 ¶ And Iehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the [d] word of the LORD to day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered together of [e] prophets four hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battel, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up; for God will deliver it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD † beſides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Iehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: but I [f] hate him, for he never propheſieth good unto me, but always evil: the ſame is Micaiah the ſon of Imla. And Iehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay [g] ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called for one of his ‡ officers, and ſaid, † Fetch quickly Micaiah the ſon of Imla.

9 And the king of Iſrael and Iehoſhaphat king of Iudah, ſat either of them on his throne, clothed in their [h] robes, and they ſat in a ‡ void place at the entring in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets propheſied before them.

10 And Zedekiah the ſon of Chenaanah, had made him [i] horns of iron, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, With theſe thou ſhalt puſh Syria, until † they be conſumed.

11 And all the prophets propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

12 And the meſſenger that went to call Micaiah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king † with one [k] aſſent: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and ſpeak thou good.

13 And Micaiah ſaid, As the LORD liveth, even what my God ſaith, that will I ſpeak.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah, ſhall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battel, or ſhall I forbear? And he ſaid, [l] Go ye up, and proſper, and they ſhall be delivered into your hand.

15 And

15 And the king said to him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou say nothing but the truth to me, in the name of the LORD?

16 Then he said, I did see all Israel scattered upon the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and the LORD said, [m] These have no master; let them return therefore every man to his house in peace.

m He prophesieth how the people should be dispersed, and Ahab slain.

17 (And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would not prophesy good unto me, ‡ but evil?)

‡ Or, but for evil.

18 Again he said, Therefore hear the word of the LORD, I saw the LORD sitting upon his throne, and all the [n] host of heaven standing on his right hand, and on his left.

n Meaning, His angels.

19 And the LORD said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake, saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a * spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, I will entice him. And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith?

* Heb. 6.

21 And he said, I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the [o] LORD said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail: go out, and do even so.

o Without the Lords permission he could not do it.

22 Now therefore behold, the LORD hath put a [p] lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil against thee.

p To them that will not believe the truth, God sendeth strong delusions that they should believe lies. 2 Thes. 2. 10.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah, came near, and smote Micaiah upon the [q] cheek, and said, Which way went the spirit of the LORD from me, to speak unto thee?

q By this cruelty, his ambition and hypocrisy was discovered: thus the hypocrites buffet of the Spirit which they have not, and declare their malice against them in whom the true Spirit is.

24 And Micaiah said, Behold, thou shalt see on that day, when thou shalt go ‡ into † an inner chamber to hide thy self.

‡ Or, from chamber to chamber. † Heb. a chamber in a chamber.

25 Then the king of Israel said, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governour of the city, and to Joash the kings son:

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of [r] affliction, and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

r Keep him straightly in prison and let him feel hunger and thirst.

27 And Micaiah said, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the LORD spoken by me. And he said, Hearken all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat the king of Iudah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will [r] disguise my self, and will go to the battel, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and they went to the battel.

r Thus the wicked think by their own policy to escape Gods judgments which he threateneth by his word.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight ye not with small or great, save onely with the king of Israel.

31 And it came to pass when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel: therefore they compassed about him to fight: but Jehoshaphat [t] cried out, and the LORD helped him, and God moved them to depart from him.

t He cried to the Lord by acknowledging his fault, in going with this wicked king to war, against the word of the Lord by his prophet, and also by desiring mercy for the same.

32 For it came to pass, that when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Israel, they turned back again † from pursuing him.

† Heb. from after him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow † at a venture, and smote the king of Israel † between the joynts of the harness: therefore he said to his chariot-man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayst carry me out of the host, for I am † wounded.

† Heb. in his simplicity. † Heb. between the joynts, and between the breast-plate. † Heb. made sick.

34 And the battel increased that day: howbeit the king of Israel [u] stayed himself up in his chariot against the Syrians, until the even: and about the time of the sun going down, he died.

u He dissembled his hurt, that his souldiers might fight more courageously.

c This declareth what the fear of the godly is, which is as a prick to ſtir them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, whereas it moveth the wicked either to ſeek after worldly means and polices, or elſe to fall into deſpair.

4 And Judah gathered themſelves together, to aſk help of the LORD: even out of all the cities of Judah they came to ſeek the LORD.

5 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſtood in the congregation of Judah and Jeruſalem, in the houſe of the LORD before the new court,

6 And ſaid, O LORD God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee?

† Heb thou.

d He groundeth his prayer upon Gods power, whereby he is able to help, and alſo on his mercy, which he will continue toward his, foraſmuch as he hath once choſen them, and begun to ſhew his graces toward them.

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a ſanctuary therein for thy name, ſaying, 9 *If when evil cometh upon us, as the [e] ſword, judgment, or peſtilence, or famine, we ſtand before this houſe, and in thy preſence, (for thy [f] name is in this houſe) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

g We onely put our truſt in thee, and wait for our deliverance from heaven.

13 And all Judah ſtood before the [h] LORD, with their little ones, their wives and their children.

h That is, Before the ark of the covenant.

14 ¶ Then upon Jahaziel the ſon of Zechariah, the ſon of Benaiah, the ſon of Jehiel, the ſon of Mattaniah, a Levite of the ſons of Aſaph, came [i] the ſpirit of the LORD in the midſt of the congregation:

i which was moved by the ſpirit of God to prophecy.

15 And he ſaid, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ieruſalem, and thou king Iehoſhaphat, Thus ſaith the LORD unto you, Be not afraid, nor diſmayed by reaſon of this great multitude; for the [k] battel is not yours, but Gods.

k They fight againſt God and not againſt you: therefore he will fight for you.

18 And Iehoſhaphat [l] bowed his head, with his face to the ground: and all Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ieruſalem fell before the LORD, worſhipping the LORD.

l Declaring his faith and obedience to the word of the Lord, and giving thanks for the deliverance promiſed.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, ſtood up to praiſe the LORD God of Iſrael with a loud voice on high.

20 ¶ And they roſe early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderneſs of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoſhaphat ſtood and ſaid, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Ieruſalem, * Believe in the LORD your God, ſo ſhall you be eſtabliſhed; [m] believe his prophets, ſo ſhall ye proſper.

28 And they came to Jeruſalem with pſalteries, and harps, and trumpets, unto the houſe of the LORD.

29 And the [r] fear of God was on all the kingdoms of thoſe countrys, when they had heard that the LORD fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

30 So the realm of Jehoſhaphat was quiet; for his God gave him reſt round about.

31 ¶ * And Jehoſhaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the [s] way of Aſa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the ſight of the LORD:

33 Howbeit, the high places were [t] not taken away; for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

37 Then Eliezer the ſon of Dodavah of Mareſhah, propheſied againſt Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, [u] Becauſe thou haſt joyned thy ſelf with Ahaziah, the LORD hath broken thy works. And the ſhips were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarſhiſh.

2 And he had brethren the ſons of Jehoſhaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah: all theſe were the ſons of Jehoſhaphat king of [a] Iſrael.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of ſilver and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdom gave he to Jehoram, becauſe he was the firſt-born.

4 Now * when Jehoram was riſen up to the kingdom of his father, he ſtrengthned himſelf, and ſlew all his [b] brethren with the ſword, and divers alſo of the princes [c] of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Jehoram was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, like as did the houſe of Ahab: for he had the daughter of * Ahab to [d] wife: and he wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD.

7 Howbeit the LORD would not deſtroy the houſe of David, becauſe of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promiſed to give a † light to him, and to his * ſons for ever.

8 ¶ In his days the Edomites revolted from under the † dominion of Judah, and made themſelves a king.

9 Then Jehoram * went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he roſe up by night, and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The ſame time alſo did [e] Libnah revolt from under his hand; becauſe he had forſaken the LORD God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and cauſed the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit [f] fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 ¶ And there came a writing to him from [g] Elijah the prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of David thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the ways of Jehoſhaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Aſa king of Judah,

13 But haſt walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the houſe of Ahab, and alſo haſt ſlain thy brethren of thy fathers houſe, which were better then thy ſelf:

14 Behold, with † a great plague will the LORD ſmite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods.

15 And thou ſhalt have great ſickneſs by diſeaſe of thy bowels, until thy [h] bowels fall out, by reaſon of the ſickneſs day by day.

16 ¶ Moreover, the LORD ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, that were near the [i] Ethiopians.

e He sheweth, that it must needs follow that the rulers are such as their counsellers be, and that there cannot be a good king, that suffereth wicked counsellers.

5 ¶ He walked also after their counsel, and went with Iehoram the son of Ahab king of Israel, to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead: and the Syrians smote Ioram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Iezreel, because of the wounds † which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And ‡ Azariah the son of Iehoram king of Iudah, went down to see Iehoram the son of Ahab at Iezreel, because he was sick.

8 And it came to pass that when Iehu was executing judgment upon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah, and the sons of the brethren of Ahaziah, that ministred to Ahaziah, he slew them.

9 * And he sought Ahaziah: and they caught him, (for he was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Iehu: and when they had slain him, they buried him, because (said they) he is the son of [g] Iehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah had no power to keep still the kingdom.

* 2 King. 9. 27.
g This was the just plague of God, because he joyned himself with Gods enemies: yet God to declare the worthiness of Iehoshaphat his grand-father, moved them to give him the honour of burial.

So Iehoshabeath the daughter of king Iehoram, the wife of Iehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah, so that she slew him not.

8 So the Levites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with [e] them that were to go out on the sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, † [h] Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were set over the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and [i] whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Slay her not in the house of the LORD.

15 So they laid hands on her; and when she was come to the entring of the hors-gate, by the kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Iehoiada made a [k] covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they should be the LORDS people.

17 Then all the people went to the house of Baal, and [l] brake it down, and brake his altars, and his images in pieces, and slew [m] Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 Also Iehoiada appointed the offices of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Levites, whom David had * distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt-offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the * law of Moses, with rejoycing and with singing, as it was ordained † by David.

IOash * was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fourty years in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Zibeah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, all the days of [a] Iehoiada the priest.

3 And Iehoiada took for him two wives, and he begat sons and daughters.

4 ¶ And it came to pass after this, that Ioash was minded † to repair the house of the LORD.

5 And he gathered together the priests and and the Levites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Iudah, and gather of [b] all Israel mony to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that ye haste the matter: howbeit the Levites hastned it not.

6 And the king called for Iehoiada the [c] chief, and said unto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Iudah and out of Ierusalem, the collection, according to the commandment of * Moses the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?

7 For the sons of Athaliah that [d] wicked woman, had broken up the house of God, and also all the dedicate things of the house of the LORD did they bestow upon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commandment they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the LORD.

9 And they made † a proclamation through Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring in to the LORD, the collection that Moses the servant of God laid upon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes, and all the people rejoyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to pass, that at what time the chest was [e] brought unto the kings office, by the hand of the Levites; and when they saw that there was much mony: the kings scribe, and the high priests officer came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered mony in abundance.

12 And the king and [f] Iehoiada gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also such as wrought iron and brass to mend the house of the LORD.

13 So the workmen wrought, and † the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state, and strengthned it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the mony before the king and Iehoiada, whereof were made [g] vessels for the house of the LORD, even vessels to minister, and ‡ to offer withal, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver: and they offered burnt-offerings in the house of the LORD continually, all the days of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the [h] kings, because he had done good in Israel, both towards God, and towards his house.

17 Now after the death of Iehoiada, came the [i] princes of Iudah, and made obeisance to the king: then the king hearkned unto them.

18 And they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served groves and idols:

1 Amaziah beginneth to reign well. 3 He executeth juſtice on the traitours. 5 Having hired an army of Iſraelites againſt the Edomites, at the word of a prophet he loſeth the hundred talents, and diſmiſſeth them. 11 He overthroweth the Edomites. 10, 13 The Iſraelites diſcontented with their diſmiſſion, ſpoil as they return home. 14 Amaziah proud of his victory, ſerveth the gods of Edom, and deſpiſeth the admonitions of the prophet. 17 He provoketh Joaſh to his overthrow. 25 His reign. 27 He is ſlain by conſpiracy.

* 2 King. 14. 1, &c.

AMaziah * was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

2 And he did that which was [a] right in the ſight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to paſs, when the kingdom was † eſtabliſhed to him, that he ſlew his ſervants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he ſlew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moſes, where the LORD commanded, ſaying, * The fathers ſhall not die for the [b] children, neither ſhall the children die for the fathers, but every man ſhall die for his own ſin.

5 ¶ Moreover, Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbred them from [c] twenty years old and above, and found them three hundred thouſand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle ſpear and ſhield.

6 He hired alſo an hundred thouſand mighty men of valour out of [d] Iſrael, for an hundred talents of ſilver.

7 But there came a man of God to him, ſaying, O king, let not the army of Iſrael go with thee; for the LORD is [e] not with Iſrael, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt [f] go, do it, be ſtrong for the battel: God ſhall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to caſt down.

9 And Amaziah ſaid to the man of God, But what ſhall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the † army of Iſrael? And the man of God anſwered, The LORD is [g] able to give thee much more then this.

10 Then Amaziah ſeparated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go † home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled againſt Judah, and they returned home † in great anger.

11 ¶ And Amaziah ſtrengthned himſelf, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of ſalt, and ſmote of the children of [h] Seir, ten thouſand.

12 And other ten thouſand left alive, did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the [i] rock, and caſt them down from the top of the rock, that they were broken all in pieces.

13 ¶ But † the ſouldiers of the [k] army which Amaziah ſent back, that they ſhould not go with him to battel, fell upon the cities of Iudah, from Samaria even unto Beth-horon, and ſmote three thouſand of them, and took much ſpoil.

14 ¶ Now it came to paſs, after that Amaziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them up to be his gods, and [l] bowed down himſelf before them, and burned incenſe unto them.

16 And it came to pass as he talked with him, that the [n] king said unto him, Art thou made of the kings counsel? forbear; why shouldest thou be [o] smitten? Then the prophet forbare, and said, I know that God hath † determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not hearkned unto my counsel.

17 ¶ Then * Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and sent to Joash the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, let us [p] see one another in the face.

18 And Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The ‡ thistle that was in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife: and there passed by † a wild beast that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thistle.

20 But Amaziah would not hear, for it came of [q] God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joash the king of Israel went up, and they saw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth-shemesh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was † put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to his tent.

24 And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with [r] Obed-edom, and the treasures of the kings house, the hostages also, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the son of Joash king of Judah, lived after the death of Joash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fifteen years.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, first and last, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?

27 ¶ Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away † from following the LORD, they † made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish: but they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

1 Uzziah succeeding, and reigning well in the days of Zechariah, prospereth. 16 Waxing proud, he invadeth the priests office, and is smitten with leprocy. 22 He dieth, and Jotham succeedeth him.

THen all the people of Judah took * [a] Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

2 He built [b] Eloth, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen years old was Uzziah, when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Jecoliah of Jerusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he sought God in the days of [c] Zechariah, who had understanding † in the visions of God: and as long as he [d] sought the LORD, God made him to prosper.

6 And he went forth and warred against the Philistines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities ‡ about Ashdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Mehunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave [e] gifts to Uzziah, and his name † spread abroad even to the entring in of Egypt, for he strengthned himself exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uzziah built towrs in Jerusalem, at the [f] corner-gate, and at the valley-gate, and at the turning of the wall, and ‡ fortified them.

10 Also he built towrs in the desert, and ‡ digged many wells, for he had much cattel, both in the low-country, and in the plains: husband-men also, and vine-dressers in the mountains, and in [g] Carmel: for he loved † husbandry.

11 Moreover, Uzziah had an host of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Jeiel the scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captains.

12 The whole [h] number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour, were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And under their hand was † an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy.

15 And he made in Jerusalem † engines invented by cunning men, to be on the towrs and upon the bulwarks, to shoot arrows and great stones withal: and his name † spread far d Thus by the juſt judgments of God, Iſrael deſtroyed Judah.

e For they thought they had overcome them by their own valiantneſs, and did not conſider that God had delivered them into their hands, becauſe Judah had offended him.

9 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whoſe name was Oded: & he went out before the hoſt that came to Samaria, and ſaid unto them, Behold, [e] becauſe the LORD God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered vered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye purpose to keep under the children of Judah and Jerusalem for bond-men, and bond-women unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God?

f May not God as well punish you for your sins, as he hath done these men for theirs, seeing yours are greater?

11 Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads of the children of g Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the war, g which tribe was now greatest, and had most authority.

13 And said unto them, Ye shall not bring in the captives hither: h for whereas we have offended against the LORD already, ye intend to add more to our sins and to our trespass: for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.

17 For again the Edomites had come and smitten Judah, and carried away † captives.

† Heb. a captivity.

18 The Philistines also had invaded the cities of the low-country, and of the south of Judah, and had taken Beth-shemesh, and Ajalon, and Gederoth, and Shocho with the villages thereof, and Timnah with the villages thereof, Gimzo also and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the LORD brought Judah low, because of Ahaz king of n Israel; for he made Judah naked, and transgressed sore against the LORD.

n He meaneth Judah because Ahaz forsook the Lord, and sought help of the idols. Read of Israel taken for Judah, ch. 15. 17.

20 And Tilgath-pilnezer king of Assyria came unto him, and distressed him, but strengthned him not.

21 For Ahaz took away a portion out of the house of the LORD, and out of the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Assyria: but he helped him not.

† Heb. Darmesek, o As he falsly supposed.

22 ¶ And in the time of his distress did he trespass yet more against the LORD: this is that king Ahaz.

p Thus the wicked measure Gods favour by prosperity, and adversity: for if idolaters prosper, they make their idols gods, not considering that God punisheth them oftimes whom he loveth, and giveth his enemies good success for a time; whom afterward he will destroy.

23 For he sacrificed unto the gods of † Damascus, which o smote him: and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, that they may p help me: but they were the ruine of him and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God, and shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and he made him altars in every corner of Jerusalem.

25 And in every several city of Judah he made high places ‡ to burn incense unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

‡ Or, to offer.

26 ¶ Now the rest of his acts, and of all his ways, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jerusalem: but they brought him not into the q sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his son reigned in his stead.

q They buried him not in the city of David, where were the sepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Hezekiah his good reign. 3 He restoreth religion. 5 He exhorteth the Levites. 12 They sanctify themselves, and cleanse the house of God. 20 Hezekiah offereth solemn sacrifices, wherein the Levites were more forward then the priests.

HEzekiah * began to reign when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.

* 2 King. 18. 1.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 ¶ He, in the a first year of his reign, in the first month, b opened the doors of the house of the LORD, and repaired them.

a This is a notable example for all princes, first to establish the pure religion of God, and to procure that the Lord may be honoured and served aright

b which Ahaz had shut up, ch. 28. 24.

4 And he brought in the priests, and the Levites, and gathered them together into the east-street,

5 And said unto them, Hear me, ye Levites, sanctify now your selves, and sanctify the house of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry forth the c filthiness out of the holy place.

c Meaning, All the idols, altars, groves, and whatsoever was occupied in their service, and wherewith the temple was polluted.

6 For our fathers have trespassed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and † turned their backs.

† Heb. given the neck.

7 Also they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, nor offered burnt-offerings in the holy place, unto the God of Israel.

8 d Wherefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Judah and Jerusalem, and he hath delivered them to † trouble, to astonishment, and to hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

d He sheweth, that the contempt of religion is the cause of all Gods plagues.

9 For lo, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Israel, that his e fierce wrath may turn away from us.

e He proveth by the judgments of God upon those that have contemned his word, that there is no way to avoid his plagues, but by conforming themselves to his will.

11 My sons ‡ be not now negligent: for the LORD hath * chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that you should minister unto him, and ‡ burn incense.

‡ Or, be not now deceived.

* Num. 8. 14. & 18. 2, 6.

‡ Or, offer sacrifice.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, 374 riah, of the sons of the Kohathites: and of the sons of Merari; Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jahalelel: and of the Gershonites; Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Ioah:

13 And of the sons of Elizaphan; Shimri, and Iehiel: and of the sons of Asaph; Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sons of Heman; Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sons of Ieduthun; Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, ‡ by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD.

‡ Or, in the business of the LORD.

16 And the priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD, to [f] cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD, into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

f From the pollutions and filth that Ahaz had brought in.

17 Now they began on the first day of the [g] first month to sanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of the LORD: so they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight days, and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.

g which contained part of March and part of April.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt-offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shew-bread table, with all the vessels thereof.

19 Moreover, all the vessels which king Ahaz in his reign did cast away in his transgression, have we prepared and sanctified, and behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.

h By this manner of speech the Hebrews mean a certain diligence and speed to do a thing, and when there is no delay.

20 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king rose [h] early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he-goats, for a * sin-offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Iudah: and he commanded the priests the sons of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

* Levit. 4. 14.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the priests received the bloud, and [i] sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had killed the rams, they sprinkled the bloud upon the altar: they killed also the lambs, and they sprinkled the bloud upon the altar.

i For without sprinkling of bloud nothing could be sanctified, Heb 9. 21. Exod. 24. 8. Levit. 8. 14, 15.

23 And they brought † forth the he-goats for the sin-offering, before the king and the congregation, and [k] they laid their * hands upon them:

k That is, The king and the elders, as Levit. 4. 15. for they that offered a sin-offering must lay their hands upon it, to signify, That they had deserved that death, and also that they did consecrate it to God to be thereby sanctified. Exod. 29. 10. * Levit. 4. 15. * 1 Chron. 16. 4. & 25. 6.

24 And the priests killed them, and they made reconciliation with their bloud upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Israel: for the king commanded that the burnt-offering and the sin-offering should be made for all Israel.

25 * And he set the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the [l] commandment of David, and of Gad the kings seer, and Nathan the prophet: for so was the commandment † of the LORD † by his prophets.

l This thing was not appointed of man, but it was the commandment of God.

† Heb. by the hand of the LORD.

† Heb. by the hand of.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt-offering upon the altar: and † when the burnt-offering began, the song of the [m] LORD began also with the trumpets, and with the † instruments ordained by [n] David king of Israel.

† Heb. in the time.

m The psalm which David had appointed to be sung for thanksgiving.

† Heb. hands of instruments.

n which David had appointed to praise the Lord with.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, and the † singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded: and all this continued until the burnt-offering was finished.

† Heb. song.

† Heb. found.

30 Moreover, Hezekiah the king, and the princes commanded the Levites to sing praise unto the LORD, with the [o] words of David, and of Asaph the seer: and they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

o with that psalm whereof mention is made 1 Chron. 16. 8.

31 Then Hezekiah answered and said, Now ye have ‡ consecrated your selves unto the LORD, come near and bring sacrifices, and thank-offerings into the house of the LORD. And the congregation brought in sacrifices, and thank-offerings, and as many as were of a free heart, burnt-offerings.

‡ Or, filled your hand.

32 And the number of the burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was three-score and ten bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt-offering to the LORD.

33 And the [p] consecrated things were six hundred oxen, and three thousand sheep.

p That is, For the holy offerings.

34 But the priests were too few, so that they could not flay all the burnt-offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites † did help them till the work was ended, and until the other priests had sanctified themselves: for the Levites were [q] more upright in heart, to sanctify themselves, then the priests.

q Meaning, were more zealous to set forward the true religion.

35 And also the burnt-offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace-offerings, and the drink-offerings for every burnt-offering. So the service of the house of the LORD was set in order.

36 And Hezekiah rejoyced, and all the people, that [r] God had prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly.

r He speaketh, That religion cannot proceed, except God touch the heart of the people.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hezekiah proclaimeth a solemn pass-over on the second month for Iudah and Israel. 13 The assembly having destroyed the altars of idolatry, keep the feast fourteen days. 27 The priests and Levites bless the people.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Iudah, and wrote letters also to [a] Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Ierusalem, to keep the pass-over unto the LORD God of Israel.

a Meaning, All Israel, whom Tiglath-pilnezer had not taken away into the captivity. 2 King. 15. 29.

2 For the king had taken counsel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Ierusalem, to keep the pass-over in the [b] second month.

b Though they ought to have done it in the first month, as Exod 12. 18. Num 9. 3 yet if any were not clean, or else had a long journy they might defer it unto the second month, as Num. 9. 10, 11.

3 For

3 For they could not keep it at that time, becauſe the prieſts had not ſanctified themſelves ſufficiently, neither had the people gathered themſelves together to Jeruſalem.

† Heb. was right in the eyes of the king.

4 And the thing † pleaſed the king, and all the congregation.

5 So they eſtabliſhed a decree, to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael, from [c] Beerſheba even to Dan, that they ſhould come to keep the paſs-over unto the LORD God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it of a long time in ſuch ſort [d] as it was written.

c From one end of the land to the other, North and South.

d In ſuch ſort and perfection, as God had appointed.

6 So the poſts went with the letters † from the king and his princes throughout all Iſrael and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, ſaying, Ye children of Iſrael, turn again unto the LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael, and [e] he will return to the remnant of you, that are eſcaped out of the hand of the kings of Aſſyria.

† Heb. from the hand.

e He will have compaſſion on them, and preſerve them.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which treſpaſſed againſt the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to deſolation, as ye ſee.

8 Now † be ye not ſtiff-necked as your fathers were, but † [f] yeild your ſelves unto the LORD, and enter into his ſanctuary, which he hath ſanctified for ever: and ſerve the LORD your God, that the fierceneſs of his wrath may turn away from you.

† Heb. harden not your necks.

f Submit your ſelves to the Lord, and yield no more.

9 For if ye turn again unto the LORD, your brethren and your children ſhall find compaſſion before them that led them captive, ſo that they ſhall [g] come again into this land: for the LORD your God is * gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

g God will not only preſerve you, but through your repentance reſtore you brethren, which for their ſins he gave into the hands of the enemies.

* Exod. 34. 6.

10 So the poſts paſſed from city to city, through the country of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, even unto Zebulun: but they [h] laughed them to ſcorn, and mocked them.

h Through the wicked mock at the ſervants of God, by whom he calleth them to repentance, as Gen. 19. 14. yet the word ceaſeth not to fructify in the hearts of Gods elect.

11 Nevertheleſs, divers of Aſher and Manaſſeh, and of Zebulun humbled themſelves, and came to Jeruſalem.

12 Alſo in Judah, the hand of God was to give them [i] one heart to do the commandment of the king and of the princes, by the word of the LORD.

i Heb. The cauſe why ſome obey, and ſome mock at Gods calling, is, becauſe his ſpirit is with the one ſort, and moveth their hearts, and the other are left to themſelves.

13 ¶ And there aſſembled at Jeruſalem much people, to keep the feaſt of unleavened bread in the ſecond month, a very great congregation.

14 And they aroſe, and took away the * [k] altars that were in Jeruſalem, and all the altars for incenſe took they away, and caſt them into the brook Kidron.

* Chap. 28. 24.

k which declareth that we muſt put away thoſe things wherewith God is offended, before we can ſerve him aright.

15 Then they killed the paſs-over on the fourteenth day of the ſecond month: and the prieſts and the Levites were [l] aſhamed, and ſanctified themſelves, and brought in the burnt-offerings into the houſe of the LORD.

l Seeing their own negligence (who ſhould have been moſt prompt) and the readineſs of the people, chap. 29. 36.

16 And they ſtood in † their place after their manner, according to the law of Moſes the man of God: the prieſts ſprinkled the [m] bloud, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

m To wit, Of the bloud of the paſſover.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not ſanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the paſs-overs, for every one that was not clean, to ſanctify them unto the LORD.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar, and Zebulun, had not cleanſed themſelves, yet did they eat the paſs-over otherwiſe then it was written: but Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, [n] The good LORD pardon every one n He knew, that faith and ſincerity of heart was more agreable to God, then the obſervation of theſe ceremonies, and therefore he prayed unto God to pardon this fault unto the people which did not offend of malice, but of ignorance.

19 That prepareth his heart to ſeek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

20 And the LORD hearkned to Hezekiah, and [o] healed the people.

o That is, Did accept them as purified

21 And the children of Iſrael that were † preſent at Jeruſalem, kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with great gladneſs: and the Levites, and the prieſts praiſed the LORD day by day, [*] ſinging with † loud inſtruments unto the LORD.

† Heb. found.

† Heb. inſtruments of ſtrength.

[*] Heb. to the heart of all, &c.

22 And Hezekiah ſpake † comfortably unto all the Levites, that taught the good knowledge of the LORD: and they did eat throughout the feaſt ſeven days, offering peace-offerings, and making confeſſion to the LORD God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly took counſel to keep other ſeven days: and they kept other ſeven days with gladneſs.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah † did give to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ſeven thouſand ſheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a [p] thouſand bullocks, and ten thouſand ſheep: and a great number of prieſts ſanctified themſelves.

† Heb. lifted up, or, offered.

p This great liberality declareth how kings, princes, and all they to whom God hath given wherewith, ought to be moſt ready to bellow it in ſetting forth of Gods glory.

25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the prieſts and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Iudah, rejoyced.

26 So there was great joy in Ieruſalem: for ſince the time of Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael, there was not the like in Ieruſalem.

27 ¶ Then the prieſts the Levites aroſe, and [q] bleſſed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to † his holy dwelling-place, even unto heaven.

q According to that which is written, Num. 6. 23. when they ſhould diſmiſs the people.

2 ¶ And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites after their courses, every man according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents [c] of the LORD.

[c] That is, In the temple where they assembled as in a tent.

3 He appointed also the kings portion of his substance, for the burnt-offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offerings for the sabbaths, and for the new-moons, and for the set feasts, as it is written in the * law of the LORD.

* Num. 28. 3, 9.

4 Moreover, he commanded the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to give the [d] portion of the priests, and the Levites, that they might be [e] encouraged in the law of the LORD.

[d] The tithes and first-fruits for the maintenance of the priests and Levites

[e] That their minds might not be entangled with provision of worldly things, but that they might wholly and cheerfully serve the Lord.

5 ¶ And assoon as the commandment † came abroad, the children of Israel brought in abundance the first-fruits of corn, wine, and oyl, and ‡ hony, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.

6 And concerning the children of Israel and Iudah, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought in the [f] tithes of oxen and sheep, and the * tithe of holy things, which were consecrated unto the LORD their God, and laid them † [g] by heaps.

[f] which they had dedicated to the Lord by a vow.

† Heb. heap: heaps

[g] For the relief of the priests, Levites, widows, pupils, fatherless, strangers, and such as were in necessity.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came and saw the heaps, they [h] blessed the LORD and his people Israel.

[h] They praised the Lord, and prayed for all prosperity to his people.

9 Then Hezekiah questioned with the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief priest of the house of Zadok, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, we have had enough to eat, and have [i] left plenty: for the LORD hath blessed his people; and that which is left, is this great store.

[i] He sheweth, That this plenteous liberality is expedient for the maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, and increaseth by his blessing that which is given.

11 ¶ Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare ‡ chambers in the house of the LORD; and they prepared them,

‡ Or, store-houses.

12 And brought in the offerings and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: over which Cononiah the Levite was ruler, and Shimei his brother was the next.

13 And Iehiel, and Azaziah, and Nahath, and Asahel, and Ierimoth, and Iozabad, and Eliel, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah, were overseers † under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the ruler of the house of God.

14 And Kore the son of Imnah the Levite, the porter toward the east, was over the free-will-offerings of God, to distribute the oblations of the LORD, and the most holy things.

15 And † next him were Eden, and Miniamin, and Ieshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the cities of the priests, in their ‡ set office, to give to their brethren by courses, as well to the great as to the small.

17 Both to the genealogy of the priests by the house of their fathers, and the Levites from twenty years old and upward, in their charges by their courses:

18 And to the genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, through all the congregation: [l] for in their ‡ set office they sanctified themselves in holiness.

[l] Meaning, That either by the faithful distributions of the officers, every one had their part in the things that were offered, or else that their wives and children were relieved, because the Levites were faithful in their office, and so depended on them.

‡ Or, trust.

20 ¶ And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the LORD his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law and in the commandments to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sennacherib invading Judah, Hezekiah fortifieth himself, and encourageth his people. 9 Against the blasphemies of Sennacherib by message and letters, Hezekiah and Isaiah pray. 21 An angel destroyeth the host of the Assyrians, to the glory of Hezekiah. 24 Hezekiah praying in his sickness, God giveth him a sign of recovery. 25 He waxing proud, is humbled by God. 27 His wealth and works. 31 His errour in the embassage of Babylon. 32 He dying, Manasseh succeedeth him.

AFter * these things and the establishment thereof, Sennacherib king of Assyria came, and entred into Judah, and encamped against the fenced cities, and thought † to win them for himself.

9 ¶ * After this did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria ſend his ſervants to Jeruſalem (but he himſelf laid ſiege againſt [f] Lachiſh, and all his † power with him) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah, that were at Jeruſalem, ſaying, 10 Thus ſaith Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, Whereon do ye truſt, that ye abide ‡ in the ſiege in Jeruſalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah perſwade you to give over your ſelves to die by famine and by thirſt, ſaying, The LORD our God ſhall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

12 Hath not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his [g] altars, and commanded Judah and Jeruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of thoſe lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the [h] gods of thoſe nations, that my fathers utterly deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſwade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to [i] deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much leſs ſhall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his ſervants ſpake yet more againſt the LORD God, and againſt his ſervant [k] Hezekiah.

17 He wrote alſo letters to rail on the LORD God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, ſo ſhall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they [l] cried with a loud voice in the Jews ſpeech unto the people of Jeruſalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them, that they might take the city.

19 And they ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth which were the [m] work of the hands of man.

20 And for this cauſe Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz, [n] prayed and cried to heaven.

21 ¶ And the LORD ſent an angel which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and [o] captains in the camp of the king of Aſſyria: ſo he returned with ſhame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the houſe of his God, they that came forth of his own [p] bowels, † ſlew him there with the ſword.

22 Thus the LORD ſaved Hezekiah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every ſide.

23 And many brought gifts unto the LORD to Jeruſalem, and † preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah: ſo that he was [q] magnified in the ſight of all nations, from thenceforth.

24 ¶ * In thoſe days Hezekiah was ſick to the death, and prayed unto the LORD: and he ſpake unto him, and he ‡ gave him a [r] ſign.

25 But Hezekiah rendred not again, according to the benefit done unto him: for his heart was [s] lifted up; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jeruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding, Hezekiah humbled himſelf for † the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem) ſo that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

27 ¶ And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himſelf treaſures for ſilver, and for gold, and for precious ſtones, and for ſpices, and for ſhields, and for all manner of † pleaſant jewels;

28 Store-houſes alſo for the increaſe of corn, and wine, and oyl; and ſtalls for all manner of beaſts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover, he provided him cities, and poſſeſſions of flocks, and herds in abundance: for God had given him ſubſtance very much.

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the upper water-courſe of [t] Gihon, and brought it ſtraight down to the weſt-ſide of the city of David. And Hezekiah proſpered in all his works.

31 ¶ Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the † embaſſadours of the princes of Babylon, who *ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to [u] try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and his † goodneſs, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the prophet, the ſon of Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the ‡ chiefeſt of the ſepulchres of the ſons of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him honour at his death: and Manaſſeh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manaſſeh his wicked reign. 3 He ſetteth up idolatry, and would not be admoniſhed. 11 He is carried into Babylon. 12 Upon his prayer to God he is releaſed, and putteth down idolatry. 18 His acts. 20 He dying, Amon ſucceedeth him. 21 Amon reigning wickedly, is ſlain by his ſervants. 25 The murderers being ſlain, Joſiah ſucceedeth him.

* 2 King. 21. 1, &c.

MAnaſſeh * was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem:

2 But did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, like unto the * abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

* Deut. 18. 9.

† Heb. he returned and built.
* 2 King. 18. 4.

3 ¶ For † he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had * broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 Alſo he built altars in the houſe of the LORD, whereof the LORD had ſaid, * In Jeruſalem ſhall my name be for ever.

* Deut. 12. 11. 2 King. 8. 29. & 9. 3. Chap. 6. 6. & 7. 16.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven, in the two courts of the houſe of the LORD.

a 2 King. 16. 3.

6 [a] And he cauſed his children to paſs through the fire in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom: alſo he obſerved times, and uſed enchantments, and uſed witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar ſpirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

* Pſal. 132. 14.

7 And he ſet a carved image (the idol which he had made) in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon, In * this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

* 2 Sam. 7. 10.

8 * Neither will I any more remove the foot of Iſrael from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers; ſo that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law, and the ſtatutes and the ordinances by the [b] hand of Moſes.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, and to do worſe then the heathen, whom the LORD had deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

c Meaning, By his prophets, but their hearts were not touched to believe and repent, without the which the preaching of the word taketh no place.

11 ¶ Wherefore the LORD brought upon them the captains of the hoſt † of the king of Aſſyria, which took Manaſſeh among the thorns, and bound him with ‡ fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

d Thus affliction giveth underſtanding, for he that hated God in his proſperity, now in his miſery he ſeeketh unto him.

12 And when he was in affliction, he beſought the LORD his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed unto him, and he was [d] entreated of him, and heard his ſupplication, and brought him again to Jeruſalem into his kingdom. Then Manaſſeh knew that the LORD he was God.

e Chap. 32. 30.

14 Now after this, he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt-ſide of [e] Gihon, in the valley, even to the entring in at the fiſh-gate, and compaſſed about ‡ [f] Ophel, and raiſed it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Judah.

g which Solomon had cauſed to be made.

16 And he [g] repaired the altar of the LORD, and ſacrificed thereon peace-offerings, and thank-offerings, and commanded Judah to ſerve the LORD God of Iſrael.

17 Nevertheleſs, the people did ſacrifice ſtill in the high places, yet unto the LORD their God [h] onely, h Thus by ignorance they were deceived, thinking it nothing to keep the altar, ſo that they worſhipped God: but it is idolatry to worſhip God any otherwiſe then he hath appointed. i Which albeit that it is not contained in the Hebrew, yet it is mentioned in the Greek.

18 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and his [i] prayer unto his God, and the words of the ſeers that ſpake to him in the name of the LORD God of Iſrael, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

19 His prayer alſo, and how God was entreated of him, and all his ſin, and his treſpaſs, and the places wherein he built high places, and ſet up groves and graven images before he was humbled: behold, they are written among the ſayings of ‡ the ſeers.

k Becauſe he had ſo horribly offended againſt the Lord, they did not bury him in the ſepulchres of the kings, but in the garden of the kings houſe.

21 ¶ * Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jeruſalem.

* 2 King. 21. 19, &c.

22 But he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as did Manaſſeh his father: for Amon ſacrificed unto all the carved images, which Manaſſeh his father had made, and ſerved them;

23 And humbled not himſelf before the LORD, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled himſelf; but Amon † treſpaſſed more and more.

† Heb. multiplied treſpaſs.

24 And his ſervants conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in his own houſe.

25 ¶ But the people of the land ſlew all them that had conſpired againſt king Amon, and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſon king in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Joſiah his good reign. 3 He deſtroyeth idolatry. 8 He taketh order for the repair of the temple. 14 Hilkiah having found a book of the law, Joſiah ſendeth to Huldah to enquire of the Lord. 23 Huldah propheſieth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, but reſpite thereof in Joſiahs time. 29 Joſiah cauſing it to be read in a ſolemn aſſembly, reneweth the covenant with God.

* 2 King. 22. 1, &c.

JOſiah * was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem one and thirty years.

a He followed David in all points that he followed the Lord. b When he was but ſixteen years old, he ſhewed himſelf zealous of Gods glory, and at twenty years old he aboliſhed idolatry, and reſtored the true religion.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of [a] David his father, and declined neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 ¶ For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet [b] young, he began to ſeek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year year he began * to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 * And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his [e] presence; and the ‡ images that were on high above them, he cut down, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and strowed it upon the † graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 And he burnt the [d] bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their ‡ mattocks, round about.

7 And when he had [e] broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images † into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governour of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high priest, they delivered the mony that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the doors, had gathered of the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and of all the remnant of Israel, and of all Judah, and Benjamin, and they returned to Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the LORD, to repair and mend the house:

11 Even to the artificers and builders gave they it, to buy hewn stone, and timber for couplings, and ‡ to floor the [f] houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work [g] faithfully: and the overseers of them were Jahath, and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to set it forward; and other of the Levites, all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service: and of the Levites there were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the mony that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest * found a [h] book of the law of the LORD, given † by Moses.

15 And Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan:

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the [i] king, and brought the king word back again, saying, All that was committed † to thy servants, they do it.

17 And they have † gathered together the mony that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest hath given me a book. And Shaphan read † it before the king.

19 And it came to pass when the king had heard the words of the law, that he [k] rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and ‡ Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the kings, saying,

21 Go, enquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Israel, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us, because our [l] fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvath, the son of ‡ Hasrah, keeper of the † [m] wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Ierusalem ‡ in the [n] colledge) and they spake to her to that effect.

23 ¶ And she answered them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Tell ye the [o] man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their [p] hands; therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the LORD, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning the words which thou hast heard, 27 Because thine heart was [q] tender, and thou didst humble thy self before God, when thou heardst his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy self before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the LORD.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this [r] place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. So they brought the king word again.

29 ¶ * Then the king sent, and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Ierusalem.

4 And prepare your selves by the * houses of your fathers, after your courses, according to the * writing of David king of Israel, and according to the * writing of Solomon his son.

5 And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of † the families of the fathers of your brethren † the people, and after the division of the families of the Levites.

6 So kill the pass-over, and sanctify your selves, and d prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the LORD, by the hand of Moses.

d Exhort every one to examine themselves, that they be not unmeet to eat of the pass-over.

¶ EZRA.

¶ EZRA.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS the Lord is ever merciful unto his church, and doth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their own miseries, and be exercised under the cross, that they may contemn the world and aspire unto the heavens: so after that he had visited the Jews and kept them now in bondage seventy years in a strange country among infidels and idolaters; he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his own sake raised them up a deliverer, and moved both the heart of the chief ruler to pity them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in servitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefits, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endevour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprices: yet by the exhortation of the prophets they went forward by little and little till their work was finished. The authour of this book was Ezra, who was priest, and scribe of the law, as chap. 7. 6. He returned to Jerusalem the sixt year of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fifty years after the return of the first under Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amiss, and set things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 The proclamation of Cyrus for the building of the temple. 5 The people provide for the return. 7 Cyrus restoreth the vessels of the temple to Sheshbazzar.

NOw in the [a] first year of Cyrus king of Persia, (that the word of the LORD * by the [b] mouth of Ieremiah, might be fulfilled) the LORD stirred up the [c] spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he † made a proclamatiom throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The LORD God of heaven hath given me [d] all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath * charged me to build him an house at Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel (he is the God) which is in Ierusalem.

4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place †[e] help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, & with beasts, besides the free-will-offering [f] for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

5 ¶ Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go up, to build the house of the LORD which is in Ierusalem.

6 And all [g] they that were about them, ‡ strengthned their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, * which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Ierusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods:

8 Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and numbred them unto * [h] Sheshbazzar the prince of Iudah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty [i] knives,

10 Thirty basons of gold, silver basons of a second sort four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and of silver, were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with [k] them of † the captivity, that were brought up from Babylon unto Ierusalem.

12 But many of the priests and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, g wept with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy:

g Because they saw that it was nothing so glorious as that temple which Solomon had built, notwithstanding Aggeus comforteth them, and prophesieth that it shall be more beautiful then the first, meaning the spiritual temple, which are the members of Christs body.

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

Chap. IV.

1 The adversaries being not accepted in the building of the temple with the Jews, endeavour to hinder it. 7 Their letter to Artaxerxes. 17 The decree of Artaxerxes. 23 The building is hindred.

NOW when the a adversaries of Judah and Benjamin, heard that † the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Israel:

a Meaning, The inhabitants of Samaria, whom the king of Assyria had placed in the stead of the ten tribes. 2 Kings 17. 24. & 19. 17. These professed God, but worshipped idols also, and therefore were the greatest enemies to the true servants of God.
† Heb. the sons of the transmigration.

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you; for we seek your God, as ye do, and we do sacrifice unto him, since the days of Esar-haddon king of Assur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel, said unto them, b You have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God, but we our selves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

b For they perceived what their pretence was, to wit, To erect idolatry in stead of true religion.

4 Then the people of the land weakned the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,

5 And c hired counsellers against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

c They hired the governours under the king to hinder their work, thus they that halt, cannot abide that God should be purely served.

6 And in the reign of † d Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

d He was also called Artaxerxes, which is a Persian name: some think it was Cambyses Cyrus son, or, Darius, as vers. 5.

7 ¶ And in the days of e Artaxerxes wrote ‡ Bishlam, Mithridath, Tabeel, and the rest of their † companions unto Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.

e Called Artaxerxes, which signifieth in the Persian tongue, an excellent warriour.
‡ Or, in peace.
† Heb. societas.

8 Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the ‡ scribe, wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, in this sort:

‡ Or, secretary.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their † companions; the f Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites,

f These were certain people, which the Assyrians placed in Samaria, in stead of the ten tribes.

10 And

10 And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble [g] Asnapper brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the [h] river, and [i] at such a time.

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the king, Thy servants the men on this side the river, and at such a time.

12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jerusalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ‡ set up the walls thereof, and † joyned the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this city be builded, and the walls set up again, then will they not † pay toll, tribute, and [k] custom, and so thou shalt endamage the ‡ revenue of the kings.

14 Now because † we have maintenance from the kings palace, and it was not meet for us to see the kings dishonour: therefore have we sent and certified the king,

15 That search may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: so shalt thou find in the book of the records, and know, that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have † moved sedition † within the same of old time: for which cause was this city destroyed.

16 We certify the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up, by this means thou shalt have no portion on this side the river.

17 ¶ Then sent the king an answer unto Rehum the chancellour, and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their † companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the rest beyond the river, [l] Peace, [m] and at such a time.

18 The letter which ye sent unto us, hath been plainly read before me.

19 And † I commanded, and search hath been made, and it is found, that this city of old time hath † made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made therein.

20 There have been mighty kings also over Jerusalem, which have ruled over all countrys beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and custom was paid unto them.

21 † Give ye now commandment, to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not builded, until another commandment shall be given from me.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why should damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

23 ¶ Now when the copy of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, & their companions, they went up in haste to Jerusalem, unto the Jews, and made them to cease † by force and power.

24 Then [n] ceased the work of the house of God, which is at Jerusalem. So it ceased unto the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

[g] Some think it was Sennacherib, but rather Salmanasar.
[h] To wit, Euphrates, and he meaneth in respect of Babel that they dwelt beyond it.
[i] In Chaldee, Cheeth: some think they were a certain people that envied the Jews.

CHAP. V.

1 Zerubbabel and Jeshua, incited by Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the building of the temple. 3 Tatnai and Shethar-boznai could not hinder the Jews. 6 Their letter to Darius against the Jews.

THen the prophets, * Haggai the prophet, and * Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied unto the Jews that were in Iudah and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, even unto them. * Hag. 1. 1. * Zech. 1. 1.

2 Then rose up Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the son of Iozadak, and began to build the house of God, which is at Ierusalem: and with them were the prophets of God [a] helping them.

a which incouraged them to go forward, and accused them that they were more careful to build their own houses, then zealous to build the temple of God.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, governour on this side the river, and Shethar-boznai, and their companions, and said thus unto them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make up this wall?

4 [b] Then said we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men † that make this building?

b That is, The enemies asked this, as vers. 10.

5 But the [c] eye of their God was upon the elders of the Iews, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they returned answer by letter concerning this matter.

c His favour and the spirit of strength.

6 ¶ The copy of the letter that Tatnai, governour on this side the river, and Shethar-boznai, and his companions the Apharsachites, which were on this side the river, sent unto Darius the king:

7 They sent a letter unto him, † wherein was written thus; Unto Darius the king, all peace.

† Chald. in the midst whereof.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with † great stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth fast on, and prospereth in their hands.

† Chald. stones of rolling.

9 Then asked we those elders, and said unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this house, and to make up these walls?

10 We asked their names also, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us answer, saying, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was builded these many years ago, which a [d] great king of Israel builded, * and set up.

d To wit, Solomon.
* 1 King. 6. 1.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of * Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon the Chaldean, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babylon.

* 2 King. 24. 2, & 25. 8.

13 But in the [e] first year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, the same king Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

e Chap. 1. 1.

14 And * the vessels also of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one, whose name was [f] Sheshbazzar, whom he had made ‡ governour:

* Chap. 1. 7, 8, & 6. 5.

f Chap. 1. 8.

‡ Or, deputy.

15 And said unto him, Take these vessels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem. And since that time even until now, hath it been in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the kings treasure-house, which is there at Babylon, whether it be so that a decree was made of Cyrus the king, to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

[g] Meaning, In the library, or, places where lay the registers, or records of times.

CHAP. VI.

1 Darius finding the decree of Cyrus, maketh a new decree for the advancement of the building. 13 By the help of the enemies, and the directions of the prophets, the temple is finished. 16 The feast of the dedication is kept, 19 and the pass-over.

THen Darius the king made a decree, and search was made in the house of the †rolls, where the treasures were † laid up in Babylon.

† Chald. books.

† Chald made to descend.

2 And there was found at ‡ [a] Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

‡ Or, Ecbatana, or, in a coffer.

a wherein were the acts of the kings of Medes and Persians.

3 In the first year of Cyrus the king, the same Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem, Let the house be builded, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be strongly laid, the height thereof threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof threescore cubits:

4 With three rows of great stones, and a row of new timber: and let the expenses be given out of the kings house.

5 And also let the golden and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored, and † [b] brought again unto the temple which is at Ierusalem, every one to his place, and place them in the house of God.

† Chald go.

b Meaning, By Zerubbabel, to whom he giveth charge.

6 Now therefore Tatnai, governour beyond the river, Shethar-boznai, and † your companions the Apharsachites, which are beyond the river, [c] be ye far from thence:

c Meddle not with them, neither hinder them.

7 Let the work of this house of God alone, let the governour of the Iews, and the elders of the Iews, build this house of God in his place.

8 Moreover, †I make a decree, what ye shall do to the elders of these Iews, for the building of this house of God: that of the kings goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences be given unto these men, that they be not † [d] hindred.

† Chald. by me a decree is made.

† Chald. made to cease.

d For lack of mony.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt-offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oyl, according to the appointment of the priests which are at Ierusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer sacrifices † of sweet savours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his sons.

† Chald. of rest.

11 Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house, and being set up, † let him be hanged thereon, and let his house be made a dunghil for this.

† Chald. let him be destroyed.

12 And the God that hath caused his name to [e] dwell there, destroy all kings and people that shall put to their hand, to alter and to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem: I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speed.

e who hath appointed that place to have his name called upon there.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai, governour on this side the river, Shethar-boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had sent, so they did speedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of [f] Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo; and they builded, and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the † commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

f whom God stirred up, to assure them that he would give them work good success.

† Chald. decree.

15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month [g] Adar, which was in the [h] sixt year of the reign of Darius the king.

g That is, The twelfth month, and containeth part of February and part of March.

h And the two and fourtieth after their first return.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and the rest of † the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy, † Chald. the sons of the transportation.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin-offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem; † * as it is written in the book of Moses.

† Chald. according to the writing.

* Num. 3. 6, & 8. 9.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the pass-over, upon the fourteenth day of the first month.

20 For the priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the pass-over for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

21 And the children of Israel, which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had [i] separated themselves unto them from the filthiness of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD God of Israel, did eat, i which were of the heathen, and forsook their idolatry to worship the true God.

22 And kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with joy: for the LORD had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of [k] Assyria unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

k Meaning, Darius who was king of the Medes, Persians, and Assyrians.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ezra goeth up to Jerusalem. 11 The gracious commission of Artaxerxes to Ezra. 27 Ezra blesseth God for his favour.

NOw after these things, in the reign of [a] Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah,

2 The son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub,

3 The son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth,

4 The son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki,

5 The son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of [b] Aaron the chief priest:

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon, and he was a ready [c] scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given: and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

7 And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the [d] fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the [e] king.

9 For upon the first day of the first month † began he to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month, came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his statutes to Israel.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, ‡ Unto Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at [f] such a time.

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Israel, and of his priests, and [g] Levites in my realm, which are minded of their own free will to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee.

14 Forasmuch as thou art sent † of the king, and of his * seven counsellers, to [h] enquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine [i] hand:

15 And to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counsellers have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem,

16 * And all the silver and gold that thou canst find in all the province of Babylon, with the free-will-offering of the people, and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God, which is in Jerusalem:

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this mony, bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the house of your [k] God which is in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever shall seem good to thee and to thy brethren, to do with the rest of the silver and gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The vessels also that are given thee, for the service of the house of thy God, those deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem.

20 And whatsoever more shall be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the kings treasure-house.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the [l] river, that whatsoever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily;

22 Unto an hundred talents of silver, and to an hundred † measures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred [m] baths of oyl, and salt without prescribing how much.

23 † Whatsoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done, for the house of the God of heaven: for why should there be wrath against the [n] realm of the king and his sons?

24 Also we certify you, that touching any of the priests and Levites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose toll, tribute, or custom upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, [o] set magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whosoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or † to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 ¶ [p] Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers, which hath put such a thing as this in the kings heart, to beautify the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me, before the king, and his counsellers, and before all the kings mighty princes: & I was strengthned as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel, chief men to go up with me.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The companions of Ezra, who returned from Babylon. 15 He sendeth to Iddo for ministers for the temple. 21 He keepeth a fast. 24 He committeth the treasures to the custody of the priests. 31 From Ahava they come to Jerusalem. 33 The treasure is weighed in the temple. 36 The commission is delivered.

THese are now the chief of their fathers, and this is the genealogy of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king.

17 And I ſent them with commandment unto Iddo the [d] chief, at the place Caſiphia, & † I told them what they ſhould ſay unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Caſiphia, that they ſhould bring unto us miniſters for the houſe of our God.

20 Alſo of the [e] Nethinims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the ſervice of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expreſſed by name.

[e] chap. 2. 43.

21 ¶ Then I proclaimed a faſt there, at the river Ahava, that we might [f] afflict our ſelves before our God, to ſeek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our ſubſtance.

[f] He ſhewed, that the end of faſting is to humble the body to the ſpirit, which muſt proceed of the heart lively touched, or elſe it is but hypocriſy.

22 For I was [g] aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſouldiers and horſ-men, to help us againſt the enemy in the way: becauſe we had ſpoken unto the king, ſaying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good, that ſeek him, but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

[g] He thought it better to commit himſelf to the protection of God, then by ſeeking theſe ordinary means, to give an occaſion to others to think that he did doubt of Gods power.

23 So we faſted and beſought our God for this, and he was entreated of us.

24 ¶ Then I ſeparated twelve of the chief of the prieſts; Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, even the offering of the houſe of our God, which the king, and his counſellers, and his lords, and all Iſrael there preſent, had offered.

26 I even weighed unto their hand, ſix hundred and fifty [h] talents of ſilver, and ſilver veſſels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents:

[h] 1 King. 9. 14.

27 Alſo twenty baſons of gold, of a thouſand [i] drams, and two veſſels of † fine copper, † precious as gold.

[i] Chap. 2. 69.

† Heb. yellow, or, ſhining braſs.

28 And I ſaid unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD, the veſſels are holy alſo, and the ſilver, and the gold are a free-will-offering unto the LORD God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the prieſts, and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Iſrael at Jeruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of the LORD.

30 So took the prieſts and the Levites, the weight of the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, to bring them to Jeruſalem unto the houſe of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava, on the twelfth day of the firſt month, to go unto Jeruſalem; and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of ſuch as lay in [k] wait by the way.

[k] This declared that their journy was full of danger, and yet God delivered them according to their prayer.

32 And we came to Jeruſalem, and abode there three days.

33 ¶ Now on the fourth day was the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels weighed in the houſe of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the ſon of Uriah the prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſon of Pinehas, and with them was Jozabad the ſon of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the ſon of Binnui, [l] Levites:

[l] This was a token of a good conſcience, and of his integrity, that he would have witneſſes of his fidelity.

34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Alſo the children of thoſe that had been carried away which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Iſrael, twelve bullocks for all Iſrael, ninety and ſix rams, ſeventy and ſeven lambs, twelve twelve he-goats for a ſin-offering: all this was a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

36 ¶ And they delivered the kings commiſſions unto the kings lieutenants, and to the governours on this ſide the river, and they furthered the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra mourneth for the affinity of the people with ſtrangers. 5 He prayeth unto God with confeſſion of ſins.

NOw when theſe things were done, the princes came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſts, and the Levites have not [a] ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

[a] From the time they came home under Zerubbabel until the coming of Ezra, they had degenerated contrary to the law of God and married where it was not lawful. Deut. 7. 3.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themſelves, and for their ſons: ſo that the holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands: yea, the hand of the [b] princes and rulers hath been chief in this treſpaſs.

[b] Heb. is, The governours are the chief beginners thereof.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and pluckt off the hair of my head, and of my beard, and ſat down [c] aſtonied.

[c] As one doubting whether God would continue his benefits towards us, or elſe deſtroy this which he had begun.

4 Then were aſſembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of thoſe that had been carried away, and I ſat aſtonied until the evening ſacrifice.

5 ¶ And at the evening ſacrifice, I aroſe up from my ‡ heavineſs, and having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and ſpread out my hands unto the LORD my God,

‡ Or, affliction.

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am aſhamed and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increaſed over our [d] head, and our ‡ treſpaſs is grown up unto the [e] heavens.

[d] That is, we are drowned in ſin.
‡ Or, guiltineſs.
[e] Have ſo exceed that they cannot grow greater.

7 Since the days of our fathers, have we been in a great treſpaſs unto this day, and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our prieſts, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the ſword, to captivity, and to a ſpoil, and to confuſion of face, as it is this day.

† Heb. moment.

8 And now for a † little ſpace grace hath been ſhewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us ‡ a [f] nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

‡ Or, a pin. That is, conſtant and ſure abode.
[f] In giving us a reſting place. It is a ſimilitude taken of them that remain ſtill in a place, which fmite nails to hang things upon, Iſai. 22. 23.

9 For we were bond-men, yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the ſight of the kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving to ſet up the houſe of our God, and † to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem.

† Heb. to ſet up.

10 And now, O our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? for we have forſaken thy commandments,

389

11 Which thou haſt commanded † by thy ſervants the prophets, ſaying, The land unto which ye go to poſſeſs it, is an unclean land with the filthineſs of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it † from one end to another, with their uncleanneſs.

† Heb. by the hand of thy ſervants.

† Heb. from mouth to mouth.

12 Now therefore * give not your daughters unto their ſons, neither take their daughters unto your ſons, nor ſeek their peace, or their wealth for ever: that ye may be ſtrong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

* Exod. 23. 32. Deut. 7. 3.

13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great treſpaſs, ſeeing that thou our God † haſt puniſhed us leſs then our [g] iniquities deſerve, and haſt given us ſuch deliverance as this:

† Heb. haſt withheld beneath our iniquities.
[g] Haſt not utterly caſt us down and deſtroyed us for our ſins, Deut. 28. 13.

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and joyn in affinity with the people of theſe abominations? wouldeſt not thou be angry with us till thou hadſt conſumed us, ſo that there ſhould be no remnant nor eſcaping?

15 O LORD God of Iſrael, thou art righteous, for we [h] remain yet eſcaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our treſpaſſes: for we cannot ſtand before thee, becauſe of this.

[h] He ſheweth, that God is juſt in puniſhing his people, and yet merciful in reſerving a reſidue to whom he ſheweth favour.

CHAP. X.

1 Shechaniah encourageth Ezra to reform the ſtrange marriages. 6 Ezra mourning, aſſembleth the people. 9 The people at the exhortation of Ezra, repent and promiſe amendment. 15 The care to perform it. 18 The names of them which had married ſtrange wives.

NOw when Ezra had prayed, and when he had [a] confeſſed, weeping and caſting himſelf down before the houſe of God, there aſſembled unto him out of Iſrael, a very great congregation of men, and women, and children: for the people † wept very ſore.

[a] He confeſſed his ſins, and the ſins of the people.

2 And Shechaniah the ſon of Jehiel, one of the ſons of Elam, anſwered and ſaid unto Ezra, We have treſpaſſed againſt our God, and have taken ſtrange wives, of the people of the land: yet now there is [b] hope in Iſrael concerning this thing.

[b] Meaning, That God would receive them to mercy.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God, † to put away all the [c] wives, and ſuch as are born of them according to the counſel of my lord, and of thoſe that tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the law.

† Heb. to bring forth.
[c] which are ſtrangers and married contrary to the law of God.

4 Ariſe: for this matter belongeth unto [d] thee; we alſo will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

[d] Becauſe God hath given thee authority, and learning to perſwade the people therein, and to command them.

5 Then aroſe Ezra, and made the chief prieſts, the Levites, and all Iſrael to ſwear, that they ſhould do according to this word: And they ſware.

6 ¶ Then Ezra roſe up from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib: and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned becauſe of the tranſ-greſſion of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem, unto all the children of the captivity, that they ſhould gather themſelves together unto Jeruſalem;

8 And that whoſoever would not come within three days, according to the counſel of the princes and the elders, all his ſubſtance ſhould be † forfeited, and himſelf ſeparated from the congregation of thoſe that had been carried away.

† Heb. devoted.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin, gathered themſelves together unto Jeruſalem, within three days: it was the [e] ninth month, and the twentieth day of the month, and all the people ſat in the ſtreet of the houſe of God, trembling becauſe of this matter, and for † the great [f] rain.

e which contained part of November and part of December.

† Heb. the ſhowrs
f For the ſeaſon was given to rain, and ſo the weather was more ſharp and cold and alſo their conſcience touched them.

10 And Ezra the prieſt ſtood up, and ſaid unto them, Ye have tranſgreſſed, and † have taken ſtrange wives to [g] increaſe the treſpaſs of Iſrael.

† Heb. have cauſed to dwell, or, have brought back.
g Ye have laid one ſin upon another.

11 Now therefore make [h] confeſſion unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleaſure: and ſeparate your ſelves from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wives.

h Joſh. 7. 19.

12 Then all the congregation anſwered, and ſaid with a loud voice, As thou haſt ſaid, ſo muſt we do.

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to ſtand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for ‡ we are many that have tranſgreſſed in this thing.

‡ Or, we have greatly offended in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation [i] ſtand, and let all them which have taken ſtrange wives in our cities, come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God ‡ for this matter, be turned from us.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

‡ Or, till this matter be diſpatched.

15 ¶ Onely Jonathan the ſon of Aſahel, and Jahaziah the ſon of Tikvah, † were employed about this matter: and Meſhullam, and Shabbethai the Levite helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did [k] ſo: and Ezra the prieſt, with certain chief of the fathers, after the houſe of their fathers, and all of them by their names were ſeparated, and ſat down in the firſt day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

k They went to the chief cities to ſit on this matter which was three months in finiſhing.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken ſtrange wives, by the firſt day of the firſt month.

18 ¶ And among the ſons of the prieſts, there were found that had taken ſtrange wives: namely, of the ſons of Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaſeiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their [l] hands, that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their treſpaſs.

l As a token that they would keep promiſe and do it.

20 And of the ſons of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the ſons of Harim; Maaſeiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 And of the ſons of Paſhur; Elioenai, Maaſeiah, Iſhmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elaſah.

23 Alſo of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah, (the ſame is Kelita) Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

24 Of the ſingers alſo; Eliaſhib: and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 Moreover, of [m] Iſrael: of the ſons of Paroſh; Ramiah, and Jeſiah, and Malchiah, and Miamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

m Meaning, Of the common people: for before he ſpake of the prieſts and Levites.

26 And of the ſons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jerimoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the ſons of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the ſons alſo of Bebai; Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

29 And of the ſons of Bani; Meſhullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Iaſhub, and Sheal, and Ramoth.

30 And of the ſons of Pahath-moab; Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaſeiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manaſſeh.

31 And of the ſons of Harim; Eliezer, Iſhijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah.

33 Of the ſons of Haſhum; Mattenai, Mattatha, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manaſſeh, and Shimei.

34 Of the ſons of Bani; Maadai, Amram, and Uel,

35 Benaiah, Bedaiah, Chelluh,

36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliaſhib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaaſau,

38 And Bani, and Binnui, Shimei,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, & Adaiah,

40 ‡ Machnadebai, Shaſhai, Sharai,

‡ Or, Mahnadebai, according to ſome copies.

41 Azareel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah, 42 Shallum, Amariah, and Joſeph.

43 Of the ſons of Nebo; Jehiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadau, and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wives: and ſome of them had wives by whom they had [n] children.

n which alſo were made illegitimate becauſe the marriage was unlawful.

¶ THE

¶ THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOd doth in all ages and at all times ſet up worthy perſons for the commodity and profit of his church; as now within the compaſs of ſeventy years he raiſed up divers excellent men for the preſervation of his people, after their return from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah; Whereof the Firſt was their captain to bring them home, and provided that the temple was builded: The Second reformed their manners and planted Religion: And the Third builded up the walls, delivered the people from oppreſſion, and provided that the law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man, and in great authority with the king, ſo that the king favoured him greatly, and gave him moſt ample letters for the accompliſhment of all things which he could deſire. This book is alſo called of the Latines the ſecond book of Ezra, becauſe he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah underſtanding by Hanani, the miſery of Jeruſalem, mourneth, faſteth and prayeth. 5 His prayer.

THE words of Nehemiah the ſon of Hachaliah. And it came to paſs in the month [a] Chiſleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shuſhan the palace, a which containeth part of November, and part of December, and was their ninth month

2 That Hanani, one of my [b] brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah, and I aſked them concerning the Jews that had eſcaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jeruſalem.

b A Jew, as I was.

3 And they ſaid unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the [c] province, are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jeruſalem alſo * is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

c Meaning, in Judah.

* 2 King 25. 10.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs when I heard theſe words, that I ſat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

* Dan. 9. 4.

5 And ſaid, I beſeech thee, * O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and obſerve his commandments:

6 Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayeſt hear the prayer of thy ſervant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſervants, and confeſs the ſins of the children of Iſrael, which we have ſinned againſt thee: both I, and my fathers houſe have ſinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly againſt thee, and have not kept the commandments nor the ſtatutes nor the judgments which thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes.

8 Remember, I beſeech thee, the word that thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes, ſaying,

* Deut. 4. 25, &c.

* If ye tranſgreſs, I will ſcatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; * though there were of you caſt out unto the uttermoſt part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have choſen to ſet my name there.

* Deut. 30. 4.

10 Now theſe are thy ſervants, and thy people, whom thou haſt redeemed by thy great power, and by thy ſtrong hand.

11 O LORD, I beſeech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to the prayer of thy ſervants, who deſire to [d] fear thy name: and proſper, I pray thee, thy ſervant this day, and grant him mercy in the ſight of [e] this man. For I was the kings cup-bearer.

d That is, To worſhip thee.

e To wit, The king Artaxerxes.

CHAP. II.

1 Artaxerxes underſtanding the cauſe of Nehemiahs ſadneſs, ſendeth him with letters and commiſſion to Jeruſalem. 9 Nehemiah, to the grief of the enemies, cometh to Jeruſalem. 12 He vieweth ſecretly the ruines of the walls. 17 He inciteth the Jews to build in deſpite of the enemies.

AND it came to paſs in the month [a] Niſan, in the twentieth year of [b] Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been before-time ſad in his preſence.

a which was the firſt month of the year, and containeth part of March, and part of April.

b who is alſo called Darius, Ezra 4. 7. and was the ſon of Hyſtaſpes.

2 Wherefore the king ſaid unto me, Why is thy countenance ſad, ſeeing thou art not ſick? this is nothing elſe but ſorrow of heart. Then I was very ſore afraid,

3 And ſaid unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, when the city, the place of my fathers ſepulchres, lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 Then the king ſaid unto me, For what doſt thou make requeſt? So I [c] prayed to the God of heaven.

c I deſired God in mine heart to proſper mine enterprice.

5 And I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſervant have found favour in thy ſight, that thou wouldeſt ſend me unto Judah unto the city of my fathers ſepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king ſaid unto me, (the † queen alſo ſitting by him) For how long ſhall thy journy be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleaſed the king to ſend me, and I ſet him a time.

† Heb. wife.

7 More-

7 Moreover, I said unto the king, If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governours beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the kings forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king granted me, according to the [d] good hand of my God upon me.

d As God moved me to ask, and as he gave me good success therein.

9 ¶ Then I came to the governours beyond the river, and gave them the kings letters. (Now the king had sent captains of the army, and hors-men with me)

10 When [e] Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

e These were great enemies to the Jews, and laboured always both by force and subtility to overcome them, and Tobiah, because his wife was a Jewess, had advertisement ever of their affairs, & so wrought them great trouble.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.

12 ¶ And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me, neither told I any man what my God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem: neither was there any beast with me, save the beast that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon-well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were consumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the kings pool: but there was no place for the beast that was under me to pass.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entred by the gate of the valley, and so returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work.

17 ¶ Then said I unto them, Ye see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a [f] reproach.

f That is, Contemned of other nations, as though God had forsaken us.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as also the kings words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let us rise up & build. So they [g] strengthned their hands for this good work.

g They were incouraged, & gave themselves to do well, and to travail in this worthy enterprise.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, and [h] Geshem the Arabian heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye [i] rebel against the king?

h These were three chief governours under the king of Persia beyond Euphrates.

i Thus the wicked when they will burden the children of God, ever lay treason unto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of princes most against them.

20 Then answered I them, and said unto them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but you have no portion, nor right, nor [k] memorial in Jerusalem.

k Neither are ye of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this city onely) neither did any of your predecessours ever fear God.

Chap. III.

The names and order of them that builded the wall.

THen Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they built the sheep-gate, they [a] sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even unto the towr of Meah they sanctified it, unto the towr of * Hananeel.

a That is, They finished it, and so dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in desiring him to maintain it.

* Jer. 31. 38.

2 And † next unto him builded the men of Jericho: and next to them builded Zaccur the son of Imri.

3 But the fish-gate did the sons of Hassenaah build, who also laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Koz: and next unto them repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabeel: and next unto them repaired Zadok the son of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their [b] nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

b The rich and mighty would not obey them, which were appointed officers in this work, neither would they help thereunto.

6 Moreover, the old gate repaired Jehoiada the son of Paseah, and Meshullam the son of Besodaiah; they layd the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the [c] throne of the governour on this side the river.

c Unto the place where the duke was wont to sit in judgment, who governed the country in their absence.

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths: next unto him also repaired Hananiah, the son of one of the apothecaries, and they ‡ fortified Jerusalem unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, even over against his house: and next unto him repaired Hattush the son of Hashabniah.

11 Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hashub the son of Pahath-moab, repaired the † other piece, and the towr of the furnaces.

† Heb. second measure.

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum the son of Haloheshh, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley-gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thousand cubits on the wall unto the dung-gate.

14 But the dung-gate repaired Malchiah the son of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-haccerem: he built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallun the son of Col-hozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah: he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of 19 And next to him repaired Ezer the ſon of Jeſhua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over againſt the going up to the [d] armoury at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the ſon of ‡ Zabbai, earneſtly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib the high prieſt.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the ſon of Urijah, the ſon of Koz, another piece, from the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib, even to the end of the houſe of Eliaſhib.

22 And after him repaired the prieſts, the men of the [e] plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin, and Haſhub, over againſt their houſe: after him repaired Azariah the ſon of Maaſeiah, the ſon of Ananiah, by his houſe.

24 After him repaired Binnui the ſon of Henadad, another piece, from the houſe of Azariah, unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the ſon of Uzai, over againſt the turning of the wall, and the towr which lieth out from the kings high houſe, that was by the * court of the priſon: after him, Pedaiah the ſon of Paroſh.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another piece, over againſt the great towr that lieth out, even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the hors-gate repaired the prieſts, every one over againſt his houſe.

29 After them repaired Zadok the ſon of Immer, over againſt his houſe: after him repaired alſo Shemaiah, the ſon of Shechaniah, the keeper of the eaſt-gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the ſon of Shelemiah, and Hanun the [g] ſixth ſon of Zalaph, another piece: after him repaired Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah, over againſt his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchiah, the goldſmiths ſon, unto the place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, over againſt the gate [h] Miphkad, and to the ‡ going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the ſheep-gate, repaired the goldſmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IV.

1 While the enemies ſcoff, Nehemiah prayeth and continueth the work. 7 Underſtanding the wrath and ſecrets of the enemy, he ſetteth a watch. 13 He armeth the labourers, 19 and giveth military precepts.

BUt it came to paſs, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he ſpake before his [a] brethren and the army of Samaria, and ſaid, What do theſe [b] feeble Jews? will they † fortify themſelves? will they ſacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the ſtones out of the heaps of the rubbiſh, which are burnt?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he ſaid, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he ſhall even break down their ſtone-wall.

4 [c] Hear, O our God, for we are † deſpiſed: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a [d] prey in the land of captivity:

5 And cover not their [e] iniquity, and let not their ſin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joyned together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 ¶ But it came to paſs that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Aſhdodites, heard that the walls of Jeruſalem † were made up, and that the breaches began to be ſtopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conſpired all of them together, to come and to fight againſt Jeruſalem, and † to hinder it.

9 Neverthleſs, we made our prayer unto our God, and ſet a watch againſt them day and night, becauſe of them.

10 And Judah ſaid, The ſtrength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbiſh, ſo that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adverſaries ſaid, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come in the midſt among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the work to ceaſe.

12 And it came to paſs that when the Jews which dwelt by them, came, they ſaid unto us [f] ten times, ‡ [g] From all places, whence ye ſhall return unto us, they will be upon you.

13 ¶ Therefore ſet I † in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even ſet the people after their families with their ſwords, their ſpears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and roſe up and ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: [h] remember the LORD which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your ſons and your daughters, your wives and your houſes.

15 And it came to paſs when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought a Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

b Thus the wicked, that conſider not that Gods power is ever in a readineſs for the defence of his, mock them, as though they were weak and feeble.

† Heb. leave to themſelves.

c This is the remedy that the children of God have againſt the deriſion & threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

d Let them be ſpoiled and led away captive.

e Let thy plagues declare to the world that they ſet themſelves againſt thee, and againſt thy church: thus he prayeth onely having reſpect to Gods glory, and not for any private affection or grudge.

† Heb. aſcended.

† Heb. to make an errour to it.

f That is, oftentimes.

‡ Or, That from all places ye muſt return to us.

† Heb from the lower parts of the place, &c.

h who is ever at hand to deliver his out of danger, and therfore ſeeing they ſhould fight for the maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preſervation of their own lives, & of others, he encourageth them to play the valiant men.

brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to pass from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were [i] behind all the house of Judah.

[i] To oversee them, and to encourage them to their work.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his sword girded † by his side, and so builded: and he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 ¶ And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, [k] resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

[k] Meaning, To resist their enemies, if need required.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears, from the rising of the morning, till the stars appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

‡ Or, every one went with his weapon for water. ‖ That is, when they purified themselves, or else when they washed their clothes.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, ‡ saving that every one put them off for ‖ washing.

Chap. V.

1 Jews complain of their debt, morgage, and bondage. 6 Nehemiah rebuketh the usurers, and causeth them to make a covenant of restitution. 14 He forbeareth his own allowance, and keepeth hospitality.

AND there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives, [a] against their brethren the Jews.

[a] Against the rich, which oppressed them.

2 For there were that said, We, our sons, and our daughters are many: therefore we take up [b] corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

[b] This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremity they were brought unto.

3 Some also there were that said, We have morgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed mony for the kings [c] tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

[c] To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted yearly of us.

5 Yet now our flesh is as the [d] flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters, to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already, neither is it in our [e] power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

[d] By nature the rich is no better then the poor.

[e] we are not able to redeem them, but for poverty are constrained to hire them to others.

6 ¶ And I was very angry when I heard their cry, and these words.

† Heb. my heart consulted in me.

7 Then † I consulted with my self, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, You exact [f] usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great [g] assembly against them.

[f] You press them with usury, and seek how to bring all things into your hands.

[g] Both because they should be moved with pity, seeing how many were by them oppressed, and also hear the judgment of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren.

8 And I said unto them, We, after our ability, have * redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will you even sell your brethren? or shall they be [h] sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to answer.

* Levit. 25. 48.

[h] Seeing God hath once delivered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

9 Also [i] I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the [k] reproach of the heathen our enemies?

[i] Meaning, Nehemiah.

[k] who by this occasion will blaspheme the name of God, seeing that our acts are no better then theirs.

10 I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them mony and corn: I pray you let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the mony, and of the corn, the wine, and the oyl, that ye [l] exact of them.

[l] which ye take of them for the lone.

12 Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and † emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

† Heb. empty, or, void.

14 ¶ Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governour in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year, even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the [m] bread of the governour.

15 But the former governours that had been before me, were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside fourty shekels of silver, yea even their servants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the fear of God.

16 Yea, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, besides those that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily, was one ox, and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days, [n] store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governour, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

[n] whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

19 * Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

Chap. VI.

1 Sanballat practiseth by craft, by rumours, by hired prophecies, to terrify Nehemiah. 15 The work is finished to the terrour of the enemies. 17 Secret intelligence passeth between the enemies and the nobles of Judah.

NOw it came to pass, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the the reſt of our enemies heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no a That is, That they were joyned together, as Chap. 4. 6. [a] breach left therein; (though at that time I had not ſet up the doors upon the gates)

2 That Sanballat, and Geſhem ſent unto me, ſaying, Come, let us meet together in ſome one of the villages in the plain of Ono: but they thought to do me miſchief.

3 And I ſent meſſengers unto them, ſaying, I am doing a great work, ſo that I cannot come b Meaning, That if he ſhould obey their requeſt, the work, which God had appointed, ſhould ceaſe: ſuſpecting hereby, that we ſhould not commit our ſelves to the hands of the wicked. down: [b] why ſhould the work ceaſe, whileſt I leave it and come down to you?

4 Yet they ſent unto me four times after this ſort; and I anſwered them after the ſame manner.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſervant unto me, in like manner, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand:

6 Wherein was written; It is reported among the heathen, and ‡Gaſhmu ſaith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cauſe thou buildeſt the wall, that thou mayſt be their king, according to theſe [c] words.

‡ Or, Giſhem, verſ. 2.

c At the ſame ſeaſon.

7 And thou haſt alſo appointed [d] prophets to preach of thee at Jeruſalem, ſaying, There is a king in Judah: and now ſhall it be reported to the king, according to theſe words. Come now therefore, and let us take counſel together.

d Thou haſt bribed, and ſet up thoſe prophets to make thy ſelf king, and ſo to deſtroy the king of Iſrael of that religion, which is one unto both.

8 Then I ſent unto him, ſaying, There are no ſuch things done as thou ſayeſt, but thou feigneſt them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, ſaying, Their hands ſhall be weakned from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, ſtrengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah the ſon of Delaiah, the ſon of Mehetabeel, who was [e] ſhut up; and he ſaid, Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, and let us ſhut the doors of the temple; for they will come to ſlay thee, yea in the night will they come to ſlay thee.

e As though he would be ſecret, to the intent that he might pray unto God with greater liberty, and without ſtay to ſtore ſeveral things, which in time is but hy-pocriſy.

11 And I ſaid, [f] Should ſuch a man as I flee? and who is there that being as I am, would go into the temple to ſave his life? I will not go in.

f He doubted not but God was able to preſerve him, and knew that if he had obeyed his counſel, he would have diſcouraged all the people: thus God giveth power to his to reſiſt falſe prophecies, though they ſeem to have never ſo great probability.

12 And lo, I perceived that God had not ſent him, but that he pronounced this prophecy againſt me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

g Very grief cauſed him to pray againſt ſuch, which under the pretence of doing the miniſters of God, were adverſaries to his glory, and went about to overthrow his church, declaring alſo hereby that where there is one true miniſter of God, the devil hath a great ſort of miniſters.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat, according to theſe their works, and on the [g] propheteſs Noadiah, and the reſt of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 ¶ So the wall was finiſhed, in the twenty and fifth day of the month [h] Elul, in [i] fifty and two days.

h Which was the ſixt month, and contained part of Auguſt, and part of September.

i After that I had ſent Sanballat his anſwer.

16 And it came to paſs that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us ſaw theſe things, they were much caſt down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 ¶ Moreover, in thoſe days the nobles of Judah † ſent many [k] letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

† Heb multiplied their letters paſſing to Tobiah.

18 For there were many in Judah ſworn unto him, becauſe he was the ſon in law of Shechaniah the ſon of Arah; and his ſon Johanan had taken the daughter of Meſhullam, the ſon of Berechiah.

k Thus the church of God hath evermore enemies within it ſelf, which are more dangerous then the outward and profeſſed enemy.

19 Alſo they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my ‡ words to him: and Tobiah ſent letters to put me in fear.

‡ Or, matters.

† Heb. from the light. that was before the water-gate, † from the morning until [c] mid-day, before the men and the women, and thoſe that could underſtand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

c This declareth the great zeal that the people had to hear the word of God.

† Heb. tower of wood. 4 And Ezra the ſcribe ſtood upon a † pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpoſe, and beſide him ſtood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaſeiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Miſhael, and Malchiah, and Haſhum, and Haſhbadana, Zechariah, and Meſhullam.

† Heb. eyes. 5 And Ezra opened the book in the † ſight of all the people, (for he was [d] above all the people) and when he opened it, all the people ſtood up:

d To the intent that his voice might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra bleſſed the LORD the great God: and all the people anſwered, Amen, amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worſhipped the LORD with their faces to the ground. 397

7 Alſo Jeſhua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites cauſed the people to underſtand the law: and the people ſtood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the law of God diſtinctly, and gave the ſenſe, and cauſed them to underſtand the reading.

‡ Or, the governour. 9 ¶ And Nehemiah which is ‡ the Tirſhatha, and Ezra the prieſt the ſcribe, and the Levites that taught the people, ſaid unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God, mourn not, nor weep: for all the people [e] wept, when they heard the words of the law.

e In conſidering their offences againſt the law, therefore the Levites do not reprove them for mourning, but aſſure them of Gods mercies, forasmuch as they are repentant.

10 Then he ſaid unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the ſweet, and ſend portions unto them for whom nothing is [f] prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be you ſorry, for the [g] joy of the LORD is your ſtrength.

f That is, Remember the poor.

g Rejoyce in the Lord, and he will give you ſtrength.

11 So the Levites ſtilled all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to ſend portions, and to make great mirth, becauſe they had underſtood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the ſecond day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the prieſts and the Levites, unto Ezra the ſcribe, even ‡ to underſtand the words of the law.

‡ Or, that they might inſtruct in the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law which the LORD had commanded † by Moſes, that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in * booths, in the feaſt of the ſeventh month:

† Heb. by the hand of. * Levit. 23. 34. Deut. 16. 13.

15 And that they ſhould publiſh and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jeruſalem, ſaying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive-branches, and pine-branches, and myrtle-branches, and palm-branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 ¶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themſelves booths, every one upon the [h] roof of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet of the water-gate, and in the ſtreet of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houſes were made flat above, Deut. 22. 8.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and ſat under the booths: for ſince the days of [i] Jeſhua the ſon of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo: and there was very great gladneſs.

i which was almoſt a thouſand years.

18 Alſo day by day, from the firſt day unto the laſt day, he read in the book of the law of God: and they kept the feaſt ſeven days, and on the eighth day was † a ſolemn aſſembly, according unto the manner.

† Heb. a reſtraint.

1 A ſolemn faſt, and repentance of the people. 4 The Levites make a religious confeſſion of Gods goodneſs, and their wickedneſs.

NOw in the twenty and fourth day of * [a] this month, the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with faſting, and with ſackclothes, and earth upon them.

4 ¶ Then ſtood up upon the ‡ ſtairs of the Levites, Jeſhua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

‡ Or, ſcaffold.

5 Then the Levites, Jeſhua and Kadmiel, Bani, Haſhabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, ſaid, Stand up and bleſs the LORD your God for ever and ever; and bleſſed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all bleſſing and praiſe.

6 Thou, even thou art LORD alone, * thou haſt made heaven, the heaven of heavens with all their hoſt, the earth and all things that are therein, the ſeas and all that is therein, and thou preſerveſt them all, and the hoſt of heaven worſhippeth thee.

14 And madeſt known unto them thy holy ſabbath, and commandeſt them precepts, ſtatutes, and laws, by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant:

15 And * gaveſt them bread from heaven, for their hunger, and * broughteſt forth water for them out of the rock, for their thirſt, and promiſedſt them that they ſhould * go in to poſſeſs the land, † which thou hadſt ſworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardned their necks, and hearkned not to thy commandments,

17 And refuſed to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didſt among them: but hardned their necks, and in their rebellion appointed * a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art † a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſs, and forſookeſt them not.

* Num. 11. 17.
* Exod. 16. 15. Joſh. 5. 12.
* Exod. 17. 6.

21 Yea, fourty years didſt thou ſuſtain them in the wilderneſs ſo that they lacked nothing; their * clothes waxed not old, and their feet [c] ſwelled not.

* Deut. 8. 4.
c Though the way was tedious and long.

22 Moreover, thou gaveſt them kingdoms and nations, and didſt divide [d] them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of * Sihon, and the land of the king of Heſhbon, and the land of Og king of Baſhan.

* Num. 21. 21, &c.

23 Their children alſo multipliedſt thou as the ſtars of heaven, and broughteſt them into the land, concerning which thou hadſt promiſed to their fathers, that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs it.

24 So the children went in and poſſeſſed the land, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gaveſt them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them † as they would.

which teſtified againſt them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredſt them into the hand of their [c] enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble when they cried unto thee, thou heardſt them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies, thou gaveſt them ſaviours, who ſaved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had [f] reſt, † they did evil again before thee: therefore leſteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned and cried unto thee, thou heardſt them from heaven, and many times didſt thou deliver them, according to thy mercies:

29 And teſtifiedſt againſt them, that thou mighteſt bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkned not unto thy commandments, but ſinned againſt thy judgments (which if a man do, he ſhall live in them) and † [g] withdrew the ſhoulder, and hardned their neck, and would not [h] hear.

30 Yet many years didſt thou † forbear them, and teſtifiedſt * againſt them by thy ſpirit † in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gaveſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheleſs, for thy great mercies ſake, thou didſt not utterly conſume them, nor forſake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, the great, the * mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeſt covenant and mercy; let not all the † trouble ſeem little before thee, † that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our prieſts, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, ſince the time of the kings of [i] Aſſyria, unto this day.

33 Howbeit, thou art juſt in all that is brought upon us; for thou haſt done [k] right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our prieſts, nor our fathers kept thy law, nor hearkned unto thy commandments, and thy teſtimonies wherewith thou didſt [l] teſtify againſt them.

35 For they have not ſerved thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodneſs that thou gaveſt them, and in the large and fat land which thou gaveſt before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, we are ſervants this day, and for the land that thou gaveſt unto our fathers, to eat the [m] fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are ſervants in it.

37 And it yeildeth much increaſe unto the kings whom thou haſt ſet over us becauſe of our ſins: alſo they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattel, at their pleaſure, and we are in great diſtreſs.

38 And becauſe of all this, we make a [n] ſure covenant, and write it; and our princes, Levites, and prieſts † ſeal unto it.

21 Of Hilkiah, Haſhabiah: of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 ¶ The Levites in the days of Eliaſhib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: alſo the prieſts, to the reign of Darius the Perſian.

23 The ſons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the * chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib.

* 1 Chron. 9. 14 &c.

24 And the chief of the Levites: Haſhabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeſhua the ſon of Kadmiel, with their brethren over againſt them, to praiſe and to give thanks according to the commandment of David the man of God, [g] ward over againſt ward.

[g] That is, One after another, and every one in his courſe.

25 Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meſhullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the ‡ threſholds of the gates.

‡ Or, treaſuries, or, aſſemblies.

26 Theſe were in the days of Joiakim the ſon of Jeſhua, the ſon of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governour, and of Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe.

27 ¶ And at the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem, they ſought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jeruſalem, to keep the dedication with gladneſs, both with thankſgivings, and with ſinging with cymbals, pſalteries, and with harps.

28 And the ſons of the ſingers gathered themſelves together, both out of the plain country round about Jeruſalem, and from the villages of [h] Netophathi, [h] which were a certain family and had their poſſeſſions in the fields. 1 Chron. 2. 54.

29 Alſo from the houſe of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the ſingers had builded them villages round about Jeruſalem.

30 And the prieſts and the Levites purified themſelves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then [i] I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung-gate:

[i] Meaning, Nehemiah.

31 And after them went Hoſhaiah, and half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meſhullam,

35 And certain of the prieſts ſons with trumpets: namely, Zechariah the ſon of Jonathan, the ſon of Shemaiah, the ſon of Mattaniah, the ſon of Michaiah, the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Aſaph:

36 And his [k] brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the muſical inſtruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the ſcribe before them.

37 And at the fountain-gate, which was over againſt them, they went up by the [l] ſtairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the houſe of David, even unto the water-gate eaſt-ward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over againſt them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the towr of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall:

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fiſh-gate, and the towr of Hananeel, and the towr of Meah, even unto the ſheep-gate; and they ſtood ſtill in the priſon-gate.

40 So ſtood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the houſe of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:

41 And the prieſts; Eliakim, Maaſeiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah with trumpets:

42 And Maaſeiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the ſingers † ſang loud, with Jezrahiah their overſeer.

43 Alſo that day they offered great ſacrifices, and rejoyced; for God had made them rejoyce with great joy; the wives alſo and the children rejoyced: ſo that the joy of Jeruſalem was heard even afar off.

44 ¶ And at that time were ſome appointed over the [m] chambers for the treaſures, for the offerings, for the firſt-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions ‡ of the law for the prieſts and Levites: † for Judah rejoyced for the prieſts and for the Levites † that waited.

45 And both the ſingers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, * according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his ſon.

46 For in the days of David * and Aſaph, of old, there were chief of the ſingers, and ſongs of praiſe and thankſgiving unto God.

47 And all Iſrael in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the ſingers, and the porters, every day his portion, & they ‡ ſanctified holy things unto the Levites, * and the Levites ſanctified [n] them unto the children of Aaron.

Chap. XIII.

1 Upon the reading of the law, ſeparation is made from the mixed multitude. 4 Nehemiah at his return cauſeth the chambers to be cleanſed. 10 He reformeth the offices in the houſe of God, 15 the violation of the ſabbath, 23 and the marriages with ſtrange wives.

ON that day † they read in the book of Moſes in the † audience of the people; and therein was found written, * that the Ammonite and the Moabite ſhould not come into the congregation of God for ever;

2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſrael with bread and with water, but * hired Balaam againſt them, that he ſhould curſe them: howbeit our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing.

3 Now it came to paſs when they had heard the law, that they ſeparated from Iſrael [a] all the mixed multitude.

4 ¶ And before [b] this, Eliaſhib the prieſt, † having the overſight of the chamber of the houſe of our God, was [c] allied unto Tobiah:

5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where afore-time they laid the meat-offerings, the frankincenſe, and the veſſels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oyl († which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the prieſts.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jeruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of [d] Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I unto the king, and † after certain days ‡ obtained I leave of the king:

7 And I came to Jeruſalem, and underſtood of the [e] evil that Eliaſhib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the houſe of God.

8 And it grieved me ſore, therefore I caſt forth all the houſhold-ſtuff of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 Then I commanded, and they cleanſed the chambers; and thither brought I again the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meat-offering and the frankincenſe.

10 ¶ And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the ſingers that did the work, were fled every one to his field.

11 Then contended I with the rulers, and ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I gathered them together, and ſet them in their † place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn, and the new wine, and the oyl, unto the ‡ treaſuries.

13 And I made treaſurers over the treaſuries, Shelemiah the prieſt, and Zadok the ſcribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and † next to them was Hanan the ſon of Zaccur, the ſon of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and † their office was to diſtribute unto their brethren.

14 * Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my † [f] good deeds that I have done for the houſe of my God, and for the ‡ offices thereof.

15 ¶ In thoſe days ſaw I in Judah ſome treading wine-preſſes on the ſabbath, and bringing in ſheaves, and lading aſſes; as alſo wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jeruſalem on the ſabbath-day: and I [g] teſtified againſt them in the day wherein they ſold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, which brought fiſh, and all manner of ware, and ſold on the ſabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jeruſalem.

17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and ſaid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the ſabbath-day?

18 Did not your fathers [h] thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Iſrael by profaning the ſabbath.

19 And it came to paſs, that when the gates of Jeruſalem began to be [i] dark before the ſabbath, I commanded that the gates ſhould be ſhut, and charged that they ſhould not be opened till after the ſabbath: and ſome of my ſervants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhould no burden be brought in on the ſabbath-day.

¶ THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcauſe of the diverſity of names, whereby they uſed to name their kings, and the ſupputation of years wherein the Hebrews, and the Grecians doe vary, divers Authors write diverſly as touching this Ahaſuerus, but it ſeemeth, Dan. 6. 1. & 9. 1. that he was Darius king of the Medes, and ſon of Aſtyages, called alſo Ahaſuerus, which was a name of honour, and ſignified great and chief, as chief head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his church, who never faileth them in their greateſt dangers; but when all hope of wordly help faileth, he ever ſtirreth up ſome, by whom he ſendeth comfort, and deliverance. Herein alſo is deſcribed the ambition, pride and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour; and their ſudden fall when they are at the higheſt: and how God preſerveth, and perferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and have a care and love toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 Ahaſuerus maketh royal feaſts. 10 Vaſhti ſent for, refuſeth to come. 13 Ahaſuerus by the counſel of Memucan, maketh the decree of mens ſovereignty.

NOw it came to paſs in the days of [a] Ahaſuerus (this is Ahaſuerus which reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an [b] hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces) a Called alſo Darius, who was now the ſovereign Monarch, and had the government of the Medes, Perſians and Chaldeans: ſome think he was Darius Hyſtaſpis ſon, called alſo Artaxerxes.

b Daniel 6. 1. maketh mention but of ſixſcore, leaving out the number that is unperfect, as the ſcripture in divers places uſeth.

2 That in thoſe days, when the king Ahaſuerus [c] ſat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shuſhan the palace, c That is, Had reſt and quietneſs.

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feaſt unto all his princes, and his ſervants; the power of Perſia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces being before him.

4 When he ſhewed the riches of his glorious kingdom, and the honour of his excellent majeſty, many days, even an hundred and fourſcore days.

5 And when theſe days were expired, the king made a feaſt unto all the people that were † preſent in Shuſhan the palace, both unto great and ſmall, ſeven days, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

† Heb. found.

6 Where were white, green, and ‡ blue hangings, faſtned with cords of fine linen and purple, to ſilver rings, and pillars of marble: the [d] beds were of gold, and ſilver, upon a pavement ‡ of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

‡ Or, violet.

d which they uſed in thoſe countrys in ſtead of tables.

‡ Or, of porphyre, and marble, and alabaſter, and ſtone of blue colour

7 And they gave them drink in veſſels of gold, (the veſſels being diverſe one from another) and † royal wine in abundance, † according to the [e] ſtate of the king.

† Heb. wine of the kingdom.

† Heb. according to the hand of the king.

e As was beſeeming for ſo magnifical a king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law, none did [f] compel: for ſo the king had appointed to all the officers of his houſe, that they ſhould do according to every mans pleaſure.

f None might be compelled to drink more then it pleaſed him.

9 Alſo Vaſhti the queen made a feaſt for the women, in the royal houſe which belonged to king Ahaſuerus.

10 ¶ On the [g] ſeventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the ſeven ‡ chamberlains that ſerved in the preſence of Ahaſuerus the king, g which was the laſt day of the feaſt that the king made for the people, as verſ 5.

‡ Or, eunuchs.

11 To bring Vaſhti the queen before the king, with the crown royal, to ſhew the people and the princes her beauty: for ſhe was † fair to look on.

† Heb. good of countenance.

12 But the queen Vaſhti refuſed to come at the kings commandment † by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

† Heb. which was by the hand of his eunuchs.

13 ¶ Then the king ſaid to the wiſe men which knew the [h] times, (for ſo was the kings manner towards all that knew law and judgment:

h That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

14 And the next unto him was Carſhena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarſhiſh, Meres, Marſena, and Memucan, the * ſeven princes of Perſia and Media, which ſaw the kings [i] face, and which ſat the firſt in the kingdom)

* Ez. 7. 14.

i which were his chief counſellers, that might have alwayes acceſs to him

15 † What ſhall we do unto the queen Vaſhti according to law, becauſe ſhe hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahaſuerus, by the chamberlains?

† Heb. What to do.

16 And Memucan anſwered before the king and the princes, Vaſhti the queen hath not done [k] wrong to the king onely, but alſo to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus.

k By her diſobedience ſhe hath given an example to all women to do the like to their husbands.

17 For this [l] deed of the queen ſhall come abroad unto all women, ſo that they ſhall deſpiſe their huſbands in their eyes, when it ſhall be reported, The king Ahaſuerus commanded Vaſhti the queen to be brought in before him, but ſhe came not.

l That is, Her diſobedience.

18 Likewiſe ſhall the [m] ladies of Perſia & Media ſay this day unto all the kings princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus ſhall there ariſe too much contempt & wrath.

m Meaning, That they would take firſt occaſion hereof to do the like, and that the reſt of women would by continuance do the ſame.

19 † If it pleaſe the king, let there go a royal commandment † from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Perſians and the Medes, † that it be not altered, that Vaſhti [n] come no more before king Ahaſuerus, and let the king give her royal eſtate † unto another that is better then ſhe.

† Heb. If it be good with the king.

† Heb. from before him.

† Heb. that it paſs not away.

n Let her be divorced, and another made queen.

† Heb. unto her companion.

20 And when the kings decree which he ſhall make, ſhall be publiſhed throughout all his empire, (for it is [o] great) all the wives ſhall give to their huſbands honour, both to great and ſmall.

o For he had under him an hundred twenty and ſeven countrys.

21 And the ſaying † pleaſed the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan:

† Heb. was good in the eyes of the king.

22 For he ſent letters into all the kings provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man ſhould [p] bear rule in his own houſe, and † that it ſhould be publiſhed according to the language of every people.

p That is, that the wife ſhould be ſubject to the huſband, and at his commandment.

† Heb. that one ſhould publiſh it according to the language of his people.

Chap. II.

1 Out of the choice of virgins, a queen is to be choſen. 5 Mordecai the nurſing father of Eſther. 8 Eſther is preferred by Hegai before the reſt. 12 The manner of purification, and going in to the king. 15 Eſther beſt pleaſing the king, is made queen. 21 Mordecai diſcovering a treaſon, is recorded in the chronicles.

AFter theſe things, when the wrath of king Ahaſuerus was appeaſed, he [a] remembred Vaſhti, and what ſhe had done, and what was [b] decreed againſt her.

a That is, He called the matter again into communication.

b By the ſeven wiſe men of his counſel.

2 Then ſaid the kings ſervants, that miniſtred unto him, Let there be fair young virgins ſought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shuſhan the palace, to the houſe of the women, † unto the cuſtody of ‡ Hege the kings chamberlain, [c] keeper of the women, and let their things for [d] purification be given them:

† Heb. unto the hand.

‡ Or, Hegai, verſ. 8.

c The abuſe of theſe countrys was ſo great, that they invented many means to ſerve the luſts of princes, and therefore, as they ordained wicked laws that the king might have whole daughters he would, ſo they had divers houſes appointed; as one for them whiles they were virgins, another when they were concubines, and for the queens another.

d Read what this purification was, verſ. 12.

4 And let the maiden which pleaſeth the king, be queen in ſtead of Vaſhti. And the thing pleaſed the king, and he did ſo.

5 ¶ Now in Shuſhan the palace, there was a certain Jew, whoſe name was Mordecai, the ſon of Jair, the ſon of Shimei, the ſon of Kiſh, a Benjamite:

6 * Who had been carried away from Jeruſalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

* 2 King. 24. 15. 2 Chron. 36. 10. Jer. 24. 1.

7 And he † brought up Hadaſſah (that is Eſther) his uncles daughter, for ſhe had neither father nor mother, and the maid was † fair and beautiful, whom Mordecai (when her father and mother were dead) took for his own daughter.

† Heb. fair of form and good of countenance.

8 ¶ So it came to paſs, when the kings commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shuſhan the palace, to the cuſtody of Hegai, that Eſther was brought alſo unto the kings kings houſe, to the cuſtody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleaſed him, and ſhe obtained kindneſs of him, & he ſpeedily gave her her things for purification, with † ſuch things as belonged to her, and ſeven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the kings houſe, and † he preferred her and her maids, unto the beſt place of the houſe of the women.

† Heb. her portion.

† Heb. he changed her.

10 Eſther had not ſhewed her people, nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that ſhe ſhould not ſhew it.

11 And Mordecai walked [e] every day before the court of the womens houſe, † to know how Eſther did, and what ſhould become of her.

e For though ſhe was taken away by a cruel law, yet he ceaſed not to have a fatherly care over her, and therefore did reſort oft times to hear of her.

† Heb. to know the peace.

12 ¶ Now when every maids turn was come, to go in to king Ahaſuerus, after that ſhe had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women, (for ſo were the days of their purifications accompliſhed, to wit, ſix months with oyl of myrrh, and ſix months with ſweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women)

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king; whatſoever ſhe [f] deſired was given her, to go with her out of the houſe of the women, unto the kings houſe.

f what apparel ſhe aſked of the eunuch, that was behound to give her.

14 In the evening ſhe went, and on the morrow ſhe returned into the ſecond houſe of the women, to the cuſtody of Shaaſhgaz, the kings chamberlain, which kept the concubines: ſhe came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that ſhe were called by name.

15 ¶ Now when the turn of Eſther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai (who had taken her for his daughter) was come to go in unto the king, ſhe required [g] nothing, but what Hegai the kings chamberlain, the keeper of the women appointed: and Eſther obtained favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

g wherein her modeſty appeared, becauſe ſhe ſought not apparel to commend her beauty, but ſtood to the eunuchs appointment.

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royal, in the tenth month (which is the month [h] Tebeth) in the ſeventh year of his reign.

h which contained part of December, and part of January.

17 And the king loved Eſther above all the women, and ſhe obtained grace and ‡ favour † in his ſight, more then all the virgins; ſo that he ſet the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen in ſtead of Vaſhti.

‡ Or, kindneſs.

† Heb. before him.

18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, even Eſthers feaſt, and he made a † [k] releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the [l] ſtate of the king.

i That is, made for her ſake.

† Heb. reſt.

k He releaſed their tribute.

l That is, great and magnifical.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the [m] ſecond time, then Mordecai ſat in the kings gate.

m That is, at the marriage of Eſther, which was the ſecond marriage of the king.

20 Eſther had not yet ſhewed her kindred, nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Eſther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when ſhe was brought up with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe days (while Mordecai ſat in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlains, ‡ Bigthan and Tereſh, of thoſe which kept † the door, were wroth, and ſought to lay [n] hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

‡ Or, Bigthana, chap. 6. 2.

† Heb. the threſhold.

n Meaning, To kill him.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen, and Eſther certified the king thereof, in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the [o] chronicles before the king.

o In the Chronicles of the Medes and Perſians as Chap. 10. 2.

Chap. III.

1 Haman advanced by the king, and deſpiſed by Mordecai, ſeeketh revenge upon all the Jews. 7 He caſteth lots. 8 He obtaineth by calumniation, a decree of the king to put the Jews to death.

After theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings ſervants that were in the kings gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman; for the king had ſo commanded concerning him: but Mordecai [a] bowed not, nor did him reverence.

a The Perſians manner was to kneel down and reverence their kings, and ſuch as he appointed in chief authority, which Mordecai would not do to this ambitious and proud man.

3 Then the kings ſervants, which were in the kings gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the kings commandment?

4 Now it came to paſs, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkned not unto them, that they [b] told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai his matters would ſtand; for he had told them that he was a Jew.

b Thus we ſee that there is none ſo wicked, but they have their flatterers to accuſe the godly.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews, that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 ¶ In the firſt month (that is the month [c] Niſan) in the twelfth year of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, [d] before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is the month [e] Adar.

c which anſwereth in part to part of March and part of April.

d To know what month and day ſhould be good to enterpriſe this thing, that it might have good ſucceſs: but God diſappointed their lots and expectation.

e Containing part of February, and part of March.

8 ¶ And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad, and diſperſed among the people, in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are diverſe from all people, neither keep they the kings [f] laws; therefore it is not † for the kings profit to ſuffer them.

f Theſe be the two arguments which commonly the wordlings and the wicked uſe toward princes againſt the godly, that is, The contempt of their laws, and diminiſhing of their profit: without reſpect how God is either pleaſed or diſpleaſed.

† Heb. meet, or, equal.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written † that they may be deſtroyed: and I will † pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver to the hands of thoſe that have the charge of the buſineſs, to bring it into the kings treaſuries.

† Heb. weigh.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews ‡ enemy.

‡ Or, oppreſſour.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſilver is given to thee, the people alſo, to do with them as it ſeemeth good to thee.

12 Then

12 Then were the kings ‡ scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the kings lieutenants, and to the governours that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by posts into all the kings provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, (which is the month Adar) and to take the spoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was published unto all people, that they should be ready against that day.

15 The posts went out, being hastned by the kings commandment, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the [g] city Shushan was perplexed.

[g] To wit, The Jews that were in Shushan.

Chap. IV.

1 The great mourning of Mordecai and the Jews. 4 Esther understanding it, sendeth to Mordecai, who sheweth the cause, and adviseth her to undertake the suit. 10 She excusing her self, is threatned by Mordecai. 15 She appointing a fast, undertaketh the suit.

WHen Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry:

[a] Because he would advertise Esther of this cruel proclamation.

2 And came even before the kings [a] gate: for none might enter into the kings gate clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in every province whithersoever the kings commandment, and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping and wailing, and † many lay in sackcloth and ashes.

† Heb. sackcloth and ashes were laid under many.

4 ¶ So Esthers maids, and her † chamberlains came and told it her: then was the queen exceedingly grieved, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him: but he received it not.

† Heb. eunuchs.

5 Then called Esther for Hatach, one of the kings chamberlains, †, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

† Heb. whom he had set before her.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, unto the street of the city, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had hapned unto him, and of the sum of the mony that Haman had promised to pay to the kings treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.

8 Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given at Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 ¶ Again Esther spake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the kings servants and the people of the kings provinces do know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden sceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king, these thirty days.

12 And they told to Mordecai Esthers words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to answer Esther, Think not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there † [b] enlargment and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth, [c] whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?

† Heb. respiration.

[b] Thus Mordecai spake in the confidence of that faith, which all Gods children ought to have: to wit, That God will deliver them, though all worldly means fail.

[c] For to deliver Gods church out of these present dangers.

15 ¶ Then Esther bade them return Mordecai this answer,

16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are † present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast likewise, and so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law; and if I perish, [d] I perish.

† Heb. found.

[d] I will put my life in danger, and refer the success to God, seeing it is for his glory, & the deliverance of his church.

17 So Mordecai † went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

† Heb. passed.

Chap. V.

1 Esther adventuring on the kings favour, obtaineth the grace of the golden sceptre, and inviteth the king and Haman to a banquet. 6 She being encouraged by the king in her suit, inviteth them to another banquet the next day. 9 Haman proud of his advancement, repineth at the contempt of Mordecai. 14 By the counsel of Zeresh, he buildeth for him a pair of gallows.

NOw it came to pass on the [a] third day, that Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the inner court of the kings house, over against the kings house: and the king sat upon his royal throne in the royal house, over against the gate of the house.

[a] To wit, After that the Jews had begun to fast.

2 And it was so when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king [b] held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand: so Esther drew near and touched the top of the sceptre.

[b] which was a sign that the coming was agreeable unto him, as chap. 4. 11.

3 Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be even given thee, to the [c] half of the kingdom.

[c] Meaning hereby, That whatsoever she asked, should be granted, as Mar. 6. 23.

4 And

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it ſeem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king ſaid, Cauſe Haman to make haſte, that he may do as Eſther hath ſaid. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther at the [d] banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? even to the half of the kingdom it ſhall be performed.

d Becauſe they uſed to drink exceſſively in their banquets, they called the banquet by the name of that which was moſt in uſe or eſteem.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſaid, My petition, and my requeſt is;

8 If I have found favour in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to grant my petition, and † to perform my requeſt, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow as the king hath [e] ſaid.

† Heb. to do.

e I will declare what things I demand.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day, joyful, and with a glad heart: but when Haman ſaw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he ſtood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation againſt Mordecai.

10 Nevertheleſs, Haman refrained himſelf, and when he came home, he ſent and † called for his friends, and Zereſh his wife.

† Heb. cauſed to come.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had [f] promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and ſervants of the king.

f That the wicked warn they are mounted, inſtead of acknowledging their change & humbling themſelves, are ambitious, diſtruſtful, and mad.

12 Haman ſaid moreover, Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared, but my ſelf; and to morrow am I invited unto her alſo with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the kings gate.

14 ¶ Then ſaid Zereſh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a † gallows be made of fifty cubits high, [g] and to morrow ſpeak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleaſed Haman, and he cauſed the gallows to be made.

† Heb. tree.

g Meaning, The higheſt that could be found.

Chap. VI.

1 Ahaſuerus reading in the chronicles of the good ſervice done by Mordecai, taketh care for his reward. 4 Haman coming to ſue that Mordecai might be hanged, unawares giveth counſel that he might do him honour. 12 Complaining of his misfortune, his friends tell him of his final deſtiny.

† Heb. the kings ſleep fled away.

ON that night † could not the king ſleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.

2 And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of ‡ Bigthana and Tereſh, two of the kings chamberlains, the keepers of the † door, who ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

‡ Or, Bigthan, chap. 2. 21.

† Heb. threſhold.

3 And the king ſaid, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai [a] for this?

a For he thought it unworthy his ſtate to receive a benefit, and not reward it.

Then ſaid the kings ſervants that miniſtred unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 ¶ And the king ſaid, Who is in the court? (now Haman was come into the outward court of the kings houſe, to ſpeak unto the king, to [b] hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him)

b Thus while the wicked imagine the deſtruction of others, they themſelves fall into the ſame pit.

5 And the kings ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And the king ſaid, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in: and the king ſaid unto him, What ſhall be done unto the man † whom the king delighteth to honour? (now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more then to my ſelf?)

† Heb. in whoſe honour the king delighteth.

7 And Haman anſwered the king, For the man † whom the king delighteth to honour,

† Heb. in whoſe honour the king delighteth.

8 † Let the royal apparel be brought † which the king uſeth to wear, and the [c] horſe that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is ſet upon his head:

† Heb. let them bring the royal apparel.

† Heb. wherewith the king clotheth himſelf.

9 And let this apparel and horſe be delivered to the hand of one of the kings moſt noble princes, that they may aray the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and † bring him on hors-back through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

c Meaning hereby, That the king ſhould make him next unto himſelf, as Joſeph hereby was known to be next to Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 42.

† Heb. cauſe him to ride.

10 Then the king ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, and take the apparel, and the horſe, as thou haſt ſaid, and do even ſo to Mordecai the Jew, that ſitteth at the kings gate: † let nothing fail of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

† Heb. ſuffer not a whit to fall.

11 Then took Haman the apparel and the horſe, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on hors-back through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came again to the kings gate: but Haman haſted to his houſe, mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zereſh his wife and all his friends, every thing that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men, and Zereſh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jews, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, but ſhalt ſurely [d] fall before him.

d Thus God ſometime putteth in the mouth of the very wicked to ſpeak that thing which he hath decreed ſhall come to paſs.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlains, and haſted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

Chap. VII.

1 Eſther entertaining the king and Haman, maketh ſuit for her own life and her peoples. 5 She accuſeth Haman. 7 The king in his anger underſtanding of the gallows, which Haman had made for Mordecai, cauſeth him to be hanged thereon.

† Heb. to drink.

SO the king and Haman came † to banquet with Eſther the queen.

2 And the king ſaid again to Eſther, on the ſecond day, at the [a] banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Eſther? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? and it ſhall ſhall be performed even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Eſther the queen anſwered and ſaid, If I have found favour in thy ſight, O king, and if it pleaſe the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt.

† Heb. that they ſhould deſtroy and kill, and cauſe to periſh.

4 For we are ſold, I and my people, † to be deſtroyed, to be ſlain, and to periſh: but if we had been ſold for bond-men & bond-women, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could [b] not countervail the kings damage.

[b] Haman could not ſo much profit the king by this his malice, as he ſhould hinder him by the leſs of the Jews, and the tribute which he hath of them.

† Heb. who e heart hath filled him.

† Heb. The man adverſary.

5 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus anſwered and ſaid unto Eſther the queen, Who is he? and where is he † that durſt preſume in his heart to do ſo?

6 And Eſther ſaid, † The adverſary and enemy, is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid ‡ before the king and the queen.

7 ¶ And the king ariſing from the banquet of wine in his wrath, went into the palace-garden; and Haman ſtood up to make requeſt for his life to Eſther the queen: for he ſaw that there was [c] evil determined againſt him by the king.

[c] His conſcience did accuſe him, that as he had conſpired the death of innocents, ſo the vengeance of God might fall upon him for the ſame.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace-garden, into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was [d] fallen upon the bed whereon Eſther was. Then ſaid the king, Will he force the queen alſo † before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the kings mouth, they [e] covered Hamans face.

[d] He fell down at the beds feet or couch, whereupon he ſate, and made requeſt for his life.

† Heb. with me.

[e] This was the manner of the Perſians when one was out of the kings favour.

9 And Harbonah, one of the chamberlains, ſaid before the king, Behold alſo the † gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had ſpoken [f] good for the king, ſtandeth in the houſe of Haman. Then the king ſaid, Hang him thereon.

† Heb. tree.

[f] which diſcovered the conſpiracy againſt the king, Chap. 2. 21, 22.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Mordecai is advanced. 3 Eſther maketh ſuit to reverſe Hamans letters. 7 Ahaſuerus granteth to the Jews to defend themſelves. 15 Mordecai's honour, and the Jews joy.

ON that day did the king Ahaſuerus give the houſe of Haman the Jews enemy, unto Eſther the queen: and Mordecai [a] came before the king; for Eſther had told what he was [b] unto her.

[a] That is, was received into the kings favour and preſence.

[b] That he was her uncle, and had brought her up.

2 And the king took off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Eſther ſet Mordecai over the houſe of Haman.

† Heb. and ſhe wept and beſought him.

3 ¶ And Eſther ſpake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet † and beſought him with tears, to put away the [c] miſchief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had deviſed againſt the Jews.

[c] Meaning, That he ſhould aboliſh the wicked decrees, which he had made for the deſtruction of the Jews.

4 Then the king [d] held out the golden ſceptre toward Eſther. So Eſther aroſe, and ſtood before the king, [d] Chap. 5. 2.

5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the king, and if I have found favour in his ſight, and the thing ſeem right before the king, and I be pleaſing in his eyes; let it be written to reverſe † the letters deviſed by Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, ‡ which he wrote to deſtroy the Jews which are in all the kings provinces:

† Heb. the deviſe.

‡ Or, who wrote.

6 For how can I † endure to ſee the evil that ſhall come unto my people? or how can I endure to ſee the deſtruction of my kindred?

† Heb. be able, that I may ſee.

7 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus ſaid unto Eſther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Eſther the houſe of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, becauſe he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye alſo for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the kings name, and ſeal it with the kings ring: for the writing which is written in the kings name, and ſealed with the kings ring, * may no man [e] reverſe.

* Chap. 1. 19.

[e] This was the law of the Medes and Perſians, as Dan. 6. 16. notwithſtanding the king revoked the former decree granted to Haman for Eſthers ſake.

9 Then were the kings ſcribes called at that time in the third month (that is the month [f] Sivan) on the three and twentieth day thereof, and it was written (according to all that Mordecai commanded) unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and ſeven provinces, unto every province according to the [g] writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

[f] which cometh part of May and part of June.

[g] That is, In ſuch letters and language, as was uſual in every province.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahaſuerus name, and ſealed it with the kings ring, and ſent letters by poſts on hors-back, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries:

11 Wherein the king granted the Jews, which were in every city, to gather themſelves together, and to [h] ſtand for their life, to deſtroy, to ſlay, and to cauſe to periſh all the power of the people and province, that would aſſault them, both little ones, and women, and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey:

[h] That is, To defend themſelves againſt all that would aſſail them.

12 Upon one day, in all the provinces of king Ahaſuerus, namely upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month [i] Adar.

[i] which hath part of February, and part of March.

13 The copy of the writing, for a commandment to be given in every province, was † publiſhed unto all people, and that the Jews ſhould be ready againſt that day, to [k] avenge themſelves on their enemies.

† Heb. revealed.

[k] The king gave them liberty to kill all that did oppreſs them.

14 So the poſts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being haſtned, and preſſed on by the kings commandment; and the decree was given at Shuſhan the palace.

15 ¶ And Mordecai went out from the preſence of the king, in royal apparel of ‡ blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen, and purple; and the city of Shuſhan rejoyced and was glad:

‡ Or, violet.

16 The Jews had [l] light and gladneſs, and joy, and honour.

[l] He ſheweth by theſe words that follow, what this light was.

17 And in every province, and in every city, whitherſoever the kings commandment

and

and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladneſs, a feaſt and a good day: and many of the people of the land [m] became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

[m] Conformed themſelves to the Jews religion.

CHAP. IX.

1 The Jews (the rulers, for fear of Mordecai, helping them) ſlay their enemies, with the ten ſons of Haman. 12 Ahaſuerus at the requeſt of Eſther, granteth another day of ſlaughter, and Hamans ſons to be hanged. 20 The two days of Purim are made feſtival.

NOw in the twelfth month (that is, the month Adar) on the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the kings commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, (though it was [a] turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them)

[a] This was by Gods great providence, who turneth the joy of the wicked into ſorrow, and the tears of the godly into gladneſs.

2 The Jews gathered themſelves together in their cities, throughout all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt; and no man could withſtand them: for the fear of them fell upon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and † officers of the king, [b] helped the Jews: becauſe the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

† Eſt. thoſe which did the buſineſs that belonged to them.
[b] Did them honour, and ſhewed kind friendſhip.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings houſe, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews ſmote all their [c] enemies with the ſtroke of the ſword, and ſlaughter and deſtruction, and did † what they would unto thoſe that hated them.

[c] Which had conſented their death, by the permiſſion of wicked Haman.
† Heb. according to their will.

6 And in Shuſhan the palace the Jews ſlew and deſtroyed [d] five hundred men.

[d] Beſides thoſe three hundred, that they ſlew the ſecond day, as verſ. 15.

7 And Parſhandatha, and Dalphon, and Aſpatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmaſhta, and Ariſai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha,

10 The ten ſons of Haman the ſon of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, ſlew they; but on the ſpoil laid they not their [e] hand.

[e] whereby they declared that this was Gods juſt iudgment upon the enemies of his church, for as much as they ſought not their own gain, but to execute his vengeance.
† Heb. came.

11 On that day, the number of thoſe that were ſlain in Shuſhan the palace, † was brought before the king.

12 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther the queen, The Jews have ſlain and deſtroyed five hundred men in Shuſhan the palace, and the ten ſons of Haman; what have they done in the reſt of the kings provinces? now what is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: or what is thy requeſt further? and it ſhall be done.

13 Then ſaid Eſther, If it pleaſe the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shuſhan, to do to [f] morrow alſo according unto this days decree, and † let Hamans ten ſons be hanged upon the gallows.

[f] This ſhe requireth not for deſire of vengeance, but with zeal to ſee Gods judgments executed againſt his enemies.
† Heb. let them be hanged.

14 And the king commanded it ſo to be done; and the decree was given at Shuſhan, and they hanged Hamans ten ſons.

15 For the Jews that were in Shuſhan, gathered themſelves together on the fourteenth day alſo of the month Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Shuſhan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the kings provinces, gathered themſelves together, and [g] ſtood for their lives, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their [h] foes ſeventy and five thouſand; but they laid not their hands on the prey.

[g] Read Ch. 8. 11.
[h] Meaning, that they laid hands on none that were not the enemies of God.

17 On the [i] thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day † of the ſame, reſted they, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

[i] Meaning, in all places ſaving in Shuſhan.
† Heb. in it.

18 But the Jews that were at Shuſhan, aſſembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the [k] fourteenth day of the month Adar, a day of gladneſs and feaſting, and a good day, and of ſending portions one to another.

[k] As the Jews do even to this day, calling it in the Perſians language Purim, that is, the days of lots.

20 ¶ And Mordecai [l] wrote theſe things, and ſent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, both nigh and far,

[l] The Jews gather hereof, that Mordecai wrote this ſtory, but it ſeemeth that he wrote but onely theſe letters, and decrees that follow.

21 To ſtabliſh this among them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame yearly:

22 As the days wherein the Jews reſted from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from ſorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they ſhould make them days of feaſting and joy, and of [m] ſending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

[m] He ſetteth before our eyes the uſe of this feaſt, which was for the remembrance of Gods deliverance, the maintenance of mutual friendſhip, and relief of the poor.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them.

24 Becauſe Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had deviſed againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and had [n] caſt Pur (that is, the lot) to † conſume them, and to deſtroy them:

[n] Read ch. 3. 7.
† Heb cruſh.

25 But [o] when Eſther came before the king, he commanded by letters, that his [p] wicked device which he deviſed againſt the Jews, ſhould return upon his own head, and that he and his ſons ſhould be hanged on the gallows.

[o] To intreat for her people
[p] Theſe are the words of the kings commandment to diſanul Hamans wicked enterprice.

26 Wherefore they called theſe days Purim, after the name of [q] Pur: therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had ſeen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them, [q] That is, lot.

27 The Iews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their ſeed, and upon all ſuch as joyned themſelves unto them, ſo as it ſhould not † fail, that they would keep theſe [q] two days, according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year:

† Heb. paſs.
[q] Meaning, the fourteenth and the fifteenth day of the month Adar.

28 And that theſe days ſhould be remembred, and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city, and that theſe days of Purim ſhould not † fail from among the Iews, nor the memorial of them † periſh from their ſeed.

† Heb. paſs.

29 Then Eſther the queen the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Iew, wrote with † all authority, to confirm this ſecond letter of Purim.

† Heb. all ſtrength.

30 And he ſent the letters unto all the Iews, to the hundred twenty and ſeven provinces of the kingdom of Ahaſuerus, with [r] words of peace and truth:

31 To confirm theſe days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Iew, and Eſther the queen had enjoyned them, and as they had decreed † for themſelves and for their ſeed, the matters of the [s] faſtings and their cry.

32 And the decree of Eſther confirmed theſe matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

[r] which were letters declaring unto them quietneſs, and aſſurance, and putting them out of doubt and fear.

† Heb. for their ſouls.

[s] That they would obſerve this feaſt with faſting and earneſt prayer, which in Hebrew is ſignified by this word, their cry.

CHAP. X.

1 Ahaſuerus his greatneſs. 3 Mordecai's advancement.

AND the king Ahaſuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea.

2 And all the acts of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the greatneſs of Mordecai, whereunto the king † advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Perſia?

† Heb. made him great.

[a] These three points are here ſet forth as commendable & neceſſary for him that is in authority: to have the favour of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle, and loving toward them.

3 ¶ For Mordecai the Iew was next unto king Ahaſuerus, and great among the Iews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, ſeeking the wealth of his people, and ſpeaking peace to all his ſeed.

THE BOOK OF JOB.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this hiſtory is ſet before our eyes the example of a ſingular patience: for this holy man Iob was not onely extreamly afflicted in outward things, and in his body; but alſo in his mind and conſcience by the ſharp temptations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehement words, and ſubtil diſputations brought him almoſt to deſpair: for they ſet forth God as a ſevere Iudge, and mortal enemy unto him, which had caſt him off; therefore in vain he ſhould ſeek unto him for ſuccour. Theſe friends came unto him under pretence of conſolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithſtanding he did conſtantly reſiſt them, and at length had good ſucceſs. In this ſtory we have to mark, That Job maintaineth a good cauſe, but handleth it evil: againſt his adverſaries have an evil matter, but they defend it craftily: for Job held that God did not alway puniſh men according to their ſins, but that he hath ſecret judgments, whereof man knew not the cauſe; and therefore man could not reaſon againſt God therein, but he ſhould be convicted. Moreover, he was aſſured that God had not rejected him, yet through his great torments and affliction he burſteth forth into many inconveniences both of words and ſentences; and ſheweth himſelf as a deſperate man in many things, and as one that would reſiſt God: and this is his good cauſe which he doth not handle well. Again, the adverſaries maintain with many goodly arguments, that God puniſheth continually according to the treſpaſs, grounding upon Gods providence, his juſtice, and mans ſins, yet their intention is evil: for they laboured to bring Job into deſpair, and ſo they maintain an evil cauſe. Ezekiel commendeth Job as a juſt man, Ezek. 14. 14. And James ſetteth out his patience for an example, James 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holineſs, riches, and religious care of Job for his children. 6 Satan appearing before God, by calumniation obtaineth leave to tempt Job. 13 Underſtanding of the loſs of his goods and children, in his mourning he bleſſeth God.

THERE was a man in the land of [a] Uz, whoſe name was Iob, and that man was * perfect and [b] upright, and one that [c] feared God, and eſchewed evil.

[a] That is, of the country of Idumea, as Lament. 4. 21. or bordring thereupon: for the land was called by the name of Uz, of Uz the ſon of Diſhan the ſon of Seir, Gen. 36. 28.

* Chap. 2. 3.

[b] Foraſmuch as he was a Gentile, and not a Jew, and yet is pronounced upright and without hypocriſy, it declareth that amongſt the heathen God hath his.

2 And there were born unto him ſeven ſons, and three daughters.

3 His ‡ [d] ſubſtance alſo was ſeven thouſand ſheep, and three thouſand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred ſheaſſes, and a very great ‡ houſhold; ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the † men of the [e] eaſt.

‡ Or, cattel.

4 And his ſons went and feaſted in their houſes, every one his day, and ſent and called for their three ſiſters, to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was ſo, when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Iob ſent and [f] ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the morning, [g] & offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: for Iob ſaid, It may be that my ſons have ſinned, and [h] curſed God in their hearts. Thus did Iob † [i] continually.

† Heb. all the days.

[f] That is, commanded them to be ſanctified: meaning, that they ſhould conſider the faults that they had committed, and reconcile themſelves for the ſame.

[g] That is, he offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and the care that he had toward his children.

[h] In Hebrew it is, and bleſſed God, which is ſometimes taken for blaſpheming and curſing, as here, & 1 Kings 21. 10, 13, &c.

of God came to preſent themſelves [l] before the LORD, and, † Satan [m] came alſo † among them.

7 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Whence [n] comeſt thou? Then Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, from * [o] going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, † Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Iob, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil?

9 Then Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, Doth Iob fear God for [p] nought?

10 Haſt not thou made an [q] hedge about him, and about his houſe, and about all that he hath on every ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the work of his hands, and his ‡ ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, & [r] touch all that he hath, † & he will curſe thee to thy [r] face.

12 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy † [t] power, onely upon himſelf put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the [u] preſence of the LORD.

13 ¶ And there was a day, when his ſons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe:

14 And there came a meſſenger unto Iob, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 And the [x] Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away, yea, they have ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, ‡ The [y] fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burnt up the ſheep, and the ſervants, and conſumed them, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The Chaldeans made out three bands, and † fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, [z] Thy ſons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe:

19 And behold, there came a great wind † from the wilderneſs, and ſmote the four corners of the houſe, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob aroſe, and [a] rent his ‡ mantle, and ſhaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worſhipped, 21 And ſaid, * Naked came I out of my mothers womb, and naked ſhall I return [b] thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away; bleſſed be the name of the LORD.

22 In all this Iob ſinned not, nor ‡ [c] charged God [d] fooliſhly.

l Heb. hand.

t God giveth not Satan power over man to ſatisfy his luſt: to declare that he hath no power over man, but that which God giveth him.

AGain there was a day, when the [a] ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the LORD, and [b] Satan came alſo among them to preſent himſelf before the LORD.

2 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, From whence comeſt thou? And * Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, * a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil? [c] and ſtill he holdeth faſt his integrity, although thou movedſt me againſt him, † to deſtroy him [d] without cauſe.

4 And Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, [e] Skin for skin, yea all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his [f] bone and his fleſh, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand, ‡ but [g] ſave his life.

7 ¶ So went Satan forth from the preſence of the LORD, and ſmote Job with ſore [h] boyls, from the ſole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a [i] potſherd to ſcrape himſelf withal; and he ſat down among the aſhes.

9 ¶ Then ſaid his [k] wife unto him, Doſt thou ſtill [l] retain thine integrity? [m] curſe God, and die.

10 But he ſaid unto her, Thou ſpeakeſt as one of the fooliſh women ſpeaketh: what? ſhall we receive good at the hand of God, and ſhall we not [n] receive evil? In all this did not Job ſin with his [o] lips.

11 ¶ Now when Jobs three [p] friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they lift up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept, and they rent every one his mantle, and ſprinkled [q] duſt upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they ſat down with him upon the ground ſeven days and ſeven nights, and none ſpake a word unto him: for they ſaw that his grief was very [r] great.

h This ſore was moſt vehement, wherewith alſo God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9. 9. & threatned to puniſh the rebellious people, Deut. 28. 27. So that this temptation was moſt grievous: for if Job had meaſured Gods favour by the vehemency of his diſeaſe, he might have thought that God had caſt him off i As deſtitute of all other help and means, and wonderfully afflicted with the ſorrow of his diſeaſe.

k Satan uſeth the ſame inſtrument againſt Job, as he did againſt Adam.

l Meaning, what gaineſt thou to ſerve God, ſeeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enemy? This is the moſt grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is aſſailed, and when Satan goeth about to perſwade them, that they truſt in God in vain.

m For death was appointed to the blaſphemer, and ſo ſhe meant, that he ſhould be ſoon rid out of his pain.

n That is, to be patient in adverſity, as we rejoyce when he ſendeth proſperity, and ſo to acknowledge him to be both merciful and juſt. o He ſo bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatiency did not murmur againſt God. p which were men of authority, wiſe and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they ſaw how he was viſited, they conceived an evil opinion of him, as though he had been but an hypocrite, and ſo juſtly plagued of God for his ſins. q This was alſo a ceremony, which they uſed in thoſe countreys, as the renting of their clothes in ſign of ſorrow, &c. r And therefore thought that he would not have hearkned to their counſel.

i In theſe viſions which God ſheweth to his creatures, there is ever a certain feat joyned, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reverence.
‡ Or, I heard a ſtill voice.
k when all things were quiet, or when the fear was ſomwhat aſſwaged, as God appeared to Eliah, 1 King 19. 12.

CHAP.

Chap. V.

1 The harm of inconsideration. 3 The end of the wicked in misery. 6 God is to be regarded in affliction. 17 The happy end of Gods correction.

CAll now, if there be any that will [a] answer thee; and to which of the saints wilt thou ‡ turn?

2 For [b] wrath killeth the foolish man, and ‡ envy slayeth the silly one.

3 I have seen the [c] foolish taking root: but suddenly I [d] cursed his habitation.

4 His [e] children are far from safety, and they are crushed in the [f] gate, neither is there any to deliver them.

5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the [g] thorns, and the robber swalloweth up their substance.

6 Although ‡ affliction cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the [h] ground:

7 Yet man is born unto ‡ [i] trouble, as † the sparks flie upward.

8 I would seek unto [k] God, and unto God would I commit my cause:

9 * Which doth great [l] things † and unsearchable; marvellous things † without number.

10 Who [m] giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the † fields:

11 * To set up on high those that be low; that those which mourn may be exalted to safety.

12 * He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands ‡ cannot perform their enterprise.

13 * He taketh the wise in their own craftiness: and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong.

14 * They ‡ meet with [n] darkness in the day-time, and [o] grope in the noon-day as in the night.

15 But he saveth the [p] poor from the sword, from their [q] mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.

16 * So the poor hath hope, and iniquity [r] stoppeth her mouth.

17 * Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastning of the Almighty:

18 * For he maketh sore, and bindeth up: he woundeth, and his hands make whole.

19 * He shall deliver thee in [s] six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.

20 In famine he shall redeem thee from death; and in war † from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid ‡ from the scourge of the tongue: neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22 At destruction and famine thou shalt [t] laugh: neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.

23 * For thou shalt be in league with the [u] stones of the field: and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know ‡ that thy tabernacle shall be in peace; and thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt not ‡ [x] sin.

25 Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be ‡ great, and thine offspring as the grass of the earth.

26 Thou shalt come to thy grave in a [y] full age, like as a shock of corn † cometh in, in his season.

27 Lo [z] this, we have searched it, so it is; hear it, and know thou it † for thy good.

a He willeth Job to consider the example of all them that have lived, or do live godly, whether any of them be like unto him, in spring against God as he doth.
‡ Or, look.
b Murmuring against God in afflictions increaseth the pain, and uttereth mans folly.
‡ Or, indignation.
c That is, the sinner that hath not the fear of God.
d I was not moved with his prosperity, but knew that God had cursed him, and his.
e Though God sometime suffer the fathers to pass in this world; yet his judgments will light upon their wicked children.
f By publick judgment they shall be condemned, and none shall pity them.
g Though there be but two or three ears left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him.
‡ Or, misery.
h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrenness and mans misery, but his own sin.
‡ Or, labour.
i which declareth that sin is ever in our corrupt nature, for before Sin it was not subject to pain and affliction.
† Heb. the sons of the burning coal flie to by.
k If I suffered as they doth, I would seek unto God.
* Ecclus. 9. 10. Psal. 72. 18. Dan. 11. 37.
† He counselleth Job to humble himself unto God, to whom all creatures are subject, and whose works declare that man is unreasonable, except he glorify God in all his works.
† Heb. and there is no search.
‡ Heb. till there be no number.
m He sheweth by particular examples what the works of God are.
† Heb. outplaces.
* 1 Sam. 2. 7. Psal. 113. 7.
* Nehem. 4. 15. Psal. 33. 10. Isa. 8. 10.
‡ Or, cannot perform my thing.
* 1 Cor. 3. 19.
* Deut. 28. 29.
‡ Or, run into.
n In things plain, and evident, they shew themselves fools in stead of wise men. o This declareth, that God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threatned Deut 28. 29. p That is, he that humbleth himself before God. q He compareth the slander of the wicked to sharp swords. * Psal. 107. 42. r If the wicked be compelled at Gods works to stop their mouths, much more they that profess God. * Prov. 3. 12. Heb. 12. 5. Iames 1. 12. Rev. 3. 19. * Deut 32. 39. 1 Sam. 2. 6. Isa 30. 26. Hos. 6. 1. * Psal. 91. 3. s He will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time, but continually trust in him: but they shall have a comfortable issue, even in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh. † Heb. from the hands. ‡ Or, when the tongue scourgeth. t whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to rejoyce. * Hos. 2. 18.
u when we are in Gods favour, all creatures shall serve us.
‡ Or, that peace is thy tabernacle.
‡ Or, err.
x God shall so bless thee, that thou shalt have occasion to rejoyce in all things and not to be offended.
‡ Or, much.
y Though the children of God have not always this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their advantage.
† Heb. ascendeth. z we have learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in justice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth cometh for his own sin. † Heb. for thy self.

Chap. VI.

1 Job sheweth that his complaints are not causeless. 8 He wisheth for death, wherein he is assured of comfort. 14 He reproveth his friends of unkindness.

BUt Job answered and said,

2 Oh that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity † laid in the [a] balances together!

3 For now it would be heavier then the sand of the sea: therefore ‡ my words are [b] swallowed up.

4 * For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof drinketh up my spirit: the terrours of God do [c] set themselves in aray against me.

5 Doth the [d] wild ass bray † when he hath grass? or loweth the ox over his fodder?

6 Can that which is [e] unsavory be eaten without salt? or is there any tast in the white of an egg?

7 The things that my soul refused to touch, are as my sorrowful meat.

8 O that I might have my [f] request! and that God would grant me † the thing that I long for!

9 Even that it would please God to destroy me; that he would let loose his hand, and cut me off.

10 Then should I yet have comfort, yea, I would harden my self in sorrow; let him not spare, [g] for I have not conceiled the words of the holy One.

11 What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine [h] end, that I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh † of brass?

13 Is not my [i] help in me? and is wisdom driven quite from me?

14 † To him that is afflicted pity should be shewed from his friend; but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a [k] brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away:

16 Which are blackish by reason of the ice, and wherein the snow is hid:

† Heb. lifted up.
a To know whether I complain without just cause.
‡ That is, I want words to express my grief.
b My grief is so great, that I lack words to express it.
* Psal. 38. 2.
c which declareth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battel that the faithful can have.
d Think you that I cry without cause, seeing the bruit beasts do not complain when they have what they would?
† Heb. as grass.
e Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no savour? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are unsavory to the mouth.
f Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impatiency to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreable to his will.
Heb. my expectation.
g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatiency.
h He feared least he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrows should continue.
† Heb. brasen.
i Have I not sought to help my self as much as was possible?
† Heb. to him that melteth.
k He compareth those friends which comfort us not in misery, to a brook, which in summer when wee need water is dry; in winter is hard frozen; and in the time of rain, when we have no need, overfloweth with water.

414

17 What time they wax warm, † they vaniſh: † when it is hot, they are † conſumed out of their place.

18 The paths of their way are turned aſide; they go to nothing, and periſh.

19 The troups of [l] Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.

20 They were confounded becauſe they had hoped; they came thither, and were aſhamed.

21 ‡† For now ye are †[m] nothing; ye ſee my caſting down, and are afraid.

22 Did I ſay, Bring unto me? Or give a reward for me of your [n] ſubſtance?

23 Or deliver me from the enemies hand? or redeem me from the hand of the mighty?

24 Teach me, and I will [o] hold my tongue: and cauſe me to underſtand wherein I have erred.

25 How [b] forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to [q] reprove words, and the ſpeeches of one that is deſperate, which are as wind?

27 Yea, † ye overwhelm the fatherleſs, and you dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content, [r] look upon me, for it is † evident unto you, if I lie.

29 Return I pray you, let it not be iniquity; yea, return again, my righteouſneſs is " in it.

30 Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot † my taſte diſcern perverſe things?

† Heb. becauſe to fall upon. r Conſider whether I ſpeak as one that is driven to this impatiency through very ſorrow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemn me. † Heb. before your face. " That is, in this matter. † Heb. my palate.

CHAP. VII.

1 Job excuſeth his deſire of death. 12 He complaineth of his own reſtleſneſs, and Gods watchfulneſs.

‡ Or, a warfare.

IS there not ‡ an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days alſo like the days of an [a] hireling?

2 As a ſervant † earneſtly deſireth the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:

3 So am I made to poſſeſs [b] months of vanity, and wearifom nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I ſay, When ſhall I ariſe, and † the night be gone? and I am full of toſſings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh is [c] clothed with worms and clods of duſt, my skin is broken, and become loathſom.

6 *My days are ſwifter then a [d] weavers ſhuttle, and are ſpent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is wind: mine eye † ſhall no more ‡ ſee good.

8 The eye of him that hath ſeen me ſhall ſee me no more: thine eyes are upon me and " I am not.

9 [e] As the cloud is conſumed, and vaniſheth away: ſo he that goeth down to the grave, ſhall come up [f] no more.

10 He ſhall return no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not [g] refrain my mouth, I will ſpeak in the anguiſh of my ſpirit, I will complain in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

12 Am I a ſea, or a [h] whale, that thou ſetteſt a watch over me?

13 When I ſay, My bed ſhall comfort me, my couch ſhall eaſe my complaint:

14 Then thou [i] ſcareſt me with dreams, and terrifieſt me through viſions.

15 So that my ſoul [k] chooſeth ſtrangling, and death rather † then my life.

16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me [l] alone, for my days are vanity.

17 * What is man, that thou ſhouldeſt [m] magnify him? and that thou ſhouldeſt ſet thine heart upon him?

18 And that thou ſhouldeſt viſit him every morning, and try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I ſwallow down my ſpittle?

20 I have [n] ſinned, what ſhall I do unto thee, O thou preſerver of men? why haſt thou ſet me as a mark againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden to my ſelf?

21 And why doſt thou not pardon my tranſgreſſion, and take away mine iniquity? for now ſhall I ſleep in the duſt, and thou ſhalt ſeek me in the morning, but I ſhall [o] not be.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad ſheweth Gods juſtice, in dealing with men according to their works. 8 He alledgeth antiquity to prove the certain deſtruction of the hypocrite. 20 He applieth Gods juſt dealing to Job.

THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, & ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou ſpeak theſe things? and how long ſhall the words of thy mouth be like a [a] ſtrong wind?

3 * Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty pervert juſtice?

4 If thy children have ſinned againſt him, and he have caſt them away † for their [b] tranſgreſſion:

5 * If thou wouldeſt [c] ſeek unto God betimes, and make thy ſupplication to the Almighty;

6 If thou wert pure and upright; ſurely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteouſneſs proſperous.

7 Though thy beginning was [d] ſmall, yet thy latter end ſhould greatly increaſe.

8 *[e] For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy ſelf to the ſearch of their fathers.

9 (For * we are but of [f] yeſterday, and know † nothing, becauſe our days upon earth are a ſhadow)

10 Shall they not teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?

11 Can the [g]ruſh grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?

12 * Whileſt it is yet in his greenneſs, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the * hypocrites hope ſhall periſh:

14 Whoſe hope ſhall be cut off, and whoſe truſt ſhall be † [h] a ſpiders web.

l They that paſs thereby to go into the hot countries of Arabia, think to find water there to quench their thirſt, but they are deceived.

‡ Or, for now ye are like to them.

† Heb. to it.

† Heb. not.

m That is, like to this brook, which deceiveth them that think to have water there in their need, as I looked for conſolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no neceſſity will give part of their goods, and much more theſe men, which would not give him comfortable words.

o Shew me wherein I have erred, and I will confeſs my fault.

p He that hath a good conſcience doth not ſhrink at the ſharp words or reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſwade him by reaſon.

q Do you cavil at my words becauſe I ſhould be thought to ſpeak fooliſhly, which am now in miſery.

a Hath not an hired ſervant ſome reſt and eaſe? then in this my continual torment I am worſe then an hireling.

b My ſorrow hath continued from month to month, and I have looked for hope in vain.

d Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the brevity of mans life, which paſſeth without hope of returning, in conſideration whereof he deſireth God to have compaſſion on him.

† Heb. ſhall not return.

‡ Or, To ſee, that is, to enjoy

" That is, I can live no longer.

e If thou behold me in thine anger, I ſhall not be able to ſtand in thy preſence.

f Shall no more enjoy this mortal life

g Seeing I can by no other means comfort my ſelf, I will declare my grief by words: and thus he ſpeaketh as one overcome with grief of mind.

h Am not I a poor wretch? what needeſt thou then to lay ſo much pain on me?

i So that I can have no reſt, night nor day.

k He ſpeaketh as one overcome with ſorrow, and not of judgment, or, of the examination of his faith.

† Heb. then my bones.

l Seeing my term of life is ſo ſhort, let me have ſome reſt and eaſe.

* Pſal. 8. 4. & 144. 3. Heb. 2. 6

m Seeing that man of himſelf is ſo vile, why doſt thou give him that honour to contend againſt him? Job uſeth all kinds of perſwation with God, that he might ſtay his hand n After all temptations, faith burſteth forth, and leadeth Job to repentance? yet it was not in ſuch perfection, that he could bridle himſelf from reaſoning with God, becauſe that he ſtill tried his faith.

o That is, I ſhall be dead.

a He declareth that their words which would diminiſh any thing from the juſtice of God, is but as a puff of wind that vaniſheth away.

* Chap. 22. 23.

c That is, if thou turn betime whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

d Though the beginnings be not ſo pleaſant, as thou wouldeſt deſire, yet in the end thou ſhalt have ſufficient occaſion to content thy ſelf.

* Deut. 4. 32.

* Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chron. 29. 15. & 7. 6. Pſal. 39. 5. & 144. 4.

15 He ſhall lean upon his houſe, but it ſhall not ſtand: he ſhall hold it faſt, but it ſhall not endure.

16 He is green before the ſun, and his [i] branch ſhooteth forth in his garden.

17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and ſeeth the place of ſtones.

18 If he deſtroy him from his place, then it [k] ſhall deny him, ſaying, I have not ſeen thee.

19 Behold, this is [l] the joy of his way, and out of the earth ſhall others grow.

20 Behold, God will not caſt away a perfect man, neither will he † help the evil-doers:

21 Till he fill thy mouth with [m] laughing, and thy lips with † rejoycing.

22 They that hate thee ſhall be clothed with ſhame, and the dwelling-place of the wicked † ſhall come to nought.

i He compareth the juſt to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place unto another, yet flouriſheth: ſo the affliction of the godly turneth to their profit.

k That is, ſo that there remain nothing there to prove whether the tree had grown there or no.

l To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleaſure.

† Heb. take the wicked by the hand.

m If thou be godly, he will give thee occaſion to rejoyce and if not, thine affliction ſhall increaſe. † Heb. ſhouting for joy. † Heb. ſhall not be.

CHAP. IX.

1 Job acknowledging Gods juſtice, ſheweth there is no contending with him. 22. Mans innocency is not to be condemned by afflictions.

THen Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 I know it is ſo of a truth: but how ſhould * man be [a] juſt ‡ with God?

3 If he will contend with him, he cannot anſwer him one of a [b] thouſand.

4 He is wiſe in heart, and mighty in ſtrength: who hath hardned himſelf againſt him, and hath proſpered?

5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.

6 Which [c] ſhaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.

7 Which commandeth the ſun, and it riſeth not: and ſealeth up the ſtars.

8 * Which alone ſpreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the † waves of the ſea.

9 * Which maketh † [d] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the ſouth.

10 * Which doth great things paſt finding out, yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, he [e] goeth by me, and I ſee him not: he paſſeth on alſo, but I perceive him not.

12 * Behold, he taketh away, † [i] who can hinder him? who will ſay unto him, What doſt thou?

13 If God [g] will not withdraw his anger, the † proud helpers do [h] ſtoop under him.

14 How much leſs ſhall I anſwer him, and chooſe out my [i] words to reaſon with him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I [k] not anſwer, but I would make ſupplication to my judge.

16 If I had [l] called, and he had anſwered me; yet would I not believe that he had hearkned unto my voice.

17 For he breaketh me with a tempeſt, and multiplieth my wounds [m] without cauſe.

a Pſal. 143. 2. a Job here anſwereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the juſtice of God, and his innocency, confeſſing God to be infinite in juſtice, and man to be nothing in reſpect.

† Or, before God.

b Of a thouſand things which God could lay to his charge man cannot anſwer him one.

† Heb. who can turn him away?

f He ſheweth that when God doth execute his power, he doth it juſtly, forſmuch as none can control him.

g God will not be appeaſed for ought that man can ſay for himſelf for his juſtification. † Heb. helpers of pride, or, ſtrength. h That is, all the reaſons that men can ſay to approve their cauſe. i How ſhould I be able to anſwer him by eloquence? whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talk, yet they felt not in heart that which they ſpake. k Meaning, in his own opinion, ſignifying, that man will ſometime flatter himſelf to be righteous, which before God is abomination. l Whiles I am in my pangs, I cannot but burſt forth into many inconveniences, although I know ſtill that God is juſt. m I am not able to feel my ſins ſo great, as I feel the weight of his plagues: and this he ſpeaketh to condemn his dulneſs and to juſtify God.

18 He will not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterneſs.

19 If I ſpeak of ſtrength, lo he is [n] ſtrong: and if of judgment, who ſhall ſet me a time to plead?

20 If I juſtify my ſelf, mine own mouth ſhall condemn me: if I ſay, I am [o] perfect, it ſhall alſo prove me perverſe.

21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my ſoul: I would deſpiſe my life.

22 This is one thing, therefore I ſaid it, he deſtroyeth the [p] perfect and the wicked.

23 If the ſcourge [q] ſlay ſuddenly, he will [r] laugh at the trial of the innocent.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he [ſ] covereth the faces of the judges thereof; if not, [t] where, and who is he?

25 Now my days are ſwifter then a poſt: they flee away, they ſee no good.

26 They are paſſed away as the † ‡ ſwift ſhips: as the eagle that haſteth to the prey.

27 [u] If I ſay, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heavineſs, and comfort my ſelf:

28 I am afraid of all my ſorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then [x] labour I in vain?

30 [y] If I waſh my ſelf with ſnow-water, and make my hands never ſo clean;

31 Yet ſhalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own [z] clothes ſhall ‡ abhor me.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I ſhould anſwer him, and we ſhould come together in judgment.

33 Neither is there † any ‡ [a] days-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me.

35 Then would I ſpeak, and not fear him; † [b] but it is not ſo with me.

n After he hath accuſed his own weakneſs, he continueth to juſtify God and his power.

o If I would ſtand in mine own defence, yet God hath juſt cauſe to condemn me, if he examin mine heart and conſcience.

p If God puniſh according to his juſtice, he will deſtroy as well them that are counted perfect, as them that are wicked.

q To wit, the wicked.

r This is ſpoken according to our apprehenſion, as though he would ſay, If God deſtroy but the wicked, as Chap. 5. 3. why ſhould he ſuffer the innocents to be ſo long tormented by them?

ſ That they cannot ſee to do juſtice.

t That can ſhew the contrary.

† Heb. ſhips of deſire.

‡ Or, ſhips of Eben.

u I think not to fall into theſe affections, but my ſorrows bring me to theſe manifold infirmities, & my conſcience condemneth me.

x why doth not God deſtroy me at once, thus he ſpeaketh according to the infirmity of the fleſh.

y Though I ſeem never ſo pure in mine own eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

z whatſoever I would uſe to cover my filthineſs with, ſhall diſcloſe me ſo much more.

‡ Or, make me to be abhorred. † Heb. one that ſhould argue. ‡ Or, umpire. a which might make an accord between God and me, ſpeaking of impatiency, and yet confeſſing God to be juſt in puniſhing him. † Heb. but I am not ſo with my ſelf. b Signifying, that Gods judgments keep him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Job, taking liberty of complaint, expoſtulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little eaſe before death.

MY ſoul is ‡ [a] weary of my life, I will leave my [b] complaint upon my ſelf; I will ſpeak in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

2 I will ſay unto God, Do not [c] condemn me; ſhew me wherefore thou contendeſt with me.

3 Is it good unto thee, that thou ſhouldeſt [d] oppreſs? that thou ſhouldeſt deſpiſe † the work of [e] thine hands? and [f] ſhine upon the counſel of the wicked?

4 Haſt thou eyes of [g] fleſh? or ſeeſt thou as man ſeeth?

5 Are thy days as the [h] days of man? are thy years as mans days,

6 That thou enquireſt after mine iniquity, and ſearcheſt after my ſin?

‡ Or, cut off while I live.

a I am more like to a dead man then to one that liveth

b I will make an ample declaration of my torments accuſing my ſelf and not God.

c He would not that God ſhould proceed againſt him by his ſecret juſtice, but by the ordinary means that he puniſheth others.

d Is it agreable to thy juſtice to do me wrong?

† Heb. the labour of thine hands.

e wilt thou be without compaſſion? f wilt thou gratify the wicked and condemn me? g Doſt thou this of ignorance? h Art thou inconſtant and changeable as the times; to day a friend, to morrow an enemy?

416

7 † Thou knowest that I am not [i] wicked, and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 [k] Thine hands † have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the [l] clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 * Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and crudled me like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast † fenced me with bones and sinews.

12 Thou hast granted me life and [m] favour, and thy [n] visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I [o] know that this is with thee.

14 If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, wo unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I [p] not lift up my head: I am full of confusion, therefore see thou mine affliction:

16 For it increaseth: thou huntest me as a fierce lion; and again thou shewest thy self [q] marvellous upon me.

17 Thou renewest ‡ thy witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me; [r] changes and war are against me.

18 * Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb? O that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me!

19 I should have been as though I had not been, I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.

20 * Are not my days few? [r] cease then, and let me alone that I may take comfort a little:

21 Before I go whence I shall [t] not return, even to the land of darkness, and the shadow of death;

22 A land of darkness, as darkness it self, and of the shadow of death, without any [u] order, and where the light is as darkness.

† Heb. It is upon thy knowledge.

f By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing evil, neither can any set me at liberty.

k In these 8 verses following, he describeth the mercy of God in the wonderful creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not shew himself rigorous against him.

† Heb. took pains about me.

l As brittle as a pot of clay.

* Psal. 139. 14, 15, 16.

m That is, reason and understanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

n That is, thy fatherly care and providence, whereby thou preservest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confess that it is so.

p I will alway walk in fear and humility, knowing that none is just before thee.

q Job being sore assaulted in this battel between the flesh and the spirit, bursteth out into these affections, wishing rather short days then long pain.

‡ That is, thy plagues.

r That is, diversity of diseases, and in great abundance: shewing that God hath infinite means to punish man.

* Chap 3. 11.

* Chap. 7. 6. & 8. 9.

s He wisheth that God would leave off his affliction, considering his great misery, and the brevity of his life.

t He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of Gods judgments, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection.

u No distinction between light and darkness, but where all is very darkness it self.

Chap. XI.

1 Zophar reproveth Job for justifying himself. 5 Gods wisdom is unsearchable. 13 The assured blessing of repentance.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should † a man full of talk be justified?

3 Should thy ‡ lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My [b] doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, O that God would speak, and open his lips against thee;

† Heb. a man of lips.

a Should he perswade by his great talk, that he is just?

‡ Or, devices.

b He chargeth Job with this, that he should say, that the thing which he spake was true, and that he was without sin in the sight of God.

6 And that he would shew thee the [c] secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! know therefore that God exacteth of thee less then thine iniquity deserveth.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 It is † as high as heaven, what canst thou do? [d] deeper then hell, what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and broader then the sea.

10 If he ‡ cut off, and [e] shut up, or gather together, then † who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickedness also; will he not then consider it?

12 For † vain man would be wise, though man be born like a [f] wild asses colt.

13 If thou [g] prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands towards him;

14 If iniquity be in thine [h] hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then shalt thou lift up thy [i] face without spot, yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:

16 Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that pass away:

17 And thine age † shall be clearer then the noon-day; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be secure because there is hope; yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and * thou shalt take thy rest in safety.

19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea, many shall † make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall [k] fail, and † they shall not escape, and * their hope shall be as ‡ the giving up the ghost.

c which is not to stand in justifying of thy self: he signifieth that man will never be overcome, whiles he reasoneth with another, & therefore God must break off the controversy, and stop mans mouth.

† Heb. the height of heaven.

d That is, this perfection of God; and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heaven, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attain to the perfection of the Creator?

‡ Or, make no change.

e If God should turn the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could control him?

† Heb. who can turn him away?

f Heb. empty.

f That is, without understanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God and not of nature.

g If thou repent, & pray unto him.

h Renounce thine own evil works, and see that they offend not God.

i He declareth what quietness of conscience and success in all things such shall have, which turn to God by true repentance.

† Heb. shall arise above the noon-day.

* Levit. 26. 5.

† Heb. intreat thy face.

k He sheweth that contrary things shall come unto them that do not repent.

† Heb. flight shall perish from them.

* Chap. 8. 14. & 11. 14.

‡ Or, a puff of breath.

Chap. XII.

1 Job maintaineth himself against his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth the general doctrine of Gods omnipotency.

ANd Job answered and said,

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and [a] wisdom shall die with you.

3 But I have † understanding as well as you; † I am not inferiour to you: yea, † who knoweth not such things as these?

4 [b] I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, & [c] he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.

5 [d] He that is ready to slip with his feet is as a lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.

6 The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure; into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But ask now the [e] beasts, and they shall a Because you feel not that which you speak, you think the whole slanderth in words, and so flatter your selves, as though none knew any thing, or could know but you.

† Heb. an heart.

‡ Heb. I fall not lower then you.

† Heb. with whom are not such as these?

b He reproveth these his friends of two faults: the one that they thought they had better knowledge then indeed they had: and the other that in stead of true consolation, they did deride, and despise their friend in his adversity.

c The which neighbour being a mocker and a wicked man thinketh that no man is in Gods favour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.

d As the rich esteem not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperity, to adversity.

e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very bruit beasts do daily teach.

teach

teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee; and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these, that the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?

10 In whose hand is the ‡soul of every living thing, and the breath of †all mankind.

11 * Doth not the ear [f] try words? and the †mouth taste his meat?

12 With the [g] ancient is wisdom; and in length of days, understanding.

13 ‡ With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he *shutteth †up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: the deceived and the [h] deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counsellers away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 [i] He looseth the [k] bond of kings, and girdeth their loyns with a girdle.

19 He leadeth princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 * He removeth away †the speech of the [l] trusty, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and ‡weakneth the strength of the mighty.

22 He discovereth deep things out of darkness, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.

23 He [m] increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and †straiteneth them again.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to †stagger like a drunken man.

‡ Heb. loadeth in. † Heb. wander.

‡ Or, life.
† Heb. all flesh of man.
* Chap. 34 3.
f He exhorteth them to be wise in judging, and as well to know the right use why God hath given them ears, as he hath done a mouth.
† Heb. palate
g Though men by age, and continuance of time attain to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom, not able to comprehend his judgments, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Chap 8. 8.
h That is, with God.
* Isa. 22. 22. Rev 3. 7.
† Heb. open.
i He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will and ordinance: for else he should not be almighty.
k He taketh wisdom from them.
l He alareth the heart of princes, & bringeth them into the subjection of others.
* Chap. 32. 9.
† Heb. the lip of the faithful.
l He cauſeth that their words have no credit, which in whom he will punish sin.
‡ Or, loosseth the girdle of the strong. m In this discourse of Gods wonderful works Job sheweth that whatsoever is done in this world both in the order and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is able to set forth his power in words as they that reasoned against him were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job reproveth his friends of partiality. 14 He professeth his confidence in God, 20 and intreateth to know his own sins, and Gods purpose in afflicting him.

LO, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also: I am not inferiour unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to [a] reason with God.

4 But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all [b] physicians of no value.

5 O that you would altogether hold your peace, and it should be your wisdom.

6 Hear now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

a For although he knew that God had a justice, which was manifest in his ordinary working, and another in his secret counsel, yet he would utter his affection to God, because he was not able to understand the cause why he did thus punish him. b You do not well apply your medicine to the disease.

7 Will you speak [c] wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God?

9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?

12 Your [d] remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 † Hold your peace, let me alone that I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I [e] take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

15 Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will †maintain mine own ways before him.

16 He also shall be my salvation: for an [f] hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause; I know that I shall be [g] justified.

19 Who is he that will [h] plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the [i] ghost.

20 Onely do not two things unto me: then will I not hide my self from thee.

21 [k] Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine [l] iniquities and sins? make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and * makest me to possess the iniquities of my [m] youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the [n] stocks, and †lookest narrowly unto all my paths: thou settest a print upon the †heels of my feet.

28 And he, as a rotten thing consumeth, as a garment that is moth-eaten.

c He condemneth their zeal, which had not knowledg, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods justice, as though it was not evidently seen in Job, except they had undertaken the probation thereof.
d Your fame shall come to nothing.
† Heb. be silent from me.
e Is not this a manifest sign of mine affliction, and that I do not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented, as though I should tear mine own flesh, and put my life in danger.
† Heb. prove, or, argue.
f Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.
g That is, cleared and not cast off for my sins as you reason.
h To prove that God doth thus punish me for my sins.
i If I defend not my cause, every man will condemn me.
k He sheweth what these two things are.
l His pangs thus move him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned, but he desired to understand what were his great sins that had deserved such rigour, wherein he offended, that he would know a cause of God why he did punish him.
* Psal. 25 7.
m Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and dost so press me, that I cannot stir hand nor foot.
† Heb. observest.
† Heb roots.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Job intreateth God for favour, by the shortness of life, and certainty of death. 7 Though life once lost be irrecoverable, yet he waiteth for his change. 16 By sin the creature is subject to corruption.

MAN [a] that is born of a woman, is †of few days, and full of trouble.

2 * He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an [b] one, and bringest me unto judgment with thee?

a Taking occasion of his adversaries words, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death.
† Heb short of days.
* Chap. 8. 9. Psal. 102. 11. & 103 15. & 144. 4. b His meaning is, that seeing that man is so frail a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Job sheweth the wickedness of the flesh, when it is not subject to the Spirit.

4 † Who

† Heb. who will give?
* Pſal. 51. 5.
* Chap. 7. 1.

4 † Who * can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5 * Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou haſt appointed his bounds that he cannot paſs.

c Until the time that thou haſt appointed for him to die which he deſireth as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labour to receive his wages.

6 Turn from him that he may †reſt, till he ſhall accompliſh, as an [c] hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe.

8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof die in the ground:

9 Yet through the ſent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

d He ſpeaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortality, but as a man in extream pain, when reaſon is overcome by affections and torments.
†Heb is wraknd, or, cut off.

10 [d] But man dieth, and †waſteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghoſt, and where is he?

11 As the waters fail from the ſea, and the floud decayeth and dryeth up:

12 So man lieth down, and riſeth not till the heavens be no more, they ſhall not awake, nor be raiſed out of their ſleep.

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the grave, that thou wouldeſt keep me ſecret, until thy [e] wrath be paſt, that thou wouldeſt appoint me a ſet time, and [f] remember me.

e Hereby he declareth that the fear of Gods judgment was the cauſe why he deſired to die.
f That is, releaſe my pains, and take me to mercy.

14 If a man die, ſhall he live again? all the days of my appointed time will I wait, till my [g] change come.

g Meaning, unto the day of the reſurrection, when he ſhould be changed and renewed.

15 Thou ſhalt call, and I will [h] anſwer thee: thou wilt have a deſire to the work of thine hands.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the reſurrection I ſhall feel thy mercies, and anſwer when thou calleſt me.
* Pſal. 139. 2, 3.

16 * For now thou numbreſt my ſteps, doſt thou not watch over my ſin?

17 My tranſgreſſion is ſealed up in a [i] bag, and thou ſeweſt up mine iniquity.

i Thou layeſt them all together, and ſuffereſt none of my ſins unpuniſhed.

18 And ſurely the mountain falling †cometh to nought: and the [k] rock is removed out of his place.

k He murmureth through the impatiency of the fleſh againſt God as though he uſed as great ſeverity againſt him, as againſt the hard rocks, or waters that overflow, ſo that hereby all the occaſion of his hope is taken away.

19 The waters wear the ſtones: thou †waſheſt away the things which grow out of the duſt of the earth, and thou deſtroyeſt the hope of man.

20 Thou prevaileſt for ever againſt him, and he paſſeth: thou changeſt his countenance, and ſendeſt him away.

21 His ſons come to honour, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.

l Yet whiles he liveth, he ſhall be in pain and miſery.

22 But his [l] fleſh upon him ſhall have pain, and his ſoul within him ſhall mourn.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job of impiety in juſtifying himſelf. 17 He proveth by tradition the unquietneſs of wicked men.

THen anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite, and ſaid, †Heb. knowledge of wind.

a That is, vain words & without conſolation?
b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as ſoon as they are uttered, as the eaſt-wind dryeth up the moiſture aſſoon as it falleth.

2 Should a wiſe man utter †[a] vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the [b] eaſt-wind?

3 Should he reaſon with unprofitable talk? or with ſpeeches wherewith he can do no good?

4 Yea, † thou caſteſt off [c] fear, and reſtraineſt ‡ prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth †uttereth thine iniquity,

† Heb. thou makeſt void. c He chargeth Job as though his talk cauſed men to caſt off the fear of God and prayer. ‡ Or, ſpeech. † Heb. teacheth.

and thou chooſeſt the [d] tongue of the crafty.

d Thou ſpeakeſt as do the mockers and contemners of God.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips teſtify againſt thee.

7 Art thou the [e] firſt man that was born? or waſt thou made before the hills?

e That is, the moſt ancient, and ſo in reaſon the moſt wiſe?
* Rom. 11. 34.

8 * Haſt thou heard the ſecret of God? and doſt thou reſtrain wiſdom to [f] thy ſelf?

f Art thou onely wiſe?

9 What knoweſt thou that we know not? what underſtandeſt thou, which is not in us?

10 With us are both the gray-headed, and very aged men, much elder then thy father.

11 Are the conſolations of God [g] ſmall with thee? is there any ſecret thing with thee?

g He accuſeth Jobs pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counſel.

12 Why doth thine heart [h] carry thee away? and what do thine eyes wink at, h why doſt thou ſtand in thine own conceit?

13 That thou turneſt thy ſpirit againſt God, and letteſt ſuch words go out of thy mouth?

* 1 Kings 8. 46. 2 Coron. 6. 36. Chap. 14. 4. Pſal. 14. 3. Prov. 20. 9. 1 Joh. 1. 8.

14 * What is man, that he ſhould be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he ſhould be [i] righteous?

i His purpoſe is to prove that Job as an unjuſt man and an hypocrite is puniſhed for his ſins, like as he did before. chap. 4. 18.

15 * Behold, he putteth no truſt in his ſaints; yea, the heavens are not clean in his ſight.

* Chap. 4. 18.

16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, which [k] drinketh iniquity like water?

k which had a deſire to ſin, as he that is thirſty to drink.

17 I will ſhew thee, hear me, and that which I have ſeen, I will declare,

18 Which wiſe men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was [l] given, and no ſtranger paſſed among them.

l who by their wiſedom ſo governed, that no ſtranger invaded them, and ſo the land ſeemed to be given to them alone.

20 The wicked man travelleth with pain all his days, and the number of [m] years is hidden to the oppreſſour.

m The cruel man is ever in danger of death, and never quiet in conſcience.

21 † A dreadful ſound is in his ears; in proſperity the deſtroyer ſhall come upon him.

† Heb. a ſound of fears.

22 He believeth not that he ſhall return out of [n] darkneſs, and he is waited for of the ſword.

n Out of that miſery where into he once falleth.

23 He [o] wandereth abroad for bread, ſaying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkneſs is ready at his hand.

o God doth not onely impoveriſh the wicked ſometimes: but even in their proſperity he puniſheth them with a greedineſs evermore to gather: which is as a beggery.

24 [p] Trouble and anguiſh ſhall make him afraid; they ſhall prevail againſt him, as a king ready to the battel.

p He ſheweth what weapons God uſeth againſt the wicked, which lift up themſelves againſt him, to wit, terrour of conſcience, and outward afflictions.

25 For he ſtretcheth out his hand againſt God, and ſtrengthneth himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick boſſes of his bucklers:

q That is, he was ſo puft up with great proſperity and abundance of all things, that he forgot God: noting, that Job in his felicity, had not the true fear of God.

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with his [q] fatneſs, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

28 And he dwelleth in [r] deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

r Though he build and repair ruinous places to get him fame, yet God ſhall bring all to nought, and turn his great proſperity into extream miſery.

29 He ſhall not be rich, neither ſhall his ſubſtance continue, neither ſhall he prolong [s] the perfection thereof upon the earth.

s Meaning, that his ſumptuous buildings ſhould never come to perfection.

30 He ſhall not depart out of darkneſs, the flame ſhall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth ſhall he go away.

t He ſtandeth ſo in his own conceit, that he will give no place to good counſel, therefore his own pride ſhall bring him to deſtruction.

31 Let not him that is deceived, truſt in vaniy: for vanity ſhall be his [t] recompence.

32 It ſhall be ‡ accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.

‡ Or, cut off.

o As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe.

33 He shall shake off his unripe grape [o] as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of [x] bribery.

35 *They [y] conceive mischief, and bring forth ‡ vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

x which were built or maintained by powling and bribery.

1 Job reproveth his friends of unmercifulness. 7 He sheweth the pitifulness of his case. 17 He maintaineth his innocency.

THen Iob answered and said,

2 I have heard many such things: ‡ * miserable comforters are ye all.

‡ Or, troublesom.
* Gen. 13. 4.

3 Shall † [a] vain words have an end? or what emboldneth thee that thou [b] answerest?

† Heb. words of wind.
a which serve for vain ostentation, and for no true comfort.
b For Eliphaz did reply against Jobs answer

4 I also could speak as ye do: [c] if your soul were in my souls stead, I could heap up words against you, and [d] shake mine head at you.

c If you felt that which I do.
d That is, mock at your misery, as you do at mine

5 But I would [e] strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should assuage your grief.

e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not do as ye do to me.

6 Though I speak, my grief is not [f] assuaged: and though I forbear, † what am I eased?

f If they would so, why dost thou not then comfort thy self? he inferreth that the judgments of God are more heavy, then he is able to assuage either by words or silence.
† Heb. what goeth from me?

7 But now he hath made me [g] weary: thou hast made desolate all my [h] company.

g Meaning, God.
h That is, destroyed most of my family.

8 And thou hast filled me with [i] wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me, beareth witness to my face.

i In token of sorrow and grief.

9 He [k] teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy sharpneth his eyes upon me.

k That is, God by his wrath; and in this diversity of words and high style he expresseth how grievous the hand of God was upon him.

10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have smitten me upon the [l] cheek reproachfully, they have gathered themselves together against me.

l That is, hath handled me most contemptuously: for to smiting on the cheek, signifieth, 1 King. 22. 24. Isa. 50. 6.

11 God † hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the [m] hands of the wicked.

† Heb. hath shut me up.
m They have led me whither they would.

12 I was at ease, but he hath broken me asunder: he hath also taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up for his mark.

13 His [n] archers compass me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my [o] gall upon the ground.

n His manifold afflictions.
o I am wounded to the heart.

14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have sowed sackcloth upon my skin, and defiled my [p] horn in the dust.

p Meaning, his glory was brought low.

16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eye-lids is the shadow of death:

17 Not for any injustice in [q] mine hands: also my prayer is [r] pure.

q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grievous punishment.
r That is, unfeigned, and without hypocrisy.

18 O earth, cover not thou my [s] bloud, and let my cry have no place.

s Let my sin be known if I be such a sinner, as mine adversaries accuse me, and let me find no favour.

19 Also now, behold, my [t] witness is in heaven, and my record is † on high.

t Though man condemn me, yet God is witness of my case.
† Heb. in the high places.

20 My friends † [u] scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

† Heb. my scorners are my friends.
u Use painted words in stead of true consolation.

21 O that one might [x] plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his ‡ neighbour.

x Thus by his great torments he is carried away, and bursteth out into passions, and speaketh unadvisedly, as though God should intreat man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to live.
‡ Or, friend.

22 When † a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

† Heb. years of number.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted, may astonish, but not discourage the righteous. 11 His hope is not in life, but in death.

MY ‡ breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

‡ Or, my spirit is spent.

2 Are there not [a] mockers with me? and doth not mine eye † continue in their [b] provocation?

a Instead of comfort, being now at deaths door, he had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.
† Heb. lodge.
b I see still that they seek but to vex me.

3 [c] Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee; who is he that will [d] strike hands with me?

c He reasoneth with God as a man beside himself, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light.
d And answer for thee.

4 For thou hast hid their heart from [e] understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

e That these mine afflictions are thy just judgments, though man know not the cause.

5 [f] He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.

f He that flatterreth a man, and only judgeth him happy in his prosperity, shall not himself only, but in his posterity be punished.

6 He hath made me also a [g] by-word of the people, and ‡ afore-time I was as a [h] tabret.

g God hath made all the world to speak of me, because of mine afflictions.
‡ Or, before them.
h That is, as a continual sound in their ears.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all ‡ my members are as a shadow.

‡ Or, my thoughts.

8 Upright men shall be [i] astonied at this, and the innocent shall stir up himself against the hypocrite.

i To wit, when they see the godly punished, but in the end they shall come to understanding, and know what shall be the reward of the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also shall [k] hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands † shall be stronger and stronger.

k That is, will not be discouraged, considring that the godly are punished, as well as the wicked.

10 But as for you [l] all, do you return, and come now: for I cannot find one wise man among you.

l Job speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even † the thoughts of my heart.

† Heb. shall add strength.

12 They change the [m] night into day: the light is † short, because of darkness.

† Heb. the possessions.
m That is, have brought me sorrow instead of comfort.

13 If I wait, the [n] grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkness.

n Though I should hope to come from adversity to prosperity as your discourse pretendeth.

14 I have † said to corruption, Thou art my [o] father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.

† Heb. near † Heb. cried, or, called o I have no more hope in father, mother, sister or any worldly thing: for the dust-worms shall be to me instead of them.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 [p] They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

p All worldly hope, and prosperity fail, which you say, are only signs of Gods favour: but seeing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, and in the life everlasting.

CHAP. XVIII.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

Chap. XIX.

Iob complaining of his friends cruelty, sheweth there is misery enough in him to feed their cruelty. 21, 28 He craveth pity. 23 He believeth the resurrection.

Then Job answered and said,

2 How long will ye vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These a ten times have ye reproached me: you are not ashamed that you ‡ make your selves strange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine errour b remaineth with my self.

5 If indeed ye will magnify your selves against me, and plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath c overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of ‡ wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.

8 He hath fenced up my way that I d cannot pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath stript me of my glory, and taken the e crown from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a f tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me, and he counteth me unto him, as one of his enemies.

12 His g troups come together, and raise up their way against me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.

13 He hath put my brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 h They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, count me for a stranger: I am an aliant in their sight, 16 I called my servant, and he gave me no answer: I entreated him with my mouth.

17 My breath is strange to my wife, though I entreated for the childrens sake of † i mine own body.

18 Yea, ‡ young children despised me; I arose, and they spake against me.

23 † O that my words were now written, oh that they were printed in a book!

24 That they were graven with an p iron pen and lead, in the rock for ever!

25 For I know that my q redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.

26 ‡ And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I r see God:

27 Whom I shall see for my self, and mine eyes shall behold, and not † another; though my reins be consumed † within me.

28 But ye should say, Why persecute we him, ‡ seeing the s root of the matter is found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a t judgment.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Job sheweth that even in the judgment of man he hath reason to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do so prosper, as they despise God. 16 Sometime their destruction is manifest. 22 The happy and unhappy are alike in death. 27 The judgment of the wicked is in another world.

BUt Job answered and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech, and let [a] this be your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, [b] is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be † troubled?

5 † Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your [c] mouth.

6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.

7 * Wherefore do the wicked [d] live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses † are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendreth and faileth not, their cow calveth and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a [e] flock, and their children dance.

12 They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoyce at the sound of the organ.

13 They spend their days ‡ in wealth, and in a [f] moment go down to the grave.

14 * Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the [g] knowledge of thy ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have if we pray unto him?

16 Lo, their good is not in their [h] hand: the [i] counsel of the wicked is far from me.

17 How oft is the ‡ candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their destruction upon them? God distributeth sorrows in his anger.

18 They are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm † carrieth away.

19 God layeth up his " iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.

20 [k] His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off in the midst?

22 Shall any teach [l] God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high.

23 [m] One dieth † in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.

f As poison that is sweet in the mouth bringeth destruction when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.

† Heb. in the midst of his palate.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz sheweth that mans goodness profiteth not God. 5 He accuseth Job of divers sins. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promises of mercy.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered & said,

2 [a] Can a man be profitable unto God, ‡ as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?

3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect?

4 Will he reprove thee for [b] fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?

5 Is not thy wickedness great? and thine iniquities infinite?

6 For thou hast taken a [c] pledge from thy brother for nought, and † stripped the naked of their clothing.

7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, and thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.

8 But as for † the mighty man, he had the [d] earth, and the † honourable man dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been [e] broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and sudden fear troubleth thee;

12 Is not God in the [g] height of heaven? & behold † the height of the [h] stars, how high they are.

13 And thou sayest, ‡ How doth God [i] know? can he judge through the dark cloud?

14 Thick clouds are a covering to him that he seeth not, and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.

15 Hast thou marked the old way which wicked men have [k] troden?

16 Which were [l] cut down out of time, † whose foundation was overflown with a flood.

17 * Which said unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do ‡ for them?

21 [q] Acquaint now thy self "with him, and be at peace; thereby good shall come unto thee.

22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

23 * If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be [r] built up, thou shalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.

24 Then shalt thou lay up gold ‡ as [s] dust, & the gold of Ophir as the stones of the brooks.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy ‡ defence, and thou shalt have † plenty of silver.

26 For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee: and the [t] light shall shine upon thy ways.

29 [u] When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up: and he shall save † the humble person.

30 ‡ He shall deliver the [x] island of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureness of thine hands.

1 Job longeth to appear before God, 6 in confidence of his mercy. 8 God who is invisible, observeth our ways. 11 Jobs innocency. 13 Gods decree is immutable.

Chap. XXIV.

1 Wickedneſs goeth often unpuniſhed. 17 There is a ſecret judgment for the wicked.

a The times of Gods judgments are ſo known to himſelf, as that he doth not ordinarily reveil the knowledge thereof to his deareſt children: therefore it is not poſſible that any certain rules can be preſcribed by any man touching it. Herein his judgments which either here or hereafter the wicked ſuffer.

Chap. XXVI.

1 Job reproving the uncharitable ſpirit of Bildad, 5 acknowledgeth the power of God to be infinite and unſearchable.

BUt Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 [a] How haſt thou helped him that is without power? how ſaveſt thou the arm that hath no ſtrength?

3 How haſt thou counſelled him that hath no wiſdom? and how haſt thou plentifully declared the thing, [b] as it is?

1 There is a knowledge of natural things. 12 But wisdom is an excellent gift of God.

† Heb. and withhold not spittle from my face.

12 Upon my right hand rise the youth, they push away my feet, and they raise up against me the [h] ways of their destruction.

h That is, They sought by all means how they might destroy me.

13 They mar my path, they set forward my calamity, they have no [i] helper.

i They need none to help them.

14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the [k] desolation they rolled themselves upon me.

Chap. XXXI.

1 Job maketh a ſolemn proteſtation of his integrity in ſeveral duties.

I Made a covenant with mine ᵃ eyes; why then ſhould I think upon a ᵇ maid?

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked? and a ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquity?

4 * Doth not he ᶜ ſee my ways, and count all my ſteps?

5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath haſted to deceit;

6 † Let me be weighed in an even ballance, that God may know mine ᵈ integrity.

7 If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, and mine heart ᵉ walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to my hands:

8 Then let me ſow, and let another ᶠ eat; yea, let my offſpring be rooted out.

9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbours door:

10 Then let my wife ᵍ grind unto another, and let others bowe down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime, yea it is an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judges.

12 For it is a fire that conſumeth to ʰ deſtruction, and would root out all mine increaſe.

13 If I did deſpiſe the cauſe of my man-ſervant, or of my maid-ſervant, when they contended with me:

14 What then ſhall I do when God ᵏ riſeth up? and when he viſiteth, what ſhall I anſwer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the womb, ˡ make him? and ‡ did not one faſhion us in the womb?

16 If I have withheld the poor from their deſire, or have cauſed the eyes of the widow to ᵐ fail:

17 Or have eaten my morſel my ſelf alone, and the fatherleſs hath not eaten thereof:

18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with ⁿ a father, and I have guided ‡ her from my mothers womb)

19 If I have ſeen any periſh for want of clothing, or any poor without covering:

20 If his loyns have not bleſſed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my ſheep;

21 If I have ° lift up my hand againſt the fatherleſs, when I ſaw my help in the gate:

22 Then let ᵖ mine arm fall from my ſhoulder-blade, and mine arm be broken from ‡ the bone.

23 For deſtruction from ᵠ God was a terrour to me, and by reaſon of his highneſs I could not endure.

24 If I have made gold my hope, or have ſaid to fine gold, Thou art my confidence:

25 If I rejoyced becauſe my wealth was great, and becauſe mine hand had † gotten much:

26 If I beheld † the ʳ ſun when it ſhined, or the moon walking † in brightneſs:

27 And my heart hath been ſecretly enticed, or † my mouth hath ˢ kiſſed my hand:

28 This alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judge: for I ſhould have ᵗ denied the God that is above.

29 If I rejoyced at the deſtruction of him that hated me, or lift up my ſelf when evil found him:

30 (Neither have I ſuffered † my mouth to ſin, by wiſhing a curſe to his ſoul)

31 If the men of my ᵘ tabernacle ſaid not, Oh that we had of his fleſh! we cannot be ſatisfied.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreet: but I opened my doors ‡ to the traveller.

33 If I ˣ covered my tranſgreſſions, ‡ as Adam: by hiding mine iniquity in my boſom:

34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families ʸ terrify me: that I ᶻ kept ſilence, and went not out of the door?

35 O that one would hear me! ‡ behold, my ᵃ deſire is, that the Almighty would anſwer me, and that mine adverſary had written a book.

36 Surely I would take it upon my ſhoulder, and bind it as a ᵇ crown to me.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my ſteps, as ᶜ prince would I go near unto him.

z Leſt I ſhould procure greater punishment then what is already laid upon me.
a Thus Elihu ſpeaketh in the perſon of God, as it were, mocking Job, becauſe he would be wiſer then God.
† Heb. ſhould it be from with thee.
b will God uſe thy counſel in doing his works.
c Thus he ſpeaketh in the perſon of God, as though Job ſhould chuſe and refuſe affliction at his pleaſure.
† Heb. of heart.
‡ Or, my father, let Job be tried. d That he may ſpeak as much as he can, that we may anſwer him and all the wicked that ſhall uſe ſuch arguments. e He ſtandeth ſtubbornly in the maintenance of his cauſe.

Chap. XXXV.

1 Compariſon is not to be made with God, becauſe our good or evil cannot extend unto him. 9 Many cry in their afflictions, but are not heard for want of faith.

ELihu ſpake moreover and ſaid,

2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right, that thou a ſaidſt, My righteouſneſs is more then Gods?

a Job never ſpake theſe words: but becauſe he maintained his innocency, it ſeemed as though he would ſay, that God tormented him without juſt cauſe.

3 For thou saidst, What advantage will it be unto thee, and, What profit shall I have ‡ if I be cleansed from my sin.

‡ Or, by it more than by sin.

4 † I will answer thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.

† Heb. I will return to thee words.
b Such as are in the like errour.

5 Look unto the heavens, and see and behold the [c] clouds which are higher then thou.

c If thou canst not controll the clouds, wilt thou presume to instruct God?

6 If thou sinnest, [d] what dost thou against him? or if thy transgressions be multiplied, what dost thou unto him?

d Neither doth thy sin hurt God, nor thy justice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

7 * If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?

* Chap. 22. 3. Psal. 16. 2. Rom. 11. 35.

8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.

9 By reason of the multitude of oppressions, they make the oppressed to [e] cry: they cry out by reason of the arm of the mighty.

e The wicked may hurt man, & cause him to cry, who if he sought to God, which sendeth comfort, should be delivered.

10 But none saith, Where is God my maker, who giveth songs in the night?

11 Who teacheth us more then the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser then the fowls of heaven.

12 There they cry, ([f] but none giveth answer) because of the pride of evil men.

f Because they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

13 * Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

* Chap. 27. 9. Prov. 1. 29. Isa. 1. 13. Jer. 11. 11.

14 Although thou sayst thou shalt not see him, yet judgment is [g] before him, therefore trust thou in him.

g God is just however thou judgest of him.

15 But now because it is not so, ‡ he hath visited in his anger, yet ‡ he knoweth it not in great extremity:

‡ That is, God.

16 Therefore doth Job [h] open his mouth in vain: he multiplieth words without knowledge.

‡ That is, Job.

h For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, thou shouldest not be able to open thy mouth.

Chap. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth how God is just in his ways, 16 how Jobs sins hinder Gods blessings. 24 Gods works are to be magnified.

† Heb. that there are yet words for God.

E Lihu also proceeded, and said,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee, † that I have yet to speak on Gods behalf.

a He sheweth that when we speak of God, we must lift up our spirits more high, then our natural sense is able to reach.

3 I will [a] fetch my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my maker.

b Thou shalt perceive that I am a faithful instructour, & that I speak to thee in the name of God.

4 For truly, my words shall not be false: he that is [b] perfect in knowledge is with thee.

c Strong and constant, & of understanding: for these are the gifts of God, & he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God punisheth now Job, it is a sign that these are not in him.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is [c] mighty in strength and † wisdom.

† Heb. heart.

6 [d] He preserveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the ‡ poor.

d Therefore he will not preserve the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will shew grace.

‡ Or, afflicted.

7 * He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with [e] kings are they on the throne, yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted.

* Psal. 34. 15.

e He preferreth the godly to honour.

8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction:

9 Then he sheweth them their [f] work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded.

f He will move their hearts to feel their sins, that they may come to him by repentance, as he did Manasseh.

10 He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.

* Chap. 21. 13.

11 If they obey and serve him, they shall * spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures.

12 But if they obey not, † they shall perish by the sword, & they shall die [g] without knowledge.

† Heb. they shall pass away by the sword.
g That is, In their folly or obstinacy, and so shall be cause of their own destruction.

13 But the hypocrites in [h] heart heap up wrath: they [i] cry not when he bindeth them.

h which are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselves in their vices.
i when they are in affliction, they seek not to God for succour, as Asa, 2 Chron. 16. 12. Revel. 16. 11.

14 † They die in [k] youth, and their life is among the ‡ unclean.

† Heb. their soul dieth.
k They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.
‡ Or, Sodomites.

15 He delivereth the ‡ poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression.

‡ Or, afflicted.

16 Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness, and † that which should be set on thy [l] table, should be full of fatness.

† Heb. the rest of thy table.
l If thou hadst been obedient to God, he would have brought thee to liberty and wealth.

17 But thou hast [m] fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: ‡ judgment and justice take hold on thee.

m Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the justice of God.
‡ Or, judgment and justice should uphold thee.

18 Because there is wrath, [n] beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransome cannot † deliver thee.

n God doth punish thee, lest thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth and so perish.
† Heb. turn thee aside

19 Will he esteem thy riches? no not gold, nor all the forces of strength.

20 Desire not the [o] night, when people are cut off in their place.

o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods judgments, when he destroyeth any.

21 Take heed, regard not [p] iniquity: for this hast thou chosen rather then affliction.

p And so murmur against God through impatiency.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?

23 Who hath enjoyned him his way? or who can say, Thou hast wrought iniquity?

24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.

25 Every man may see it, man may behold it [q] afar off.

q The works of God are so manifest, that a man may see them afar off, and know God by the same 26 Behold, God is great, and we know him [r] not, neither can the number of his years be searched out.

r Our infirmity hindereth us so, that we cannot attain to the perfect knowledge of God.

27 For he maketh small the drops of water: they pour down rain [s] according to the vapour thereof:

s That is, The rain cometh of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

28 Which the clouds do drop, and distil upon man abundantly.

29 Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his [t] tabernacle?

t Meaning, Of the clouds, which he calleth the tabernacle of God 30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon [u] it, and covereth † [x] the bottom of the sea.

u Upon the cloud † Heb. the roots.
x That men cannot come to the knowledge of the springs thereof

31 For by them judgeth he the [y] people, he giveth meat in abundance.

y He sheweth that the rain hath double use: the one, the other, that it 32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to shine, by the cloud that cometh [z] betwixt.

33 The [a] noise thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattel also concerning † the vapour.

that it declareth Gods judgments, when it doth overflow any place? and maketh the land fruitful. z That is, One cloud to dash against another. a The cold vapour sheweth him: that is, The cloud of the hot exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloud, mounteth up toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred, that is, Noise and thunder-claps. † Heb. that which goeth up.

Chap. XXXVII.

1 God is to be feared because of his great works. 15 His wisdom is unsearchable in them.

AT [a] this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.

a At the marvelling of the thunder and lightnings; whereby he declareth that the faithful are lively touched with the majesty of God, when they behold his works.

2 † Hear attentively the [b] noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.

4 After it a voice roareth: he thundreth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not stay [c] them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundreth marvellously with his voice; great things doth he, which we cannot comprehend.

6 For * he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth; † likewise to the [d] small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.

7 He [e] sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.

8 Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their places.

9 † Out of the south cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the [f] north.

10 By the breath of God, frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is [g] straitned.

11 Also by watering he [h] wearieth the thick cloud: he scattereth † [i] his bright cloud, 12 And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.

13 He causeth it to come, [k] whether for † correction, or for his land, or for mercy.

14 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Dost thou know when God disposed them, & caused the [l] light of his cloud to shine?

16 Dost thou know the [m] balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are [n] warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south-wind?

18 Hast thou with him spread out the sky, which is strong, and as a molten [o] looking-glass?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of [p] darkness.

20 Shall it be [q] told him that I speak? if a man [r] speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.

21 And now men see not the [s] bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.

22 [t] Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will [u] not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

Chap. XXXVIII.

1 God challengeth Job to answer. 4 God, by his mighty works, convinceth Job of ignorance, 31 and of imbecility.

Then the Lord answered Job out of the [a] whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that [b] darkneth counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loyns like a man; for I will [c] demand of thee, and † answer thou me.

17 How thy garments are [n] warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south-wind?

18 Hast thou with him spread out the sky, which is strong, and as a molten [o] looking-glass?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of [p] darkness.

20 Shall it be [q] told him that I speak? if a man [r] speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.

21 And now men see not the [s] bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.

22 [t] Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will [u] not afflict.

u Meaning, without cause.

Chap. XXXVIII.

1 God challengeth Job to answer. 4 God, by his mighty works, convinceth Job of ignorance, 31 and of imbecility.

THen the Lord answered Job out of the [a] whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that [b] darkneth counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loyns like a man; for I will [c] demand of thee, and † answer thou me.

a That his words might have greater majesty, and that Job might know with whom he had to do.

b which by seeking out the secret counsel of God by mans reason maketh it more obscure, and sheweth his own folly.

c Because he had wished to dispute with God, chap. 13. 3. God reasoneth with him, to declare his rashness.

14 It is turned as [l] clay to the seal, and they stand as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the search of the depth?

17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the [m] shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? declare, if thou knowest it all.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and as for darkness, where is the place thereof?

20 That thou shouldest [n] take it ‡ to the bound thereof, and that thou shouldest know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knowest thou it, because thou wast then born? or because the number of thy days is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail,

23 Which I have [o] reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battel and war?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the east-wind upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided a water-course for the overflowing of waters? or a way for the lightning of thunder, 26 To cause it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderness wherein there is no man?

3 They [e] bowe themſelves, they bring forth their young ones, they caſt out their ſorrows.

4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with corn: they go forth, and return not unto them.

1 Job humbleth himſelf to God. 6 God ſtirreth him up to ſhew his righteouſneſs, power, and wiſdom. 15 Of the behemoth.

MOreover, the LORD anſwered Job, and ſaid,

2 Shall he that [a] contendeth with the Almighty, inſtruct him? he that reproveth God, let him anſwer it.

3 ¶ Then Job anſwered the LORD, and ſaid,

4 Behold, I am [b] vile, what ſhall I anſwer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.

5 Once have I ſpoken, but I will not anſwer: yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

6 ¶ Then anſwered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwind, and ſaid, 7 * Gird up thy loyns now like a man: I will demand of thee, & declare thou unto me.

8 * Wilt thou alſo diſanul my [c] judgment? wilt thou condemn me that thou mayeſt be righteous?

Chap. XLII.

1 Job ſubmitteth himſelf unto God. 7 God preferring Jobs cauſe, maketh his friends ſubmit themſelves, and accepteth him. 10 He magnifieth and bleſſeth Job. 16 Jobs age and death.

Then Job anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, a No thought ſo ſecret, but thou doſt ſee it, nor any thing that thou thinkeſt, but thou canſt bring it to paſs.

2 I know that thou canſt do every thing, and that [a] no thought can be withholden from thee.

b Is there any but I? for this God laid to his charge. chap. 38. 2.

3 Who is he that [b] hideth counſel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I underſtood not, things too [c] wonderful for me, which I knew not.

c I confeſs herein mine ignorance, and that I ſpake I wiſt not what.

4 Hear, I beſeech thee, and I will ſpeak: I will demand of thee, [d] and declare thou unto me.

d He ſheweth that he will be Gods ſcholer, to learn of him.

5 I have

e I knew thee onely before by hearſay, but now thou haſt cauſed me to feel what thou art to me, that I may reſign my ſelf over unto thee.

5 I have [e] heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I abhor my ſelf, and repent in duſt and aſhes.

7 ¶ And it was ſo, that after the LORD had ſpoken theſe words unto Job, the LORD ſaid to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two friends: for ye have not ſpoken of me the [f] thing that is [g] right, as my ſervant Job hath.

f You took in hand an evil cauſe, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, & comforted him not with my mercies.
g who had a good cauſe, but handled it evil.

8 Therefore take unto you now ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams, and go to my ſervant Job, and offer up for your ſelves a burnt-offering, and my ſervant Job ſhall [h] pray for you, for † him will I accept: leſt I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not ſpoken of me the thing which is right, like my ſervant Job.

h when you have reconciled your ſelves to him for the faults that you have committed againſt him, he ſhall pray for you, and I will hear him.
† Heb. his face, or, perſon.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: the LORD alſo accepted † Job.

† Heb. the face of Job.

10 And the LORD turned the [i] captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: alſo the Lord † gave Job twice as much as he had before.

i He delivered him out of the affliction wherein he was.
† Heb. added all that had been to Job unto the double.

11 Then came there unto him all his [k] brethren, and all his ſiſters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houſe: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him: every man alſo gave him a piece of mony, and every one an ear-ring of gold.

k That is, All his kindred, ch. 19. 13.

12 So the LORD bleſſed the latter end of Job more then his beginning: for he had [l] fourteen thouſand ſheep, and ſix thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhe-aſſes.

l God made him twice ſo rich in cattel as he was before, and gave him as many children, as he had taken from him.

13 He had alſo ſeven ſons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the firſt, [m] Jemima, and the name of the ſecond, [n] Kezia, and the name of the third, [o] Keren-happuch.

m That is, Of long life, or beautiful as the day.
n As pleaſant as Caſſia, or ſweet ſpice.
o That is, The horn of beauty.

15 And in all the land were no women found ſo fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this lived Job an hundred and fourty years, and ſaw his ſons, and his ſons ſons, even four generations.

17 So Job died being old, and full of days.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS.

* Or, Praiſes, according to the Hebrew. And were chiefly inſtituted to praiſe and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called, the Pſalms, or Songs of David, becauſe the moſt part were made by him.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis book of Pſalms is ſet forth unto us by the Holy Ghoſt, to be eſteemed as a moſt precious treaſure; wherein all things are contained that appertain to true felicity, as well in this life preſent, as in the life to come: for the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wiſdom are ſet open for us, to take thereof moſt abundantly. If we would know the great and high Majeſty of God, here we may ſee the brightneſs thereof ſhine moſt clearly: If we would ſeek his incomprehenſible wiſdom; here is the ſchool of the ſame profeſſion: If we would comprehend his ineſtimable bounty, and approach near thereunto, and fill our hands with that treaſure; here we may have a moſt lively and moſt comfortable taſt thereof: If we would know wherein ſtandeth our ſalvation, and how to attain to life everlaſting; here is Chriſt our onely Redeemer, and Mediatour moſt evidently deſcribed. The rich man may learn the true uſe of riches: The poor man may find full contentation: He that will rejoyce, ſhall know the true joy, and how to keep meaſure therein: They that are afflicted and oppreſſed, ſhall ſee wherein ſtandeth their comfort, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliverance: The wicked and the perſecuters of the children of God ſhall ſee how the hand of God is ever againſt them, and though he ſuffer them to proſper for a while; yet he bridleth them, inſomuch as they cannot touch an hair of ones head, except he permit them; and how in the end their deſtruction is moſt miſerable. Of Gods great power in the leviathan.

CAnſt thou draw out [a] leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord † which thou letteſt down?

5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?

6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? ſhall they part him among the merchants?

7 Canſt thou fill his skin with barbed irons? or his head with fiſh-ſpears?

11 Who hath [g] prevented me that I ſhould repay him? * whatſoever is under the whole heaven is mine.

12 I will not [h] conceil his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

13 Who can diſcover the face of his [i] garment? or who can come to him ‡ with his double birdle?

14 Who can open the [l] doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.

25 When he raiſeth up himſelf, the mighty are afraid: by reaſon of breakings they purify themſelves.

26 The ſword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the ſpear, the dart, nor the ‡ habergeon.

27 He eſteemeth iron as ſtraw, and braſs as rotten wood.

28 The arrow cannot make him flee: ſling-ſtones are turned with him into ſtubble.

29 Darts are counted as ſtubble: he laugheth at the ſhaking of a ſpear.

30 † Sharp ſtones [o] are under him: he ſpreadeth ſharp-pointed things upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to [p] boil like a pot: he maketh the ſea like a pot of ointment.

32 He maketh a path to [q] ſhine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like: ‡ who is made without fear.

12 So the LORD bleſſed the latter end of Job more then his beginning: for he had [l] fourteen thouſand ſheep, and ſix thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhe-aſſes.

l God made him twice ſo rich in cattel as he was before, and gave him as many children, as he had taken from him.

o That is, The horn of beauty.

15 And in all the land were no women found ſo fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this lived Job an hundred and fourty years, and ſaw his ſons, and his ſons ſons, even four generations.

17 So Job died being old, and full of days.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS.

* Or, Praiſes, according to the Hebr., And were chiefly inſtituted to praiſe and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called, the Pſalms, or Songs of David, becauſe the moſt part were made by him.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis book of Pſalms is ſet forth unto us by the Holy Ghoſt, to be eſteemed as a moſt precious treaſure; wherein all things are contained that appertain to true felicity, as well in this life preſent, as in the life to come: for the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wiſdom are ſet open for us, to take thereof moſt abundantly. If we would know the great and high Majeſty of God, here we may ſee the brightneſs thereof ſhine moſt clearly: If we would ſeek his incomprehenſible wiſdom; here is the ſchool of the ſame profeſſion: If we would comprehend his ineſtimable bounty, and approach near thereunto, and fill our hands with that treaſure; here we may have a moſt lively and moſt comfortable taſt thereof: If we would know wherein ſtandeth our ſalvation, and how to attain to life everlaſting; here is Chriſt our onely Redeemer, and Mediatour moſt evidently deſcribed. The rich man may learn the true uſe of riches: The poor man may find full contentation: He that will rejoyce, ſhall know the true joy, and how to keep meaſure therein: They that are afflicted and oppreſſed, ſhall ſee wherein ſtandeth their comfort, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliverance: The wicked and the perſecuters of the children of God ſhall ſee how the hand of God is ever againſt them, and though he ſuffer them to proſper for a while; yet he bridleth them, inſomuch as they cannot touch an hair of ones head, except he permit them; and how in the end their deſtruction is moſt miſerable. Briefly, here we may have preſent remedies againſt all tentations, and troubles of mind and conſcience; ſo that, being well practiſed herein, we may be aſſured againſt all dangers in this life, live in the true fear and love of God, and at length attain to that incorruptible crown of glory, which is laid up for all them that love the coming of our Lord JESUS CHRIST.

The security of Gods protection.

2 Sam. 15. 14.

¶ A psalm of David, * when he fled from Absalom his son.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.

LORD, how are they [a] increased that trouble me? many are they that rise up against me.

2 Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. [b] Selah.

b Selah signifieth, a lifting up of the voice, to cause us to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.

3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield ‡ for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

‡ Or, about.

4 I cried unto the LORD with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

* Psal. 4. 8.

5 * I laid me down and slept; I awaked, for the LORD sustained me.

* Psal 27. 3.
c When he considred the truth of Gods promise, and tried the same, his faith increased marvellously.

6 * I will not be afraid of [c] ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O LORD, save me, O my God; for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek-bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

8 * [d] Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

1 David prayeth for audience. 2 He reproveth and exhorteth his enemies. 6 Mans happiness is in Gods favour.

¶ To the ‡ [a] chief musician on Neginoth, A psalm of David.

‡ Or, overseer.
a Among them that were appointed to sing the psalms, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chief to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and he began this psalm on the instrument called Neginoth, or in a tune so called.

HEar me when I call, [b] O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in [c] distress, ‡ have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

b Thou that art the defender of my just cause.
c Both of mind and body.
‡ Or, be gracious unto me.

2 O ye [d] sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye [e] love vanity, and seek after leasing? Selah.

d Ye that think your selves noble in this world.
e Though your enterprises please you never so much, yet God will bring them to nought.

3 But know that the LORD hath set apart him that is [f] godly, for himself: the LORD will hear when I call unto him.

f A king that walketh in his vocation.

4 [g] Stand in aw, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and [h] be still. Selah.

g For fear of Gods judgment.
h Cease your rage.

5 [i] Offer * the sacrifices of righteousness: and put your trust in the LORD.

i Serve God purely, and not with outward ceremonies.
* Psal. 50. 14. & 51. 19.

6 There be many that say, Who will shew us any [k] good? LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

7 Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more then in the time that their corn and their wine increased.

8 * I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep: for thou LORD [l] onely makest me dwell in safety.

k The multitude seek worldly wealth, but David setteth his felicity in Gods favour. * Psal 3. 5.
l This word in Hebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to David, signifying that he should dwell as joyfully alone as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

2 I will be glad and rejoyce in thee: I will ſing praiſe to thy name, O thou moſt High.

3 When mine enemies are turned back, they ſhall fall and periſh at thy preſence.

4 For † [b] thou haſt maintained my right and my cauſe, thou ſateſt in the throne judging † right.

5 Thou haſt rebuked the heathen, thou haſt deſtroyed the wicked, thou haſt put out their name for ever and ever.

6 ‡ [c] O thou enemy, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou haſt deſtroyed cities, their memorial is periſhed with them.

David praiseth God for his manifold and marvellous blessings.

111 Day. Evening prayer.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David, the servant of the LORD, who spake unto the LORD the words of * this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: And he said.

* 2 Sam. 22.

I Will love thee, O LORD my strength.

a He useth this diversity of names to shew that as the wicked have many means to hurt, so God hath many ways to help.
† Heb. my rock.
b For none can obtain their requests of God, that joyn not his glory with their petition.

2 a The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer: my God, † my strength in whom I will trust, my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high towre.

3 I will call upon the LORD who is worthy to be b praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

* Psal 116. 3.
c He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God had delivered him.

4 * The c sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of † ungodly men made me afraid.

† Heb. Belial.
‡ Or, cords.

5 The ‡ sorrows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.

6 In my distress I called upon the LORD, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies, after he had heard his prayers

7 d Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth.

† Heb. by his.
e He sheweth how horrible Gods judgments shall be to the wicked.

8 There went up a smoke † out of his nostrils, and e fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

f Darkness signifieth, The wrath of God, As the clear light, signifieth, Gods favour.
g This is described at large, Psal. 104.

9 He bowed the heavens also and came down: and f darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a g cherub, and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

h As a king angry with the people, will not shew himself unto them.

11 He made darkness his h secret place: his pavilion round about him, were dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail-stones, and coals of fire.

i Thundred, lightned, and hailed

13 The LORD also thundred in the heavens, and the Highest gave i his voice; hail-stones and coals of fire.

k His lightnings.

14 Yea, he sent out his k arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.

l That is, The deep bottoms were seen when the red sea was divided.

15 Then the chanels of waters were seen, and the l foundations of the world were discovered: at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

‡ Or, great waters.
m Out of sundry and great dangers.

16 He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of ‡ m many waters.

n To wit, Saul.
o Therefore God sent me succour.

17 He delivered me from my n strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were ° too strong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay.

p The cause of Gods deliverance is his onely favour and love to us.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: p he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

q David was sure of his righteous cause and good behaviour toward Saul and his enemies, & therefore was assured of Gods favour and deliverance.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to q my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I [r] did not put away his statutes from me.

23 I was also upright † before him: and I kept my self from [r] mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands † in his eye-sight.

25 [t] With the merciful thou wilt shew thy self merciful, with an upright man thou wilt shew thy self upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy self pure, and with the froward thou wilt ‡ shew thy self froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people: [u] but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my ‡ candle: the LORD my God will enlighten my darkness.

29 For by [x] thee I have ‡ run through a troup: and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: * the [y] word of the LORD is ‡ tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

31 * For who is God save the LORD? or who is a rock save our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my [z] way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds feet, and setteth me upon my [a] high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou hast also given me the [b] shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and ‡ [c] thy gentleness hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; that † my feet did not slip.

37 [d] I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were consumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to rise: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto battel: thou hast † subdued under me those that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also given me the [e] necks of mine enemies: that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 [f] They cried, but there was none to save them: even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people: and thou hast made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people whom I have [h] not known shall serve me.

44 † Assoon as they hear of me, they shall obey me: † the strangers shall ‡ [i] submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall [k] fade away, and be afraid out of their close places.

46 The LORD liveth, and blessed be my rock: and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

47 It is God that † avengeth me, and ‡ subdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea, thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me: thou hast delivered me from the † [l] violent man.

49 Therefore will I ‡ [m] give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen: and sing praises unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king: and sheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his [n] seed for evermore.

PSAL. XIX.

1 The creatures shew Gods glory, 7 the word his grace. 12 David prayeth for grace.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

THE * [a] heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handy work.

2 [b] Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor [c] language, ‡† where their voice is not heard.

4 * ‡ Their [d] line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his [e] chamber, and rejoyceth as a strong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The ‡ [f] law of the LORD is perfect, ‡ converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure making wise the simple.

8 The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoycing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightning the eyes.

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are † [g] true and righteous [h] altogether.

10 More to be [i] desired are they then gold, * yea, then much fine gold: * sweeter also then hony, and † the hony-comb.

11 Moreover, by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great [k] reward.

12 Who can understand his [l] errours? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

13 Keep back thy servant also from [m] presumptuous sins, let them not have dominion over me: [n] then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from ‡ the great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the [o] meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD † my strength and my redeemer.

† Heb. man of violence. l That is, Saul, who of malice persecuted him. ‡ Or, confess. m This prophecy appertaineth to the kingdom of Christ and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15. 9. n This did not properly appertain to Solomon, but to Jesus Christ.

IV Day. Evening prayer.

* Gen. 1. 6. a He reproacheth unto man his ingratitude, seeing the heavens, which are dumb creatures, set forth Gods glory. b The continual succes of the day and night is sufficient to declare Gods power and goodness. c The heavens are a schoolmaster to all nations, be they never so barbarous. ‡ Or, without these their voice is heard. † Heb. without their voice heard. * Rom. 10. 18. † Or, their rule or direction. d The heavens are as a line of great capital letters, to shew unto us Gods glory. e Or, vail. The manner was that the bride & bridegroom should stand under a vail together, and after come forth with great solemnity and rejoycing of the assembly. ‡ Or, doctrine. f Though the creatures cannot serve, yet this ought to be sufficient to lead us unto him. ‡ Or, restoring. † Heb. truth. g So that all mans inventions and intentions are lies. h Every one without exception. i Except Gods word be esteemed above all worldly things, it is contemned. * Psal. 119. 72. & 127. Prov. 8. 19. † Psal. 119. 103. † Heb. the dropping of hony-combs. k For God accepteth our indeavour, though it be far unperfect. l Then there is no reward of duty, but of grace: for where sin is, there death is the reward. m which are done purposely and of malice. n If thou suppress my wicked affections by thine holy Spirit. ‡ Or, much. o That I may obey thee in thought, word, and deed. † Heb. my rock.

2 Send † thee help from the sanctuary: and ‡ strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Remember all thy offerings, and † [c] accept thy burnt-sacrifice. Selah.

4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counsel.

d Granted to the king, in whose wealth our felicity standeth.

5 We will [d] rejoyce in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners: the LORD fulfil all thy petitions.

e The church feeleth that God hath heard their petition.
† Heb. from the heaven of his holiness.
‡ That is, The highest heaven: this heaven is said to be holy, because God who is holiness it self, there dwels (as it were) in his palace, or temple.

6 Now [e] know I, that the LORD saveth his anointed: he will hear him † from his [f] holy heaven, † with the saving strength of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the name of the LORD our God.

PSAL. XXI.

1 A thanksgiving for victory. 7. Confidence of further success.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

a when he shall overcome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.

THE king shall [a] joy in thy strength, O LORD, and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoyce!

2 Thou hast given him his hearts desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Selah.

b Thou declaredst thy liberal favour toward him before he prayed.

3 For thou [b] preventest him with the blessings of goodness: thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.

c David did not onely obtain life, but also assurance that his posterity should reign for ever.

4 [c] He asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy salvation, honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

† Heb. set him to be blessings.
d Thou hast made him thy blessing to others, and a perpetual example of thy favour for ever.
‖ Heb gladded him with joy.

6 For thou hast † made him [d] most blessed for ever: thou hast † made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

e Here he describeth the power of Christs kingdom against the enemies thereof.

7 For the king trusteth in the LORD, and through the mercy of the most High, he shall not be moved.

8 [e] Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies, thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the LORD shall swallow them up in his [f] wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

f This teacheth us patiently to endure the cross, till God destroy the adversary.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

1 David complaineth in great discouragement. 9 He prayeth in great distress. 23. He praiseth God.

¶ To the chief musician upon ‡ Aijeleth Shahar, A psalm of David.

MY *[a] God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far † from helping me, and from the words of my [b] roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou hearest not; and in the night-season, and † am not silent.

3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the [c] praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a [d] worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7 * All they that see me, laugh me to scorn: they † shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

8 *† He trusted on the LORD, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him ‡ seeing he delighted in him.

12 Many [g] bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13 They † gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like [h] water, and all my bones are ‡ out of joynt: my heart is like wax, it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd: and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou hast [i] brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me, the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: * they [k] pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.

18 * They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O LORD; O my strength, haste thee to help me.

20 Deliver my soul from the sword: † my [l] darling † from the power of the dog.

21 [m] Save me from the lions mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 * I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

Psal. XXVI.

David resorteth unto God, in confidence of his integrity.

¶ A psalm of David.

1 Judge me, [a] O Lord, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord: therefore I shall not slide.

2 * Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my [b] reins and my heart.

3 For thy [c] loving kindness is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

4 * I have not sat with [d] vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.

5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers: and will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will [e] wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O Lord.

7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

8 Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place † where thine honour dwelleth.

9 ‡ [f] Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with † bloudy men:

10 In whose hands is [g] mischief: and their right hand is † full of bribes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.

Psal. XXVII.

1 David sustaineth his faith by the power of God, 4 by his love to the service of God, 9 by prayer.

¶ A psalm of David.

1 The Lord is * my [a] light, and my salvation, whom shall I fear? * the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes † came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 * Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in [b] this will I be confident.

4 [c] One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after, that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold ‡ the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me, he shall set me up upon a rock.

6 [d] And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices † of joy, I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.

7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 ‡ When thou saidst, [e] Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.

PSAL XXX.

VI Day. Morning prayer.

1 David praiseth God for his deliverance. 4 He exhorteth others to praise him by example of Gods dealing with him.

¶ A psalm and song, at the dedication of the [a] house of David.

I Will extol thee, O LORD, for thou [b] hast lifted me up, and hast not made my foes to rejoyce over me.

2 O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast [c] healed me.

3 O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from the [d] grave: thou hast kept me alive that I should not go down to the pit.

4 Sing unto the LORD, O ye [e] saints of his, and give thanks ‡ [f] at the remembrance of his holiness.

5 For † his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure † for a night, but † joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my [g] prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

7 LORD, by thy favour thou hast † made my [h] mountain to stand strong: thou didst hide thy face, and I was [i] troubled.

8 I cried to thee, O LORD: and unto the LORD I made supplication.

9 What profit is there in my bloud, when I go down to the pit? * shall the dust [k] praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?

10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD, be thou my helper,

11 Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness:

12 To the end that ‡ [l] my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent: O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

a After that Absalom had polluted it with most filthy fornication.
b He condemneth them of great ingratitude, which do not praise God for his benefits.
c That is, Helpest me out of trouble, meaning, From the rebellion of Absalom.

l Because thou hast preserved me, that my tongue should praise thee, I will not be unmindful of my duty.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 David shewing his confidence in God, craveth his help. 7 He rejoyceth in his mercy. 9 He prayeth in his calamity. 19 He praiseth God for his goodness.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

IN * thee, O LORD, do I put my trust, let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy [a] righteousness.

* Psal. 22. 5. Isa. 49. 23.
a For then God declareth himself just, when he preserveth his according as he hath promised.

2 Bowe down thine ear to me, deliver me speedily: be thou † my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortress: therefore for thy names sake lead me, and guid me.

4 Pull me out of the [b] net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength.

5 * Into thine [c] hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but [d] I trust in the LORD.

7 I will be glad, and rejoyce in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble; thou hast known my soul in adversities;

8 And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a [e] large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble; mine [f] eye is consumed with grief, yea, my soul and my belly.

10 For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing: my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a [g] reproach among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that [h] did see me without, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like † a broken vessel.

13 For I have heard the slander of [i] many, fear was on every side, while they took counsel together against me, they devised to take away my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O LORD: I said, [k] Thou art my God.

15 My [l] times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me for thy mercies sake.

17 Let me not be ashamed, O LORD, for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, and ‡ let them be [m] silent in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be put to silence: which speak † grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous.

19 * O how great is thy goodness, which thou hast [n] laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee, before the sons of men!

20 Thou shalt hide them in the [o] secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the LORD; for he hath shewed me his marvellous kindness, in a ‡ [p] strong city.

22 For I said in my [q] haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications, when I cried unto thee.

VI Day. Evening prayer.

¶ ‡ A psalm of David, [a] Maschil.

‡ Or, a psalm of David giving instruction.

BLessed is he whose *transgression is [b] forgiven, whose sin is covered.

a Concerning the free remission of sins, which is the chiefest point of our faith.
* Rom. 4. 7.
b To be justified by faith, it is to have our sins freely remitted, & to be reputed just.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I [c] kept silence, my bones waxed old; through my [d] roaring all the day long.

c Between hope and despair.
d Neither by silence nor crying found I ease: signifying, That before the sinner be reconciled to God he feeleth a perpetual torment.

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.

5 [e] I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: *I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah.

e He sheweth, That as Gods mercy is the onely cause of forgiveness of sins, so the means thereof are repentance and confession, which proceed of faith.
* Prov. 28. 13. Isa. 65. 24. 1 John 1. 9.

6 For this shall every one that is godly, pray unto thee, † in a [f] time when thou mayest be found: surely in the flouds of great waters, [g] they shall not come nigh unto him.

* Psal. 9. 9.

8 I will [h] instruct thee, and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: † I will guid thee with mine eye.

h David promiseth to make the rest of Gods children partakers of the benefits which he felt, and that he will diligently look and take care to direct them in the way of salvation.
† Heb. I will counsel thee, mine eye shall be upon thee.

9 *Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule which have no understanding: [i] whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee.

* Prov. 26. 3.
i If men can rule bruit beasts, think they that God will not bridle and tame their rage?

10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.

11 Be glad in the LORD, and [k] rejoyce ye righteous: and shout for joy all ye that are upright in heart.

k He sheweth that peace and joy of conscience in the holy Ghost, is the fruit of faith.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 God is to be praised for his goodness, 6 for his power, 12 and for his providence. 20 Confidence is to be placed in God.

REjoyce in the LORD, O ye righteous, for praise is [a] comely for the upright.

a It is the duty of the godly to set forth the praises of God for his mercy and power shewed toward them.

2 Praise the LORD with harp: sing unto him with the psaltery, and an [b] instrument of ten strings.

b To sing to instruments, was a part of the ceremonial service of the temple, which doth no more appertain unto us, then the sacrifices, censings, and lights.

3 Sing unto him a new song, play skilfully with a loud noise.

4 For the [c] word of the LORD is right: and all his [d] works are done in truth.

c That is, Counsel, or commandment in governing the world.
d That is, The effect and execution.

5 He [e] loveth righteousness and judgment: * the earth is full of the ‡ goodness of the LORD.

e Howsoever the world judgeth of Gods works, yet he doth all things according to justice and mercy.

‡ Or, mercy.

6 * By the word of the LORD were the heavens made: and all the host of them, by the breath of his mouth.

* Gen. 1. 6, 7.

7 He [f] gathereth the waters of the sea together, as an heap: he layeth up the depth in storehouses.

f By the creation of the heavens and beautiful ornament, with the gathering also of the waters, he setteth forth the power of God, that all creatures might fear him.

8 Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in aw of him.

9 For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast.

† Heb. to generation and generation.

12 *Blessed is the nation whose [h] God is the LORD: and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

* Psal. 65. 4. & 144. 15.
h He sheweth that all our felicity standeth in this, that the Lord is our God.

13 The LORD [i] looketh from heaven: he beholdeth all the sons of men.

i He proveth that all things are governed by Gods providence, and not by fortune.

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.

15 [k] He fashioneth their hearts alike: he considereth all their works.

k Therefore he knoweth their wicked enterprises.

16 There is no [l] king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.

l If kings and the mighty of the world cannot be saved by worldly means, but onely by Gods providence, what have others to trust in, that have not like means?

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.

18 * Behold, [m] the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him: upon them that hope in his mercy:

* Iob 36. 7. Psal. 34. 15. 1 Pet. 3. 12.
m God sheweth, that, toward his of his mercy, which man by no means is able to compass.

19 To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

20 [n] Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.

n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole church, which onely depends on Gods providence.

21 For our heart shall rejoyce in him: because we have trusted in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us according as we hope in thee.

11 Come ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the h fear of the LORD.

h That is, The true religion and worship of God.

12 * What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may i see good?

* 1 Pet. 3. 10.

i Seeing all men naturally desire felicity, hee wondereth why they cast themselves willingly into misery.

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good: seek peace and pursue it.

15 * The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

* Job 36. 7. Psal. 33. 18. 1 Pet. 3. 12.

k The anger of God doth not onely destroy the wicked, but also aboliseth their name for ever.

16 The k face of the LORD is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

† Heb. to the broken of heart. l When they seem to bee swallowed up with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliver them. † Heb. contrite of spirit.

18 The LORD is nigh † unto them that are of a l broken heart: and saveth such as be † of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

m And as Christ saith, all the haires of his head.

20 m He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

n Their wicked enterprises shall turn to their own destruction. † Or, shall be guilty

21 Evil shall slay the n wicked: and they that hate the righteous ‡ shall be desolate.

o For when they seem to be overcome with great danger and death itself, then God sheweth himself their redeemer.

22 The LORD o redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongful dealing. 22 Thereby he inciteth God against them.

VII Day. Morning prayer.

¶ A psalm of David.

a Hee desireth God to undertake his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.

PLead my a cause, O LORD, with them that strive with me: fight against them that fight against me.

b Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth unto him these outward weapons to assure us of his present ayde.

2 b Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.

c Assist me against these tentations, that thou art the authour of my salvation.

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my c soul, I am thy salvation.

* Psal. 40. 15. & 70. 3. * Jer. 21. 12. Psal. 1. 4. Isa. 29. 5. Hos. 13. 3.

4 * Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt.

d Smite them with the spirit of giddiness, that their enterprises may bee foolish, and they receive just reward.

5 * Let them be as chaff before the wind: and let the angel of the d LORD chase them.

† Heb. darkness and slipperiness.

6 Let their way be † dark and slippery, and let the angel of the LORD persecute them.

e Shewing, That wee may not call God to be a revenger but onely for his glory, and when our cause is just.

7 For e without cause have they hid for me their net, in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.

f when he promiseth to himself peace. † Heb. which he knoweth not of.

8 Let f destruction come upon † him † at unawares, and let his net that he hath hid, catch himself: into that g very destruction let him fall.

g which he prepared against the children of God.

9 And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD: it shall rejoyce in his salvation.

h He attributeth his deliverance onely to God, praising him therefore both in soul and body.

10 All my bones shall say, h LORD, who is like unto thee, which delivereſt the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy, from him that spoileth him?

i That would not suffer me to purge my self. † Heb. witnesses of wrong.

11 i † False witnesses did rise up; † they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

† Heb. they asked me.

12 They rewarded me evil for good, to the † k spoiling of my soul.

† Heb. depriving. k To have taken from me all comfort, and brought me into despair.

13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I ‡ humbled my soul with fasting, and my l prayer returned into mine own bosom.

‡ Or, afflicted. l I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would have done for my self: or, I declared mine affection with bowing down mine head.

14 I † behaved my self † as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

† Heb. walked. † Heb. as a friend, as a brother to me. † Heb. halting.

15 But in mine † m adversity they rejoyced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did n tear me, and ceased not.

m when they saw me ready to slip, and as one that halted for infirmity n with their railing words.

16 With hypocritical mockers in o feasts: they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

o The word signifieth cakes, meaning, That the proud courtiers at their dainty feasts scoff, rail, and conspire his death.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, † my darling from the lions.

Heb. my onely one.

18 * I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among † much people.

* Psal 40. 9, 10. & 111 1. † Heb. strong.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies † wrongfully rejoyce over me: neither let them p wink with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

p In token of contempt, and mocking.

20 For they speak not peace, but they devise deceitful matters against them that are ‡ quiet in the land.

‡ Or, clefts of the earth: meaning, himself and others in their misery.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our q eye hath seen it.

q They rejoyced as though they had now seen David overthrown.

22 This thou hast seen, O LORD, keep not silence: O Lord, be not far from me.

23 Stir up thy self, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God & my Lord.

r It is the justice of God to give to the oppressours affliction and torment, and to the oppressed aid and relief.

24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy r righteousness, and let them not rejoyce over me.

2 Thessal. 1. 6.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, † Ah, s so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

† Heb. Ah, ah, our soul. s Because we have that which wee sought for, seeing nee is destroyed.

26 Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion t together, that rejoyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with u shame and dishonour, that magnify themselves against me.

t That is, At once were they never so many or mighty.

u This prayer shall always bee verified against them that persecute the faithful 27 Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour † x my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the y prosperity of his servant.

Heb. my righteousness x That at least favour my right, though they be not able to help me.

y Hee exhorteth the church to praise God for the deliverance of his servants, and for the destruction of his adversaries.

28 And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness, and of thy praise all the day long.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The grievous estate of the wicked. 5 The excellency of Gods mercy. 10 David prayeth for favour to Gods children.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David, the servant of the LORD.

THe transgression of the wicked saith within a my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

a I see evidently by his deeds, that sin pusheth forward the reprobate from wickedness to wickedness, albeit he go about to cover his impiety.

2 For he [b] flattereth himself in his own eyes, † until his iniquity be found to be hateful.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and [c] deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.

4 He [d] deviseth ‡ mischief upon his bed, he setteth himself in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.

5 *Thy [e] mercy, O LORD, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousness is like † the great mountains; thy judgments are a great [f] deep: O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.

7 How † excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be † [g] abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house: and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.

10 O † continue thy loving kindness unto them that [h] know thee; and thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the [i] foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.

12 [k] There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

b Though all other detest his vile sin, yet he himself seeth it not.
† Heb. to find his iniquity to hate.
c The reprobates mock at wholesom doctrine, and put not difference between good and evil.
d By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.
‡ Or, vanity.
* Psal 57. 10. & 108. 4.
e Though wickedness seemeth to overflow all the world, yet by thine heavenly providence thou governest heaven and earth.
† Heb. the mountains of God.
f The depth of thy providence governeth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seem to overwhelm the world.
† Heb. precious.
† Heb. watered.
g Onely Gods children have enough of all things both concerning this life, and the life to come.
† Heb draw out at length.
h He sheweth, who are Gods children, to wit, They that know him, and lead their lives uprightly.
i Let not the proud advance himself against me, neither the power of the wicked drive me away. k That is, In their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

PSAL. XXXVII.

VII Day. Evening prayer.

David perswadeth to patience, and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and the wicked.

¶ A psalm of David.

FRet * not [a] thy self because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.

2 For they shall soon be [b] cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.

3 [c] Trust in the LORD, and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land, and † verily thou shalt be fed.

4 Delight thy self also in the LORD; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

5 [d] †* Commit thy way unto the LORD: trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy [e] judgment as the noon-day.

7 † Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thy self because of him who [f] prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thy self in [g] any wise to do evil.

9 For evil doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.

10 [h] For yet a little while and the wicked

* Prov. 23. 17. & 24. 1.
a He admonisheth us neither to vex our selves for the prosperous estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state the better.
b For Gods judgment cutteth down their state in a moment.
c To trust in God, and do according to his will, are sure tokens, that his providence will never fail us.
† Heb. in truth or stablenes.
d Be not led by thine own wisedom, but obey God, and he will finish his work in thee.
† Heb. Roll thy way upon the LORD.
* Prov. 16. 3. Mat 6. 25. 1 Pet. 5. 7.
e As the hope of the day-light causeth us not to be offended with the darkness of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that God will clear our cause and restore us to our right † Heb Be silent to the LORD. f when God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he favoureth their doings, Ioh. 2. 7 g Heb. also Meaning, Except he moderate his affection, he shall be lead to do as they do. h He correcteth the impatiency of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulness of Gods time be come.

shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.

11 * But the meek shall inherit the earth: and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

12 [i] The wicked ‡ plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

13 * The LORD shall laugh at him, for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay † such as be of upright conversation.

15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 [k] A little that a righteous man hath, is better then the riches many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.

18 The LORD [l] knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.

19 They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they shall [m] be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as † the [n] fat of lambs, they shall consume: into smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy, and [o] giveth.

22 For such as be blessed of him, shall inherit the earth; and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.

23 [p] The steps of a good man are ‡ ordred by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he [q] fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young and now am old: yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his [r] seed begging bread.

26 He is † ever merciful, and lendeth: and his seed is blessed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good: and dwell for evermore.

28 For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints, they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein [s] for ever.

30 The [t] mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom; and his tongue talketh of judgment.

31 The law of his God is in his heart, none of his ‡ steps shall slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is [u] judged.

34 Wait on the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power: and

* Mat. 5. 5.
i The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not prevail against them, but fall on their own necks, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the mean while bewail their sins, and offer up their tears as a sacrifice of their obedience ‡ Or, practiseth.
* Psal 2. 4
† Heb the upright of way.
k For they are daily fed, as with manna from heaven, and have sufficiency, whereas the wicked have never enough, but ever hunger.
l God knoweth what dangers hang over his, and by what means to deliver them.
m For God will give them contented minds, and that which shall be necessary.
† Heb. the preciousness of lambs.
n They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of slaughter.
o God so furnisheth him with his blessing, that he is able to help others.
p God prospereth the faithful, because they walk in his ways with an upright conscience.
‡ Or, established.
q when God doth exercise his faith with divers tentations.
r Though the just man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posterity, and though God suffer some just man to lack temporal benefits, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures † Heb. all the day.
s They shall continually be preserved under Gods wings, and have at least inward rest.
t These three points are required of the faithful, That their talk be godly, That Gods law be in their heart, And that their life be upright.
‡ Or, goings.
u For though it be sometime so expedient, both for Gods glory and their salvation, yet he will approve their cause, and revenge their wrong.

‡ Or, a green tree that groweth in his own soil.

and spreading himself like ‡ a green bay-tree.

36 Yet he [x] passed away, and lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 [y] Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shall be destroyed together, the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the [z] salvation of the righteous is of the LORD, he is their strength in the time of trouble.

40 And the LORD shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them because they trust in him.

x So that the prosperity of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanisheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithful to mark diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and also of his judgments.

z He sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is never in vain, but in the end hath good success, though for a time God prove them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

David moveth God to take compassion of his pitiful case.

¶ A psalm of David to bring to [a] remembrance.

O LORD, rebuke me not in thy [b] wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 For thine [c] arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no soundness in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there any † rest in my bones, because of my [d] sin.

4 For [e] mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds stink, and are corrupt: because of my [f] foolishness.

6 I am † troubled, I am bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loyns are filled with a loathsom disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh.

8 I am feeble and sore broken: I have [g] roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.

9 Lord, all my desire is before thee: and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart † panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also † is [h] gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my † sore: and ‡ my [i] kinsmen stand afar off.

12 They also that seek after my life, lay snares for me: and they that seek my hurt, speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a [k] deaf man heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

15 For ‡ in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt ‡ hear, O LORD my God.

16 For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoyce over me: [l] when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.

17 For I am ready † to [m] halt, and my sorrow is continually before me, 18 For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin.

19 But mine [n] enemies † are lively, and they are strong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They also that render evil for good, are mine adversaries: because I follow the thing that [o] good is.

21 Forsake me not, O LORD: O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haste † to help me, O Lord my [p] salvation.

VIII Day. Morning prayer.

a To put himself and others in mind of Gods chastisement for sin.

b He desireth not to be exempted from Gods rod, but that he would so moderate his hand, that he might be able to bear it.

c Thy sickness, wherewith thou hast visited me.

d David acknowledgeth God to be just in his punishments, because his sin had deserved much more.

e He confesseth his sin, Gods justice, and maketh prayer for refuge.

f That rather give place to mine own lusts, then to the will of God.

† Heb. vexed.

g This example teacheth us never to despair, be the torment never so great: but always to cry unto God with sure trust for deliverance.

‡ Heb. is not with me.

h My sight faileth me for very sorrow.

† Heb. broke.

i Or, my neighbours.

k Partly for fear, and partly for grief, they denied all duty and friendship.

l For I can have no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the help of God.

† Or, thou do I wait for.

‡ Or, answer.

† That is, If they see that thou succour me not in time, they will mock & triumph as though thou hadst forsaken me.

† Heb. for halting.

m I am without hope to recover my strength.

n In my greatest misery they most renounce.

† Heb. being living are strong.

o He had rather have the hatred of all the world, then to fail in any part of his duty to God-ward.

i Heb. for my help.

p which art the author of my salvation: and this declareth that he prayed with sure hope of deliverance.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Davids care of his thoughts. 4 The consideration of the brevity and vanity of life. 7 The reverence of Gods judgments, 10 and prayer, are his bridles of impatience.

¶ To the chief musician, even to * [a] Jeduthun, A psalm of David.

I Said, [b] I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep † my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good, and my [c] sorrow was † stirred.

3 My heart was hot within me, while I was musing the fire burned: then [d] spake I with my tongue.

4 LORD, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is: that I may know ‡ how frail I am.

5 Behold, thou hast made my days as an hand-breadth, and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man † at his best state is altogether * [d] vanity. Selah.

6 Surely every man walketh in † a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.

7 And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions, make me not the reproach of the [e] foolish.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because [g] thou didst it.

10 Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the † blow of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity, thou [h] makest † his [i] beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity. Selah.

12 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry, hold not thy peace at my tears: * for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 O spare me, that I may recover strength, [k] before I go hence, and be no more.

* 1 Chron. 25. 1.

a This was one of the chief singers; 1 Chro. 16. 41.

b Albeit hee had appointed with himself patiently to have tarried Gods leisure, yet the vehemency of his pain caused him to break his purpose.

† Heb. a bridle, or, muzzle for my mouth.

c Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to have kept silence, yet his zeal caused him to change his mind.

† Heb. tr ubled.

d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his sorrow and the shortness of his life.

‡ Or, what time I have here.

† Heb. settled.

* Psal. 62. 9. & 144. 4.

e Yet David offended in that, that he reasoned with God as though he were too severe toward his weak creature.

† Heb. an image.

f Make me not a mocking stock to the wicked, wrap me not up with the wicked, when they are put to shame.

g Seeing my troubles came of thy providence, I ought to have endured them patiently.

† Heb conflict.

h Though thine open plagues light not evermore upon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them.

† Heb. that which is to be desired in him to melt away.

i The word signifieth, All that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beauty, and in whatsoever he hath delight, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. * Lev. 25. 23. 1 Chron. 29. 15. Psal. 119. 19. Heb. 11. 13. 1 Pet 2. 11.

k For his sorrow caused him to think that God would destroy him utterly; whereby wee see how hard it is for the very Saints to keep a measure in their words, when death and despair assail them.

PSAL. XL.

1 The benefit of confidence in God. 6 Obedience is the best sacrifice. 11 The sense of Davids evils inflameth his prayer.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

† I Waited [a] patiently for the LORD, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up also out of † an [b] horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.

3 And he hath put a [c] new song in my † Heb. in waiting I waited.

a Though God deferred his help yet he patiently abode, till he was heard.

† Heb. a pit of noise.

b He hath delivered me from most great dangers.

c That is, A special occasion to praise him: for Gods benefits are so many occasions for us to praise his name mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.

4 Blessed is that man that maketh the LORD his trust: and [d] respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

5 [e] Many, O LORD my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: ‡ they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are mo then can be numbred.

6 * Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire, [f] mine ears hast thou † opened: burnt-offering and sin-offering hast thou not required.

7 [g] Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me:

8 I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is † within my heart.

9 I have preached righteousness in the [h] great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O LORD, thou knowest.

10 I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart, I have declared thy [i] faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy loving kindness, and thy truth, from the great congregation.

11 Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about, mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up: they are mo then the hairs of mine head, therefore my heart † [k] faileth me.

13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me: O LORD, make haste to help me.

14 * Let them be ashamed and [l] confounded together, that seek after my soul to destroy it: let them be driven backward, and put to shame that wish me evil.

15 Let them be desolate for a [m] reward of their shame, that say unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all those that seek thee, rejoyce and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation, say continually, [n] The LORD be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer, make no tarrying, O my God.

d To follow their example, which he must needs do that trusteth not onely in the Lord.
e David goeth from one kind of Gods favour, to the contemplation of his providence over all, and confesseth that his counsels towards us are far above our capacities: we cannot so much as tell them in order.
‡ Or, none can order them unto thee.
* Psal. 51. 16. Isa. 1. 11. & 66. 3. Hos. 6. 6. Mat. 12. 7. Heb 10. 5.
f Thou hast opened mine ears to understand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and here David esteemeth the ceremonies of the law nothing in respect of the spiritual service.
† Heb. digged.
g when thou hadst opened mine ears and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the book of thine elect for this end.
† Heb. in the midst of my bowels.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Gods care of the poor. 4 David complaineth of his enemies treachery. 10 He fleeth to God for succour.

VIII Day. Evening prayer.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

BLessed is he that [a] considereth ‡ the poor; the LORD will deliver him † in time of trouble.

2 The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and ‡ thou wilt not deliver him into the will of his enemies.

3 The LORD will strengthen him upon the [b] bed of languishing: thou wilt † make all his [c] bed in his sickness.

4 I said, LORD, be merciful unto me; heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies [d] speak evil of me: When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh [e] vanity: his heart gathereth iniquity to it self, when he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

7 All that hate me whisper together against me: against me do they devise † my hurt.

8 [f] † An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him: and now that he lieth, he shall rise up no more.

9 * Yea, † mine own familiar friend in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath † [g] lift up his heel against me.

10 But thou, O LORD, be merciful unto me, and raise me up, that I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou favourest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, thou upholdest me in mine [h] integrity, and settest me before thy [i] face for ever.

13 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, from everlasting, and to everlasting. [k] Amen, and amen.

a Or, stilfully carrieth himself. It implieth both a stilful minding or judging, and a carriage according in word and deed.

PSAL. XLII.

1 Davids zeal to serve God in the temple. 5 He encourageth his soul to trust in God.

¶ To the chief musician, ‡ Maschil, [a] for the sons of Korah.

AS the hart † panteth after the water-brooks, so [b] panteth my soul after thee, O God.

2 My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?

3 * [c] My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remember [d] these things, I pour out my soul in me; for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the house of God; with the voice of joy and praise, with a multitude that kept holy-day.

5 Why art thou † cast down, O my soul, and why art thou disquieted in me? [e] hope thou in God, for I shall yet ‡ praise him ‡ for the help of his countenance.

6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me: [f] therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites from ‡ the hill Mizar.

7 [g] Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy water-spouts: all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

8 Yet the LORD [h] will command his loving kindness in the day-time, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

‡ Or, the little hill.
g Afflictions came so thick upon me, that I felt my self as overwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no end of our misery, till God be pacified, and send remedy.
h He assureth himself of Gods help in time to come.

‡ Or, killing.
1 Meaning, That his adverſaries words did ſorely offend and grieve him, as if a dagger had been thruſt into his bones.
k This repetition doth declare that David did not overcome at once: to teach us to be conſtant, foraſmuch as God will certainly deliver his.

Psal. XLIII.

1 David praying to be reſtored to the temple, promiſeth to ſerve God joyfully. 5 He incourageth his ſoul to truſt in God.

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrength, why doſt thou caſt me off? why go I mourning becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?

3 O ſend out thy [c] light and thy truth; let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will [d] I go unto the altar of God, unto God † my exceeding joy: yea, upon the harp will I praiſe thee, O God, my God.

5 * Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted within me? hope in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

a He deſireth God to undertake his cauſe againſt the enemies, but chiefly that he would reſtore him to the tabernacle.

IX Day. Morning prayer.

1 The church in memory of former favours, 7 complaineth of her preſent evils. 17 Profeſſing her integrity, 24 ſhe fervently prayeth for ſuccour.

¶ To the chief muſician for the ſons of Korah, Maſchil.

1 [a] WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didſt in their days, in the times of old.

2 How thou didſt drive out the [b] heathen with thy hand, and plantedſt [c] them; how thou didſt afflict the [d] people, and caſt them out.

3 For [e] they got not the land in poſſeſſion by their own ſword, neither did their own arm ſave them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou hadſt a [f] favour unto them.

4 Thou art my king, O God, command deliverances for [g] Jacob.

5 [h] Through thee will we puſh down our enemies; through thy name will we tread them under that riſe up againſt us.

6 For I will not truſt in my bow, neither ſhall my ſword ſave me.

7 But thou haſt ſaved us from our enemies, and haſt put them to ſhame that hated us.

8 In God we boaſt all the day long: and praiſe thy name for ever. Selah.

9 But thou haſt caſt off, and put us to ſhame; and goeſt not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makeſt us to turn back from the enemy: and they which hate us ſpoil for themſelves.

12 Thou ſelleſt thy people † [l] for nought, and doſt not increaſe thy wealth by their price.

13 * Thou makeſt us a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and a deriſion to them that are round about us.

14 * Thou makeſt us a by-word among the heathen: a ſhaking of the head among the people.

15 [m] My confuſion is continually before me, and the ſhame of my face hath covered me:

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blaſphemeth; by reaſon of the enemy and [n] avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not [o] forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falſely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our ‡ ſteps declined from thy way.

19 Though thou haſt ſore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the ſhadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or ſtretched out our hands to a [p] ſtrange god:

21 Shall not God [q] ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 * Yea, for [r] thy ſake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as ſheep for the ſlaughter.

23 Awake, why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? ariſe, caſt us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? and forgetteſt our affliction, and our oppreſſion?

25 For our ſoul is [s] bowed down to the duſt; our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Ariſe † for our help, and redeem us for thy [t] mercies ſake.

4 Have the [d] workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people, as they eat bread; they have not called upon God.

5 There † were they in great fear, where [e] no fear was: for God hath scattered the [f] bones of him that encampeth against thee, thou hast put them to shame, because God hath despised them.

6 † O that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! when God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoyce, and Israel shall be glad.

Psal. LIV.

1 David complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for salvation. 4 Upon his confidence in Gods help, he promiseth sacrifice.

¶ To the chief musician on Neginoth, Maschil, A psalm of David, * when the Ziphims came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

* 1 Sam. 23. 19. & 26. 1.

SAve me, O God, [a] by thy name, and judge me by thy strength.

2 Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For [b] strangers are risen up against me, and [c] oppressours seek after my soul; they have not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with [d] them that uphold my soul.

5 He shall reward evil unto † mine enemies; cut them off in thy [e] truth.

6 I will [f] freely sacrifice unto thee; I will praise thy name, O LORD, for it is good.

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble: and mine eye hath [g] seen his desire upon mine enemies.

a He declareth that when all means do fail, God will deliver, even as it were by miracle, them that call unto him with an upright conscience.

b To wit, the Ziphims.

c Saul and his army, which were like cruel beasts, and could not be satisfied but by his death.

d Be they never so few, as he was with Jonathan.

† Heb. those that uphold me.

e According to thy faithful promise for my defence.

f For hypocrites serve God for fear, or upon conditions.

g we may lawfully rejoyce, for Gods judgment against the wicked, if our affections be pure.

Psal. LV.

1 David in his prayer complaineth of his fearful case. 9 He prayeth against his enemies, of whose wickedness and treachery he complaineth. 16 He comforteth himself in Gods preservation of him, and confusion of his enemies.

¶ To the chief musician on Neginoth, Maschil, A psalm of David.

GIve [a] ear to my prayer, O God: and hide not thy self from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noise,

3 Because of the [b] voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked: for [c] they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

4 My heart is sore pained within me: and the terrours of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horrour hath † [d] overwhelmed me.

6 And I said, O that I had wings like a dove; for then would I [e] flie away, and be at rest.

7 Lo then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderness. Selah.

8 I would hasten my escape from the [f] windy storm and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and [g] divide their tongues: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: [h] mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it.

11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 For it was [i] not an enemy that reproched me, then I could have born it; neither was it he that hated me, that did magnify himself against me, then I would have hid my self from him.

13 But it was thou, † a man, mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.

a The earnestness of his prayer declareth the vehemency of his grief, insomuch as he is compelled to burst out into cries.

b For the threatnings of Saul and his adherents.

c They have defamed me as a wicked person, or they have imagined my destruction.

† Heb. covered me.

d There was no part of him that was not astonied, with extream fear.

e Fear had driven him to so great distress, that he wished to be hid in some wilderness and to be banished from that kingdom, which God had promised that he should injoy.

f From the cruel rage and tyranny of Saul.

g As in the confusion of Babylon, when the wicked conspired against God.

h All laws and good orders are broken, and onely vice and dissolution reigneth under Saul.

i If my open enemy had fought mine hurt, I could the better have avoided him.

† Heb. a man according to my rank.

14 † We took sweet counsel together, and [k] walked unto the house of God in company.

15 Let death seise upon them, and let them go down [l] quick into ‡ hell: for wickedness is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God: and the LORD shall save me.

17 Evening and morning, and at noon will I pray, and [m] cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battel that was against me: for there were [n] many with me.

19 God shall hear and afflict them, even he that abideth of old, Selah: ‡ because they have [o] no changes, therefore they fear not God.

20 [p] He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him: † he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were smoother then butter, but war was in his heart: his words were softer then oyl, yet were they drawn swords.

22 * Cast thy ‡ burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee: he shall [q] never suffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: † bloudy and deceitful men † shall not live out [r] half their days, but I will trust in thee.

† Heb. unto sweetned counsel k which was not onely joyned to me in friendship and counsel in worldly matters, but also in religion.

l As Korah, Dathan and Abiram.

‡ Or, the grave.

m which signifieth a fervent mind and sure trust, to obtain his petition, which thing made him earnest at all times in prayer.

n Even the angels of God fought on my side against mine enemies, 2 King. 6. 16.

‡ Or, with whom also there be no changes, yet they fear not God.

o But their prosperous estate still continueth.

p I did not provoke him, but was at peace with him, yet he made war against me.

† Heb. he hath profaned.

‡ Or, gift.

q Though for their bettering and trial he suffer them to slip for a time.

† Heb. men of blouds and deceit.

r Though they sometime live longer, yet their life is cursed of God, unquiet, & worse then any death.

Psal. LVI.

1 David praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies. 9 He professeth his confidence in Gods word, and promiseth to praise him.

¶ To the chief musician upon [a] Jonath-elem-rechokim, ‡ Michtam of David, when the * Philistines took him in Gath.

BE merciful unto me, O God, for [b] man would swallow me up: he fighting daily oppresseth me.

2 † Mine enemies would daily swallow me up: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most High.

3 What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee.

4 In God I will praise his [c] word, in God I have put my trust, I will not fear what flesh can do unto me.

5 Every day they [d] wrest my words: all their thoughts are against me for evil.

6 [e] They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps when they wait for my soul.

7 Shall they escape by iniquity? in thine anger [f] cast down the people, O God.

8 Thou tellest my wandrings, put thou my [g] tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?

9 When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know, for God is for me.

10 In God will I praise his word: in the LORD will I praise his word.

XI Day. Morning prayer.

a By interpretation after the Hebrew phrase, The dove of dumbness: meaning, Being chased by the fury of his enemies into a strange country, he was as a dumb dove, not seeking revenge.

‡ Or, a golden psalm of David.

* 1 Sam. 21 11.

b He sheweth that it is either now time, or never, that God help him: for all the world is against him, and ready to devour him.

† Heb. mine observers.

c He stayeth his conscience upon Gods promise, though hee see not present help.

d Pervert them and give them another meaning then I intend.

e As all the world against one man, and cannot be satiate except they have my life.

f To wit, To the pit of destruction, as Psal 55. 24.

g If God keep the tears of his saints in store, much more will he remember their bloud to avenge it: and though tyrants burn the bones, yet can they not blot the tears and bloud out of Gods register.

h Having received that which I required, I am bound to pay my vows of thanksgiving, as I promised.

11 In God have I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 [h] Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praises unto thee.

13 For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may [i] walk before God in the [k] light of the living?

i As mindful of his great mercies, and giving him thanks for the same k That is, In this life and light of the sun.

Psal. LVII.

1 David in prayer fleeing unto God, complaineth of his dangerous case. 7 He encourageth himself to praise God.

¶ To the chief musician ‡ [a] Al-taschith, Michtam of David, * when he fled from Saul in the cave.

‡ Or, destroy not.

a This was either the beginning of a certain song, or the words which David uttered when he stayed his affection.

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these [b] calamities be overpast.

* 1 Sam. 24. 1.

b Hee compareth the afflictions, which God laveth upon his children, to a storm that commeth and goeth.

2 I will cry unto God most high: unto God that [c] performeth all things for me.

c who leaveth not his works begun unperfit.

3 He shall send from [d] heaven and save me ‡ from the reproach of him that would swallow me up; Selah. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

d He would rather deliver me by a miracle, then that I should be overcome.

‡ Or, he reproacheth him that would swallow me up.

4 My soul is among lions, and I lie even among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose [e] teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

e He meaneth, their calumnies and false reports.

5 [f] Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

f Suffer me not to be destroyed to the contempt of thy name.

6 * They have prepared a net for my steps, [g] my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. Selah.

* Psal. 7. 16. & 9. 15.

g For very fear, seeing the great dangers on all sides.

7 * My heart is ‡ [h] fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.

* Psal. 108. 1 &c.

‡ Or, prepared.

h That is, wholy bent to give thee praise for my deliverance.

8 Awake up my [i] glory, awake psaltery and harp: I my self will awake early.

i He sheweth that both his heart shall praise God, and his tongue shall confess him, and also that he will use other meanes to provoke himselt forward to the same.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.

10 * For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the [k] clouds.

* Psal. 36. 5. & 108. 4.

k Thy mercies do not onely appertain to the Jews, but also to the Gentiles.

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

Psal. LVIII.

1 David reproveth wicked judges, 3 describeth the nature of the wicked, 6 devoteth them to Gods judgments, 10 whereat the righteous shall rejoyce.

¶ To the chief musician, ‡ Al-taschith, Michtam of David.

‡ Or, destroy not, a golden psalm of David.

DO ye indeed speak righteousness, O [a] congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?

a Ye counsellers of Saul, who under pretence of consulting for the commonwealth, conspire my death being an innocent.

2 Yea, in heart you work wickedness, you weigh the violence of your [b] hands in the earth.

b Ye are not ashamed to execute that cruelty publikely, which ye have imagined in your hearts.

3 The wicked are [c] estranged from the womb, they go astray, † assoon as they be born, speaking lies.

c That is, Enemies to the people of God even from their birth.

† Heb. from the belly

4 Their poison is † like the poison of a serpent; they are like the deaf ‡ [d] adder that stoppeth her ear:

† Heb. according to the likeness.

‡ Or, asp

d They pass in malice and subtilty the crafty serpent, which could preserve himself by stopping his ear from the inchanter.

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, ‡ charming never so wisely.

‡ Or, be the charmer never so cunning.

6 Break their [e] teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O Lord.

e Take away all occasions and means whereby they hurt.

7 Let them [f] melt away as waters, which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to shoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.

f Considering Gods divine power, he sheweth that God in amoment can destroy their force whereof they brag.

8 As a snail which melteth, let every one of them pass away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not see the sun.

g As flesh is taken raw out of the pot before the water seetheth: so he desireth God to destroy their enterprises before they bring them to pass.

9 [g] Before your pots can feel the thorns, he shall take them away as with a whirlwind, † both living, and in his wrath.

† Heb. as living as wrath.

10 The righteous shall [h] rejoyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the [i] bloud of the wicked.

h with a pure affection.

i Their punishment and slaughter shall be so great 11 So that a man shall say, [k] Verily there is † a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth.

k Seeing God governeth all by his providence, he must needs put difference between the godly and the wicked. † Heb. fruit of the, &c.

Psal. LIX.

XI Day. Evening prayer.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. 6 He complaineth of their cruelty. 8 He trusteth in God. 11 He prayeth against them. 16 He praiseth God.

¶ ‡ To the chief musician, Al-taschith, [a] Michtam of David: * when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

‡ Or, To the chief musician destroy not, a golden psalm of David.

* 1 Sam. 19. 11.

DEliver me from mine enemies, [b] O my God: † defend me from them that rise up against me.

b Though his enemies were even at hand to destroy him, yet he assured himself that God had ways enough in his hand to deliver him.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloudy men.

3 For lo, they lie in wait for my soul; the mighty are gathered against me; not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O Lord.

† Heb. set me on high.

c For I am innocent towards, and have not offended them.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake † to help me, and behold.

† Heb. to meet me.

5 Thou therefore, O Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen: be [d] not merciful to any wicked transgressours. Selah.

d Seeing it appertaineth to Gods judgments to punish the wicked, he desireth God to execute his vengeance on the reprobate, who maliciously persecute his church.

6 They return at evening: they make a noise like [e] a dog, and go round about the city.

e He compareth their cruelty to hungry dogs, shewing that they are never weary in doing evil.

7 Behold, they [f] belch out with their mouth: swords are in their lips; for * who, (say they) doth hear?

f They boast openly of their wicked devices, and every word is as a sword, for they neither fear God, nor are ashamed of men.

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt laugh at them; thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.

* Psal. 10. 11. & 73. 11. & 94. 7.

9 [g] Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is † my defence.

g Though Saul have never so great power, yet I know that thou dost buidle him therefore will I patiently hope on thee.

† Heb. my high place.

10 The God of my mercy shall [h] prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon † mine enemies.

h He will not fail to succour me, when need requireth.

11 Slay them [i] not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord our shield.

† Heb. minde to forget.

i Altogether, but by little and little, that the people seeing oftentimes thy judgments may be mindful of thee.

12 For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them even be [k] taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.

k That in their misery and shame they may be as glasses and examples of Gods vengeance.

13 [l] Consume them in wrath, consume them, l when the time shall come, and when they have sufficiently served for an example of thy vengeance unto others.

that that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, unto the ends of the earth. Selah.

14 [m] And at evening let them return, and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down † for meat, ‡ and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of thy [n] power; yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my [o] strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

m He mocketh at their vain enterprises, being assured that they shall not bring their purpose to pass.
† Heb. to eat.
‡ Or, if they be not satisfied, then they will stay all night.

¶ To the chief musician upon [a] Shuhan eduth, ‡ Michtam of David, to teach, * when he strove with Aramnaharaim and with Aram [b] zobah, when Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the valley of salt, twelve thousand.

O God, * thou hast cast us off, thou hast † [c] scattered us, thou hast been displeased; O turn thy self to us again.

2 Thou hast made the earth to [d] tremble; thou hast broken it: heal the breaches thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast [e] shewed thy people hard things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of astonishment.

4 Thou hast given a [f] banner to them that fear thee: that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.

5 * That thy beloved may be delivered; save with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath spoken in his [g] holiness, I will rejoyce: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine, Ephraim also is the [h] strength of mine head; [i] Judah is my law-giver.

XII Day. Morning prayer.

¶ To the chief musician, to Jeduthun, A psalm of David.

‡ TRuly [a] my soul † waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation.

‡ Or, only.
a Though Satan tempted him to murmur against God, yet he bridled his affections, and resting upon Gods promise, beareth his cross patiently

2 [b] He onely is my rock and my salvation: he is my † defence; I shall not be [b] greatly moved.

† Heb. is silent.
b The Chaldee expound it, I shall not be moved in the day of great affliction

3 How long will ye imagine mischief against [c] a man? ye shall be slain all of you: as a [d] bowing wall shall ye be, and as a tottering fence.

† Heb high place.
c He meaneth himself, being the man whom God had appointed to the kingdom.
d Though ye seem to be in honour, yet God will suddenly destroy you.

4 They onely consult to cast him down from his excellency, they delight in lies: they bless with their mouth, but they curse † inwardly. Selah.

† Heb. in their inward parts.

5 My soul, [e] wait thou onely upon God: for my expectation is from him.

e David was greatly moved with these troubles, therefore he stirreth up himself to trust in God

6 He onely is my rock and my salvation; he is my defence; I shall not be moved.

7 In God is my salvation and my [f] glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge is in God.

f These vehement and often repetitions were necessary to strengthen his faith against the horrible assaults of Satan.

8 Trust in him at all times; ye people, [g] pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

g He admonisheth us of our wicked nature, which rather hide our sorrow, and bite on the bridle, then utter our grief to God, to obtain remedy 9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are ‡ altogether lighter then vanity.

‡ Or, alike.

10 [h] Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

h Give your selves wholy to God by putting away all things contrary to his law 11 God hath spoken [i] once; twice have I heard this, that ‡ power belongeth unto God.

i He hath plainly born witness of his power, so that none needeth to doubt thereof.

Psal. LXIII.

1 Davids thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. 9 His confidence of his enemies destruction, and his own safety.

¶ A psalm of David, when he was in the [a] wilderness of Judah.

O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: my soul [b] thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and † thirsty land, † where no water is:

2 To [c] see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.

3 Because thy loving kindness is better then life: my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I bless thee, while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with † [d] marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night-watches.

7 Because thou hast been my help; therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoyce.

8 My soul [e] followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 † [f] They shall fall by the sword, they shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoyce in God, every one that [g] sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies, shall be stopped.

a To wit, Of Ziphas or the forest Hareth. 1 Sam. 22. 14 Both which were in the tribe of Judah.

b Though he was both hungry and in great distress, yet he made God his sufficiency, and above all meat and drink.

† Heb. weary.

† Heb. without. water.

c This may be meant of his present desire, to behold as in time past.

† Heb. fatness.

d The remembrance of thy favour is more sweet unto mee then all the pleasures and dainties of the world.

e He assureth himself by the spirit of God to have the gift of constancy.

† Heb. they shall make him run out like water by the hands of the sword.

f Hee prophesieth of the destruction of Saul and them that take his part, whose bodies shall not be buried, but be devoured with wild beasts.

g All that sweare by God aright, or profess him, shall rejoyce in this worthy king.

Psal. LXIV.

1 David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies. 7 He promiseth himself to see such an evident destruction of his enemies, as the righteous shall rejoyce at it.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

Hear [a] my voice, O God, in my prayer; preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the [b] secret counsel of the wicked; from the [c] insurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 * Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even [d] bitter words:

4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and [e] fear not.

5 They [f] encourage themselves in an evil ‡ matter: they commune † of laying snares privily, they say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities, ‡ they accomplish † a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart is [g] deep.

7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow, suddenly † shall they be wounded.

8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them, shall [h] flee away.

9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.

10 The righteous [i] shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

a In that he calleth to God with his voyce, it is a sign that his prayer was vehement, and that his life was in danger

b That is, From their secret malice.

c False reports and slanders.

* Psal. 11. 2.

d To wit, Their outward violence.

e To be without fear of God, and reverence of man, is a sign of reprobation.

f The more that the wicked see Gods children in misery, the more bold and impudent are they in oppressing them.

‡ Or, speech.

† Heb. to hide snares.

‡ Or, we are consumed by that which they have throughly searched.

† Heb. a search searched.

g There is no way so secret and subtil to do hurt, which they invented not for his destruction

h To see Gods heavy judgments against them, and how hee hath caught them in their own snares.

i When they shall consider that he will bee favourable to them, as he was to his servant David.

Psal. LXV.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of Gods chosen by reason of benefits.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm and song of David.

Praise † [a] waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all [b] flesh come.

3 † Iniquities [c] prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.

4 Blessed is the man whom thou choosest and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.

5 By terrible things in righteousness, wilt thou [d] answer us, O God of our salvation: who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the [e] sea.

6 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains; being girded with power.

7 Which stilleth the [f] noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening ‡ to rejoyce.

9 Thou [g] visitest the earth and ‡ waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the [h] river of God which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so [i] provided for it.

10 [k] Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: ‡ thou settlest the furrows thereof: † thou makest it soft with showers, thou blessest the springing thereof.

11 Thou crownest † the year with thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness.

12 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the little hills † rejoyce on every side.

13 The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, [l] they also sing.

XII Day. Evening prayer.

† Heb. is silent.

a Thou givest daily new occasion unto thy church to praise thee.

b Not onely the Jews, but also the Gentiles, in the kingdom of Christ.

Heb. words, or, matters of iniquities.

c He imputeth it to his sins, and to the sins of the people, that God who was accustomed to assist them, withdraweth his succour from them.

d Thou wilt declare thy self to be the preserver of thy church, in destroying mine enemies, as thou didst in the red sea.

e As of all barbarous nations near and far off.

f He sheweth that there is no part nor creature in the world, which is not governed by Gods power and providence.

‡ Or, to sing.

g To wit, with rain.

‡ Or, after thou hadst made it to desire rain.

h That is, Shihor, or, the rain.

i Thou hast appointed the earth to bring forth food to mans use.

k By this description he sheweth that all the order of nature is a testimony of Gods love toward us, who causeth all creatures to serve, our necessity.

‡ Or, from whence rain is derived into the furrows thereof.

† Heb. thou dissolvest it.

† Heb. the year of thy goodness.

† Heb. are girded unto joy.

l That is, The dumb creatures shall not onely rejoyce for a time for Gods benefits, but shall continually sing.

Psal. LXVI.

1 David exhorteth to praise God, 5 to observe his great works, 8 to bless him for his gracious benefits. 12 He voweth for himself religious service to God. 16 He declareth Gods special goodness to himself.

¶ To the chief musician, A song, or, psalm.

Make a joyful noise unto God, † [a] all ye lands.

2 Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praise glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works? through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies ‡ † [b] submit themselves unto thee.

4 All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee, they shall sing to thy name. Selah.

5 [c] Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the [d] children of men.

6 He turned the sea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot, there did we rejoyce in him.

† Heb. all the earth.

a He propheseth that all nations shall come to the knowledge of God, who then was only known in Judea.

‡ Or, yield feigned obedience.

† Heb. lie.

b As the faithful shall obey God willingly, so the infidels for fear shall dissemble themselves to be subject.

c He toucheth the slothful dulness of man, who is cold in the consideration of Gods works.

d His providence is wonderful in maintaining their estate.

7 He

7 He ruleth by his power for ever, his eyes behold the nations: let [e] not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.

8 O Bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

9 Which † [f] holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.

10 For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

11 Thou broughtest us into the [g] net, thou laidst affliction upon our loyns, 12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads, we went through fire and through water: but thou broughtest us out into a † wealthy place.

13 I will go into thy [h] house with burnt-offerings: I will pay thee my vows, 14 Which my lips have † uttered, and my mouth hath spoken when I was in trouble.

15 I will offer unto thee burnt-sacrifices of † fatlings, with the incense of rams: I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.

16 [i] Come and hear all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

18 [k] If I regard iniquity in my heart: the Lord will not hear me.

19 But verily God hath heard me: he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

20 Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

e He proveth that God will extend his grace also to the Gentiles, because he punisheth among them, such as will not obey his calling

f He signifieth some special benefit, that God had shewed to his church of the Jews in delivering them from some great danger, whereof, or of the like, he promiseth that the Gentiles shall be partakers.

g The condition of the church is here described, which is to be led by Gods providence into troubles, to be subject under tyrants, and to enter into manifold dangers.

† Heb. made.

h The duty of the faithful is here declared, which are never unmindful to render God praise for his benefits.

i It is not enough to have received Gods benefits, and to be mindful thereof, but also we are bound to make others to partake thereby, and praise God.

k If I delight in wickedness, God will not hear me: but if I confess it, he will receive me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer for the enlargment of Gods kingdom, 3 to the joy of the people, 6 and the increase of Gods blessings.

¶ To the chief musician on Neginoth, A psalm, or, song.

GOd be merciful unto us, and bless us: and [a] cause his face to shine † upon us. Selah.

2 That thy way may be known upon [b] earth, thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

4 [c] O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and † govern the nations upon earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall [d] the earth yeild her increase; and God, even our own God shall bless us.

7 God shall bless us, and all the ends of the earth [e] shall fear him.

a That is, Move our hearts with thy holy Spirit, that we may feel thy favour toward us.

† Heb. with us.

b That both Jews and Gentiles may know Gods covenant made with them.

c By these oft repetitions, he sheweth that the people can never render sufficiently, and give thanks for the great benefits that they shall receive under the kingdom of Christ † Heb. lead.

d He sheweth that whose God favoureth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

e when they feel his great benefits both spiritual and corporal toward them.

PSAL. LXVIII.

XIII Day. Morning prayer.

1 A prayer at the removing of the ark. 4 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 7 for his care of the church, 19 for his great works.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm, or, song of David.

LEt * God [a] arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him, flee † before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 [b] But let the righteous be glad: let them rejoyce before God, yea, let them † exceedingly rejoyce.

* Num. 10. 35.

a The prophet sheweth that albeit God suffereth the wicked tyrants to oppress his church for a time, yet at length he will be revenged of them.

† Heb. from his face.

b He sheweth, That when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commodity and salvation of his church, which praise him therefore.

† Heb. rejoyce with gladness.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name [c] JAH, and rejoyce before him.

5 A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

6 God setteth the [d] solitary † in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains, but the rebellious dwell in [e] a dry land.

7 [f] O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people; when thou didst march through the wilderness. Selah.

8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sinai it self was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, didst † send a plentiful rain, whereby thou didst † confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy [g] goodness for the poor.

11 The Lord gave the word, great was the † company of those that [h] published it.

12 Kings of armies † did flee apace: and [i] she that tarried at home, divided the spoil.

13 Though ye have lien among the [k] pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings ‡ [l] in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.

15 The [m] hill of God is as the hill of Bashan, an high hill as the hill of Bashan.

16 [n] Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in, yea, the LORD will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, ‡ even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the holy place.

18 * Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast [o] led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts † for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.

19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Selah.

20 He that is our God, is the God of salvation; and unto GOD the Lord belong the [p] issues from death.

21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy scalp of such a one as goeth on still in his trespasses.

22 The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the [q] depths of the sea:

23 That thy foot may be ‡ dipped in the bloud of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the [r] same.

24 They have seen thy [s] goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my king, in the sanctuary.

25 The [t] singers went before, the players on instruments followed after; amongst them were the damsels playing with timbrels.

c Jah and Jehovah are the names of God, which do signify his essence and majesty incomprehensible, so that thereby is declared, that all idols are but vanity, and that the God of Israel is the only true God.

d He giveth children to them that be childless, and increaseth their families.

† Heb. in a house.

e which is barren of Gods blessings, which before they did abuse.

f He teacheth that Gods favour peculiarly belongeth to his church, as appeareth by their wonderful deliverance out of Egypt.

† Heb. shake out.

g God blessed the land of Canaan because he had chosen that place for his church.

† Heb. army.

h The original word here mebasroth is of the feminine gender, usually understood therefore, of women, such as sung songs of victory, as Miriam, Deborah: but we may understand it rather of men, as Solomon called himself Koheleth, that is, a preacher (in the feminine gender) or a preaching soul, Eccl. 1. 1.

† Heb. did flee, did flee.

i The prey was so great, that not only the souldiers, but women also had part thereof.

k Though God suffer his church for a time to lie in black darkness, yet he will restore it, and make it most shining and white.

‡ Or, for her, she was l In the land of Canaan, where his church was.

m Zion the church of God, doth excel all worldly things, not in pomp & outward shew, but by the inward grace of God, which there reigneth, because of his dwelling there n why boast ye of your strength and beauty against this mountain of God.

‡ Or, even many thousands.

* Eph. 4. 8.

o As God overcame the enemies of his church, took them prisoners, and made them tributaries: so Christ, which is God manifested in flesh, subdued Satan and sin under us, and gave unto his church most liberal gifts of his Spirit.

† Heb. in the man.

p In most extream dangers, God hath infinite ways to deliver his.

q As he delivered his church once from Og of Bashan, and other tyrants, and from the dangers of the red-sea, so will he still do, as oft as necessity requireth.

‡ Or, red.

r That is, in the bloud of that great slaughter, where dogs shall lap bloud.

s That is, How thou, which art chiefest king goest out with thy people to war, and givest them the victory.

t He describeth the order of the people, when they went to the temple to give thanks for the victory.

† Or, ye that are of the fountain of Israel.
u which came of the patriarch, Jacob.
x Benjamin is called little, because he was the youngest son of Jacob.
y who was some chief ruler of the tribe.
‡ Or, with their company.
z which presents are sometimes of the persons of men, see Isa. 18.7. & 66. 20.
‡ Or, the beast of the reeds.
a The word signifieth such submission as when one casts down himself at the feet, as to be troden on: so Prov. 6. 3.
‡ Or, he scattereth.
b He prophesieth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge & worship of God.
† Heb. give.
c By his terrible thunders he will make himself to be known the God of all the world.
‡ Or, heavens.
d In shewing fearful judgments against thine enemies, for the salvation of thy people.
e He alludeth to the tabernacle, which was divided into three parts.

26 Bless ye God in the congregations, even the LORD, ‡ from the fountain [u] of Israel.

27 There is [x] little Benjamin with their [y] ruler, the princes of Judah ‡ and their counsel, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath commanded thy strength: strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.

29 Because of thy temple at Jerusalem, shall kings bring [z] presents unto thee.

30 Rebuke ‡ the company of spear-men, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the people, till every one [a] submit himself with pieces of silver: ‡ scatter thou the people that delight in war.

31 Princes shall come out of Egypt, [b] Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth: O sing praises unto the Lord. Selah.

33 To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which were of old; lo, he doth † send out his voice, and that [c] a mighty voice.

34 Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Israel, and his strength is in the ‡ clouds.

35 O God, thou art [d] terrible out of thy [e] holy places, the God of Israel is he that giveth strength and power unto his people: blessed be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

XIII Day. Evening prayer.

1 David complaineth of his affliction. 13 He prayeth for deliverance. 22 He devoteth his enemies to destruction. 30 He praiseth God with thanksgiving.

a Of Shoshannim, read Psal 45.
b David signifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of which God did deliver him.
† Heb. the mire of depth.
c No firmness or stableness to settle my feet.
† Heb. depth of waters.
d Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant, and incouraged him still to prayer.
e Condeming me guiltless.
f They judged me poor innocent as a thief, and gave my goods to others, as though I had stoln them.
g Though I be guilty to theeward, yet am I innocent toward them.
† Heb. guiltiness.
h Let not mine evil intreaty of the enemies be an occasion that the faithful fall from thee.

* John 2. 17.
i when I saw thine enemies pretend thy name only in mouth, and in their life deny the same, thine holy spirit thrust me forward to reprove them, and defend thy glory.
* Rom. 15. 3.
k My zeal moved me to lament and pray for my salvation.

¶ To the chief musician upon [a] Shoshannim, A psalm of David.

SAve me, O God, for the [b] waters are come in unto my soul.

2 I sink in † deep mire, where there is no [c] standing: I am come into † deep waters, where the flouds overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying, my throat is dried: mine [d] eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more then the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me being mine enemies [e] wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took [f] not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my [g] foolishness; and my † sins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord GOD of hosts, be ashamed [h] for my sake: let not those that seek thee, be confounded for my sake, O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have born reproach: shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mothers children.

9 * [i] For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up; * and the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.

10 When I [k] wept, and chastned my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made sackcloth also my garment: and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that [l] sit in the gate, speak against me; and I was the song of the † drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an [m] acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the [n] deep waters.

15 Let not the water-floud overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O LORD, for thy loving kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And [o] hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: † hear me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine [p] adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavinesse: and I [q] looked for some † to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall for my meat,* and in my thirst they gave me vineger to drink.

22 Let their [r] table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkned that they see not; and make their [r] loyns continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

25 Let † their [t] habitation be desolate, and † let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they talk to the grief of † those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add ‡ iniquity to their [u] iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the [x] book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor, and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the LORD [y] better then an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The ‡ humble shall see this, and be glad: and your heart shall live that seek God.

33 For the LORD heareth the poor, and despiseth not his [z] prisoners.

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that † moveth therein.

35 For God will save Zion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

36 [a] The seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

l The more he sought to win them to God, the more they were against him, both poor and rich.
† Heb. drinkers of strong drink.
m Knowing that albeit I suffer now trouble, yet thou hast a time wherein thou hast appointed my deliverance.
n He sheweth a lively faith, in that he assured himself, that God is favourable to him, when he seemeth to be angry: and at hand, when he seemeth to be far off.

o Not that he feared that God would not hear him, but that care made him to think that God deferred long.
† Heb. make haste to hear me.
p Thou seest that I am beset as a sheep among many wolves.
¶ He sheweth that it is in vain to put our trust in men in our great necessities: but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorrows then diminisheth them.

† Heb. let them not be a dwelling.
† Heb. thy wounded.
‡ Or, punishment of iniquity.
u By their continuance and increasing in their sins, let it be known that they be of the reprobate.
x They which seemed by their profession to have been written in thy book, yet by their fruits prove the contrary, let them be known as reprobates.
y There is no sacrifice, which God more esteemeth, then thanksgiving for his benefits.
‡ Or, meek.
z For as he delivered his servant David, so will he do all that are in distress, and call upon him.
† Heb. creepeth.
a Under the temporal promise of the land of Canaan, he comprehendeth the promise of life everlasting to the faithful and their posterity.

Psal. LXX.

David soliciteth God to the speedy destruction of the wicked, and preservation of the godly.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David, to bring to [a] remembrance.

a which might put him in remembrance of his deliverance.

MAke [b] haste, * O God, to deliver me; make haste † to help me, O LORD.

b He teacheth us to be earnest in prayer, though God seem to stay: for at his time, he will hear us.

2 * Let them be ashamed and [c] confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that desire my hurt.

* Psal. 40. 13, &c.
† Heb. to my help.
* Psal. 35. 4. & 71. 13.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their [d] shame, that say, Aha, aha.

c He was assured that the more they raged, the nearer they were to destruction, and he the nearer to his deliverance.

4 Let all those that seek thee, rejoyce, and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

d Hereby we are taught not to mock at others in their misery, lest the same fall on our own necks.

5 But I am [e] poor and needy, make haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer, O LORD, make no tarrying.

e Because he had felt Gods help before, he groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh unto him for succour.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord GOD: thou art my [e] trust from my youth.

e He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefits, who did not onely preserve him in his mothers belly, but took him thence, and ever since hath preserved him.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mothers bowels, my praise shall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a [f] wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.

f All the world wondreth at me because of my miseries, aswell they in authority, as the common people, yet being assured of thy favour, I remained stedfast.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy honour all the day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of [g] old age, forsake me not when my strength faileth.

g Thou that didst help me in my youth, when I had more strength, help me now so much the more in mine old age and weakness.

10 For mine enemies speak against me: and they that † lay wait for my soul, take counsel together, 12 O God, be not far from me: O [i] my God, make haste for my help.

i In calling him his God, he putteth back the false reports of the adversaries, that said, God hath forsaken him.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed, that are adversaries to my soul: let them be covered with reproach and dishonour, that seek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness, and thy salvation all the day: [k] for I know not the numbers thereof.

k Because thy benefits toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate & rehearse them.

16 I will [l] go in the strength of the Lord GOD: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine onely.

l I will remain stedfast, being upholden with the power of God.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

18 [m] Now also † when I am old and grayheaded, O God, forsake me not: until I have shewed † thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

20 Thou which hast shewed me [p] great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou shalt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side.

22 I will also praise thee † with the psaltery, even thy [q] truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou holy One of Israel.

Heb with the instrument of psaltery.

23 My lips shall greatly rejoyce when I sing unto thee: and my [r] soul which thou hast redeemed.

r For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: & therefore he promiseth to delight in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt.

Psal. LXXII.

1 David praying for Solomon, sheweth the goodness and glory of his in type, and in truth of Christs kingdom. 18 He blesseth God.

¶ A psalm ‡ [a] for Solomon.

‡ Or, of.
a Composed by David, as touching the reign of his son Solomon.

GIve the king thy [b] judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's [c] son.

b Endue the king with the spirit of wisdom and justice, that he reign not as do the worldy tyrants.
c To wit, To his posterity.

2 He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.

3 The [d] mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness.

d when justice reigneth, even the places most barren, shall be enriched with thy blessings.

4 He shall [e] judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressour.

e He sheweth wherefore the sword is committed to kings: to wit, To defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked.

5 They shall [f] fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations.

f The people shall embrace thy true religion, when thou givest a king that ruleth according to thy word.

6 He shall [g] come down like rain upon the mown grass: as showrs that water the earth.

g As this is true in all godly kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heavenly dew, maketh his church ever to flourish.

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish: and abundance of peace † so long as the moon endureth.

† Heb. till there be no moon.

8 He shall have dominion also [h] from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

h That is, From the red-sea to the sea called Siriacum, & from Euphrates forward: meaning, That Christs kingdom should be large and universal.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall bowe before him: and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of [i] Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of [k] Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

i Of Cilicia, and of all other countries beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the isles.
k That is, Of Arabia that rich country, whereof Sheba was a part bordering upon Ethiopia.

11 Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him.

460

12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth: the poor also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy.

14 He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence: and [l] precious shall their blood be in his sight.

15 And he shall live, and to him † shall be given of the [m] gold of Sheba; prayer also shall be made for him continually, and daily shall he be praised.

16 There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the [n] fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon, and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17 His name † shall endure for ever: † his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him [o] blessed.

18 Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, who onely doth [p] wondrous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious name for ever, and let the whole earth be filled with his glory; Amen, and amen.

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse [q] are ended.

l Though tyrants pass not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserve his subjects from all kind of wrong.
† Heb. one shall give.
m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.
n Under such a king shall be most great plenty, both of fruit, and also of the increase of mankind.
† Heb. shall be.
† Heb. shall be as a son to continue his fathers name for ever.
o They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doth prosper them for his sake.
p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserve his people, that neither the king, nor the kingdom can continue.
q Concerning his son Solomon.

XIV Day. Evening prayer.

1 The prophet prevailing in a temptation, 2 sheweth the occasion thereof, the prosperity of the wicked; 13 The wound given thereby, diffidence; 15 The victory over it, knowledge of Gods purpose, in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous.

¶ ‡ A psalm of Asaph.

‡ Or, A psalm for Asaph.

‡ TRuly [a] God is good to Israel, even to such as are † of a clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well-nigh slipt.

3 * For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are [b] no bands in their death: but their strength is † firm.

5 They are not † in trouble as other men: neither are they plagued † like other men.

6 [c] Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain: violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness: † they have more then heart could wish.

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.

9 [d] They set their mouth against the heavens; and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore [e] his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they [f] say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world, they increase in riches.

13 Verily, I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and † chastened every morning.

† Heb. in the trouble of other men.
† Heb. wash.
c They glory in their pride as some do in their chains: and in cruelty, as some do in apparel.
† Heb. they pass the thoughts of the heart.
d They blaspheme God, and fear not his power, and rail upon men, because they esteem themselves above all others.
e Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall back, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrows, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly. f Thus the flesh moveth even the godly to dispute with God, touching their poor estate, and the prosperity of the wicked.
† Heb. my vexation was.

15 [g] If I say, I will speak thus: behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought to know this, † it was too painful for me.

17 Until I went into the [h] sanctuary of God; then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou castedst them down into destruction.

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment? they are [i] utterly consumed with terrours.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest thou shalt despise their [k] image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I, and † ignorant: I was as a [l] beast † before thee.

23 Nevertheless, I am [m] continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in [n] heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.

26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the † strength of my heart, and my [o] portion for ever.

27 For lo, they that are far from thee, shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that [p] go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to draw near [q] to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

g If I give place to this wicked thought I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preservest thy children in their greatest dangers.
† Heb. it was labour in mine eyes
h Until I entred into thy school, and learned by thy word and holy spirit: that thou ordereth all things wisely and justly.
i By thy fearful judgment.

† Heb. I knew not.
l For the more that man goeth about by his own reason to seek out Gods judgments, the more doth he declare himself a beast.
† Heb. with thee.
m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch always over me to preserve me.

XV Day. Evening prayer.

1 An exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God. 9 The story of Gods wrath against the incredulous and disobedient. 67 The Israelites being rejected, God chose Judah, Zion, and David.

¶ ‡ [a] Maschil of Asaph.

GIve ear, O [b] my people to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

2 * I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our [c] fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come, the praises of the LORD; and his strength and his wonderful works that he hath done.

5 For he established a [d] testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers * that they should make them known to their children.

6 That the [e] generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born: who should arise and declare them to their children:

7 That they might [f] set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God; but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as [g] their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation † that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and † carrying bows, turned back in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his law:

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their [i] fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 * He divided the sea, and caused them to pass through, and he made the waters to stand as an heap.

14 * In the day-time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they sinned [k] yet more against him, by provoking the most High in the wilderness.

18 And they tempted God in their heart, by asking meat for their [l] lust.

19 * Yea, they spake against God: they said, [m] Can God † furnish a table in the wilderness?

20 * Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed; can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth, so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel;

22 Because they believed not in God, and [n] trusted not in his salvation:

23 Though he had commanded the [o] clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven, 24 * And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 ‡ Man did eat angels food: he sent them meat to the full.

26 He caused an [p] east-wind † to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the south-wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and † feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire;

30 They were not estranged from their [q] lust: but * while their meat was yet in their mouths,

31 The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the [r] fattest of them, and † smote down the ‡ chosen men of Israel.

32 For all this they [s] sinned still: and believed not for his wondrous works.

a Read Psal. 32.

b The prophet under the name of a teacher, calleth the people his, and their doctrine his, as Paul calleth the gospel his, whereof he was but the preacher, as Rom. 2. 16. & 16. 25. or, it may be meant of Christ, who speaketh in this psalm to his people: as the next verse sheweth, so Isa. 51. 4.

* Psal. 49. 4. Mat. 13. 35.

c which were the people of God.

d By the testimony and law, he meaneth the law written, which they were commanded to teach their children, * Deut. 4. 9 & 6. 7.

e He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers, that is, In maintaining Gods pure religion.

f He sheweth wherein the use of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefits, and in obedience. g Though these fathers were the seed of Abraham, and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, provocation, falsehood, and hypocricy, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

f Heb. that prepared not their heart.

h By Ephraim, he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth, that they were unfaithful to God, and by their multitude & authority had corrupted all others.

i Heb. throwing forth.

i He proveth that not only the posterity, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he[t] slew them, then they sought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembred that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheless, they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their [u] heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.

38 But he being full of compassion,[x] forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembred that they were but flesh; a wind that passeth away and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they ‡ provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert?

41 Yea, they[y] turned back and tempted God, and[z] limited the holy One of Israel.

42 [a] They remembred not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them ‡ from the enemy.

43 How he had † wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 * And had turned their rivers into bloud; and their flouds, that they could not drink.

45 * He sent divers [b] sorts of flies among them, which devoured them; and * frogs, which destroyed them.

46 * He[c] gave also their increase unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locust.

47 * He † destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycomore-trees with ‡ frost.

48 † He gave up their cattel also to the hail, and their flocks to ‡ hot thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath and indignation and trouble, by sending[d] evil angels among them.

50 † He made a way to his anger, he spared not their soul from death: but gave ‡ their life over to the pestilence.

51 * And smote all the first-born in Egypt: the[e] chief of their strength in the tabernacles of[f] Ham:

52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And he led them on safely, so that they [g] feared not: but the sea * † overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his[h] sanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and * divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies:

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully [i] like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

58 * For they[k] provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images,

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:

60 * So that he [l] forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men:

61 And delivered his[m] strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.

62 He gave his people over also unto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire[n] consumed their young men; and their maidens were not † [o] given to marriage.

64 Their priests fell by the sword; and their [p] widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth [q] by reason of wine.

66 And he smote his enemies in the hinder-parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover, he refused the tabernacle of [r] Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he[s] built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath † established for ever.

70 * He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheep-folds:

71 † From following the ews great with young, he brought him * to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72 So[t] he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

1 The psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

XVI Day. Morning prayer.

¶ A psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

O God, the [a] heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy temple have they defiled: they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.

2 The [b] dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their bloud have they shed like water round about Jerusalem: and there was none to [c] bury them.

4 * We are become a reproach to our [d] neighbours: a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

5 * How long, LORD? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousie [e] burn like fire?

6 * Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling-place.

8 * O remember not against us ‡ [f] former iniquities:

[a] The people cry unto God against the barbarous tyranny of the Babylonians: who spoiled Gods inheritance, polluted his temple, destroyed his religion, and murdered his people.

[b] The prophet sheweth to what extremities God suffereth sometime his church to fall, to exercise their faith, before he set to his hand to deliver them.

¶ To the chief musician upon Shoshannim Eduth, A psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

GIve ear, [a] O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock, thou that dwellest betwen the [b] cherubims, shine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up thy strength, and † come and save us.

3 [c] Turn us again, O God: and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long † wilt thou be [d] angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears: and givest them tears to drink in great measure.

6 Thou makest us a [e] strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 [f] Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 [g] Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like † the goodly cedars.

11 She sent out her boughs unto the sea, and her branches unto the [h] river.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they which pass by the way, do pluck her?

13 The [i] boar out of the wood doth waste it, and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down [k] from heaven, and behold and visit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest [l] strong for thy self.

k They gave not place to tentation, knowing that albeit there were no help in earth, yet God was able to succour them from heaven.
l So that no power can prevail against it, and which as a young bud thou raisest up again as out of the burnt ashes.

16 It is burnt with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the [m] rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the [n] man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thy self.

18 So will not we go back from thee: [o] quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

m Onely when thou art angry: and not with the sword of the enemy.
n That is, Upon this vine, or people whom thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they should be as one man, or one body.
o For none can call upon God, but such as are raised up, as it were from death to life, and regenerate by the holy Spirit.

Psal. LXXXIII.

1 A complaint to God of the enemies conspiracies. 9 A prayer against them that oppress the church.

¶ A song or psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

KEep [a] not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.

2 For lo, thine [b] enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, have lift up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy [c] hidden ones.

4 They have said, Come, and let us [d] cut them off from being a nation: that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have consulted [e] together with one † consent: they are confederate [f] against thee.

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites: of Moab, and the Hagarens.

11 Make their nobles like * Oreb, and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes as * Zebah, and as Zalmunna:

12 Who said, Let us take to our selves the [k] houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like a [l] wheel: as the stubble before the wind.

14 As the fire burneth the wood, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire;

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm.

16 Fill their faces with shame: that they may [m] seek thy name, O Lord.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever: yea, let them be put to shame, and perish:

18 That men may [n] know, that thou whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth.

a This psalm seemeth to have been composed as a form of prayer against the danger that the church was in, in the days of Jehoshaphat.
b He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his church.
c The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preserveth them from all dangers.

l Because the reprobate could by no means be amended, he prayeth that they may be utterly destroyed, be unstable, and led with all winds.
m That is, Be compelled by thy plagues to confess thy power. n Though they believe not, yet they may prove by experience, that it is in vain to resist against thy counsel in establishing thy church.

1 The psalmist out of the experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 8 He promiseth to wait thereon, out of confidence of Gods goodness.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm ‡ for the sons of Korah.

‡ Or, of.
‡ Or, well pleased.

LORD, thou hast been ‡ [a] favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.

2 * Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast [b] covered all their sin. Selah.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: ‡ thou hast turned thy self from the [c] fierceness of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger towards us to cease.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us [d] for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoyce in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy [e] salvation.

8 I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak [f] peace unto his people, and to his saints; but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.

a They confess that Gods free mercy was the cause of their deliverance, because he loved the land which he had chosen.
* Psal. 32. 1.
b Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into judgment.
‡ Or, thou hast turned thine anger from waxing hot.
c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiving our sins, and in touching our hearts to confess them.
d As in times past they had felt Gods mercies: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of evils, they pray unto God that according to his nature he would be merciful unto them. e He confesseth that our salvation commeth only of Gods mercy.
f He will send all prosperity to his church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them: also by his punishments the faithful shall learn to beware that they return not to like offences.

10 Mercy

10 Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 [g] Truth shall spring out of the earth: and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good: and our land shall yeild her increase.

13 [h] Righteousness shall go before him: and shall set us in the way of his steps.

g Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet under the kingdom of Christ they should have peace and joy.
h Justice shall then flourish, and have free course and passage in every place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

XVII Day. Morning prayer.

1 David strengthneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodness and power of God. 11 He desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud, he craveth some token of Gods goodness.

¶ ‡ A prayer of David.

‡ Or, a prayer, being a psalm of David.

BOwe [a] down thine ear, O LORD, hear me: for I am poor and needy.

2 Preserve my soul, for I am ‡ [b] holy: O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.

3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I [c] cry unto thee ‡ daily.

4 Rejoyce the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

5 * For thou, Lord, art [d] good, and ready to forgive: and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer: and [e] attend to the voice of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me.

8 Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord, * [f] neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and [g] worship before thee, O Lord: and shall glorify thy name.

10 For thou art great and dost wondrous things: * thou art God alone.

11 [h] * Teach me thy way, O LORD, I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou hast delivered my soul from the [i] lowest ‡ hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of † violent men have [k] sought after my soul: and have not set thee before them.

15 * But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious: long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me, give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the [l] son of thine hand-maid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

a David persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leaving the same to the church as a monument, how to seek redress against their miseries.
‡ Or, one whom thou favourest.
b The word properly is, merciful I am not enemy to them, but pity them, though they be cruel toward me.
c which was a sure token that he believed that God would deliver him.
‡ Or, all the day.
* Joel 2. 13.
d He doth confess that God is good to all, but onely merciful to poor sinners.
e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how we may not be weary, though God grant not forthwith our request, but that we must earnestly and often call upon him.
* Deut. 3. 24.
f He condemneth all idols, forasmuch as they can do no works, to declare that they are gods.
g This proveth, that David prayed in the name of Christ the Messias, of whose kingdom he doth here prophesy.
* Deut. 6. 4. & 32. 39. Isa. 37. 16. & 44. 6. Mark, 12. 29. 1 Cor. 8. 4. Ephes. 4. 6.
h He confesseth himself ignorant till God hath taught him, and his heart variable and separate from God, till God joyn it to him, and confirm it in his obedience.
* Psal. 25 3. & 119. 33.
i That is, From most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mighty hand of God could deliver him.
‡ Or, grave.
† Heb. terrible.
k He sheweth, That there can be no moderation nor equity where proud tyrants reign, and that the lack of Gods fear is a priviledge to all vice and cruelty. * Deut. 34. 6. Num. 14. 18. Psal. 103. 8. & 139. 4. & 145. 8. l He boasteth not of his own virtues, but confesseth that God of his free goodness hath ever been merciful unto him, and given him power against his enemies, as to one of his own houshold.

1 The nature and glory of the church. 4 The increase, honour, and comfort of the members thereof.

¶ A psalm or song ‡ for the sons of Korah.

‡ Or, of

HIS [a] foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 [b] Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of [c] Rahab, and Babylon, to them that know me; behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: [d] this man was born there.

5 And of Zion it shall be said, [e] This and that man was born in her: and the Highest himself shall establish her.

6 The LORD shall count when he [f] writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall be there: [g] all my springs are in thee.

a God did chuse that place among the hils, to establish Jerusalem and his temple.
b Though thy glorious estate do not yet appear, yet wait with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.
c That is, Egypt and those other countries, shall come to the knowledge of God.
d It shall be said of him that is regenerate and come to the church, that he is as one that was born in the church.
e In Hebrew, man and man, that is, Many out of all quarters shall come into the church, and be counted as citizens.
f when he calleth by his word them into the church, whom he had elected and written in his book. g The prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A prayer containing a grievous complaint.

¶ A song or psalm ‡ for the sons of Korah, to the chief musician upon Mahalath [a] Leannoth, ‡ Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

‡ Or, of a That is, To humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung.
‡ Or, a psalm of Heman the Ezrahite, giving instruction.

OLORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night [b] before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry.

3 For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength.

5 [c] Free among the dead like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembrest no more: and they are cut off ‡ from thy [d] hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy [e] waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine [f] acquaintance far from me: thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am [g] shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 [h] Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction: LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew [i] wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of [k] forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, [i] from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrours, I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me, thy terrours have cut me off.

17 They

b Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy as he did: whom he confessed to be the author of his salvation.
c For he that is dead is free from all cares and business of this life, and thus he saith, because he was unprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world.
‡ Or, by thy hand.
d That is, From thy providence and care, which is meant according to the judgment of the flesh.
e The storms of thy wrath have overwhelmed me.
f He attributeth the loss and displeasure of his friends to Gods providence, whereby he partly punisheth, and partly trieth his.
g I see none end of my sorrows.
h Mine eyes and face declare my sorrows.
i He sheweth that the time is more convenient for God to help, when men call unto him in their dangers, then to tarry till they be dead, and then raise them up again.
k That is, In the grave, where onely the body lieth without all sense and remembrance.
l I am ever in great dangers and sorrows, as though my life should utterly be cut off every moment.

17 They came round about me ‡ daily like water, they compaſſed me about together.

18 Lover and friend haſt thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkneſs.

Psal. LXXXIX.

1 The pſalmiſt praiſeth God for his covenant, 5 for his wonderful power, 15 for the care of his church, 19 for his favour to the kingdom of David. 38. Then complaining of contrary events, 46 he expoſtulateth, prayeth, and bleſſeth God.

¶ ‡ Maſchil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will [a] ſing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulneſs † to all generations.

2 For [b] I have ſaid, Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſs ſhalt thou [c] eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

3 [d] I have made a covenant with my choſen, I have *ſworn unto David my ſervant.

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy throne † to all generations. Selah.

5 And the [e] heavens ſhall praiſe thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulneſs alſo in the [f] congregation of the ſaints.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among [g] the ſons of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the [h] aſſembly of the ſaints: and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O LORD God of hoſts, who is a ſtrong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulneſs round about thee?

9 [i] Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waves thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.

10 Thou haſt broken ‡ Rahab in pieces, as one that is ſlain; thou haſt ſcattered thine enemies † with thy ſtrong arm.

11 * The heavens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: as for the world, and the fulneſs thereof, thou haſt founded them.

12 The north and the ſouth thou haſt created them: [k] Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoyce in thy name.

13 Thou haſt † a mighty arm: ſtrong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 [l] Juſtice and judgment are the ‡ habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth ſhall go before thy face.

15 Bleſſed is the people that [m] know the *joyful ſound: they ſhalll walk, O LORD, in the [n] light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name ſhall they rejoyce all the day: and in thy righteouſneſs ſhall they be exalted.

17 For thou art the [o] glory of their ſtrength: and in thy favour our horn ſhall be exalted.

18 For ‡ the LORD is our [p] defence: and the holy one of Iſrael is our king.

19 Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to the [q] holy one, and ſaidſt, I have laid help upon one that is [r] mighty: I have exalted one choſen out of the people.

20 * I have found David my ſervant: with my holy oyl have I anointed him.

21 With whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed: mine arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him.

22 The enemy ſhall not exact upon him: nor the ſon of wickedneſs afflict him.

23 And I will [s] beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulneſs and my [t] mercy ſhall be with him: and in my name ſhall his [u] horn be exalted.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the [x] rivers.

26 He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my [y] father, my God, and the rock of my ſalvation.

27 Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher then the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him.

29 His ſeed alſo will I make to endure [z] for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forſake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they † break my ſtatutes, and keep not my commandments:

32 Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the rod, and their iniquity with ſtripes.

33 [a] Nevertheleſs, my loving kindneſs † will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs † to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, [b] nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I ſworn by my holineſs, † that I will not lie unto David.

36 * His ſeed ſhall endure for ever, and his throne as the ſun before me.

37 It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the moon, and as a [c] faithful witneſs in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou haſt caſt off and abhorred, thou haſt been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou haſt [d] made void the covenant of thy ſervant: thou haſt profaned his [e] crown, by caſting it to the ground.

40 Thou haſt broken down all his hedges, thou haſt brought his ſtrong holds to ruine.

41 All that paſs by the way ſpoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou haſt ſet up the right hand of his adverſaries: thou haſt made all his enemies to rejoyce.

43 Thou haſt alſo turned the edge of his ſword, and haſt not made him to ſtand in the battel.

44 Thou haſt made his † glory to ceaſe, and caſt his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his [f] youth haſt thou ſhortened: thou haſt covered him with ſhame. Selah.

46 [g] How long, LORD, wilt thou hide thy ſelf for ever? ſhall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember [h] how ſhort my time is: wherefore haſt thou made all men in vain?

¶ ‡ A prayer of Moſes the man of God.

LOrd, thou haſt been our [h] dwelling-place † in all generations.

2 Before the [c] mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadſt formed the earth and the world: even from everlaſting to everlaſting, thou art God.

3 Thou [d] turneſt man to deſtruction: and ſayeſt, Return ye children of men.

4 * [e] For a thouſand years in thy ſight are but as yeſterday ‡ when it is paſt, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou [f] carrieſt them away as with a flood, they are as a ſleep: in the morning they are like graſs which ‡ groweth up.

6 In the morning it flouriſheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are [g] conſumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou haſt ſet our iniquities before thee, our ſecret ſins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are † paſſed away in thy [h] wrath: we ſpend our years ‡ as a tale that is told.

13 Return, O LORD, [m] how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy ſervants.

14 O ſatisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoyce, and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou haſt afflicted us, and the years wherein we have ſeen evil.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praiſe God, 4 for his great works, 6 for his judgments on the wicked, 10 and for his goodneſs to the godly.

¶ A Pſalm or ſong for the [a] ſabbath-day.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to ſing praiſes unto thy name, O moſt High:

2 To ſhew forth thy loving kindneſs in the [b] morning, and thy faithfulneſs † every night;

3 Upon an [c] inſtrument of ten ſtrings, and upon the pſaltery; ‡ upon the harp with † a ſolemn ſound.

4 For thou, LORD, haſt made me glad through thy [d] work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 O LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

a which teacheth that the uſe of the ſabbath ſtandeth in praiſing God, and not only in ceaſing from works.

b For Gods mercy and fidelity in his promiſes toward his, bindeth them to praiſe him continually both day and night.

† Heb. in the night.

c Theſe inſtruments were then permitted, but as Chriſts coming abolished.

‡ Or, upon the ſolemn ſound with the harp.

† Heb. Higgaion.

d He ſheweth what is the uſe of the ſabbath-day: To wit, To meditate on Gods work.

c That is, The wicked conſider not Gods words, nor his judgments againſt them, and therefore moſt juſtly periſh.

6 c A brutiſh man knoweth not: neither doth a fool underſtand this.

7 When the wicked ſpring as the graſs, and when all the workers of iniquity do flouriſh: it is that they ſhall be deſtroyed for ever.

f Thy judgments are moſt conſtant againſt the wicked, and paſs our reach.

8 But thou, LORD, art moſt f high for evermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for lo, thine enemies ſhall periſh: all the workers of iniquity ſhall be ſcattered.

g Thou wilt ſtrengthen them with all power, and bleſs them with all felicity.

10 g But my horn ſhalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I ſhall be anointed with freſh oyl.

11 Mine eye alſo ſhall ſee my deſire on mine enemies: and mine ears ſhall hear my deſire of the wicked that riſe up againſt me.

* Hoſ 14. 5.

h Though the faithful ſeem to wither and be cut down by the wicked: yet they ſhall grow again and flouriſh in the church of God, as the cedars do in mount Lebanon.

i The children of God ſhall have a power above nature, and their old age ſhall bring forth moſt freſh fruits.

† Heb. green.

12 * The righteous ſhall h flouriſh like the palm-tree: he ſhall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Thoſe that be planted in the houſe of the LORD, ſhall flouriſh in the courts of our God.

14 They ſhall ſtill bring forth fruit in i old age: they ſhall be fat, and † flouriſhing:

15 To ſhew that the LORD is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteouſneſs in him.

PSAL XCIV.

1 The prophet calling for juſtice, complaineth of tyranny and impiety. 8 He teacheth Gods providence. 12 He ſheweth the bleſſedneſs of affliction. 16 God is the defender of the afflicted.

† Heb. God of vengeances.

4 How long ſhall they utter and ſpeak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boaſt themſelves?

5 They d break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage.

6 They ſlay the widow and the ſtranger, and murder the fatherleſs.

7 * e Yet they ſay, The LORD ſhall not ſee: neither ſhall the God of Jacob regard it.

11 * The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

* 1 Cor. 3. 20.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou h chaſtneſt, O LORD, and teacheſt him out of thy law:

h God hath care over his, and chaſtiſeth them for their wealth, that they ſhould not periſh for ever with the wicked.

13 That thou mayeſt give him reſt from the days of adverſity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

l when I thought there was no way but death.

19 In the multitude of my m thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my ſoul.

m In my trouble and diſtreſs I ever found thy preſent help.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have n fellowſhip with thee, which frameth miſchief by a law?

n Though the wicked judges pretend juſtice in oppreſſing the church, yet they have not that authority of God.

21 They gather themſelves together againſt the ſoul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent bloud.

22 But the LORD is my defence: and my God is the rock of my refuge.

o It is a great token of Gods judgment, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt when they are deſtroyed in their own malice.

23 And he ſhall bring upon them their own iniquity, and ſhall o cut them off in their own wickedneſs; yea, the LORD our God ſhall cut them off.

9 Exalt the LORD our God, and worship at his holy hill: for the LORD our God is holy.

¶ A psalm of David.

I Will [a] sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O LORD, I will sing.

2 I will behave my self wisely in a perfect way; O when wilt thou [b] come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.

3 I will set no † wicked thing before mine eyes: [c] I hate the work of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave to me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

5 Whoso [d] privily slandreth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, will not I suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the [e] faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh ‡ in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

7 He that worketh deceit, shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies, † shall not tarry in my sight.

8 I will [f] early destroy all the wicked of the land: that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

1 The prophet in his prayer maketh a grievous complaint. 12 He taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God. 18 The mercies of God are to be recorded. 23 He sustaineth his weakness by the unchangeableness of God.

¶ A prayer ‡ of the [a] afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEar my prayer, O LORD, and let my [b] cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, encline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call, answer me speedily.

3 For my days are [c] consumed ‡ like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.

4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass: so that I forget to [d] eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my ‡ skin.

6 I am like a [e] pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.

7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house-top.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day: and they that are mad against me, [f] are sworn against me.

9 For I have [g] eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping:

10 Because of thine [h] indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

11 * My days are like a shadow that declineth: and I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, shalt indure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea the [k] set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her [l] stones, and favour the dust thereof.

15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD: and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear [m] in his glory.

17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be [n] created, shall praise the LORD.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary: from heaven did the LORD behold the earth:

20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose † those that are [o] appointed to death;

¶ A psalm of David.

BLess the LORD, [a] O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

2 Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.

3 Who [b] forgiveth all thine iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases.

22 Bless the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the LORD, O my soul.

XX Day. Evening prayer.

BLess the LORD, O my soul: O LORD my God, thou art very great, thou art [a] clothed with honour and majesty.

2 Who coverest thy self with light, as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind.

4 [b] Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire.

5 † Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.

6 Thou coveredst it with the [c] deep as with a garment: the [d] waters stood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled: at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.

8 ‡ They go up by the mountains: they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.

9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over: that they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 † He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which † run among the hills.

11 They give drink to every [e] beast of the field: the wild asses † quench their thirst.

12 By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which † [f] sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hills from his [g] chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.

14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattel, and herb for the service of [h] man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth:

15 And * wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and † oyl to make his face to shine, and bread which strengthneth mans heart.

16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap: the cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted.

17 Where the birds make their nests: as for the stork, the fir-trees are her house.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and the rocks for the conies.

19 He appointeth the [i] moon for seasons; the [k] sun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein † all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat ‖ from God.

22 The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

a The prophet sheweth, That we need not to enter into the heavens to seek God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with the propriety and placing of the elements are most lively mirrours to see his majesty in.
b As the prophet here sheweth, That all visible powers are ready to serve God, so the apostle to the Hebrews 1. 7. beholdeth in this glass, how the very angels also are obedient to his commandment.
† Heb. he hath founded the earth upon her bases.
c Thou makest the sea to be an ornament unto the earth.
d If by thy power thou didst not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible but the whole world should be destroyed.

g From the clouds.
h He describeth Gods provident care over man, who doth not onely provide necessary things for him, as herbs and other meat: but also things to rejoyce and comfort him, as wine and oyl or ointments.
* Judg. 9. 13.
† Heb. to make his face shine with oyl, or, more then oyl.
i As to separate the night from the day, and to note days, months, and years.

‖ Heb. all the beasts thereof do tramble on the forest.
† That is, They onely find meat according to Gods providence, who careth ever for the brute beasts.

23 [m] Man

23 [m] Man goeth forth to his work, and to his labour until the evening.

24 O LORD, [n] how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

26 There go the ships; there is that leviathan, whom thou hast † made to play therein.

27 * [o] These wait all upon thee: that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.

28 That thou givest them, they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

29 [p] Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled; thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.

30 [q] Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 The glory of the LORD † shall endure for ever: the LORD shall rejoyce in his works.

32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; he toucheth the hills, [r] and they smoke.

33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise unto my God, while I have my being.

34 My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the LORD.

35 Let the sinners be [s] consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more: bless thou the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

XXI Day. Morning prayer.

1 An exhortation to praise God, and to seek out his works. 7 The story of Gods providence over Abraham, 16 over Joseph, 23 over Jacob in Egypt, 26 over Moses delivering the Israelites, 37 over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, fed in the wilderness, and planted in Canaan.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD; call upon his name; [a] make known his deeds among the people.

2 Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works.

3 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoyce that seek the LORD.

4 Seek the LORD, and his [b] strength: seek his face evermore.

5 Remember his [c] marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders and the [d] judgments of his mouth.

6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the LORD our God, his judgments are in all the earth.

8 He hath remembred his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.

9 * Which covenant he made with [e] Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac:

10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant:

11 Saying, *[f] Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, † the lot of your inheritance.

12 When they were but a few men in number: yea, very few, and strangers in it.

13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people.

14 He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he [g] reproved kings for their sakes:

15 Saying, Touch not mine [h] anointed, and do my [i] prophets no harm.

16 Moreover, he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole [k] staff of bread.

17 He sent a man before them, * even Joseph who was sold for a servant.

18 * Whose feet they hurt with fetters: † he was laid in iron.

19 [l] Until the time that his word came: the word of the LORD tried him.

20 * The king sent and loosed him: even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.

21 * He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his † substance:

22 To bind his [m] princes at his pleasure: and teach his senatours wisdom.

23 * Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people greatly: and made them stronger then their enemies.

25 * [n] He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.

26 * He sent Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 * They shewed † his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 * He sent darkness, and made it dark: and [o] they rebelled not against his word.

29 * He turned their waters into bloud, and slew their fish.

30 * Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.

31 * [p] He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.

32 * † He gave them [q] hail for rain: and flaming fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig-trees: and brake the trees of their coasts.

34 * [r] He spake, and the locusts came: and caterpillers, and that without number,

35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land: and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 * He smote also all the first-born in their land: the chief of all their strength.

37 * He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one [t] feeble person among their tribes.

38 * Egypt was [t] glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.

39 * He spread a cloud for a covering: and fire to give light in the night.

40 * The people [u] asked, and he brought quails: and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 * He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out, they ran in the dry places like a river.

† PRaiſe [a] ye the LORD, O * give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can ſhew forth all his praiſe?

3 Bleſſed are they that [b] keep judgment: and he that doth righteouſneſs at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the [c] favour that thou beareſt unto thy people: O viſit me with thy ſalvation:

5 That I may ſee the good of thy choſen, that I may rejoyce in the gladneſs of thy nation: that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have [d] ſinned with our fathers: we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers underſtood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembred not the multitude of thy mercies, * but provoked him at the ſea, even at the Red ſea.

8 Nevertheleſs, he [e] ſaved them for his names ſake: that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red ſea alſo, and it was dried up: ſo he led them through the depths as through the wilderneſs.

10 And he ſaved them from the hand of him that hated them: and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 * And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 * Then [f] believed they his words, they ſang his praiſe.

13 * † They ſoon forgat his works, they waited not for his [g] counſel:

14 * But † luſted exceedingly in the wilderneſs, and tempted God in the deſert.

15 * And he gave them their requeſt, but ſent [h] leanneſs into their ſoul.

16 * They envied Moſes alſo in the camp, and Aaron the ſaint of the LORD.

17 * The earth opened and [i] ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 * And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burnt up the wicked.

19 * They made a calf in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their [k] glory into the ſimilitude of an ox that eateth graſs.

21 They forgat God their ſaviour, which had done great things in Egypt:

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red ſea.

23 * Therefore he ſaid that he would deſtroy them, had not [l] Moſes his choſen ſtood before him in the breach: to turn away his wrath, leſt he ſhould deſtroy them.

24 Yea, they deſpiſed † the [m] pleaſant land: they believed not his word:

25 * But murmured in their tents, and hearkned not unto the voice of the LORD.

26 Therefore he [n] lifted up his hand againſt them, to overthrow them in the wilderneſs:

27 † To overthrow their ſeed alſo among the nations, and to ſcatter them in the lands.

28 * They joyned themſelves alſo unto [o] Baal-peor, and ate the ſacrifices of the [p] dead.

29 Thus they [q] provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 * [r] Then ſtood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and ſo the plague was ſtayed.

31 And that was [ſ] counted unto him for righteouſneſs, unto all generations for evermore.

32 * They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtrife, ſo that it went ill with [t] Moſes for their ſakes:

33 Becauſe they provoked his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake unadviſedly with his lips.

34 They did not deſtroy the nations, * concerning whom the LORD commanded them:

35 * But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they ſerved their idols: which were a ſnare unto them.

37 Yea, they ſacrificed their [u] ſons and their daughters unto devils,

38 And ſhed innocent bloud, even the bloud of their ſons and of their daughters, whom they ſacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with bloud.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a [x] whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled againſt his people, inſomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them, ruled over them.

42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were brought into ſubjection under their hand.

43 * [y] Many times did he deliver them, but they provoked him with their counſel, and were ‡ brought low for their iniquity.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the redeemed in praising God, to observe his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over sick men, 23 over sea-men, 33 and in divers varieties of life.

O* [a] Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

* Psal. 106. 1. & 118. 1. & 136. 1.

a This notable sentence was in the beginning used, as the foot or tenour of the song which was oftentimes repeated.

2 Let the [b] redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy:

b As this was true in the Jews, so is there none of Gods elect, that feel not his help in their necessity.

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east and from the west, from the north and † from the south.

† Heb. from the sea, meaning, The Red sea, which was the south part of the land.

4 They wandred in the wilderness in a solitary way, they found no city to dwell in.

5 [c] Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

c He foreweth, That there is none affliction so grievous, out of the which God will not deliver his, and also exhorteth them that are delivered, to be mindful of so great a benefit.

6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men:

9 For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

10 Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expres commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to descend into themselves, for as much as none are punished, but for their sins.

11 Because they [d] rebelled against the words of God, and contemned the counsel of the most High:

e He foreweth, That the cause why God doth punish us extreamly, is, because we can be brought unto him by no other means.

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour, they fell down and there was none to help.

13 Then they [e] cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness, and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.

f where there seemeth to mans judgment no recovery, but all things are brought to despair; then God chiefly sheweth his mighty power.

15 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men:

16 For he hath broken the [f] gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder.

g They that have no fear of God, by his sharp rods are brought to call upon him, and so find mercy.

* Job 33. 20.

17 [g] Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.

18 * Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death.

19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, he saveth them out of their distresses.

20 [h] He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their [i] destructions.

h By healing them he declareth his good will toward them.

i Meaning, their diseases, which had almost brought them to the grave and destruction.

21 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.

22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of [k] thanksgiving, and declare his works with † rejoycing.

k Praise and confession of Gods benefits are the true sacrifices of the godly.

† Heb. singing.

23 They that go down to the [l] sea in ships, that do business in great waters:

l He sheweth by the sea what care God hath over man, for in that, that he delivereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he delivereth them as it were from a thousand deaths.

24 These see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth, and † raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

† Heb. maketh to stand.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths, their soul is [m] melted because of trouble.

m Their fear and danger is so great.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and † [n] are at their wits end.

† Heb. all their wisdom is swallowed up.

28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.

n when their art and meanes fail them, they are compelled to confess that onely Gods providence doth preserve them.

29 He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad because they be [o] quiet; so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

o Though before every drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandment they are as still, as though they were frozen.

31 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.

32 Let them exalt him also in the [p] congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.

p This great benefit ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places and assemblies.

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the water-springs into dry ground:

34 A fruitful land into † barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

† Heb. saltness.

35 * He [q] turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into water-springs.

* Isa. 41. 18.

q For the love that he beareth to his church he changeth the order of nature for their commodity.

36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yeild fruits of [r] increase.

r Continual increase and yearly.

38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly, and suffereth not their cattel to decrease.

39 [s] Again they are minished and brought low through oppression, affliction and sorrow.

s As God by his providence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by affliction that they may know themselves.

* Job. 12. 21.

40 * He poureth [t] contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the ‡ wilderness, where there is no way.

t For their wickedness and tyranny he causeth the people and subjects to contemn them.

‡ Or, void place.

* 1 Sam. 2. 8. Psal. 113. 7, 8.

41 * Yet setteth he the poor on high ‡ from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

‡ Or, after.

* Job 22. 19.

42 * [u] The righteous shall see it, and rejoyce; and all * iniquity shall stop her mouth.

u They whose faith is lightned by Gods Spirit, shall rejoyce to see Gods judgments against the wicked and ungodly.

* Job 5. 16.

43 Whoso is wise, and will observe those things, even they shall understand the loving kindness of the LORD.

XXII Day. Evening prayer.

1 David encourageth himself to praise God. 5 He prayeth for Gods assistance according to his promise. 11 His confidence in Gods help.

¶ A song, or psalm of David.

a This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocricy, and that sluggishnes taketh him not.

OGod, my heart is [a] fixed, I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.

2 Awake psaltery and harp: I my self will awake early.

b He prophesieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not hear the goodnes of God.

3 I will praise thee, O LORD, among the [b] people: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.

‡ Or, skies.

4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the ‡ clouds.

c Let all the world see thy judgments, in that that thou art God over all, and so confess that thou art glorious.

5 [c] Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth;

* Psal. 60. 5.

d when God by his benefits maketh us partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth us to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

6 * That thy beloved may be delivered: [d] save with thy right hand and answer me.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himself constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall subject unto me.

7 God hath spoken in his [e] holiness, I will rejoyce, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine, Ephraim also is the strength of mine head, Judah is my lawgiver.

9 Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe: over Philistia will I triumph.

10 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?

f From the sixt verse of this psalm, unto the last, read the exposition in the LX psalm, and fist verse.

11 [f] Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our host?

12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

1 David complaining of his slandrous enemies, under the person of Judas, devoteth them. 16 He sheweth their sin. 21 Complaining of his own misery, he prayeth for help. 30 He promiseth thankfulnes.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

a Though all the world condemn me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocenty, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

HOld not thy peace, O God of my [a] praise.

† Heb. mouth of deceit.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the † mouth of the deceitful † are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue.

† Heb. have opened themselves.

b To declare that I had none other refuge but thee, in whom my conscience was at rest.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

c whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friend that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of private affection, but moved by Gods Spirit, that God would take vengeance upon him.

4 For my love, they are my adversaries: [b] but I give my self unto prayer.

‡ Or, an adversary.

† Heb. go out guilty, or, wicked.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 [c] Set thou a wicked man over him: and let ‡ Satan stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be judged, let him † be condemned, [d] and let his prayer become sin.

d As to the elect. all things turn to their profit: so to the reprobare, even those things that are good turn to their damnation.

8 Let his days be few, and * let another take his ‡ [e] office.

* Acts. 1. 20.

‡ Or, charge.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Judas.

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.

11 Let the [f] extortioner catch all that he hath: and let the stranger spoil his labour.

f He declareth that the curse of God lieth upon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their unlawful gotten goods, are by Gods just judgment deprived of all.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickedness of the parents in their wicked children.

14 [g] Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembred with the LORD: and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

h He sheweth, That God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort, that shew themselves cruel toward others.

16 Because that [h] he remembred not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.

i Thus giveth the Lord to every man the thing, wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are given up to their lusts and reprobate minds.

17 As he loved cursing, [i] so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment: so let it come † into his bowels like water, and like oyl into his bones.

† Heb. within him

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries [k] from the LORD, and of them that speake evil against my soul.

k For being destitute of mans help, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliver him.

21 But do thou forme, O GOD the Lord, for thy [l] names sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

l As thou art named merciful, gracious, and long suffering, so shew thy self in effect.

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow, when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the [m] locust.

m Meaning, That he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

24 My knees are weak through fasting: and my flesh faileth of [n] fatness.

n For hunger, that came of sorrow, he was lean, and his natural moisture failed him.

25 I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God: O [o] save me according to thy mercy:

o The more grievous that satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer, 27 That they may know, that this is thy hand: that thou LORD hast done it.

p They shall gain nothing by cursing me.

28 [p] Let them curse, but bless thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed: but let thy servant rejoyce.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame: and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.

q Not only in confessing it secretly in my self, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my [q] mouth: yea, I will praise him among the multitude.

† Heb. from the judges of his soul.

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him † from those that [q] condemn his soul.

r Hereby he foreseeth, That he had not to do with them that were of little power, but with the judges and princes of the world.

1 The kingdom, 4 the priesthood, 5 the conquest, 7 and the passion of Christ.

XXIII Day. Morning prayer.

¶ A psalm of David.

THe * [a] LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

* Mat. 22. 44. Mark, 12. 3. 6. Luke 20. 42. Acts 2. 34. 1 Cor. 15. 25. Heb. 1. 13.

a Jesus Christ in 22. Mat. 44. giveth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied unto David, but to himself.

2 The

2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of [b] Zion: rule thou in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy [c] power, in the beauties of holiness ‡ from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, * Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of [d] Melchizedek.

5 The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies: he shall wound the [e] heads over ‡ many countrys.

7 He shall [f] drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head.

b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.
c By thy word, thy people shall be assembled into thy church, whose increase shall be so abundant and wonderful as the drops of the dew.
‡ Or, more then the womb of the morning: thou shalt have, &c.
* Heb. 5. 6. & 7. 17.
d As Melchizedek, the figure of Christ, was both king and priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king save only in Christ.
e No power shall be able to resist him. ‡ Or, great. f Under this similitude of a captain, that is so greedy to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drink by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

1 The psalmist by his example inciteth others to praise God, for his glorious, 5 and gracious works. 10 The fear of God breedeth true wisdom.

† PRaise ye the LORD, I [a] will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the LODD are [b] great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembred: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

5 He hath given [c] † meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The [d] works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure.

8 They † stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.

9 He sent redemption unto his people, he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

† Heb. Hallelujah.
a The prophet declareth that he will praise God both privately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himself wholy and onely unto God.
b He meaneth, That Gods works are a sufficient cause, wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefits toward his church.
† Heb. pray.

† PRaise ye the LORD. Blessed is the [a] man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

3 [b] Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 Unto the [c] upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.

5 A good man sheweth favour, and [d] lendeth; he will guide his affairs with † discretion.

6 Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

7 He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD.

9 * He hath [e] dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his [f] horn shall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked shall see it, and be grieved; he shall gnash with his teeth, and [g] melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

c The faithful in all their adversities know that all shall go well with them, for God will be merciful and just.
d He sheweth, what is the fruit of mercy, to lend freely and not for gain, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to help where need requireth and not to bestow all on himself.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise God for his excellency, 6 for his mercy.

† PRaise ye the LORD. Praise, O ye servants of the LORD, [a] praise the name of the LORD.

2 * Blessed be the name of the LORD, from this time forth and for evermore.

3 * From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, the LORDS name is to be praised.

PSAL CXIX.

XXIV Day. Evening prayer.

This Psalm containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

ALEPH.

‡ Or, perfect, or, sincere.

BLessed are the ‡ [a] undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD.

a Hereby they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgment, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holiness, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisy.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 They also do [b] no iniquity: they walk in his ways.

b For they are ruled by Gods spirit, and embrace no doctrine but his.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 [c] O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!

c David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word.

6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 I will praise thee with [d] uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned † [e] thy righteous judgments.

d For true religion standeth, in serving God without hypocricy.

† Heb. judgments of thy righteousness.

8 I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not [f] utterly.

e That is, Thy precepts, which contain perfect righteousness. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmity in time.

BETH.

9 Wherewith shall [a] a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

a Because youth is most given to licentiousness, he chiefly warneth them to frame their lives betime to Gods word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.

11 Thy word have I [b] hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

b If Gods word be graven in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the prophet desireth God to instruct him daily more and more therein.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

14 I have [c] rejoyced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

c The prophet doth not boast of his virtues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word, and leave wordly vanities.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.

16 I will delight my self in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may [a] live, and keep thy word.

a He sheweth, That we ought not to desire to live, but to serve God, and that we cannot serve him aright, except he open our eyes and minds.

18 † Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

† Heb. reveil.

19 * I am a [b] stranger in the earth, hide not thy commandments from me.

* Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chron. 29. 15. Psal. 39. 12. Heb. 11. 13.

b Seeing mans life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide!

20 My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.

21 Thou hast [c] rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do err from thy commandments.

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

22 Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies.

23 [d] Princes also did sit and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.

d when the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counseller to teach me what to do, and comfort me.

24 Thy testimonies also are my delight, and † my counsellers.

† Heb. men of my counsel.

DALETH.

25 My soul [a] cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word.

a That is, It is almost brought to the grave, and without thy word I cannot live.

26 I have [b] declared my ways, and thou heardest me: * teach me thy statutes.

b I have confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.

* Psal. 25. 4. & 27. 11. & 86. 11.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works.

28 My soul † melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy [c] word.

† Heb. droppeth.

c If God did not maintain us by his word, our life would drop away like water.

29 Remove from me the [d] way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.

d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanity, and taught to obey thy will.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt [e] inlarge my heart.

e By this he sheweth, That we can neither chuse good, cleave to Gods word, nor run forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive his grace, and willing to obey.

XXV Day.
Morning prayer.

H E.

33 Teach [a] me, O LORD, the way of thy ſtatutes, and I ſhall keep it unto the end.

34 Give me underſtanding, and I ſhall keep thy law, yea, I ſhall obſerve it with my [b] whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for therein do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies, and not to [c] covetouſneſs.

37 † Turn away mine [d] eyes from beholding vanity: and quicken thou me in thy way.

38 Stabliſh thy word unto thy ſervant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my [e] reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: [f] quicken me in thy righteouſneſs.

V A U.

41 Let thy [a] mercies come alſo unto me, O LORD; even thy ſalvation according to thy word.

42 ‡ So ſhall I have [b] wherewith to anſwer him that reproacheth me: for I truſt in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.

44 So ſhall I keep thy law continually, for ever and ever.

45 And I will walk † [c] at liberty: for I ſeek thy precepts.

46 I will ſpeak of thy teſtimonies alſo before [d] kings, and will not be aſhamed.

47 And I will delight my ſelf in thy commandments which I have loved.

48 My hands alſo will I lift up unto thy commandments which I have loved: and I will meditate in thy ſtatutes.

Z A I N.

49 Remember the [a] word unto thy ſervant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope.

50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickned me.

51 [b] The proud have had me greatly in deriſion: yet have I not declined from thy law.

52 I remembred thy judgments of old, O LORD; and have comforted my ſelf.

53 [d] Horrour hath taken hold upon me, becauſe of the wicked that forſake thy law.

54 Thy ſtatutes have been my ſongs in the houſe of my [e] pilgrimage.

55 I have remembred thy name, O LORD, in the [f] night, and have kept thy law.

56 [f] This I had: becauſe I kept thy precepts.

C H E T H.

57 Thou art my [a] portion, O LORD, I have ſaid, that I would keep thy words.

58 I intreated thy † favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.

59 I thought on my [b] ways, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies.

60 I made haſt, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The ‡ bands of the wicked have [c] robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy law.

62 At midnight I will riſe to give thanks unto thee: becauſe of thy righteous judgments.

63 I am a [d] companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy: [e] teach me thy ſtatutes.

T E T H.

65 Thou haſt [a] dealt well with thy ſervant, O LORD, according unto thy word.

66 Teach me good judgment, and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.

67 Before I was [b] afflicted, I went aſtray: but now have I kept thy word.

68 Thou art good, and doſt good; teach me thy ſtatutes.

69 The proud have forged a lie againſt me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 [c] Their heart is as fat as greas, but I delight in thy law.

71 It is [d] good for me that I have been afflicted: that I might learn thy ſtatutes.

72 * The law of thy mouth is better unto me, then thouſands of gold and ſilver.

J O D.

73 Thy hands have [a] made me and faſhioned me: give me underſtanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 They that [b] fear thee, will be glad when they ſee me: becauſe I have hoped in thy word.

75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are † right, and that thou in faithfulneſs haſt afflicted me.

76 Let, I pray thee, thy merciful kindneſs be † for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy ſervant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may [c] live: for thy law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be aſhamed, for they dealt perverſly with me without a cauſe; but I will meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let thoſe that fear thee, [d] turn unto me, and thoſe that have known thy [e] teſtimonies.

80 Let my heart be ſound in thy ſtatutes; that I be not aſhamed.

C A P H.

81 My ſoul [a] fainteth for thy ſalvation: but I hope in thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am become like a [b] bottle in the ſmoke: yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.

84 How many are the [c] days of thy ſervant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that perſecute me?

85 The proud have [d] digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.

86 All thy commandments are † faithful: they perſecute me wrongfully; [e] help thou me.

87 They had almoſt [f] conſumed me upon earth: but I forſook not thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to deſtroy me: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.

96 I [d] have ſeen an end of all perfection; but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

97 O how love I thy law! [a] it is my meditation all the day.

98 Thou through thy commandments haſt made me wiſer then mine enemies: for † they are ever with me.

99 I have more [b] underſtanding then all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditation.

100 I underſtand more then the ancients: becauſe I keep thy precepts.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliverance.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked: for they seek not thy statutes.

156 ‡ Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD: quicken me according to thy [b] judgments.

‡ Or, many.

b According to thy promise made in thy law, which because the wicked lack, they can have no hope of salvation.

157 Many are my persecutours, and mine enemies: yet do I not decline from thy testimonies.

158 I beheld the transgressours, and was [c] grieved: because they kept not thy word.

c My zeal consumed me, when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.

159 Consider how I [d] love thy precepts: quicken me, O LORD, according to thy loving kindnes.

d It is a sure sign of our adoption, when we love the law of God.

160 † Thy word is true from the [e] beginning: and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth for ever.

† Heb. the beginning of thy word is true.

e Since thou first promisedst even to the end all thy sayings are true.

SCHIN.

161 Princes have [a] persecuted me without a cause: but my heart standeth in aw of thy word.

a The threatnings and persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrink to confess thee, whom I more fear then men.

162 I rejoyce at thy word, as one that findeth great spoil.

163 I hate and abhor lying: but thy law do I love.

164 [b] Seven times a day do I praise thee: because of thy righteous judgments.

b That is, Often and sundry times.

165 [c] Great peace have they which love thy law: and † nothing shall offend them.

c For their conscience assureth them, that they please thee, whereas they that love not thee have the contrary.

† Heb. they shall have no stumbling-block.

166 LORD, I have [d] hoped for thy salvation, and done thy commandments.

d He sheweth, That we must first have faith, before we can work and please God.

167 My soul hath kept thy testimonies: and I love them exceedingly.

168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: for [e] all my ways are before thee.

e I had no respect unto men, but set thee always before mine eyes, as the judge of my doings.

TAU.

169 Let my cry come near before thee, O LORD: give me understanding [a] according to thy word.

a As thou hast promised to be the schoolmaster unto all them that depend upon thee.

170 Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.

171 My lips shall [b] utter praise, when thou hast [c] taught me thy statutes.

b The word signifieth, To pour forth continually, as from a spring or fountain.

c All his prayer and desire is, to profit in the word of God.

172 My tongue shall speak of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteousnes.

173 Let thine hand help me: for I have chosen thy precepts.

174 I have longed for thy salvation, O LORD: and thy law is my delight.

d That is, Thy provident care over me, and wherewith thou wilt judge mine enemies.

175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee: and let thy [d] judgments help me.

e Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and having no place to rest in.

176 I have [e] gone astray like a lost sheep, seek thy servant: for I do not forget thy commandments.

PSAL. CXX.

XXVII Day. Morning prayer.

1 David prayeth against Doeg, 3 reproveth his tongue, 5 complaineth of his necessary conversation with the wicked.

¶ A song of [a] degrees.

a Heb. Hammaloth, That is, Of lifting up the tune, and rising in singing, as the Levites are said to praise God, with a great voice on high, Heb. Lemaalah, 2 Chron. 20. 19, or, This title noteth the excellency of the song for short grave and pithy sentences, as Adam Lemaalah is a man of eminency, or, of high degree, 2 Coron. 17. 17. Others understand this as of the stays that went up to the house of the Lord: And some of the coming up from Babylon: called Maalah an ascension, Ezr. 7. 9. fifteen psalms together have this title prefixed.

IN my [b] distres I cried unto the LORD, and he heard me.

b Albeit the children of God ought to rejoyce when they suffer for righteousnes sake, yet it is a great grief to the flesh to bear evil for well doing.

2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

3 ‡ [c] What shall be given unto thee? or what shall be † done unto thee, thou false tongue?

‡ Or, what shall the deceitful tongue give unto thee? or, what shall it profit thee?

c He assured himself that God would turn their craft to their own destruction.

4 ‡ [d] Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper.

† Heb. added. ‡ Or, It is as the sharp arrows of the mighty man with coals of juniper.

d He sheweth, That there is nothing so sharp to pierce, nor so hot to set on fire, as a slandrous tongue

5 Wo is me, that I sojourn in [e] Mesech, that I dwell in the tents of [f] Kedar.

e These were people of Arabia, which came of Japhet, Gen. 20. 2.

f That is, Of the Ishmaelites.

6 My soul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I am ‡ [g] for peace: but when I speak, they are for war.

‡ Or, a man of peace.

g He declareth what he meaneth by Mesech and Kedar: to wit, The Israelites which had degenerated from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithful.

PSAL. CXXI.

The great safety of the godly, who put their trust in Gods protection.

¶ A song of degrees.

‡ I Will lift up mine eyes unto the ‡ hills from whence cometh my help.

‡ Or, shall I lift up mine eyes to the hills? whence should my help come?

‡ Or, above the hills, meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world wherein he can trust, but only in God.

2 * My help cometh from the LORD, which made [a] heaven and earth.

* Psal. 124. 8.

a He accuseth mans ingratitude which cannot depend on Gods power.

3 He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not [b] slumber.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, shall neither slumber nor sleep.

b He sheweth, That Gods providence not only watcheth over his church in general, but also every member thereof.

5 The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.

6 The sun shall not [c] smite thee by day; nor the moon by night.

c Neither hot nor cold, nor any incommodity shall be able to destroy Gods church.

7 The LORD shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul.

8 The LORD shall [d] preserve thy going out,

d whatsoever thou dost enterprise, shall have good success, albeit for a time they molest it.

and

and thy coming in, from this time forth and even for evermore.

Psal. CXXII.

1 David professeth his joy for the church, 6 and prayeth for the peace thereof.

¶ A song of degrees of David.

I Was [a] glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the LORD.

2 Our [b] feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.

3 Jerusalem is builded as a city, that is [c] compact together:

4 Whither the [d] tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5 For there † are set thrones of judgment: the thrones of the house of ° David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy [f] walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.

8 For my [g] brethren and companions sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.

9 Because of the house of the LORD our God, I will seek thy good.

a He rejoyceth that God had appointed a place where the ark should still remain.

b which were wont to wander to and fro as the ark removed.

c By the artificial joyning and beauty of the houses, he meaneth the concord, and love that was between the citizens.

d All the tribes according to Gods covenant shall come and pray there.

† Heb. do sit.

e In whose house God placed the throne of justice, and made it a figure of Christs kingdom.

f The favour of God prosper thee within and without.

g Not only for mine own sake, but for all the faithful.

Psal. CXXIII.

1 The godly profess their confidence in God, 3 and pray to be delivered from contempt.

¶ A song of degrees.

UNto thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of [a] servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, until that he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us: for we are [c] exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to servants that are destitute of all help, assuring that when all other helps fail, God is ever at hand and like himself.

b He inlargeth, That when the faithful are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scornings of the wicked, there is alway help above, if with hungry desires they call for it.

Psal. CXXIV.

The church blesseth God for a miraculous deliverance.

¶ A song of degrees of David.

IF [a] it had not been the LORD who was on our side, now may Israel say:

2 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us:

3 Then they had swallowed us up [b] quick, when their wrath was kindled against us:

4 Then the [c] waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul.

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

6 Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the [d] snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken, and we are escaped.

8 * Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

a He forseeth, That God was ready to help at need, and that there was none other way to be saved, but by his onely means.

b So unable were we to resist.

c He useth most proper similitudes to express the great danger that the church was in, and out of the which God miraculously delivered them.

d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithful, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

* Psal. 121. 2.

Psal. CXXV.

1 The safety of such as trust in God. 4 A prayer for the godly, and against the wicked.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey that trust in the LORD shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be [a] removed, but abideth for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people, from henceforth even for ever.

3 For the [b] rod of † the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous: lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

5 [c] As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

a Though the world be subject to mutation, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by Gods providence.

b Though God suffer his to be under the cross lest they should imbrace wickedness, yet this cross shall not so rest upon them that it should drive them from hope.

† Heb. wickedness.

c He desireth God to purge his church from hypocrites, and such as have not zeal of the truth.

Psal. CXXVI.

XXVII Day. Evening prayer.

1 The church celebrating her incredible return out of captivity, 4 prayeth for, and propheseth the good success thereof.

¶ A song of degrees.

WHen the LORD † turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that [a] dream.

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the [c] heathen, The LORD † hath done great things for them.

3 The LORD hath done great things for us: whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our [d] captivity, O LORD, as the streams in the south.

5 They that sow in tears, shall reap in ‡ joy.

6 He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing ‡ [e] precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoycing, bringing his sheavs with him.

† Heb. returned the returning of Zion.

a Their deliverance was as a thing incredible, and therefore took away all excuse of ingratitude.

b He sheweth, How the godly ought to rejoyce, when God gathereth his church, or delivereth it.

c If the infidels confess Gods wonderful word, the faithful can never shew themselves sufficiently thankful.

† Heb. hath magnified to do with them.

d That is, The rest of the captives which remain yet behind, bring them also: so Captivity, is for Captives, Ezek. 11. 24, 25. ‡ Or, singing. ‡ Or, sted-basket. e That is, Seed which was scarce & dear: Meaning, That they which trusted in Gods promise to return, had their desire.

Psal. CXXVII.

1 The virtue of Gods blessing. 3 Good children are his gifts.

¶ A song of degrees ‡ for Solomon.

‡ Or, of Solomon.

EXcept the LORD [a] build the house, they labour in vain † that build it: except the LORD keep the [b] city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for [c] you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of [d] sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved [e] sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man: so are [f] children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that † hath his quiver full of them: they [g] shall not be ashamed, but they ‡ shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

a That is, Govern and dispose all things pertaining to the family.

† Heb. that are builders of it in it.

b The publick estate of the common-wealth.

c which watch and ward, and are also magistrates, and rulers of the city.

d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with grief of mind.

e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest.

f That is, Indeed, with strength and virtues from God, for these are signs of Gods blessings and not the number. † Heb. hath filled his quiver with them. g Such children shall be able to stop their adversaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously accused before judges. ‡ Or, shall subdue, as Psal. 18. 47. or, destroy.

Psal. CXXVIII.

The sundry blessings which follow them that fear God.

¶ A song of degrees.

BLesſed is every one that feareth the LORD: that walketh in his [a] ways.

2 For thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine [b] hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as a fruitful vine by the ſides of thine houſe: thy [c] children like olive-plants, round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus ſhall the man be bleſſed, that feareth the LORD.

5 The LORD ſhall [d] bleſs thee out of Zion: and thou ſhalt ſee the good of [e] Jeruſalem, all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy childrens children, and peace upon Iſrael.

a God approveth not our life, except it be formed according to his word.
b The world eſteemeth them happy which live in wealth and idleneſs, but the holy Ghoſt approveth them beſt, that live of the mean profit of their labours.
c Becauſe Gods favour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increaſe of children he promiſeth to enrich the faithful with this gift.
d Becauſe of the ſpiritual bleſſing which God hath made to his church, theſe temporal things ſhall be granted.
e For except God bleſſed his church publikely, this private bleſſing were nothing.

Psal. CXXIX.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God for ſaving Iſrael in their great afflictions. 5 The haters of the church are curſed.

¶ A song of degrees.

‡ Or, much.
a The church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath ever been ſuch from the beginning, to be moleſted moſt grievouſly by the wicked: yet in time it hath ever been delivered.
b Becauſe God is righteous, he cannot but plague his adverſaries, & deliver his, as oxen out of the plough.
c The enemies that lift themſelves moſt high, and as it were approch near to the ſun, are conſumed with heat of Gods wrath becauſe they are not grounded in godly humility.
d The Chaldee explains it: which before it flouriſheth, an eaſt-wind cometh, and bloweth on it, and it withereth.

‡ MAny a time have they afflicted me from my youth, may [a] Iſrael now ſay:

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed againſt me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The LORD is [b] righteous: he hath cut aſunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 [c] Let them be as the graſs upon the houſetops, which [d] withereth afore it groweth up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand; nor he that bindeth ſheavs, his boſom.

8 Neither do they which go by, ſay, The bleſſing of the LORD be upon you: we bleſs you in the name of the LORD.

Psal. CXXX.

1 The pſalmiſt profeſſeth his hope in prayer, 5 and his patience in hope. 7 He exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

¶ A song of degrees.

a Being in great diſtreſs and ſorrow with hearty deep affections, and lowlineſs of mind.
b He declareth, That we cannot be juſt before God, but by forgiveneſs of ſins.
c Becauſe of nature thou art merciful: therefore the faithful reverence thee.
‡ Or, which watch unto the morning.
d He ſheweth, To whom the mercy of God doth appertain, to Iſrael: that is, To the church and not to the reprobate

OUt of [a] the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my ſupplications.

3 If thou, LORD, ſhouldeſt mark iniquities: O Lord, [b] who ſhall ſtand?

4 But there is forgiveneſs with thee: that thou [c] mayſt be feared.

5 I wait for the LORD, my ſoul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My ſoul waiteth for the Lord, more then they that watch for the morning: ‡ I ſay, more then they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Iſrael hope in the LORD: for with the LORD there is [d] mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he ſhall redeem Iſrael from all his iniquities.

Psal. CXXXI.

1 David profeſſing his humility, 3 exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

¶ A song of degrees of David.

LORD, [a] my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I † exerciſe my ſelf in great matters, or in things too † high for me.

2 Surely I have behaved and quieted † my ſelf as [b] a child that is weaned of his mother: my ſoul is even as a [c] weaned child.

1 David in his prayer commendeth unto God the religious care he had for the ark. 8 His prayer at the removing of the ark, 11 with a repetition of Gods promiſes.

XXVIII Day. Evening prayr.

¶ A song of degrees.

LORD, remember David, and all his [a] afflictions:

2 How he ſware unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob.

3 Surely [b] I will not come into the tabernacle of my houſe, nor go up into my bed:

4 I will not give ſleep to mine eyes, or ſlumber to mine eye-lids,

5 Until I find out a place for the LORD, † an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at [d] Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his tabernacles: we will worſhip at his footſtool.

8 * Ariſe, O LORD, into thy [e] reſt: thou, and the ark of thy ſtrength.

9 Let thy prieſts be clothed with [f] righteouſneſs: and let thy ſaints ſhout for joy.

10 For thy ſervant [g] Davids ſake, turn not away the face of thine anointed.

11 The LORD hath ſworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it, * Of the fruit of † thy body will I ſet upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my teſtimony, that I ſhall teach them; their children alſo ſhall ſit upon thy throne [h] for evermore.

13 For the LORD hath choſen Zion: he hath deſired it for his habitation.

14 This is my reſt for ever: here will I dwell, for I have [i] deſired it.

15 I will ‡ abundantly bleſs her proviſion: I will ſatisfy her poor with bread.

16 I will alſo clothe her prieſts with [k] ſalvation: and her ſaints ſhall ſhout aloud for joy.

17 * There will I make the [l] horn of David to bud: I have ordained a ‡ lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with ſhame: but upon himſelf ſhall his crown flouriſh.

b Becauſe the chief charge of the king was to ſet forth Gods glory, he ſaweth, That he could take no reſt, neither would go about any worldly thing, were it never ſo neceſſary, before he had executed his office.
c That is, The ark, which was a ſign of Gods preſence.
† Heb. habitations.
d The common bruit was, that the ark ſhould remain in Ephratah: that is, In Bethle-hem, a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldeſt place it in Jeruſalem, which was barren as a foreſt, and compaſſed about onely with hils.

Psal. CXXXIII.

The benefit of the communion of saints.

¶ A song of degrees of David.

BEhold, how good and how pleasant it is, for brethren to dwell † [a] together in unity.

2 It is like the [b] precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aarons beard, that went down to the skirts of his garments.

3 As the dew of [c] Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion, for [d] there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

† Heb. even together.

a Because the greatest part were against David, though some favoured him, yet when he was established king, at length they joyned altogether like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commodity of brotherly love.

An exhortation to bless God.

¶ A song of degrees.

BEhold, bless ye the LORD, all ye [a] servants of the LORD, which by night stand in the house of the LORD.

2 Lift up your [b] hands ‡ in the sanctuary: and bless the LORD.

3 The LORD that [c] made heaven and earth, bless thee out of Zion.

a Ye that are Levites, and chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not onely to keep the temple, but to pray there and to give God thanks

‡ Or, in holiness.

c And therefore hath all power, bless thee with his fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Levites used to praise the Lord, and bless the people.

Psal. CXXXV.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy, 5 for his power, 8 for his judgments. 15 The vanity of idols. 19 An exhortation to bless God.

PRaise ye the LORD, praise ye the name of the LORD, praise him, O ye servants of the LORD.

2 Ye that stand in the [a] house of the LORD, in the [b] courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise ye the LORD, for the LORD is good: sing praises unto his name, for it is pleasant.

4 For the LORD hath [c] chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that [d] did he in heaven and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.

7 * He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings for the rain: he bringeth the wind out of his treasuries.

8 * Who smote the first-born of Egypt, † both of man and beast.

Psal. CXXXVI.

An exhortation to give thanks to God for particular mercies.

XXVIII Day. Evening prayer.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his [a] mercy endureth for ever.

2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 To him who alone doth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.

5 * To him that by wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.

6 * To him that stretched out the earth above the waters: for his [b] mercy endureth for ever.

XXIX Day. Morning prayer.

1 David praiseth God for his all-seeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercys. 19 He defieth the wicked. 23 He prayeth for sincerity.

¶ To the chief musician, A psalm of David.

O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.

2 Thou knowest my [a] down-sitting, & mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off.

3 Thou ‡ [b] compassest my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not [c] a word in my tongue, but lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou hast beset me behind and before, and [d] laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy [e] spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 * If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

10 Even there shall thy [f] hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me: even the night shall be [g] light about me.

12 Yea, * the darkness † hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as the day: † the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou hast [h] possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mothers womb.

14 I will praise thee, for I am [i] fearfully and wonderfully made; marvellous are thy works, and that my soul knoweth † right well.

15 My ‡ substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret; and curiously wrought in the [k] lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see my substance yet being unperfect, and in thy [l] book † all my members were written, ‡ which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 * How [m] precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God? how great is the sum of them?

18 If I should count them, they are mo in number then the sand: when I awake, [n] I am still with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloudy men.

20 For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I [o] hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts.

24 And

a He confesseth, That neither our actions, thoughts, or any part of our life can be hid from God, though he seem to be far off.

† Or, wearyest.

XXX Day. Evening prayer.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God, for his care of the church, 4 his power, 6 and his mercy, 7 to praise him for his providence, 12 to praise him for his blessings upon the kingdom, 15 for his power over the meteors, 19 and for his ordinances in the church.

PRaise ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praise unto our God; for it is [a] pleasant, and praise is comely.

2 The LORD doth build up [b] Jerusalem: he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.

3 He healeth the [c] broken in heart, and bindeth up their † wounds.

† PRaiſe ye the LORD. Praiſe God in his [a] ſanctuary: praiſe him in the [b] firmament of his power.

† Heb. Hallelujah.

a That is, In the heaven.

b For his wonderful power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a ſtretching out, or ſpreading abroad, wherein the mighty work of God ſhineth.

3 Praiſe him with the ſound of the ‡ [c] trumpet: praiſe him with the pſaltery and harp.

4 Praiſe him with the timbrel and ‡ dance: praiſe him with ſtringed inſtruments, and organs.

5 Praiſe him upon the loud cymbals: praiſe him upon the high-ſounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath [d] breath, praiſe the LORD. Praiſe ye the LORD.

‡ Or, errout.

c Exhorting the people onely to rejoyce in praiſing God, he maketh mention of thoſe inſtruments which by Gods commandment were appointed in the old law, but under Chriſt the uſe thereof is abolished in the church.

THE PROVERBS.

* This word Proverb, or, Parable, ſignifieth, A grave and notable ſentence, worthy to be kept in memory: and is ſometime taken in the evil part, for a mock, or ſcoff.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wonderful love of God toward his church, is declared in this book: foraſmuch as the ſum and effect of the whole ſcripture is here ſet forth in theſe brief ſentences, which partly contain doctrine, and partly manners, and alſo exhortations to both: whereof the nine firſt chapters, are as a preface full of grave ſentences and deep myſteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow; which are left as a moſt precious jewel to the church, of thoſe three thouſand parables mentioned, 1 King. 4. 32, and were gathered and committed to writing by Solomons ſervants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The uſe of the proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word. 10 To avoid the enticings of ſinners. 20 Wiſdom complaineth of her contempt. 24 She threatneth her contemners.

THe proverbs of Solomon the ſon of David, king of Iſrael;

2 To know wiſdom and [a] inſtruction, to perceive the [b] words of underſtanding;

a That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuſe.

b Meaning, The word of God, wherein is the onely true knowledge.

3 To receive the [c] inſtruction of wiſdom, [d] juſtice, and judgment, and † equity;

c To learn to ſubmit our ſelves to the correction of thoſe that are wiſe.

d By living juſtly and rendring to every man that which appertaineth unto him † Heb. equities.

4 To give ſubtilty to the [e] ſimple, to the young man knowledge and ‡ diſcretion.

5 A wiſe man will hear, and will increaſe learning: and a man of [f] underſtanding ſhall attain unto wiſe counſels:

e To ſuch as have no diſcretion to rule themſelves. ‡ Or, adviſement.

f As he ſheweth that theſe parables containing the effect of religion, as touching manners and doctrine, do appertain to the ſimple people: ſo doth he declare that the ſame is alſo neceſſary for them that are wiſe and learned.

6 To underſtand a proverb, and ‡ the interpretation; the words of the wiſe, and their dark ſayings.

‡ Or, an eloquent ſpeech.

7 ¶ * The fear of the LORD is ‡ the beginning of knowledge: but fools deſpiſe wiſdom and inſtruction.

* Job 28. 28. Pſal. 111. 10. Chap. 9. 10.

‡ Or, the principal part.

8 My ſon, hear the inſtruction of thy [g] father, and forſake not the law of thy [h] mother:

g He ſpeaketh this in the name of God, which is the univerſal father of all creatures, or in the name of the paſtour of the church, who is as a father.

h That is, Of the church, wherein the faithful are begotten by the incorruptible ſeed of Gods word.

9 For they ſhall be † an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

† Heb. an adding.

10 ¶ My ſon, if [i] ſinners entice thee, conſent thou not.

i To wit, The wicked which have not the feat of God.

11 If they ſay, Come with us, let us lay wait for [k] bloud, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cauſe:

k He ſpeaketh not only of the ſhedding of blood with hand, but of all crafty practiſes which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.

12 Let us ſwallow them up alive as the [l] grave, and whole, as thoſe that go down into the pit:

13 We ſhall find all precious ſubſtance, we ſhall fill our houſes with ſpoil:

l As the grave is never ſatiate, ſo the avarice of the wicked and their cruelty hath none end.

14 Caſt

14 Cast in thy lot among us, let us all have one [m] purse:

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their [n] path.

16 * For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed bloud.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread † in the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own bloud, they lurk privily for their own [o] lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain: which taketh away the [p] life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ † * [q] Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the [r] streets:

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye [s] simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ * Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will [t] laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your [u] fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 * Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall [x] not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD.

30 They would none of my counsel: they [y] despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the [z] fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the ‡ turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the [a] prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkneth unto me, shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

m He speweth, whereby the wicked are allured to joyn together, because they have every one part of the spoil of the innocent.
n That is, Have nothing at all to do with them.
* Isa. 59. 7. Rom. 3. 15.
† Heb. in the eyes of every thing that hath a wing.
o He speweth, That there is no cause to move these wicked to spoil the innocent, but their avarice & cruelty.
p whereby he concludeth that the coverous man is a murderer.
† Heb. wisdoms, that is, exellent wisdom.
* Chap. 8. 1.
q This wisdom is the eternal word of God
r So that none can pretend ignorance.
s Wisdom reproveth three kinds of men, The foolish or simple, which err of ignorance; And the mockers that cannot suffer to be taught; And the fools, which are drowned in wordly lusts, and hate the knowledge of godliness.
* Isa. 65. 12. & 66. 4. Jer. 7. 13. Ezek. 8. 18.
t This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying, That the wicked which mock and jest at Gods word, shall have the just reward of their mocking.
u That is, Your destruction, which thing you feared.
* Jer. 27. 9. Isa. 1. 15. Jer. 1. 11. & 14. 12. Mic. 3. 4.
x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their own grief.
y Serving, That without faith and obedience we cannot call upon God aright.
z They shall feel what commodity their wicked life shall give them.
‡ Or, ease of the simple.
a That is, The pleasure and sensuality, wherein they delight.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdom promiseth godliness to her children, 10 and safety from evil company, 20 and direction in good ways.

MY son, if thou wilt receive my words, and [a] hide my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine [b] heart to understanding:

3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and † [c] liftest up thy voice for understanding:

a That is, Keep them as a treasure in thine heart.
b If thou give thy self to the true knowledge of God without hypocricy.
† Heb. givest thy voice.
c Meaning, That we must seek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

4 * If thou seekest her as silver, and [d] searchest for her, as for hid treasures:

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD; and find the [e] knowledge of God.

6 * For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints.

9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entreth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul;

11 [f] Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the [g] paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness:

14 Who rejoyce to do evil, and delight in the [h] frowardness of the wicked.

15 Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 To deliver thee from the [i] strange woman, * even from the stranger which flattereth with her words:

17 Which forsaketh the [k] guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [l] covenant of her God.

18 For her [m] house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the [n] dead.

19 None that go unto her, return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 * For the upright shall dwell in the [o] land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

22 * But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be ‡ rooted out of it.

7 ¶ * Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil.

8 It shall be † health to thy [c] navel, and † marrow to thy bones.

9 *[f] Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase.

10 * So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall [g] burst out with new wine.

11 ¶ * My son, despise not the chastning of the LORD: neither be weary of his correction.

12 For whom the LORD loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the son, in whom he delighteth.

21 ¶ My son, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion.

22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

23 * Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the [l] desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 ¶ Withhold not good from † them to whom it is [m] due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

1 Solomon, to persuade obedience, 3 sheweth what instruction he had of his parents. 5 To study wisdom, 14 and to shun the path of the wicked. 20 He exhorteth to faith, 23 and sanctification.

HEar, ye children, the instruction of a [a] father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake you not my law.

3 For I was my fathers son, * tender and [b] onely beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 *[c] He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 [d] Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head * an ornament of grace: ‡ a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings: and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have [e] taught thee in the way of wisdom: I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be [f] straitned, * and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go; keep her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ * Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.

16 For they [g] sleep not except they have done mischief: and their sleep is taken away unless they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the [h] bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the just is as the [i] shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.

20 ¶ My son, attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midst of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto those that find them, and † health to all their [k] flesh.

23 ¶ Keep thy heart † with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of [l] life.

1 Solomon perswadeth to a sincere and kind familiarity with wisdom. 6 In an example of his own experience, he sheweth 10 the cunning of an whore, 22 and the desperate simplicity of a young wanton. 24 He dehorteth from such wickedness.

2 Keep my commandments, and live: and my law as the [a] apple of thine eye.

3 * Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister; and call understanding thy kinswoman:

5 * That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

6 ¶ For at the [b] window of my house I looked through my casement,

7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the † youths, a young man void of understanding,

11 (* She is [d] loud and stubborn, her feet abide not in her house.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.

16 I have deckt my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning, let us solace our selves with loves.

19 For the good-man is not at home, he is gone a long journy;

20 He hath taken a bag of mony † with him, and will come home at ‡ the day appointed.

21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yeild, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.

24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths.

23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.

24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth: when there were no fountains abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were settled; before the hills was I brought forth:

26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the ‡ fields, nor ‡ the highest part of the dust of the world.

27 When he prepared the heavens, I was [l] there: when he set ‡ a compass upon the face of the depth:

28 When he established the clouds above: when he strengthned the fountains of the deep:

29 * When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth:

30 Then I was by him, as one [m] brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoycing always before him:

31 [n] Rejoycing in the habitable part of his [o] earth, and my delights were with the sons of men.

32 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for * blessed are they that keep my ways.

WIsdom hath builded her [a] house, she hath hewen out her [b] seven pillars.

2 She hath killed † her beasts, she hath mingled her wine; she hath also [c] furnished her table.

3 She hath sent forth her [d] maidens, [e] she crieth upon the highest places of the city.

4 Whoso is [e] simple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him,

5 Come, eat of my [f] bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.

6 Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding.

7 He that reproveth a scorner, getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himself [g] a blot.

8 * Reprove not a [h] scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.

10 * The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is [i] understanding.

11 * For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise [k] for thy self: but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.

13 ¶ * [l] A foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple, and knoweth nothing.

14 For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call passengers who go right on their ways.

16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread † eaten in secret is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

a Christ hath prepared him a church.

l By the foolish woman, some understand the wicked preachers, who counterfeit the word of God, as appeareth, ver. 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrin is but as stolen waters, meaning, That they are but mans traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof. † Heb. of secrecies.

CHAP. X.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth, are sundry observations of moral virtues, and their contrary vices.

THe proverbs of Solomon. * A wise son maketh a glad father; but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother. * Chap. 15. 20.

2 * [a] Treasures of wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death. * Chap. 11. 4. a That is, wickedly gotten.

3 * The LORD will [c] not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away ‡ the substance of the wicked. * Psal. 37. 25. b Though he suffer the just to want for a time, yet he will send him comfort in due season. ‡ Or, the wicked for their wickedness.

4 * He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. * Chap. 12. 24.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is a wise son:

son: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is a son that causeth shame.

6 Blessings are upon the head of the just: but * violence covereth the mouth of the [c] wicked.

7 * The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall [d] rot.

8 The wise in heart will receive commandments: but † a prating fool ‡ shall fall.

9 * He that walketh uprightly, walketh surely: but he that perverteth his ways, shall be known.

10 * He that [e] winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: but a prating fool ‡ shall [f] fall.

11 * The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth up strifes: but * love covereth all sins.

13 In the lips of him that hath understanding, wisdom is found: but [g] a rod is for the back of him that is void of † understanding.

14 Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.

15 * The rich mans wealth is his [h] strong city: the destruction of the poor is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the fruit of the wicked to sin.

17 He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction: but he that refuseth reproof, ‡ erreth.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous [i] feed many: but fools die for want † of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no [k] sorrow with it.

23 * It is a sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom.

24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that [l] send him.

27 * The fear of the LORD † prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked shall be [m] shortned.

28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the * expectation of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the LORD is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

30 * The righteous shall [n] never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.

31 The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom: but the froward tongue shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable; but the mouth of the wicked speaketh † frowardness.

CHAP. XI.

A * † False [a] balance is abomination to the LORD: but † a just weight is his delight.

2 * When pride cometh, then cometh [b] shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 * The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of transgressours shall destroy them.

4 * Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the perfect shall † direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.

6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but * transgressours shall be taken in their own naughtiness.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth.

8 * The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his [c] stead.

9 An * [d] hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city [e] rejoyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is † void of wisdom, despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding [f] holdeth his peace.

13 † A tale-bearer reveileth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spirit conceileth the matter.

14 * Where no counsel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of [g] counsellers there is safety.

15 He that is surety for [h] a stranger, † shall smart for it: and he that [i] hateth † suretiship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.

17 The merciful man doth [k] good to his own soul: but he that is cruel, troubleth his own flesh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but to him that soweth righteousness, shall be a sure reward.

19 As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil, pursueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the LORD: but such as are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 [l] Though hand joyn in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a swines snout, so is a fair woman which † is without discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the expectation of the wicked is [m] wrath.

14 * The law of the wiſe is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

15 Good underſtanding giveth favour: but the way of trangreſſours is hard.

16 * Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool † layeth open his folly.

17 A wicked meſſenger [h] falleth into miſchief: but a faithful ambaſſadour is health.

18 Poverty and ſhame ſhall be to him that refuſeth inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof, ſhall be honoured.

19 The deſire accompliſhed is ſweet to the ſoul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools † ſhall be [i] deſtroyed.

21 Evil purſueth ſinners: but to the righteous, good ſhall be repayed.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his childrens children: and the * wealth of the [k] ſinner is laid up for the juſt.

23 * Much food is in the tillage of the [l] poor: but there is that is deſtroyed for want of judgment.

24 * He that ſpareth his rod, hateth his ſon: but he that loveth him chaſtneth him betimes.

25 * The righteous eateth to the ſatisfying of his ſoul: but the belly of the wicked ſhall want.

CHAP. XIV.

EVery wiſe woman [a] buildeth her houſe: but the fooliſh plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his [b] uprightneſs, feareth the LORD: * but he that is perverſe in his ways, deſpiſeth him.

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is a [c] rod of pride: but the lips of the wiſe ſhall preſerve them.

4 Where no [d] oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increaſe is by the ſtrength of the ox.

5 * A faithful witneſs will not lie: but a falſe witneſs will utter lies.

6 A ſcorner [e] ſeeketh wiſdom, and findeth it not: but * knowledge is eaſy unto him that underſtandeth.

7 Go from the preſence of a fooliſh man, when thou perceiveſt not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wiſdom of the prudent is to underſtand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.

9 * Fools make a [f] mock at ſin: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth † his own [g] bitterneſs, and a ſtranger doth not intermedle with his joy.

11 The houſe of the wicked ſhall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright ſhall flouriſh.

12 * There is a way which ſeemeth right unto a man; but the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is ſorrowful; and the [h] end of that mirth is heavineſs.

14 The [i] backſlider in heart ſhall be * filled with his own ways: and a good man ſhall be ſatisfied from himſelf.

15 The ſimple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A wiſe man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth and is confident.

17 He that is ſoon angry dealeth fooliſhly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.

18 The ſimple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bowe before the good: and the wicked at the [k] gates of the righteous.

20 * The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but † the rich hath many friends.

21 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour, ſinneth: * but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.

22 Do they not err that deviſe evil? but mercy and truth ſhall be to them that deviſe good.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth onely to penury.

24 The crown of the wiſe is their riches: but the fooliſhneſs of fools is folly.

25 * A true witneſs delivereth ſouls, but a deceitful witneſs ſpeaketh lies.

26 In the fear of the LORD is ſtrong confidence: and his children ſhall have a place of refuge.

27 * The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

28 In the multitude of [l] people is the kings honour: but in the want of people is the deſtruction of the prince.

29 He that is ſlow to wrath is of great underſtanding: but he that is † haſty of ſpirit exalteth folly.

30 A ſound heart is the life of the fleſh: but envy the rottenneſs of the bones.

31 * He that oppreſſeth the poor, reproacheth his maker: but he that honoureth him, hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedneſs: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wiſdom reſteth in the heart of him that hath underſtanding: but that which is in the [m] midſt of fools is made known.

34 Righteouſneſs exalteth a nation: but ſin is a reproach † to any people.

35 The kings favour is toward a wiſe ſervant: but his wrath is againſt him that cauſeth ſhame.

CHAP. XV.

A * Soft anſwer turneth away wrath: but grievous words ſtir up anger.

5 * Counsel

5 * Counsel in the heart of man is like [c] deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out.

6 Most men will proclaim every one his own ‡ goodness: but a faithful man who can find?

7 The just man walketh in his integrity: * his children are blessed after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment, [d] scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

9 * Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?

10 * † Divers weights, and † divers measures, both of them are alike [e] abomination to the LORD.

11 Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 * The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them.

13 * Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 * [f] Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

17 * † Bread of deceit is sweet to a man: but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 * Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make war.

19 * He that goeth about as a tale-bearer, reveileth secrets: therefore medle not with him that ‡ flattereth with his lips.

20 * Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his ‡ lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness.

21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning: but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 * Say not thou, I will recompense evil: but wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee.

23 * Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD: and † a false balance is not good.

24 * Mans goings are of the LORD, how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to the man who [g] devoureth that which is holy: and after vows to make enquiry.

26 * A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the [h] wheel over them.

27 The spirit of man is the ‡ [i] candle of the LORD, searching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 * Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength: and * the beauty of old men is the gray head.

30 The [k] blueness of a wound † cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

THE [a] kings heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 * Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, but the LORD pondreth the heart.

3 * To do justice and judgment, is more acceptable to the LORD then sacrifice.

4 * † An high look, and a proud heart, and ‡ the [b] plowing of the wicked, is sin.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend onely to plenteousness: but of every one that is [c] hasty, onely to want.

6 * The getting of treasures by a lying tongue, is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The [d] robbery of the wicked shall † destroy them; because they refuse to do judgment.

8 The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house-top, then with † a brawling woman in † a wide house.

10 * The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour † findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 * When the scorner is punished, the simple is made [e] wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wisely considereth [f] the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedness.

13 * Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 * [g] A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosom, strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandreth out of the way of understanding, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth ‡ pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oyl shall not be rich.

18 * [h] The wicked shall be a ransome for the righteous; and the transgressour for the upright.

19 * It is better to dwell † in the wilderness, then with a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is a treasure to be desired, and [i] oyl in the dwelling of the wise: but a foolish man spendeth it up.

* Chap. 6. 9, &c. 33 * Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:

† Heb. a man of strength. 34 So shall thy poverty come, as one that travelleth; and thy want as † an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Observations about kings, 8 and about avoiding causes of quarrels, and sundry causes thereof.

THese are also proverbs of Solomon, which the [a] men of Hezekiah king of Iudah [b] copied out.

a whom Hezekiah appointed for this purpose

b That is, gathered out of divers books of Solomon.

2 It is the glory of God to [c] conceil a thing: but the [d] honour of kings is to search out a matter.

c God doth not reveil the cause of his judgments to man.

d Because the king ruleth by the reveiled word of God, the cause of his doings must appear, and therefore he must use diligence in trying out of causes.

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the [e] heart of kings † is unsearchable.

e Is forwath, That it is too hard for man to attain to the reason of all the secret doings of the king, even when he is upright, and doth his duty.

† Heb. there is no search.

4 Take away the [f] dross from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.

f when vice is removed from a king, he is a meet vessel for the Lords use.

5 * [g] Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

* Chap. 20. 8.

g It is not enough that he be pure himself, but that he put away others that be corrupted.

6 † Put not forth thy self in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men.

† Heb. Set not out thy glory.

7 * For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither: then that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.

* Luk. 14. 10.

8 Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

* Matth. 5. 25. & 18. 15.

9 * Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself; and ‡ discover not a secret to another:

‡ Or, discover not the secret of another.

10 Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamy [h] turn not away.

h Lest whereas thou thinkest by this meanes to have an end of the matter, it put thee to further trouble.

11 A word † fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.

† Heb. spoken upon his wheels.

12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.

* Chap. 13. 17.

13 * As the [i] cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.

i In the time of great heat when men desire cold.

† Heb. in a gift of falsehood.

14 Whoso boasteth himself † of a false gift, is like [k] clouds and wind without rain.

k which have an outward appearance, and are nothing within.

15 * By [l] long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue [m] breaketh the bone.

* Gen. 32. 4, &c. 1 Sam 25. 24, &c. chap. 15. 1. & 16. 14.

l By not ministring occasion to provoke him further.

16 Hast thou found hony? eat so much as is [n] sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.

m That is, The heart that is bent to anger, as chap. 15. 1.

17 ‡ Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbours house: lest he be † weary of thee, and so hate thee.

n Use moderately the pleasures of this world.

‡ Or, Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbours house.

† Heb. full of thee.

18 * A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.

* Psal 120. 4. chap. 12. 18.

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a foot out of joynt. 505

20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vineger upon [o] nitre: so is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart.

o which melteth it, and consumeth it.

21 * If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat: and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:

* Exod. 23. 4. Rom. 12. 20.

22 For thou shalt [p] heap coals of fire upon his head, and the LORD shall reward thee.

p Thou shalt as it were by force overcome him; insomuch, that his own conscience shall move him to acknowledge thy benefits, and his heart shall be inflamed.

23 ‡ The north-wind driveth away rain: so doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.

‡ Or, The north-wind bringeth forth rain: so doth a backbiting tongue an angry countenance.

24 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house-top, then with a brawling woman and in a wide house.

* Chap. 19. 13. & 21. 9.

25 As cold waters to a thirsty soul: so is good news from a far country.

26 A righteous man falling down before the wicked, is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eat much hony: so for men to search their own glory, is not glory.

28 * He that hath no rule over his own spirit, is like a city that is broken down, and [q] without walls.

* Chap. 16 32.

q And so is in extream danger.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Observations about fools, 13 about sluggards, 17 and about contentious busie-bodies.

AS snow in summer, and as rain in harvest: so honour is not seemly for a fool.

2 As the bird by wandring, as the swallow by flying: so the curse causeless shall not come.

* Psal. 32. 9. chap. 10. 13.

3 * A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fools back.

a Consent not unto him in his doings.

4 Answer [a] not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.

b Reprove him as the matter requireth.

5 [b] Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in † his own conceit.

† Heb. his own eyes.

c To wit, Of the messenger whom he sendeth

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool, cutteth off the [c] feet, and [d] drinketh ‡ damage.

d That is, Receiveth damage thereby.

‡ Or, violence.

7 The legs of the lame † are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

† Heb. are lifted up.

8 ‡ As he that bindeth a stone in a sling: so is he that giveth honour to a fool.

‡ Or, as he that putteth a precious stone in an heap of stones.

9 As a thorn goeth up into the [e] hand of a drunkard: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

e whereby he both hurteth himself and others.

10 ‡ The great God that formed all things, both [f] rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressours.

‡ Or, a great man grieveth all, and he hireth the fool, he hireth also transgressours.

f That is punisheth him which is a just reward of his folly.

11 * As a dog returneth to his vomit; so a fool † returneth to his folly.

* 2 Pet. 2. 22.

† Heb. iterateth his folly.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is [g] more hope of a fool then of him.

g For the fool will rather be counselled then he: also the fool sinneth of ignorance, and the other of malice.

13 * The slothful man [h] saith, There is a lion in the way, a lion is in the streets.

* Chap 22. 13.

h That is, He shunneth labour, loveth sloth, and doth his best to excuse himself.

14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed.

15 * The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom, ‡ it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.

* Chap. 19. 24.

‡ Or, he is weary.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 He that passeth by, and ‡ medleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.

‡ Or, is enraged.

18 As a mad man who casteth † firebrands, arrows, and death:

† Heb. flames, or, sparks.

19 So is the man that [i] deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?

i which dissembleth himself to be that he is not.

20 † Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so * where there is no ‡ tale-bearer, the strife † ceaseth.

† Heb. without wood.
* Chap. 22. 10.
‡ Or, whisperer.
† Heb. is silent.

21 * As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire: so is a contentious man to kindle strife.

* Chap. 15. 18. & 29. 22.

22 * The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the † innermost parts of the belly.

* Chap. 18. 8.
† Heb. chambers.

23 Burning lips, and a wicked heart, [k] are like a potsherd covered with silver dross.

k They will soon break out, and utter themselves.

24 He that hateth, ‡ dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him.

‡ Or, is known.

25 When he † speaketh fair, believe him not; for there are [l] seven abominations in his heart.

† Heb. maketh his voice gracious.
l Meaning, Many: he useth the number certain for the uncertain.

26 ‡ Whose hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedness shall be shewed before the whole [m] congregation.

‡ Or, Hatred is covered in secret.
m In the assembly of the godly.

27 * Whoso diggeth a pit, shall fall therein: and he that rolleth a stone, it will return upon him.

* Psal. 7. 15, 16. & 9. 15. Eccles. 10. 8.

28 A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruine.

Chap. XXVII.

1 Observations of self-love, 5 of true love, 11 of care to avoid offences, 23 and of the household care.

* Iam. 4. 13, &c.
† Heb. to morrow-day.

BOast * not thy self of † to [a] morrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

a Delay not the time, but take occasion when it is offered.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.

† Heb. heaviness.

3 A stone is † heavy, and the sand weighty: but a fools wrath is heavier then them both.

† Heb. wrath is cruelty, and anger overflowing.
‡ Or, jealousy.

4 † Wrath is cruel, and anger is outragious: but who is able to stand before ‡ [b] envy?

b For the envious are obstinate, and cannot be reconciled.

5 Open rebuke is better then secret love.

6 * Faithful are the wounds of a friend: but the kisses of an enemy are ‡ [c] deceitful.

* Psal. 141. 5.
‡ Or, earnest, or, frequent.
c They are flattering, and seem friendly as in the example of Joab, 2 Sam. 3. 27. & 20. 9.

7 The full soul † loatheth an hony-comb; but * to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

† Heb. treadeth under foot.
* Iob 6. 7.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest: so is a man that wandreth from his place.

9 Ointment and perfume rejoyce the heart: so doth the sweetness of a mans friend † by hearty counsel.

† Heb. from the counsel of the soul.

10 Thine own friend and thy fathers friend forsake not; neither go into thy [d] brothers house in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbour that is near, then a brother far off.

d But rather into the house of thy friend: who loveth at all times, as chap. 17. 17. & 18. 24.

11 * My son, be wise, and make my heart [e] glad, that I may answer him that reproacheth me.

* Chap. 10. 1. & 23. 24.
e Order thy affairs with wisdom and so thou shalt cause thy father to rejoyce.

12 * A prudent man fore-seeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished.

* Chap. 22. 3.

13 * Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

* Chap. 20. 16.

14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, [f] rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.

f Hastily, and without cause.

15 * A continual dropping in a very rainy day, and a contentious woman are alike.

* Chap. 19. 13.

16 Whosoever hideth her, hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand which bewrayeth it self.

17 Iron sharpneth iron, [g] so a man sharpneth the countenance of his friend.

g One hasty man provoketh another to anger.

18 Whoso keepeth the fig-tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.

19 As in water face answereth to face: [h] so the heart of man to man.

h There is no difference between man and man by nature, but onely the grace of God maketh the difference.

20 Hell and destruction are † never full: so * the eyes of man are never satisfied.

† Heb. not.
* Eccles. 1. 8.

21 * As the fining-pot for silver, and the furnace for gold: so is a man to his [i] praise.

* Chap. 17. 3.
i That is, He is either known to be ambitious and glorious, or humble and modest.

22 Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a morter among wheat with a pestil, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and † look well to thy herds.

† Heb. set thy heart.

24 For † riches are not for ever: and doth the crown endure † to every generation?

† Heb. strength.
† Heb. to generation and generation.

25 The hay appeareth, and the tender grass sheweth it self, and herbs of the mountains are gathered.

26 The [k] lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.

k This declareth the great goodness of God towards man, and the diligence that he requireth of him for the preservation of his gifts.

27 And thou shalt have goats milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for † maintenance for thy maidens.

† Heb. life.

Chap. XXVIII.

General observations of impiety and religious integrity.

THe * wicked [a] flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

* Lev. 26. 36.
a Because their own conscience accuseth them.

2 For the transgression of a land, [b] many are the princes thereof: but ‡ by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.

b The state of the commonwealth is oftentimes changed.
‡ Or, by men of understanding and wisdom shall they likewise be prolonged.

3 A poor man that oppresseth the poor, is like a sweeping rain † which leaveth no food.

† Heb. without food.

4 They that forsake the law, praise the wicked: but such as keep the law, contend with them.

5 Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the LORD, understand all things.

6 * Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, then he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.

* Chap. 19. 1.

7 * Whoso keepeth the law, is a wise son: but

* Chap. 29. 3.

‡ Or, feedeth gluttons.

but he that ‡ is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father.

8 * He that by usury and † unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for [c] him that will pity the poor.

* Chap. 13. 22. Eccles. 2. 26.
† Heb. by increase.
c For God will take away the wicked usurer, and give his goods to him that shall bestow them well.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be [d] abomination.

d because it is not of faith, which is grounded of Gods word, or law, which the wicked contemn.

10 * Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit: but the upright shall have good things in possession.

* Chap. 26. 27.

11 The rich man is wise † in his own conceit: but the poor that hath understanding [e] searcheth him out.

† Heb. in his eyes.
e And judge that he is not wise.

12 * When righteous men do rejoyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is ‡ [f] hidden.

* Vers. 28. chap. 11. 10. Eccles. 10. 6.
‡ Or, sought for.
f That is, The godly man is forced to hide himself and his estate from the cruelty of tyrants.

13 * He that covereth his sins, shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.

* Psal. 32. 5. 1 John. 1. 9, 10.

14 Happy is the man that [g] feareth alway: * but he that hardneth his heart shall fall into mischief.

g which standeth in awe of God, and is afraid to offend him.
* Rom. 11 20.

15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; so is a [h] wicked ruler over the poor people.

h For he can never be satisfied, but ever oppresseth and spoileth.

16 The prince that wanteth understanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth covetousness, shall prolong his days.

17 * A man that doth violence to the bloud of any person, shall flee to the pit, let no man [i] stay him.

* Gen. 9. 6. Exod. 21. 14.
i None shall be able to deliver him.

18 * Whoso walketh uprightly, shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his ways, shall fall at once.

* Chap. 10. 25.

19 * He that tilleth his land, shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons, shall have poverty enough.

* Chap. 12. 11.

20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings: * but he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be ‡ innocent.

* Chap. 13. 11. & 23. 4. 1 Tim. 6. 9.
‡ Or, unpunished.

21 * To have respect of persons, is not good: for, for [k] a piece of bread that man will transgress.

* Chap. 18. 5. & 24. 23.
k He will be abused for nothing.

22 ‡ He that hasteth to be rich, hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.

‡ Or, He that hath an evil eye, hasteth to be rich, vers. 20.
l Meaning, Him that is covetous.

23 * He that rebuketh a man, afterwards shall find more favour then he that flattereth with the tongue.

* Chap. 27. 6.

24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the companion of † a destroyer.

† Heb. a man destroying.
* Chap. 13. 10.

25 * He that is of a proud heart, stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the LORD, shall be made [m] fat.

m Shall have all things in abundance.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

* Deut. 15. 8. chap. 22. 9.

27 * He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes, shall have many a curse.

* Vers. 12. chap. 29. 2.

28 * When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Observations of publick government, 15 and of private.
22 Of anger, pride, theivery, cowardise, and corruption.

† HE that being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

† Heb. a man of reproofs.

2 * When the righteous are ‡ in authority, the people rejoyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

* Chap. 11. 10. & 28. 28. Eccles. 10. 5.
‡ Or, increased.

3 * Whoso loveth wisdom, rejoyceth his father: * but he that keepeth company with harlots, spendeth his substance.

* Chap 10. 1. & 15. 20. & 27. 11.
* Chap. 5. 9. & 28. 7. Luk. 15. 13.

4 The king by judgment stablisheth the land: but † he that receiveth gifts, overthroweth it.

† Heb. a man of oblations.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, * spreadeth a net for his feet.

a He that giveth ear to the flatterer is in danger, as the bird is before the fowler

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is [b] a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoyce.

b He is ever ready to fall into the snare that he layeth for others.

7 * The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.

* Iob 29. 16.

8 Scornful men ‡ bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

‡ Or, set a city on fire.

9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, [c] whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.

c He can bear no admonition, in what sort soever it is spoken.

10 † The bloud thirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.

† Heb. Men of bloud.

11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13 * The poor and ‡ the deceitful man meet together: the LORD lightneth both their eyes.

* Chap 22 2.
‡ Or, the usurer.

14 * The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.

* Chap. 20. 28.

15 * The rod and reproof give wisdom: but * a child left to himself, bringeth his mother to shame.

* Vers. 17.
* Chap 10. 1. & 17. 21, 25.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: * but the righteous shall see their fall.

* Psal. 37 36. & 58. 10. & 91. 8.

17 * Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest: yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

* Chap. 13. 24. & 22. 15. & 23. 13, 14.

18 [d] Where there is no vision, the people ‡ perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

d where there are not faithful ministers of the word of God.
‡ Or, is made naked

19 [e] A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand he will not answer.

e He that is of a servile and rebellious nature.

20 Seest thou a man that is hasty ‡ in his words? there is more hope of a fool, then of him.

‡ Or, in his matters.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child, shall have him become his son at the length.

22 * An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

* Chap 15. 18. & 26. 21.

23 * A mans pride shall bring him low: but honour shall uphold the humble in spirit.

THE words of [a] Agur the son of Jakeh, even the prophecy: the man spake unto Ithiel, even unto [b] Ithiel and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more [c] brutish then any man, and have not the understanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wisdom, nor † have the knowledge of the holy.

4 * Who hath ascended up into [d] heaven, or descended? * who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his sons name, if thou canst tell?

5 * Every word of God is † pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

6 * Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 [e] Two things have I required of thee, † deny me them not before I die.

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty, nor riches, * feed me with food † convenient for me:

9 * Lest I be full, and † denie thee, and say, [f] Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.

10 † Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found [g] guilty.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness.

13 There is a generation, O how * lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up.

14 There is* a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw-teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The hors-leach hath [h] two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, † It is enough:

16 The grave, and the barren womb, the earth that is not filled with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of ‡ the [i] valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the † midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; she eateth, and [k] wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:

22 * For [l] a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat,

23 For an odious woman when she is married, and an hand-maid that is [m] heir to her mistress.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are † [n] exceeding wise:

25 * The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks;

27 The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them † by bands;

28 The spider taketh hold with her [o] hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any,

31 A ‡† grey-hound, an he-goat also, and a king, against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thy self, or if thou hast thought evil, * [p] lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth bloud: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

¶ ECCLESIASTES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Solomon, as a preacher, and one that deſired to inſtruct all in the way of ſalvation, deſcribeth the deceivable vanities of this world; that man ſhould not be addicted to any thing under the ſun, but rather inflamed with the deſire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which ſet their felicity either in knowledge, or in pleaſures, or in dignity and riches; ſhewing that mans true felicity conſiſteth in that, that he is united with God, and ſhall enjoy his preſence: ſo that all other things muſt be rejected, ſaving as much as they further us to attain to this heavenly treaſure, which is ſure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other, ſave in God alone.

CHAP. I.

1 The preacher ſheweth that all humane courſes are vain; 4 becauſe the creatures are reſtleſs in their courſes; 9 they bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: 12 and becauſe he hath found it ſo in the ſtudies of wiſdom.

a Solomon is here called a preacher, or one that aſſembleth the people, becauſe he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to paſs their life in this tranſitory world.

THE words of the [a] preacher, the ſon of David, king of Jeruſalem.

2 * [b] Vanity of vanities, ſaith the preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

3 * What profit hath a man of all his [c] labour which he taketh under the ſun?

4 One generation paſſeth away, and another generation cometh: * but the earth abideth [d] for ever.

5 The ſun alſo ariſeth, and the ſun goeth down, and † haſteth to his place where he aroſe.

6 The [e] wind goeth toward the ſouth, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 * All the rivers run into the ſea, yet the ſea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, [f] thither they † return again.

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it: the eye is not ſatisfied with ſeeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

12 ¶ [h] I the preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travel hath God given to the sons of man, ‡ to be [i] exercised therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

15 * That which is [k] crooked cannot be made straight: and † that which is wanting, cannot be numbred.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten * more wisdom then all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart † had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.

17 * And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know [l] madness and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

18 For in much wisdom is much [m] grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

h He proveth that if any could have attained to felicity in this world by labour and study, he chiefly should have obtained it, because he had gifts and aids of God thereunto above all other.
‡ Or, to afflict them.
i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely upon God.
* Chap. 7. 13.

Chap. II.

1 The vanity of humane courses in the works of pleasure. 12 Though the wise be better then the fool, yet both have one event. 18 The vanity of humane labour in leaving it they know not to whom. 24 Nothing better then joy in our labour; but that is Gods gift.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove [a] thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doth it?

3 * I sought in mine heart † to give my self unto wine (yet acquainting mine heart with [b] wisdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven, † all the days of their life.

4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits.

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had † servants born in my [c] house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattel, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

8 * I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the [d] delights of the sons of men, as † musical instruments, and that of [e] all sorts.

a Solomon maketh the discourse with himself, as though he would try whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

9 So I was great, and increased more then all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom [f] remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy: for my heart rejoyced in all my labour, and this was my [g] portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was * vanity and vexation of spirit, and their was no profit under the sun.

12 And I turned my self to behold [h] wisdom, * and madness and folly: for what can the man do, that cometh after the king? ‡ even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw † that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 * The wise mans [i] eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: and I my self perceived also, that [k] one event hapneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it hapneth to the fool, so it † hapneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more then of the fool [l] for ever; seeing that which now is, in the days to come shall all be forgotten: and [m] how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the sun, is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had † taken under the sun: because * I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed my self wise under the sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to [n] despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity: yet to a man that hath not laboured therein, shall he † leave it for [o] his portion. This also is vanity, and a great evil.

22 * For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the sun?

23 For all his days are * sorrows, and his travel grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

24 ¶ * There is nothing better for a man, then that he should eat and drink, and that he ‡ should make his soul [p] enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

‡ Or, that they might clear God, and ſee, &c.

h Shewing in their lives the properties and practices of beaſts.

19 * For that which befalleth the ſons of men, befalleth beaſts, even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other, yea, they have all [i] one breath, ſo that a man hath no preeminence above a beaſt: for all is vanity.

* Pſal. 49. 20. Chap. 2. 16.

i Man is not able by his reaſon and judgment to put difference between man and beaſt, as touching thoſe things whereunto both are ſubject, for the eye cannot judge any otherwiſe of a man being dead, then of a beaſt which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith, we eaſily know the diverſity, as vers. 21.

20 All go unto one place, all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who [k] knoweth the ſpirit † of man that † goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt that goeth downward to the earth?

k Meaning, That reaſon cannot comprehend that which faith believeth therein.

† Heb. of the ſons of man

† Heb. is aſcending.

22 * Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, then that a man ſhould [l] rejoyce in his own works; for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?

* Chap. 2. 24. & 5. 18

l By the often repetition of this ſentence, as Chap. 2. 24. & Chap. 3. 12, 22. Chap 5. 17. & Chap. 8 15. he declareth, that man by reaſon can comprehend nothing better in this life, then to uſe the gifts of God ſoberly, and comfortably; for to know farther is a ſpecial gift of God reveiled by his ſpirit.

CHAP. IV.

1 Vanity is increaſed unto men by oppreſſion, 4 by envy, 5 by idleneſs, 7 by covetouſneſs, 9 by ſolitarineſs, 13 by wilfulneſs.

a He maketh here another diſcourſe with himſelf, concerning the tyranny of them that oppreſſed the poor.

SO [a] I returned, and conſidered all the * oppreſſions that are done under the ſun: and behold, the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter; and on the † ſide of their oppreſſours there was power, but they had no comforter.

* Chap. 5. 8, &c.

† Heb. hand.

2 * Wherefore I praiſed the [b] dead which are already dead, more then the living which are yet alive.

* Iob 3. 11, 18, 21.

b Becauſe they are no more ſubject to their oppreſſours.

3 * Yea, [c] better is he then both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the ſun.

* Iob 3. 11, 18, 21.

c He ſpeaketh according to the judgment of the fleſh, which cannot abide to feel, or ſee troubles.

4 ¶ Again I conſidered all travel, and † every [d] right work, that † for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is alſo vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

† Heb. all the righteouſneſs of work.

d The more perfect that the work is, the more is it envied of the wicked.

‡ Heb. this is the envy of a man from his neighbour.

5 * The fool foldeth his hands together, and [e] eateth his own fleſh.

* Prov. 6. 10. & 24. 33.

e For idleneſs he is compelled to deſtroy himſelf.

6 * Better is an handful with quietneſs, then both the hands full, with travel and vexation of ſpirit.

* Prov. 15. 16, 17. & 16. 8.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the ſun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches, neither ſaith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? This is alſo vanity, yea, it is a ſore travel.

f Forasmuch as when man is alone he can neither help himſelf nor others, he ſheweth, that all men ought to live in mutual ſociety, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increaſe.

9 ¶ [f] Two are better then one; becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but wo to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

g By this proverb he declareth how neceſſary it is, that men ſhould live in ſociety.

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a [g] threefold cord is not quickly broken.

† Heb. who knoweth not to be admoniſhed.

13 ¶ Better is a poor and a wiſe child, then an old and fooliſh king, † who will no more be admoniſhed.

h That is, From a poor and baſe eſtate or out of trouble and priſon, as Joſeph did, Gen. 41. 14 14 For out of [h] priſon he cometh to reign, whereas alſo he that is [i] born in his kingdom becometh poor.

i Meaning, That is born a king.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the ſun, with the [k] ſecond child that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

k which follow and flatter the kings ſon, or him that ſhall ſucceed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

512

16 There is no [i] end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after, ſhall not rejoyce in him. Surely, this alſo is vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

i They never ceaſe by all means to creep into favour: but when they obtain not their greedy deſires, they think themſelves abuſed, as others have been in time paſt, and ſo care no more for him.

CHAP. V.

1 Vanities in divine ſervice, 8 in murmuring againſt oppreſſion, 9 and in riches. 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God.

a That is, with what affection thou comeſt to hear the word of God.
* 1 Sam. 15. 22. Pſal. 50. 8. Prov. 15. 8. & 21. 27.
b Meaning, of the wicked which thinketh to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and have neither faith nor repentance.
c Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, that we ſhould uſe all reverence Godward.
‡ Or, word.
* Prov. 20. 19. Mat. 6. 7.
d He heareth thee not for thy many words ſake, or often repititions, but conſidereth thy faith and fervent mind.
* Deut. 23. 21.
* Pſal. 66. 13, 14.
e He ſpeaketh of vows which are approved by Gods word, and ſerve to his glory.
f Cauſe not thy ſelf to ſin by vowing raſhly as they do, which make a vow to live unmarried, and ſuch like.
g That is, Before Gods meſſenger, when he ſhall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance ſhould be a juſt excuſe.
† Heb. at the will, or, purpoſe.
h Meaning, That God will redreſs theſe things, and therefore we muſt depend upon him.
i The revenues of the earth are to be preferred above all things which appertain to this life.
k Kings and princes cannot maintain their eſtate without tillage which thing commendeth the excellency of tillage.
l That is, His great abundance of riches, or the ſurfeting, which cometh by his great feeding.
m when covetous men heap up riches which turn to their deſtruction.
n He doth not enjoy his fathers riches.
* Job 1. 21. Pſal. 49. 17. 1 Tim. 6. 7.

KEep thy [a] foot when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, and be more ready to hear, * then to give the ſacrifice of [b] fools: for they conſider not that they do evil.

2 Be not [c] raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any ‡ thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words * be [d] few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of buſineſs, and a fools voice is known by multitude of words.

4 * When thou voweſt a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleaſure in fools; * pay that which thou haſt [e] vowed.

5 Better is it that thou ſhouldeſt not vow, then that thou ſhouldeſt vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cauſe thy [f] fleſh to ſin, neither ſay thou before the [g] angel, that it was an errour: wherefore ſhould God be angry at thy voice, and deſtroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words, there are alſo divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and juſtice in a province, marvel not † at the matter: for he that is [h] higher then the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

9 ¶ Moreover, the [i] profit of the earth is for all: the king himſelf is ſerved by the [k] field.

10 He that loveth ſilver, ſhall not be ſatisfied with ſilver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increaſe: this is alſo vanity.

11 When goods increaſe, they are increaſed that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, ſaving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The ſleep of a labouring man is ſweet, whether he eat little or much: but the [l] abundance of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleep.

13 There is a ſore evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, namely, riches [m] kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But thoſe riches periſh by evil travel: and he begetteth a ſon, and there is [n] nothing in his hand.

15 * As he came forth of his mothers womb, naked ſhall he return to go as he came, and ſhall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this alſo is a ſore evil, that in all points as he came, ſo ſhall he go: and * what profit hath he that hath laboured for the [o] wind?

17 All his days alſo he eateth in [p] darkneſs, and he hath much ſorrow, and wrath with his ſickneſs.

* Chap. 1. 3.
o Meaning, in vain and without profit.
p In affliction and grief of mind.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have ſeen: * † it is good and comely for one to [q] eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the ſun, † all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man alſo to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoyce in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 ‡ For he ſhall not much remember the days of his life: becauſe God anſwereth him in the joy of his heart.

* Chap. 2. 24. & 3. 12, 13.
† Heb. there is a good which is comely, &c.
q Chap 3. 22.
† Heb. the number of the days.
‡ Or, though he give not much, yet he remembreth, &c. r He will take no great thought for the pains that he hath endured in time paſt.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vanity of riches without uſe, 3 of children, 6 and old age without riches. 9. The vanity of ſight and wandring deſires. 11 The concluſion of vanities.

THere is an evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, ſo that he wanteth nothing for his ſoul of all that he deſireth, yet God giveth him [a] not power to eat thereof, but a ſtranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil diſeaſe.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, ſo that the days of his years be many, and his ſoul be not [b] filled with good, and alſo that he have no [c] burial, I ſay, that an untimely birth is better then he.

4 For he [d] cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkneſs, and his name ſhall be covered with darkneſs.

5 Moreover, he hath not ſeen the ſun, nor known any thing: this hath more reſt then the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thouſand years twice told, yet hath he ſeen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the † [e] appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wiſe more then the fool? what hath the poor, that [f] knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the [g] ſight of the eyes, † then the wandring of the deſire: this is alſo vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is [h] mightier then he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increaſe vanity, what is man the better?

12 For [i] who knoweth what is good for man in this life, † all the days of his vain life which he ſpendeth as * a ſhadow? for who can tell a man what ſhall be after him under the ſun?

a He ſheweth, that it is the plague of God, when the rich man hath not a liberal heart to uſe his riches.
b If he can never have enough.
c As we ſee oftentimes, that the covetous man either falleth into crimes that deſerve death, or is murdered, or drowned, or hangeth himſelf, or ſuch like: and ſo lacketh the honour of burial, which is the laſt office of humanity.
d Meaning, the untimely fruit, whoſe life did neither profit or hurt any.
† Heb. ſoul.
e His deſire and affection.
f That knoweth to uſe his goods well in the judgment of men.
g To be content with that which God hath given, is better then to follow the deſires that never can be ſatisfied.
† Heb. then the walking of the ſoul.
h Meaning. God who will make him to feel that he is mortal.
i There is no ſtate wherein man can live to have perfect quietneſs in this life.
† Heb. the number of the days of the life of his vanity.
* Pſal. 144. 4.

CHAP. VII.

1 Remedies againſt vanity, are a good name, 2 mortification, 7 patience, 11 wiſdom. 23 The difficulty of wiſdom.

A * Good name is better then precious ointment; and the day of death; [a] then the day of ones birth.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, then to go to the houſe of feaſting: for that

* Prov. 15. 30. & 22. 1.
a He ſpeaketh this after the judgment of the fleſh, which thinketh death to be the end of all evils: or elſe, becauſe that this corporal death is the entring into life everlaſting.

b where we may see the hand of God, and learn to examin our lives.
1 Or, anger.

that is the [b] end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 ‡ Sorrow is better then laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

* Prov. 13. 18. & 15. 31, 32.

5 * It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, then for a man to hear the song of fools.

† Heb. sound.
e which crackle for a while, and profit nothing.

6 For as the † crackling of [e] thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

d A man that is esteemed wise, when he falleth to oppression, becometh like a beast.

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a wise man [d] mad, * and a gift destroyeth the heart.

* Deut. 16. 19.

e He noteth their lightness, which enterprise a thing, & suddenly leave it off again.

8 Better is the [e] end of a thing, then the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

* Prov. 14. 17. & 16. 32.

9 * Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better then these? for thou dost not enquire † [f] wisely concerning this.

† Heb. out of wisdom.
f Murmur not against God when he sendeth adversities for mans sins.

11 ¶ Wisdom ‡ is good with an [g] inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.

? Or, as good as an inheritance, yea better too.
g He answereth to them that esteem not wisedom, except riches be joyned therewith, shewing, that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdom is far more excellent, and may be without riches.

12 For wisdom is a † defence, and mony is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.

† Heb. shadow.

13 Consider the work of God: for * who can make that straight which he hath made crooked?

* Chap. 1. 15.

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity [h] consider: God also hath † set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find [i] nothing after him.

h Consider wherefore God doth send it, and what may comfort thee.
† Heb. made.
i That man should be able to controul nothing in his works.

15 All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his [k] righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedness.

k Meaning, that cruel tyrants put the godly to death, and let the wicked goe free.

16 Be not righteous [l] overmuch, neither make thy self over-wise: why shouldest thou † destroy thy self?

l Boast not too much of thine own justice and wisdom.
† Heb. be desolate.

17 Be not [m] overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die † before thy time?

m Tarry not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickedness.
† Heb. not in thy time.

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold [n] of this, yea also from [o] this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

n To wit, on these admonitions that go before.
o Consider what desolation and destruction shall come, if thou do not obey them.

19 * Wisdom strengthneth the wise, more then ten mighty men which are in the city.

* Prov. 21. 22. & 24. 5. Chap. 9. 16.

20 * For there is not a just man upon earth that doth good, and sinneth not.

* 1 King. 8. 46. Prov. 20. 9. 1 John 1. 8.

21 Also † [p] take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

† Heb. give not thine heart.
p Credit them not, neither care for them.

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth, that thou thy self likewise hast cursed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise, but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off and exceeding deep, who can find [q] it out?

q Meaning, wisdom.

25 † I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness:

† Heb. I and my heart compassed.

26 * And I find more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: † whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

* Prov. 22. 14.
† Heb. he that is good before God.

27 Behold, this have I found (saith the preacher) ‡ counting one by one, to find out the [r] account:

‡ Or, weighing one thing after another to find out the reason.
r That is, to come to a conclusion.

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not: one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Lo, this onely have I found, * that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many [s] inventions.

* Gen. 1. 27.
s And so are cause of their own destruction.

CHAP. VIII.

r Kings are greatly to be respected. 6 The divine providence is to be observed. 12 It is better with the godly in adversity then with the wicked in prosperity. 16 The work of God is unsearchable.

WHo is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? * a mans wisdom maketh his face to [a] shine, and † the boldness of his face shall be [b] changed.

* Prov. 17. 24.
a That is, Doth get him favour and prosperity.
† Heb. the strength.
b whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meek.

2 I counsel thee to keep the [c] kings commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

c That is, That thou obey the king, and keep the oath that thou hast made for the same cause

3 [d] Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing, for he doth whatsoever pleaseth him.

d withdraw not thy self lightly from the obedience of thy prince.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment † shall feel no evil thing: and a wise mans heart discerneth [e] both time and judgment.

† Heb. shall know.
e That is, when time is to obey, and how far he should obey.

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time, and judgment; therefore the [f] misery of man is great upon him.

f Man of himself is miserable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increase the same, but to work all things by wisdom and counsel.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him ‡ when it shall be?

‡ Or, how it shall be.

8 There is no man that hath [g] power * over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no ‡ discharge in that war, neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

g Man hath no power to save his own life, and therefore must not rashly cast himself into danger.
* Iob 14. 5.
‡ Or, casting off weapons.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own [h] hurt.

h As cometh oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had [i] come and gone from the place of the [k] holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.

i That is, Others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worshipped him according as he had appointed.

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not [l] executed speedily; therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

l where justice is delayed, there sin reigneth.

12 ¶ Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that * it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

* Psal. 37. 11, 18, 19.

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days which are as a shadow; because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be just men unto whom it * happeneth according to [m] the work of the wicked:

* Psal. 73. 14.
m which are punished, as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.

514

wicked: again, there be wicked men to whom it hapneth according to the work of the righteous: I said, that this also is vanity.

15 * Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, then to [n] eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour, the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea further, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessity of death unto men. 7 Comfort is all their portion in this life. 11 Gods providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdom is better then strength.

FOr all this † I considred in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love, or [a] hatred, by all that is before them.

2 * All things come alike to all, there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is [b] one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joyned to all the living, there is hope: for [c] a living dog is better then a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now [d] accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be alwayes [e] white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 † Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: * for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun.

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill, but time and [f] chance hapneth to them all.

12 For man also knoweth not [g] his time, as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the sons of men * snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembred that same poor man.

16 * Then said I, Wisdom is better then strength: nevertheless, the poor mans wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet, more then the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdom is better then weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 Observations of wisdom and folly. 16 Of riot, 18 slothfulness, 19 and mony. 20 Mens thoughts of kings ought to be reverent.

†DEad flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour.

2 A wise mans heart is at his [a] right hand; but a fools heart is at his left.

3 Yea also when he that is a fool walketh by the way, † his wisdom faileth him, and he [b] saith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the [c] spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yelding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an [d] errour which proceedeth † from the ruler.

6 Folly is set † in great dignity, and the [e] rich sit in low place.

7 I have seen servants * upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

8 * He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

† Heb. A song of songs: so called, because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Solomon made, as is mentioned, 1 King. 4. 32.

¶ † THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song Solomon by most sweet and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect love of Jesus Christ, the true Solomon and king of peace; and the faithful soul, or his church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular love of the bridegroom toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits, wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the church, which is inflamed with the love of Christ, desiring to be more and more joyned to him in love, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The churches love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds tents: 9 and shewing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The church and Christ congratulate one another.

THE song of songs which is Solomons.

2 Let him [a] kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: * for † thy love is better then wine.

3 Because of the [b] savour of thy good ointments, thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the [c] virgins love thee.

4 * [d] Draw me, we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his [e] chambers: we will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy love more then wine: ‡ the upright love thee.

5 ¶ I am [f] black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of [g] Kedar, as the [h] curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am [i] black, because the [k] sun hath looked upon me: my mothers [l] children were angry with me, they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I [m] not kept.

7 ¶ [n] Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be ‡ as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy [o] companions?

8 ¶ [p] If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 ¶ I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaohs [q] chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 ¶ We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

12 ¶ [r] While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my welbeloved unto me; he shall lie all night betwixt my [s] breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me, as a cluster of ‡ camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.

1 The church professeth her faith in Christ. 4 Christ sheweth the graces of the church, 10 and his love towards her.

a Hearing of the excellency of Christ, the faithful desire to know how to find him.

WHither [a] is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

b That is, Is conversant here in earth among men.

2 My beloved is gone down into his [b] garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

d This declareth the exceeding love of Christ toward his church.
‡ Or, they have passed me up.

3 * I am my beloveds, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautiful, O my love, as [c] Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 [d] Turn away thine eyes from me, for ‡ they have overcome me: thy hair is * as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead. * Chap. 4. 1, 2.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are [e] threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, & virgins without number.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD according to his promiſe, Deut. 18. 15. that he would never leave his church deſtitute of a prophet, hath from time to time accompliſhed the ſame: whoſe office was not onely to declare to the people the things to come, whereof they had a ſpecial revelation; but alſo to interpret & declare the law, & to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the utility and profit of thoſe to whom they thought it chiefly to appertain, and as the time and ſtate of things required. And principally in the declaration of the law, they had reſpect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: Firſt, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: Secondly, to the promiſes and threatnings of the law: and Thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, who is the end of the law: Whereunto they neither added nor diminiſhed, but faithfully expounded the ſenſe and meaning thereof; and according as God gave them underſtanding of things, they applied the promiſes particularly for the comfort of the church and the members thereof; and alſo denounced the menaces againſt the enemies of the ſame: not for any care of, or regard to the enemies; but to aſſure the church of their ſafeguard by the deſtruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they have more clearely treated of it then Moſes, and ſet forth more lively Jeſus Chriſt, in whom the covenant of reconciliation was made: In all theſe things, Iſaiah did excell all the prophets, and was moſt diligent to ſet out the ſame, with moſt vehement admonitions, reprehenſions, and conſolations: ever applying the doctrine, as he ſaw that the diſeaſe of the people required. He declareth alſo many notable prophecies which he had received of God, as touching the promiſe of the Meſſiah, his office, and his kingdom. Alſo of the favour of God toward his church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Jews, which are as moſt principal points contained in this book, and a gathering of his ſermons that he preached: Which after certain days that they had ſtood upon the temple door (for the 520 manner of the prophets was to set up the sum of their doctrine for certain days, that the people might the better mark it, as Isa. 8. 1, and Hab. 2. 2) the Priests took it down, and reserved it among their registers: and so by Gods providence these books were preserved as a monument to the church for ever. As touching his person & time, he was of the kings stock (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah king of Judah, as the best writers agree) and propheſied more then 64 years, from the time of Uzziah into the reign of Manasseh, whose father in law he was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the prophets, this one thing among others is to be observed, that they speak of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certainty thereof, and that they could not but come to pass, because God had ordained them in his secret counsel, and so reveiled them to his prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgments. 10 He upbraideth their whole service. 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises & threatnings. 21 Bewailing their wickedness, he denounceth Gods judgments. 25 He promiseth grace, 28 and threatneth destruction to the wicked.

THE vision of [a] Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw [b] concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of [c] Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 ¶ * Hear, O [d] heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up [e] children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 * The [f] ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his masters crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinful nation, a people † laden with iniquity, [g] a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters, they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the [h] holy One of Israel unto anger, they are † gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why should ye be [i] stricken any more? ye will † revolt more and more: the whole [k] head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the [l] sole of the foot even unto the head, there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither [m] bound up, neither mollified with ‡ ointment.

7 * Your country is desolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate † as overthrown by [n] stangers.

8 And the daughter of [o] Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 * Except the LORD of hosts [p] had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as * [q] Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, ye [r] rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your * sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I [s] delight not in the bloud of bullocks, or of lambs, or of † he-goats.

12 When ye come † to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more [t] vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new-moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot away with, it is ‡ iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your [u] new-moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to bear them.

15 And * when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye † make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of * † [x] bloud.

16 ¶ [y] Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, * cease to do evil, 17 Learn to do [z] well, seek judgment, ‡ relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now [a] and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as [b] white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wooll.

19 If ye be [c] willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 ¶ How is the [d] faithful city become an harlot? it was full of judgment, righteousness lodged in it; but now [e] murderers.

22 [f] Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of [g] theives: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they * judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the [h] mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will [i] ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and † [k] purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin.

2 And * [a] it ſhal come to paſs in the laſt days, that the mountain of the LORDS houſe ſhall be ‡ eſtabliſhed in the top of the mountains, and ſhall [b] be exalted above the hills; and all nations ſhall [c] flow unto it.

3 And many people ſhall go and ſay, Come ye, and let us go up to the [d] mountain of the LORD, to the houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion ſhall go forth the [e] law, and the word of the LORD from [f] Jeruſalem.

4 And [g] he ſhall judge among the nations, and ſhall [h] rebuke many people: and they ſhall [i] beat their ſwords into plow-ſhares, and their ſpears into ‡ pruning-hooks: nation ſhall not lift up ſword againſt nation, [k] neither ſhall they learn war any more.

5 O houſe of Jacob, come ye, and let us [l] walk in the light of the LORD.

6 ¶ Therefore thou haſt [m] forſaken thy people the houſe of Jacob, becauſe they be [n] repleniſhed ‡ from the eaſt, and are ſoothſayers like the Philiſtines, and they ‡ [o] pleaſe themſelves in the children of ſtrangers.

7 Their land alſo is full of [p] ſilver and gold, neither is there any end of their treaſures: their land is alſo full of horſes, neither is there any end of their chariots.

1 In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he propheseth that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria; 5 Iudah likewise for their infidelity 9 Gods judgments shall be unresistable. 11 Comfort shall be to them that fear God; 19 Great afflictions to idolaters.

MOreover, the LORD said unto me, Take thee a [a] great roll, and write in it with a [b] mans pen, concerning †Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

2 And I took unto me [c] faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 And I † went unto the [d] propheteſs, and she conceived and bare a son; then said the LORD to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

4 For before the [e] child shall have knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, ‡ the riches of Damascus, and the spoil of Samaria [f] shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

5 ¶ The LORD spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forsomuch as this people refuseth the waters of [g] Shiloah that go softly, and rejoyce in Rezin, and Remaliahs son:

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the [h] river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his chanels, and go over all his banks.

8 And he shall pass through Judah, he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the [i] neck, and † the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O [k] Immanuel.

11 ¶ For the LORD spake thus to me † [m] with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A [n] confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye [o] their fear, nor be afraid.

13 [p] Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be for a [q] sanctuary; but for * a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin, and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall * stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 [r] Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the LORD that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 * Behold, I and the [s] children whom the LORD hath given me, are for signs, and for wonders in Israel; [t] from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 ¶ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: [u] should not a people seek unto their God? [x] for the living, to the dead?

20 * To the [y] law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is † [z] no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through [a] it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and [b] curse their king, and their God, and look upward.

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his [h] whole work * upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will † punish the fruit † of the stout heart of the [i] king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants ‡ like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye [c] draw water out of the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, * Praise the LORD, ‡ call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou † [d] inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

Chap. XIII.

1 God mustereth the armies of his wrath. 6 He threatneth to destroy Babylon by the Medes. 19 The desolation of Babylon.

a That is, The great calamity, which was prophesied to come on Babel, as a most grievous burden, which they were not able to bear. In these twelve chapters following, he speaketh of the plague wherewith God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these other as his enemies: and also, that if God spare not these that are ignorant, that they must not think strange, if he punished them, which have knowledge of his law and keep it not

THE [a] burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, [b] shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also [c] called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoyce in my [d] highness.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, † like as of a great people: a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the LORD of hosts mustereth the host of the battel.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the LORD and the [e] weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 ¶ Howl [f] ye, for the day of the LORD is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands ‡ be faint, and every mans heart shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them, they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall † be amazed † one at another, their faces shall be as †[g] flames.

9 Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the [h] stars of heaven, and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be * darkned in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will
